Franklinton Area Seeks Better Traffic Controls

Proper traffic lights are of major concern to the people in the Franklinton School area.

This was evident in the questions asked at the West Side Neighborhood Council's public traffic study, conducted at the school last Wednesday.

The study will continue tonight (Oct. 18) at Bellows Avenue School. Don McCann will be moderator.

At the Franklinton session the social services director of Mt. Carmel Hospital stated the need for a traffic light at Davis and Town-sts.

Residents also asked for a permanent light at Gift and Town-sts to replace the school blinker which the WSNC secured last year. Some discussion centered on the present blinker stop signs at State and McDowell-sts. At first the people thought a traffic light would solve the problem at that intersection. Later in the evening they decided that four-way stop signs would be better.

The question was raised as to why Town-st is not being proposed as a one-way as far west as Central-av. The reply was that the Town-st plan is meant to bring traffic into the West Side and not to serve as throughway to the Hilltop. It was also pointed out that residents west of the railroad would have no eastbound access street except Broad or Sullivant.

The group, chairmened by Ralph Oberleitner, also asked for more speed law signs in the area; approved the proposed one-way traffic between Broad and Sullivant on May-st (northbound); Mill-st (south); Gift-st (north); Skidmore-st (south); Grubb-st (north).

A meeting Oct. 25 will wind up current neighborhood traffic discussions. All the suggestions will be compiled by the council traffic committee for presentation at the council's next "town hall" session at Gladden Community House, Nov. 2.

From there the approved requests will be forwarded to City Hall.

YOUR NEWSPAPER – HERITAGE OF TRUTH, FRONTIER OF FREEDOM

Will you, for a few moments, share some of the thoughts we have during National Newspaper Week?

An emerging free press in colonial America paved the way for our three great freedoms set forth in the Bill of Rights—Freedom of the Press . . . Freedom of Speech . . . and Freedom of Religion.

It is the purpose of National Newspaper Week each year to focus attention upon these truths:

That political freedom will not long endure without freedom of expression.

That the "right to know" is not a special privilege for newspapers; it is the inherent right of free people in a democracy, and newspapers historically have been champions of that right.

That preservation of press freedom is the responsibility of everyone.

That the press and the people are partners in freedom.

The newspaper is your guardian against unfit civil servants. It is your hope for honest government. It is your strong arm against the encroachments of government upon individual rights.

And the newspaper is the community cheerleader, as it were, making the community a better place in which to live, backing its community projects, giving support to its schools, its churches, its clubs.

This realization gave impetus to our own first newspaper, The Hilltop Record, nearly 45 years ago. We feel the newspaper has lived up to the literal interpretation of its name —— it has been a good record of community life and it has maintained a record of devoted service. And, as other communities have grown, there has been a gratifying acceptance of the seven other weeklies and two dailies now published under the Hartley banner.

Large daily newspapers perform a valuable service to everyone who is capable of reading. Economic conditions, however, have caused many of them to merge or publish local news in capsule form. As the population swells, it has been increasingly difficult for the larger papers to maintain the personal touch.

This is where the community newspaper excells — it is dedicated to serving people on the grass roots level.

In this capacity the press assumes the role of public servant. The publisher, the editor, the writer, the advertising man, the printer, the pressman, the carrier—all of these do public service in their contributions to a product which can help all of us to be better citizens.

Still, newspapering is a business. It must be constantly on the alert for ways to make sufficient profit, to meet payrolls, prevent machinery from going into obsolescence, and explore new methods of customer service.

National Newspaper Week 1961 is an appropriate time to recognize that a community with an astute, energetic newspaper is indeed a fortunate one. It is our desire to be an important asset to each of the areas we serve.

Why Deprive Youths Of Valuable Training?

For many years the "little merchant" plan and the use of newspaperboys (and girls) for distribution and delivery of newspapers have been under attack by various do-gooders who would strengthen the child labor law to prevent it.

All of this has been in spite of the fact that many top men in this country, either in business or in government, were at one time newspaper carrier boys and have testified to the value of that experience.

It is refreshing, therefore, to find someone in authority who says that "useful, gainful employment" by children is helpful and not harmful in building character.

Health-Education-Welfare Secretary Abraham Ribicoff said just that in his testimony on a multi-million-dollar program to combat juvenile crime. He said child labor laws should be eased for this purpose. He added that children must be protected from hazardous employment, with which we all agree, "but there is nothing that will lift up a youngster's sense of self-respect and give him a sense of responsibility as much as a worthwhile task."

"I think it's better for a boy to take a job as a delivery boy for a drugstore than to be hanging around a drugstore corner," he said.

That's just what newspapermen have been saying for years about the advantages of carrier boy training.

OUR READERS' Views . . .

Describes Many Reliefers As 'Parasites'

TO THE EDITOR:

I am in full accord with the views of "A READER AND CITIZEN" who is "DISGUSTED AT THE CONDUCT OF RELIEFERS". I, too, feel it is high time to review many, many cases. To those of us who work every day, care for our families and assume our responsibilities with great pride, it is disheartenng to see how easy life is for these parasites.

I know of one case in particular — this woman is as able to work as anyone. She receives $310.00 per month. She has an automatic washer and dryer, dresses much better than I, visits beauty salons regularly, sits in a cafe every night, sleeps until noon and has broken up a home where there are small children who need their father. Who cares for her children while she does this? She probably can afford a baby sitter.

If all of us went on relief, the result would be a review of all cases pronto, and, in the meantime, those of us who have worked and paid taxes to make life easy for these parasites can have a well deserved and needed rest.

There must be some way to weed out the undeserving cases.

Also a reader and citizen.

Merit Pay Plan For Teachers Still Being Kicked Around

This controversial question has long been kicked about by educators apparently without any final solution. It has been raised once again in a summer session held at Teachers College, Columbia University.

During this last school year in Ohio, 14 city, eight exempted village and 38 local school districts reported either merit or demerit plans in their salary schedules. Other districts reported still other methods of rewarding teachers for professional competence.

Speaking at the Columbia University session, Harold Howe, superintendent of schools in Scarsdale, N.Y., told how teachers had opposed wholeheartedly a recommended merit plan that would have given outstanding teachers a special increase.

On the other hand, he said, the teachers would have been willing to accept certain competitive benefits such as fellowships given for their services in school improvements.

Another speaker, John Geissinger, Tenafly, N.J., school superintendent, said that a merit pay plan in his district had to be dropped because it didn't work out. It caused unrest, he said, and led to publication of a list of teachers, each of whom had received $500 for "superior work." This brought about complications as parents began to insist that their children be taught by a "superior" teacher, he said.

In Ohio, six different approaches appear to be used by school boards to financially reward professional growth.

Many districts, in addition to increasing teacher salaries for additional college credits or a year of teaching experience, use four other factors in determining teacher pay. These are: community service, educational research, authorship and leadership in professional organizations.

Other school districts have developed five pay categories of teacher training in line with the Ohio School Foundation Program formula. Some of these have additional schedules which credit teachers with a fractional part of a year's professional training.

Five city and three local school districts report that salary increments are allowed in their salary schedule for teachers who have dependents. This tends to favor the married men teachers over the women teachers.

Extra or special duty pay is also granted by some districts for such duties as coaching, band instruction, play direction, and other extracurricular work.

AROUND EDUCATIONAL CIRCLES

Ohio Law Steps In

Two new Ohio laws are directed at helping schools combat two nuisances: vandalism and bomb scares. The first enables boards of education to withhold grades in order to assure payment of damages due to vandalism. The second states that persons who report false bomb scares will face up to 5 a year in jail, or a $1,000 fine, or both.

Safe Gun Handling Helps You Earn Respect, Comradeship Of Others

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Usually the more seasoned and proficient a shooter becomes, the more respect he has for a gun when handling it. No expert hunter will scoff at the cardinal rule of gun safety: "Treat every gun as if it were loaded."

He knows that only a fool — a potentialy dead fool—grows careless and casual in gun handling.

According to firearm safety experts, at least 95 per cent of all hunting accidents due to guns can be avoided if every man acquaints himself with the rules of gun handling and makes them second-nature.

Carry only empty guns, with the action open, into your automobile, camp, or home. Whenever you pick up a gun, ALWAYS point the muzzle in a safe direction and examine the piece to make sure it is not loaded.

The pointing of a loaded or unloaded gun toward a companion is a violation of every principle of safety and good sportsmanship. It is the unpardonable sin of shooting ethics. Do it just once and you will lose the respect and comradeship of your friends.

The leaving of loaded guns unattended is extremely dangerous. If it is propped against a tree, car, or post, a frisking hunting dog may knock it down, setting it off. A youngster may happen by and pick it up. These things have happened — don't let them happen to you.

In climbing fences or obstructions, always pass your gun, muzzle in a safe direction, over to your companion. Or pass it through the fence, muzzle in a safe direction, and lay it on the ground. Otherwise, a stumble, fall, or rotting fence post can prove disastrous.

Watch For Clogging

Before loading your gun, always make sure that the barrel and action are free from obstructions. Dirt in the barrel causes more "blown up" guns than any other factor. Should you stumble badly or fall and your gun muzzle touches the ground, always unload and look through the bore to be sure that it is not clogged with mud, snow, or a stick.

It is best to walk abreast in the fields or woods, but in doing so, see that your muzzle is always pointed away from your companion. Do not crowd your hunting companions. Hunters are likely to be crowded in duck blinds—be sure that each of you has plenty of room in which to shoot safely.

Always make sure of your target before pulling the trigger. Take a good look . . . and then look again! NEVER make a "sound shot." The sound may have been caused by your hunting dog, livestock, or worse still, another hunter. This has happened too.

When you are in the woods or close cover, it is best to wear some article of bright color, preferably yellow. No deer goes prancing around wearing a yellow bandana.

It is a compliment to be invited to go hunting with an experienced gunner. It means he believes you will observe all the rules of safety and good sportsmanship. Don't let him down by taking chances and you'll help make hunting a safer sport.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

Shoppers Should See Coming Food Show

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruits — Apples, grapes, cider, grape juice.

You can't afford to miss the Second Annual Food Show at Veterans Memorial Auditorium, Oct. 24 to 29. The entire show is planned to help you as a consumer. It will be an opportunity to see the great progress being made in all lines of our food industry.

Mrs. Franks

You can see and sample many of the food products offered in your markets and learn of new ones that will come. Clever ideas for preparation and serving foods will be demonstrated. And the prizes offered are fabulous.

Your Extension Service will be there with an exhibit, "Food is a Bargain," to show the hours of work required to buy foods in 1961 as compared with earlier years.

Some of the extension folks will be at the booth to answer your questions on food buying and food marketing, or to visit with you about the educational services extension offers. We invite you to stop and get acquainted.

APPLES ARE STACKED HIGH ON FRUIT COUNTERS

This is the time of year the apple industry has set for you to buy apples at the peak of goodness, and at the lowest price for the year. Buy "by the bushel" if your family can use that amount and if suitable storage is available. The cost-per-pound is usually much lower.

October is also a good time for grapes. The volume of Tokay and Thompson seedless varieties is dropping, but Emperors are increasing. Ribiers and Concords are also available. And don't miss grape juice while it's fresh from local vineyards —the quality is reported to be excellent this year.

Fresh tomato prices are lower than usual for this time of year. Local greenhouse tomatoes have started; shipments of vineripes from California are heavy, and there'll be some good ones from local gardens until freezing weather. This over lapping of supply will likely hold tomato prices down for some time to come.

ONE MAN'S Opinion . . .

Riders May Have Last Say About Buses

(Ed. Note: The opinions expressed in this column are those of Hartley Newspapers staff members, and not necessarily the publisher's).

Is the bus way the best way?

For 13 consecutive days 250,000 Central Ohioans have had a chance to consider this question.

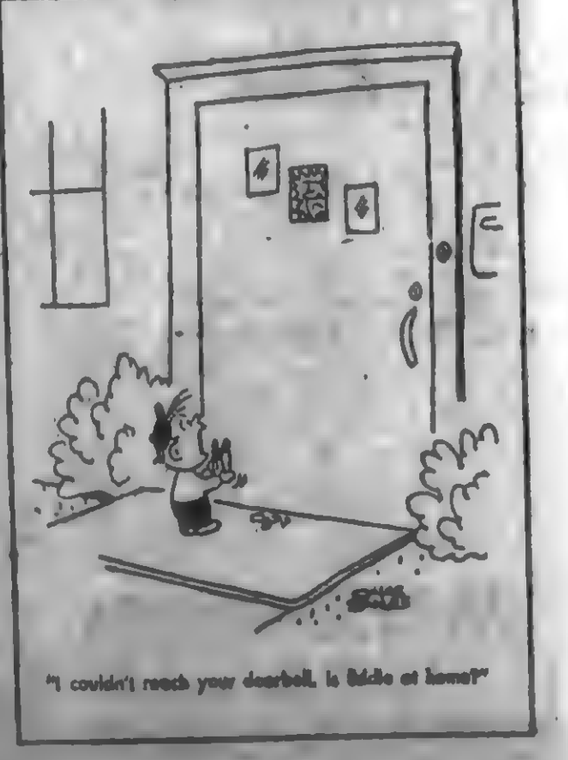
Now the yellow coaches of the Columbus Transit Co. are back on city streets, but the strike is not forgiven or forgotten.

Allen

Workers and shoppers who were left stranded by the union drivers' strike found another way, and didn't march on City Hall or the union hall, demanding the bus service back.

Sure, they organized in gangs. But the gangs were called car pools, and right now those neighbors, friends, and co-workers are wondering if it wouldn't be cheaper and more convenient to maintain their little groups than support an apparent bus fare hike.

The nice thing about car pools is, there is always a seat, and anyway you cut it, four to six people in a car can get to work and back on less than 50 cents each per day.



Drivers who left the bus-riding population stranded for 13 days may find themselves in the unemployment line if their fares decide to boycott the yellow coaches, actively or passively.

For want of a total 10 cent-an-hour raise, and a few benefits that didn't seem important enough to force these drivers to seek new employment, they bucked their employer's slogan and left 250,000 Central Ohioans to find any way they could.

They obviously didn't think of the tremendous traffic turmoils that resulted when overcrowded city streets were forced to accept the influx of enough automobiles to transport all those people. And little did these half-a-thousand union workers care about the overtaxed (and overtimed) police department that had to assign officers to 72 major intersections to hand direct traffic in hopes of reducing rush-hour traffic snarls.

It all boils down to which is most important, the whims of several hundred men, or the needs of 250,000 workers and shoppers who pay the salaries of those men and pour thousands of dollars into taxes and revenues to maintain companies and public facilities, including the city-franchised buses.

—Jack Louis Allen

Group "A's" advisor this year is Mrs. Alfred Sauer. Mrs. D. M. Laird is the Franklin County president of the Ohio State University Mothers' Club.

Sandra Love, John Williams Repeat Vows In Military Rite In Georgia

First Methodist Church of Valdosta, Ga., was the scene of the full-dress military wedding of Miss Sandra Jane Love and Lt. John Ray Williams, Aug. 19.

Rev. Sherhouse read the marriage service before an altar decorated with baskets of white glads, white pompoms and large yellow mums, palms, arrangements of greenery and candelabra with white cathedral tapers.

The former Miss Love is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Volley Love, 1001 S. Harris-av, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, 158 N. Chase-av.

The bridal gown of pure silk organza was designed with a sabrina neckline, basque bodice overlaid with rose point chantilly lace, long tapered sleeves and bouffant skirt, swept around to a pouff back and continuing into a chapel train.

Her bouffant veil was caught to a plateau of lace, iridescents and seed pearls, and she carried a cascade of white orchids, lilies of the valley and stephanotis on a white satin-covered prayer book.

Patti Love served as maid of honor and other attendants were Sarah Pavey, Kay Durbin and Joyce Williams, all of Columbus.

They were identically gowned in opera blue taffeta sheaths with bateau necklines and bubble overskirts. Each wore a matching Dior bow, and carried a French nosegay of yellow carnations with white bridal satin.

Lt. Richard Goudy served as bestman and ushers were Lt. Jim Hamilton, Lt. Reich Frieberg and Lt. Richard Breese. Ringbearer was Rod Williams of Columbus.

Hostesses for the reception held at the Officers Club, Moody AFB, were Miss Helen Urban of Ashley, Miss Bonnie Sisson, Miss Pat McMillen and Mrs. Frances Glynn, all of Columbus.

LT. AND MRS. JOHN RAY WILLIAMS

New washable Super Velveton lets you clean brush or roller with water

Dean & Barry makes painting a quick and pleasant event . . . from start to finish

No messy or smelly solvents needed to clean brush or roller when you use new Dean & Barry Super Velveton for walls. Painting tools come clean with warm clear water . . . right from the faucet.

This convenience alone lets you paint walls easier than you can wash them. But that's not all. New Dean & Barry Super Velveton gives almost effortless painting action, speedier paint jobs. No laps or streaks — even if you touch-up spots accidentally missed. And you can paint with the windows closed. No irritating paint smell.

Paint over color-fast wallpaper, wallboard, plaster — even interior masonry surfaces. Do the average room with one economical gallon and one quick coat. 30 beautiful Super Velveton colors — all washable again and again. Matching colors in new Kuverite Satin enamel for woodwork now available, too. See us soon or have your painter-decorator come in.

1891 DEAN & BARRY PAINTS • VARNISHES

FOOT TROUBLES . . .

Abraham Lincoln once said, "The only good thing about foot trouble is that it takes your mind off all your other troubles." And that is about all you can say for them. Foot troubles can make you hurt all over. They can tear your nerves to shreds and spoil your every pleasure. And it is so unfortunate that people have to endure foot troubles when much of it could be avoided. Many foot troubles are simply "fit" troubles. And more often than not they begin in early life from out-grown shoes, poorly shaped shoes, shoes bought by guesswork without having them tried on. If you have the obligation of providing shoes for children, see to it that they are taken to the store and fitted. If your own feet hurt, look up a chiropodist or orthopedic doctor. Sick feet need professional attention.

ALL THIS AND CHILD CARE TOO . . .

Plumbing First Aid, Lunch, UN Discussion Included In 'Tuesday At The Y' Oct. 24

The day-long "Tuesday at the Y program," offered each week at the Hilltop YWCA Center, 2789 Valleyview-dr, west of Hague-av, is now available for $1. Price includes the gourmet luncheon.

A playschool for children one to five years, under trained supervision, is provided free of charge.

Anyone interested is invited and may register by calling the "YW," CA. 4-9121.

The 10 a.m. morning session of the Oct. 24 program will feature Ralph Bernard, building manager and chief engineer at the [redacted] YWCA, who will discuss "First Aid In The Home, Or Until The Plumber Arrives."

He will outline simple electric and plumbing repairs, household hints and general information about what to do in an emergency.

A birthday cake, appropriately decorated, in honor of United Nations Day on Oct. 24, will be featured at the luncheon. Sixteen candles, each signifying an agency of the UN, will be lighted. Mrs. Dale Rose, 1641 Grenoble-rd, is luncheon chairman.

Emphasis on UN Day will be continued in the afternoon session, with Mrs. Stanford Ackley, vice-president of the Columbus Chapter, United Nations, speaking on "US Principles in the UN."

Mrs. Ackley, a member of the Women's Interfaith Peace Board of Columbus and of the public affairs committee of the YWCA, recently returned from a trip to the Middle East and Southeast Asia.

Tour arrangements were made by the UN Technical Assistance Board, and opportunities were planned for her to see Americans in action in the United Nations.

MRS. DICKHAUT TO ADDRESS KIWANIKWE MEET

West Mound Rams In Tie With Davidson Comets, 8-8

The Rams played well except for two costly mistakes in the second quarter, a fumble and offside penalty leading to the Comets' first score by Dan Beach. The Rams dominated the game and finally evened the score in the final quarter with Keith Edwards scoring the touchdown and extra points.

AT SOUTH FRANKLIN

Comets	0	8	0	0	—8
Rams	0	0	0	8	—8

Comets scoring: TD — Edwards (46, run). EP—Edwards (run). Rams scoring: TD—Beach (1, run). EP—Jones (pass from Beachi).

The Rams 90-pound team went down to their first defeat of the year when the visiting Beatty Lions beat them after a hard fought game, 6-0.

The West Mound Rams Booster Club is sponsoring a dance this Saturday evening, Oct. 21, from 9 to 12 p.m. at St. Agnes School.

Hawks—

Jack Geckeler, "Fans who have never witnessed these youngsters in action will be amazed at the fast, clever game they play."

Geckeler also made a special plea for all former Hawk players to be on hand for the homecoming recognition.

Gamewise, the Rams have been waiting since last year to avenge a loss to the Hawks. The Ram defense has allowed only one touchdown all season while the offensive backs have scored almost at will and boast a number of leaders in the individual scoring race.

The Hawks were victorious in their inter-league game with Reynoldsburg Lecompte last Sunday at Reynoldsburg, 32-0. All scoring in this game was on long runs — highlighted by Jim Glascor's 70-yard punt return.

AT REYNOLDSBURG

Hawks	8	0	16	8	—32

Hawks scoring: TD — Dearing 2 (18, 25 runs); Glascor (70, punt return); Bell (48, run). EP—Winston 3 (runs); Glascor 2 (runs).

Pinto Scores With Four TD's

The Buckeyes defeated the Eagles, 26-18, in the Sunshine Junior Football League at Sunshine Recreation Center with Dan Pinto scoring four touchdowns on runs of 68, 40, 15 and 32 yards. Kenny Chafins converted on an end run after the first touchdown.

In other action of the week, the Blue Angels defeated the Eagles by a score of 20-8 and they also defeated the Charges by a score of 14-6.

Marion-Franklin Still Out Of Luck, Crushed By West, 52-0

By GLENN ROHRER and MELVIN HOOVER

The Cowboys crushed luckless Marion-Franklin, 52-0, at Magly Field Friday evening, using a variety of tricks in piling up their seven touchdowns. This victory kept the Bronc Busters undefeated and just a half step behind untied Eastmoor and Aquinas.

Coach Fekete may have found a new offensive halfback in Ken Bowman. Bowman, who has played mostly defensive halfback, looked like a real pro as he picked off a Marion-Franklin aerial and streaked 41 yards, using several beautiful blocks to his advantage, to add the Cowboys third straight tally.

Rich Neely, league leading scorer, accounted for the Cowboys last score of the first half, and bounded right back in the third quarter with another score to put the Cowboys ahead 30-0.

Neely, strengthening his grip on the leading scorers' race, in addition to his two touchdowns, added five consecutive extra points, giving him a total of 22 points.

Steve Takos and Bill Wells, two former Westgate Hawks products, joined the scoring bandwagon. Takos swept right end from the two to chalk up his first varsity tally. Wells, making a fine catch of quarterback Jim Cook's pass, rambled 11 yards for his first score.

Sophomore end Jim Hughes earning his first varsity start, showed a sure pair of hands as he leaped high in the air to haul in three tosses for a total of 53 yards. Another sophomore, Don VanOrder, looked good on defense as he picked off a would-be Marion-Franklin touchdown and raced 50 yards to the six to set up a Cowboy score.

A large part of the Cowboys success was due to the fine blocking of the Cowboys offensive forward wall. This consisted of ends Dennis Moyer and Jim Hughes; tackles Ed Shute and Parris Martin; guards Bill Gray and Dan Haintz and center Pat Doyle.

The Cowboys ever improving defense held Marion to a net gain of 87 yards and only eight first downs.

Jim Cook completed eight passes for a total of 135 yards.

The Cowboys rebounding in fine style from their tie with Central last week, face undefeated Aquinas in their homecoming game this Friday. Both squads are undefeated in league competition.

Central Is Handed First Season Loss By Eastmoor, 32-0

By BILL PARKER and DAVID EVANS

The Eastmoor Warriors handed Central its first loss of the season, defeating them by a score of 32-0. Eastmoor now has a 6-0 record on the year and Central has a 4-1-1 standing.

Eastmoor started things off early in the first quarter as Dan Eby scored from the four-yard line. Jim Makar ran for the two extra points.

Eastmoor scored its second touchdown by taking advantage of a Pirate punt on their 46. After moving the ball 41 yards, quarterback Frank Stavroff hit Paul Naumoff with a four-yard scoring play. Stavroff used the same pattern to set up the two extra points. Central had the ball on their 30 as the first half ended.

In the third quarter, Eastmoor was forced to punt for the second time that quarter, but a bad snap from the center looked like it was going to cost the Warriors. Quarterback Frank Stravoff got off a spectacular running kick.

The ball was fumbled around by two Pirates on their 30, and Eastmoor's Ken Hollister pounced on the ball. Eastmoor then moved the ball to the one-yard marker and plunged over from there. Stavroff then ran around right for the two extra points.

Central had the ball on the 30, but Dan Eby intercepted one of Don Poling's passes on the 26. Stravoff then threw a 25-yard pass to Paul Naumoff for their final touchdown. Stavroff threw to Eby for the two extra points.

The fourth quarter was quiet as both teams held each other scoreless. The Pirates played a good game but couldn't take advantage of any breaks.

Eastmoor had 13 first downs to seven for the Pirates. The Warriors netted 2?9 yards to 123 for the Pirates.

Ohio Midland Power Enters Into Agreement With C&S

Officials of Ohio Midland Light and Power Co. have entered into an agreement to transfer and sell assets and property to Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. in a transaction involving $6 million.

Spokesmen for both companies said that the transfer would eliminate the duplication of facilities and services, and result in a more efficient and economical operation.

Under the terms of the agreement, Ohio Midland would sell its operation in the communities of Reynoldsburg, Hilliard, and adjacent areas, to Columbus, and Southern Ohio, and exchange its properties in Groveport and Obetz for the properties of the Columbus Company in Ashville.

All other operations and assets of Ohio Midland would be merged with those of South-Central Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc., Lancaster.

Commenting on the agreement, Harry Miller, president of Columbus and Southern Ohio said: "We have been negotiating this purchase and transfer for the past year and a half, in order to consolidate our service network and provide more efficient service to our customers.

"The town of Ashville falls within the service scope of South-Central Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc., more readily than it does within ours. And conversely, the communities of Hilliard, Reynoldsburg, Groveport and Obetz can be effectively served by the Columbus and Southern Ohio system."

South-Central Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc., will assume the responsibility of serving approximately 10,000 consumers from the Ohio Midland area, including Canal Winchester, Pickerington, and Lithopolis.

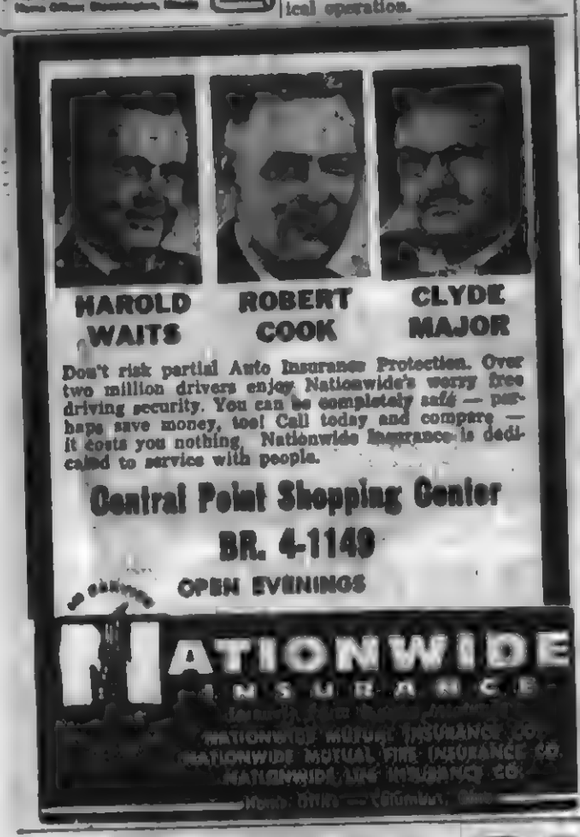
Included in the new area of responsibility will be the town of Lockbourne, including the air base.

A genius is an individual who has sense enough to get along with less fortunate human beings.

MRS. LONG WINS TURKEY

WHEN IT'S HUNTING you want to go, just get the family interested, that's the theory of Dr. Roland Long. Dr. Long, a candidate for election to the South Western City Board of Education, decided to make it a "family affair" and Mrs. Long brought home the "turkey." Above, Mrs. Long receives the bird won at the turkey shoot from Jack Frods. The meets are sponsored jointly by the Franklin Heights Booster Club and the Franklin Heights Lions Club and will be held for the next six weeks on Sunday afternoons at the Franklin Heights Stadium from noon to dark.

Classes Held



Two extension courses for teachers and other interested persons are being held in London by Wittenberg University. [illegible] are three hour courses.

On Monday evening United States History since 1865 is offered, and on Wednesday, Audio Visual Education.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

SOUTHWEST DISTRICT
Craig M. Weaver
BR. 9-1982

This weekend, Oct. 20, 21, and 22, the Great Southwest Camporee will be held for all troops and posts in the Southwest District. The program, planned by Roger Chrisman and his committee, will keep boys and men hopping from Friday afternoon until they're homeward bound on Sunday.

There has been no advance registration for this affair, so your troop may still pack up and go. Register at the camp Friday.

The site is Scioto Trails State Park and it should be especially beautiful in its autumn garb of yellow, red and orange. Parents are invited to come to the campfire Saturday night for the songs, stunts and fun. Campfire starts at 7:30 p.m.

If you want more information, call your neighborhood commissioner.

Locates Camping Areas

It is perhaps a little-known fact that the Central Ohio Boy Scout Council has seven camps under its administration. Total acreage of these camps is 1598½. The camps are scattered around Central Ohio. The nearest is Camp Madison Lake which has 1¼ acres and is near London.

Camp Lazarus, probably the best known of the camps, has 319 acres and is located near Delaware on Route 23.

Camp Klages consists of 60 acres of beautifully wooded country and it is between South Bloomingville and Logan on State Route 664.

Near Washington C.H., is Camp Pine, 17 acres; and Camp Rad-O-Wood near Marysville is 15 acres in extent.

Near Jackson and consisting of 90 acres is Camp Larrimer. The largest, 1126 acres, is Camp Greenhills near Logan. It is being developed into a fine summer camp for Central Ohio Scouts.

Register For Camp

Now is the time to register for summer camp. This is the high point of camping for the year. There are many features and many factors which play a big part i nthe preparation and big part in the highlight event. Only by starting now can your troop or post be assured of getting maximum value from this experience.

In order to provide the greatest possible assistance to you, your commissioner and your camping and activities committee are organized to help you with your planning and promotion. Give them a call as soon as possible. A fee of $10 must be paid after Jan. 1 to hold a campsite. It may be possible for you to camp on the same site that you used last summer. All campsites are reserved on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Players Try Out Time Is Sunday

The Independent Players of Columbus will hold membership auditions for the 1961-62 season Sunday, Oct. 22, from 2 to 5 p.m. at 537½ W. Broad-st, under the direction of Paul Morris.

Those auditioning have been asked to do something from a musical show. In addition to vocal tryouts, there will be interviews for dancers, backstage workers, and those interested in other phases of producing musical comedy.

Franklin Village—

"Because of misunderstandings and limited resources from the community, our minds and hands are often tied. But as a larger percentage of the citizens of Franklin County come to realize and accept and support our work we'll be able to meet the demand — and do a good job in doing it.

Things To Be Done . . .

"We can assure that:

• "No child will be removed from his own house without first utilizing the most competent community resources and the best professional knowledge.

• "When separation from his family is necessary, either temporary or indefinite, there will be an adequate range of placement resources available, so that each child's needs can be met.

• "Some effort has been made to establish group homes in the community. This would enable the youngster to remain an integrated part of the community."

• "That an 'after care' (a half-way house) is available for teenagers leaving the village so that they are not just turned out in the cold.

These are the things Dodsworth feels must be done. There's no telling what else could be done, given a firm helping hand by the public.

Schulze's IGA Joins Move To Close On Sunday

Another Hilltop supermarket owner has answered the appeal to "Keep Sunday, Sunday."

Hermes Schulze, proprietor of Schulze's IGA Supermarket, announced that from now on his store will be closed on Sunday.

Several weeks ago the manager of George's Royal Blue, 2030 Sullivant-av, announced that his store would abide by the request of the Greater Columbus Sunday Association.

New Movie Measures Forthcoming

By John Poeppelmeyer

Ronald De Vore has whipped up a measure designed to limit viewing of certain objectionable films on a teen-age level and Robert Smith has tossed in another bill requiring a citizen's review board to check over movies in a post censorship appraisal.

Both were tabled for a week following defeat of the "up again down again" censorship proposal of Mrs. Golda May Edmonston.

The DeVore measure is a two-pronged affair aimed at keeping minors (those under 21) from "very bad movies" and at those 18 and under from "not so very bad" movies in the councilman's words.

The law does not apply to the depicting of biblical or historical events and, while lack of knowledge of the age of the minor does not constitute a defense, lack of knowledge of the nature of the picture would.

Movie theater men were disturbed over the age level since some of their ushers are in the 16-year-old bracket.

City Attorney Russell Leach admitted the law, if put into effect, could affect showing of films in high schools, movies on television, and parents.

When questioned on the definition of the word "obscene," Leach significantly pointed out that in legal terminology, "obscene" was closer in meaning to "pornographic" than it was to "objectionable," "a point," he added, "that few people understand."

Smith's bill calls for a review board to advise police on objectionable films the police could prosecute under criminal laws. Smith said it was a "post-censorship" measure since the board would investigate films at the first or second showing.

Mrs. Edmonston's bill followed the same pattern as its prior defeat. She, Smith and Council President Hicks voted "aye;" Russell Jones, Robert Van Heyde and DeVore, "nay," William Hoermle abstained. Hoermle stuck to the same reason: the law would be unworkable and too costly.

Hicks rebuked him with: "You can't put a dollar value on the safety of our community."

Mrs. Edmonston related as to how she finally got around to viewing what she called an "obscene" film after admitting that previously most of her information had come from movie magazines and newspapers. She did not say which film she viewed only that it was "obscene and embarassing with all the naked people."

Smith asked her if she had informed the police. She said she had tried to get in touch with Chief George Scholer, but he had been out of town. It hadn't occurred to her to talk to another member of the force, she said.

Smith said he too had seen what he labeled as an obscene movie but, the police he said, did not find it so.

James Brannan Earns Honors

Top scholastic honors have been awarded James E. Brannan, AE3, upon graduation from the Aviation Electrician's Mate School, Jacksonville, Fla., according to information received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Brannan, 435 N. Richardson-av.

Capt. H. D. Allen, commanding officer of the Jacksonville Naval Base, in his letter to the Brannan's informing them of their son's honor, said, "he (James) has been a credit to this school, and it was a pleasure to have had him on board."

Hilltonia Cubs To Reorganize

'Project Alert' Is Announced By Planners

J. Philip Gibbs, president of the Columbus Council of the Navy League of the United States, has announced local planning in a nationwide effort called "Project Alert."

The league and other patriotic corporations and individuals, assisted by a $5,000 contribution from Columbus Rotary Club, will soon distribute a booklet on the Constitution of the United States to school children and business employees. About 250,000 copies of the 21-page publication will be circulated in Franklin and Madison Counties, Circleville, Chillicothe, and Newark.

Mayor W. Ralston Westlake has proclaimed Oct. 1 through Nov. 15 as a time to alert citizens to the dangers of communist infiltration.

Other "Project Alert" promotions are contemplated later, Gibbs said.

You can make some progress if you will give your attention to self-improvement and let other people do the same.

It is human nature to put the blame for everything on somebody else but a man begins to make some progress when he blames his shortcomings on the proper person.

Voter Bulletins In Libraries

League of Women Voters' information bulletin giving information about the background and experience of candidates running for offices in the municipal election of Nov. 7 is available in Columbus Public Libraries.

Candidates opinions on major problems facing the community are also included. Bulletins have been prepared for the Columbus election and the Bexley, Prairie, and Worthington elections.

Traffic Court Big Plank In John Palcich Platform

A switch in traffic court procedure, making it easier on the violator — timewise — is one of the planks in a local man's platform in his race for Municipal Judge of Franklin County.

John E. Palcich, 274 Charleston-av, endorsed by the Columbus Bar Association for the Nov. 7 election, says, "I will explore the possibility and feasibility of having evening and night traffic court for those who want to be heard and cannot attend during the day."

Palcich's plan is to prevent undue hardship by loss of work and earnings. He will also strive for holding traffic court on Saturdays for "better service to the people of Franklin County."

He also says he wants to hold traffic court in the far corners of the city; in the far corners of the county and in other political subdivision with their consent. The need for punctuality and promptness in handling court matters are also emphasized in his campaign.

Palcich was graduated from OSU in 1949. He was a first Lieutenant during WWII and was with the 30 combat missions with the 8th Air Force in Europe.

He and his wife Virginia have two children, ages 4 and 1.

Pancake Fete Set Nov. 11

The SERTOMA Club of Columbus has kicked off ticket sales for the "YES" Pancake Festival Saturday, Nov. 11, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Arts and Crafts Building, Fairgrounds.

YES stands for Youth Employment Service, which is a service to assist the teenagers in finding part time employment.

Teenagers between the ages of 14 and 18½, providing they are still in school, may make application for part time jobs at the local YES office, 30 E. Broad-st, Room 416.

"Because of misunderstandings and limited resources from the community, our minds and hands are often tied. But as a larger percentage of the citizens of Franklin County come to realize and accept and support our work we'll be able to meet the demand — and do a good job in doing it.

Things To Be Done . . .

"We can assure that:

• "No child will be removed from his own house without first utilizing the most competent community resources and the best professional knowledge.

• "When separation from his family is necessary, either temporary or indefinite, there will be an adequate range of placement resources available, so that each child's needs can be met.

• "Some effort has been made to establish group homes in the community. This would enable the youngster to remain an integrated part of the community."

• "That an 'after care' (a half-way house) is available for teenagers leaving the village so that they are not just turned out in the cold.

These are the things Dodsworth feels must be done. There's no telling what else could be done, given a firm helping hand by the public.

New Movie Measures Forthcoming

By John Poeppelmeyer

Ronald De Vore has whipped up a measure designed to limit viewing of certain objectionable films on a legal level and Robert Smith has tossed in another bill requiring a citizen's review board to check over movies in a post censorship appraisal.

Both were tabled for a week following defeat of the "up again down again" censorship proposal of Mrs. Golda May Edmonston.

The DeVore measure is a two-pronged affair aimed at keeping minors (those under 21) from "very bad movies" and at those 18 and under from "not so very bad" movies in the councilman's words.

The law does not apply to the depicting of biblical or historical events and, while lack of knowledge of the age of the minor does not constitute a defense, lack of knowledge of the nature of the picture would.

Movie theater men were disturbed over the age level since some of their ushers are in the 16-year-old bracket.

City Attorney Russell Leach admitted the law, if put into effect, could affect showing of films in high schools, movies on television, and parents.

When questioned on the definition of the word "obscene," Leach significantly pointed out that in legal terminology, "obscene" was closer in meaning to "pornographic" than it was to "objectionable," "a point," he added, "that few people understand."

Smith's bill calls for a review board to advise police on objectionable films the police could prosecute under criminal laws. Smith said it was a "post-censorship" measure since the board would investigate films at the first or second showing.

Mrs. Edmonston's bill followed the same pattern as its prior defeat. She, Smith and Council President Hicks voted "aye;" Russell Jones, Robert Van Heyde and DeVore, "nay." William Hoermle abstained. Hoermle stuck to the same reason: the law would be unworkable and too costly.

Hicks rebuked him with: "You can't put a dollar value on the safety of our community."

Mrs. Edmonston related as to how she finally got around to viewing what she called an "obscene" film after admitting that previously most of her information had come from movie magazines and newspapers. She did not say which film she viewed only that it was "obscene and embarassing with all the naked people."

Smith asked her if she had informed the police. She said she had tried to get in touch with Chief George Scholer, but he had been out of town. It hadn't occurred to her to talk to another member of the force, she said.

Smith said he too had seen what he labeled as an obscene movie but, the police he said, did not find it so.

James Brannan Earns Honors

Top scholastic honors have been awarded James E. Brannan, AE3, upon graduation from the Aviation Electrician's Mate School, Jacksonville, Fla., according to information received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Brannan, 435 N. Richardson-av.

Capt. H. D. Allen, commanding officer of the Jacksonville Naval Base, in his letter to the Brannan's informing them of their son's honor, said, "he (James) has been a credit to this school, and it was a pleasure to have had him on board."

Hilltonia Cubs To Reorganize

Cub Scout Pack 387 of Hilltonia EUB Church will have a reorganizational meeting this week.

It will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 19 at the church. Parents with boys of Cubbing age are invited.

Schulze's IGA Joins Move To Close On Sunday

Another Hilltop supermarket owner has answered the appeal to "Keep Sunday, Sunday."

Herman Schulze, proprietor of Schulze's IGA Supermarket, announced that from now on his store will be closed on Sunday.

Several weeks ago the manager of George's Royal Blue, 2030 Sullivant-av, announced that his store would abide by the request of the Greater Columbus Sunday Association.

'Project Alert' Is Announced By Planners

J. Philip Gibbs, president of the Columbus Council of the Navy League of the United States, has announced local planning in a nationwide effort called "Project Alert."

The league and other patriotic corporations and individuals, assisted by a $5,000 contribution from Columbus Rotary Club, will soon distribute a booklet on the Constitution of the United States to school children and business employees. About 250,000 copies of the 21-page publication will be circulated in Franklin and Madison Counties, Circleville, Chillicothe, and Newark.

Mayor W. Ralston Westlake has proclaimed Oct. 1 through Nov. 15 as a time to alert citizens to the dangers of communist infiltration.

Other "Project Alert" promotions are contemplated later, Gibbs said.

You can make some progress if you will give your attention to self-improvement and let other people do the same.

It is human nature to put the blame for everything on somebody else but a man begins to make some progress when he blames his shortcomings on the proper person.

Voter Bulletins In Libraries

League of Women Voters' information bulletin giving information about the background and experience of candidates running for offices in the municipal election of Nov. 7 is available in Columbus Public Libraries.

Candidates opinions on major problems facing the community are also included. Bulletins have been prepared for the Columbus election and the Bexley, Prairie, and Worthington elections.

A switch in traffic court procedure, making it easier on the violator — timewise — is one of the planks in a local man's platform in his race for Municipal Judge of Franklin County.

John E. Palcich, 274 Charleston-av. endorsed by the Columbus Bar Association for the Nov. 7 election, says, "I will explore the possibility and feasibility of having evening and night traffic court for those who want to be heard and cannot attend during the day."

Palcich's plan is to prevent undue hardship by loss of work and earnings. He will also strive for holding traffic court on Saturdays for "better service to the people of Franklin County."

He also says he wants to hold traffic court in the far corners of the city; in the far corners of the county and in other political subdivisions with their consent. The need for punctuality and promptness in handling court matters are also emphasized in his campaign.

Palcich was graduated from OSU in 1949. He was a first Lieuentant during WWII and was with the 30 combat missions with the 8th Air Force in Europe.

He and his wife Virginia have two children, ages 4 and 1.

Pancake Fete Set Nov. 11

The SERTOMA Club of Columbus has kicked off ticket sales for the "YES" Pancake Festival Saturday, Nov. 11, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Arts and Crafts Building, Fairgrounds.

YES stands for Youth Employment Service, which is a service to assist the teenagers in finding part time employment.

Teenagers between the ages of 14 and 18½, providing they are still in school, may make application for part time jobs at the local YES office, 20 E. Broad-st, Room 418.

Panthers Still Win In Lions Program

The Panthers remained as the only unbeaten team in the Hilltop Lions Little League football program after stopping the previously unbeaten Chargers, 14-6, Saturday, Oct. 14, at Westgate Park.

In one of the most outstanding defensive games played since the league was organized, the Panthers were held scoreless throughout the first half.

In the third quarter, the offensive line opened a up a hole through right tackle and fullback Jim McVay banged his way three yards to become the first opponent to cross the Chargers goal line this year.

The power of McVay was called upon again in the fourth quarter, and he plunged two yards over right guard to score his second touchdown of the day. Quarterback Bob Lehman found end Bill Weeks all alone in the end zone and fired a pass for the point after touchdown.

After being down by two touchdowns in the fourth quarter, the Chargers were not to be denied a score. Fullback John Bennett returned a kick-off 60 yards for their only tally.

AT WESTGATE

Panthers	0	0	6	8—14
Chargers	0	0	0	6— 6

Hedges Sparks Colts To 12-7 Lion Win

Steve Hedges sparked the Colts to a 12-7 victory over the Lions, scoring on a four yard end run in the first quarter and 15 yard end run in the second quarter.

Lion back Hubert Robertson scored on a 70 yard run in the first quarter, only to have it nullified due to a clipping penalty.

Robertson, a work horse during the game, scored in the fourth quarter by sweeping 25 yards around left end. Robertson also accounted for the point after touchdown.

Lions	0	0	0	7— 7

Cavaliers, Headhunters Battle To 0-0 Draw

In a defensive battle, the Cavaliers and the Headhunters settled for a 0-0 tie to mark the first tie ball game of the season.

The play, however, was nullified by an offside penalty.

Thousands Expected At Parties, Tuesday

With Halloween hovering only a few days away, local committees are whipping up some community fun that is sure to please the youngsters, and older folks as well.

Five community centers will jump with activity next Tuesday night, Oct. 31. Hilltop celebrating will be centered at West High School, beginning at 6:30. West Side parties arranged for specific age groups, will be held at Sunshine and Sullivant Gardens Recreation Centers, Boys Club and Gladden Community House.

City and school authorities are working to confine Halloween activities to two days this year. Monday, Oct. 30, will be "Beggars' and UNICEF Night," Most Halloween parties will be held Tuesday night. Schools are arranging their own programs to promote "Fun Without Destruction."

Hilltop Community Council is coordinating the free fun at West High. Gerald Willey, chairman, said $6 silver dollars will be given away to winners of the costume parade, which starts at 7 p.m., and to lucky youngsters who register and get home early after the party. Willey stressed that parents should accompany their children during the evening, if possible. He said additional emphasis is being placed on conduct, and that more volunteer manpower will be appreciated.

Lamplighters To Play

Other highlights will be a pumpkin face contest, a variety of refreshment and entertainment booths, movies for children . . . all topped off with a Teen Halloween Hop from 8:30 to 10 p.m. in the gym. Ron Lines and The Lamplighters (eight OSU students, will manufacture the music. Cost of the chaperoned dance is 25 cents per person, and admission will be by ticket only. Dancers may wear costumes or street clothes.

Bill Coon will be emcee at the costume parade in the gym from 7 to 8 p.m. Judging by Hilltop Business Association members will start at 7:30. A five dollar prize will go to the grand prize winner. One silver dollar each will be awarded to the funniest, prettiest and most original in the following age groups: 3 through 6; 7 through 9; 10 through 12; 13 and older.

Mrs. Rose Schultz and other former Youth Council members will assist Mrs. H. C. Booth in the program in the gym. Girl Scouts from District 8 under Mrs. Carl Washburn and from District 10 under Mrs. Louis Boehringer will help maintain order and care for younger entrants.

Elsewhere in the building there will be games in the cafeteria (6:30 to 10 p.m.) under the direction of Chuck Moore, and continuous movies in the auditorium (same hours), courtesy of the Hilltop YMCA staff.

Mt. Carmel Hospital To Dedicate Facility For Care Of Psychiatric Patients Sunday

Dedication of Holy Cross Pavilion at Mt. Carmel Hospital Sunday, Oct. 29, completes the latest step in the progress of the Sisters of the Holy Cross to provide the best possible facilities for restoring physical and psychological health to those in need.

The new four-story, air-conditioned building on Souder-av faces east, toward the hospital, and is connected to it on the second and third floors by a bridge over Souder-av.

Following latest advances in the treatment of mentally ill, every provision has been made for short term, intensive psychiatric care.

The addition here of 52 beds brings the total bed capacity of the hospital to 452. In this building will also be housed the out-patient clinics, occupational therapy, medical education, nursing service, and personnel office.

Building has been under construction for 19 months and its cost exceeds $1,800,000. The Hill-Burton Fund provided a large donation that helped to make the building possible.

Seventy-five years ago the first building of Mt. Carmel Hospital was dedicated. In 1884, Dr. W. B. Hawkes, president of the Board of Trustees of the old Columbus Medical College, appointed Dr. J. W. Hamilton to sponsor the erection of a charity hospital which would admit a sufficient number of paying patients to ensure its support.

Holy Cross Pavilion provides a little more than the recommended 10 per cent of the number of beds in the attached general hospital, and the facilities of Mt. Carmel are available to patients admitted to the psychiatric wing.

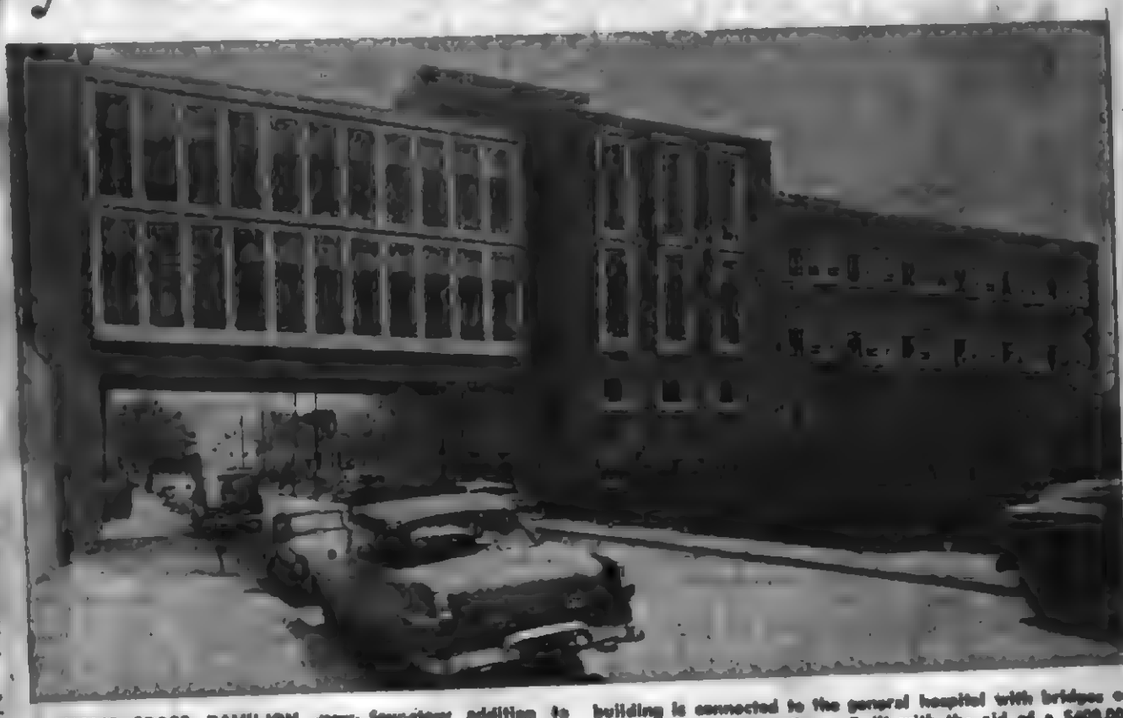
Because the unit is small, it is necessary that the facilities remain fluid and be available to as many patients as possible. For this reason only short term patients will be admitted and treated.

Day rooms are spacious, colorful and inviting, with radio, television and stereophonic music.

Dining areas on both levels of the bridge across Souder-av have floor-to-ceiling windows with harmonizing drapes, and are furnished with mosaic-topped tables and matching chairs.

Patients' rooms on both the third and fourth floors provide home-like surroundings rather than hospital environment.

Roof-top recreation area above the fourth floor provides lounge chairs for sun or shade, and shuffleboard and table tennis facilities. The yard of the building, just north and to the side, furnishes space for outdoor recreation and for gardening hobbies.



Occupational therapy section, with its many facilities for patient education through doing, is located on the south side of the first floor and serves the general hospital as well as patients in the pavilion.

There are kitchen facilities for preparing patients for return to house living, crafts and ceramics tables where work may be done with clay and tile, looms and a woodshop.

Also on the first floor, one room is devoted to the section of medical education, a project which is the continuing responsibility of the hospital.

HOLY CROSS PAVILION, new four-story addition to Mount Carmel Hospital designed for care of the mentally ill, will be dedicated Sunday. The public may inspect the modern medical facility during open house hours Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and patients will be admitted later in the week. Facing east towards Souder-av, the building is connected to the general hospital with bridges on the second and third floors. Built with the aid of a $400,000 grant of Hill-Burton funds, Holy Cross Pavilion houses occupational therapy and medical education centers on the first floor, out-patient clinic on the second, and facilities for the care of 52 patients on the third and fourth floors.

Ten Choirs To Sing In Music Festival At Hillcrest Baptist

Hilltop Choir Festival, 11th annual seasonal event, will be presented at Hillcrest Baptist Church, 2480 W. Broad-st at Eldon-av, Sunday, Nov. 5, 7:30 p.m. Public is invited.

Each participating choir will sing one number and all 300 voices will combine for the finale. Dr. Ellis Snyder of Capital University will direct the massed choirs.

The host choir, Hillcrest Baptist, will sing "Thy Kingdom Come, O Lord," Robert H. Conner is the director and Mrs. Crosier, organist.

Columbia Heights Methodist Choir, directed by Joseph C. Jones and accompanied by Mrs. Joseph C. Jones at the organ, will sing "Blessed Are The Pure In Heart."

"Prayer Perfect" is the choice of Columbus State School Girls' Choir. Mrs. Robert Muncie is director and Mrs. John McGuire, pianist.

Glenwood Methodist Choir will sing "I Talked To God Last Night." D. T. Crawshaw is director and Mrs. Clyde D. Moore is organist.

"God My King" will be sung by St. John Lutheran Choir, directed by Armin Langholz and accompanied on the organ by Carol Blum.

Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Choir has selected "If Ye Love Me." Director is Wayne Ramsey

Cowboys To Ride Airwaves

Horace Greeley, were he around the Hilltop next week, would be amazed at the interpretation West High students have put on his advice, "Go West, young man. . ."

When the cowboys ride WBNS Radio AM airwaves next Tuesday night at 8:15, anything might happen . . . or so the originators of the half-hour documentary predict.

The program may be heard on WBNS-AM only, 1460 on the dial.

Students of the radio department, using the "Go West young man" theme and the plot of introducing two new students to the school, will effectively present West's academic program and its related clubs.

The script, written by the radio students and coordinated by Tom Daft and Sally Jo Holmes, was compiled from interviews with faculty, department heads and school advisors.

E. Ray Evans Rites Held At Hillcrest

Funeral services for E. Ray Evans, 72, who died Sunday, Oct. 22 at his home in Port Clinton, were held Wednesday at the Hillcrest Baptist Church.

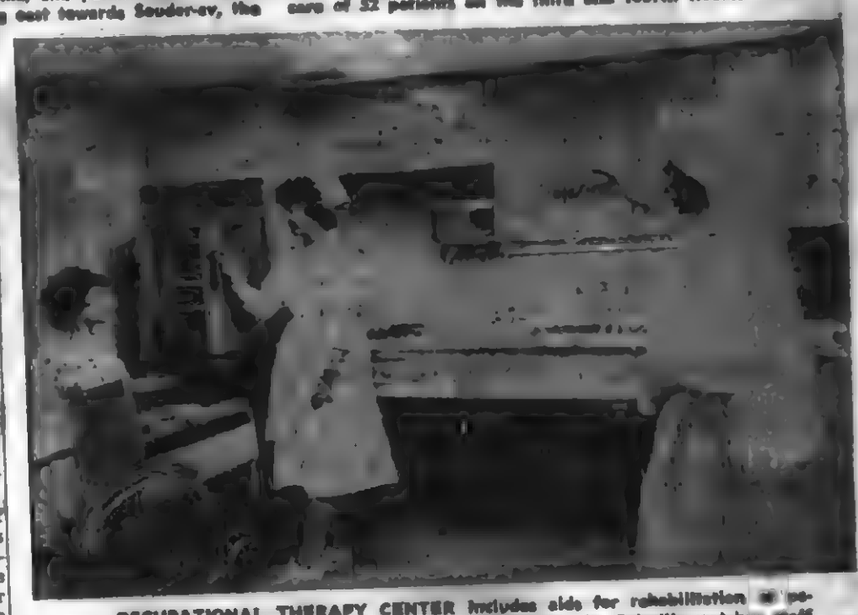
A founder and vice-president of the Ohio State Construction Co., Mr. Evans was a resident of the Hilltop prior to moving to Port Clinton for reasons of business. Even so, he returned to Columbus nearly every Sunday to continue teaching the Keystone Bible Class at Hillcrest Baptist.

Born in Pennsylvania of Welsh parents, Mr. Evans was active in the Hilltop community. He was a 32nd degree Mason and a founding member of Hillcrest Baptist. A church deacon, he had, over the years held a majority of the church offices at different times.

Several volumes of Mr. Evans' poetry have been published and in his latter years he had become interested in painting.

Surviving are the wife, Bertha; three daughters, Audrey Bland, Florence Davis and Mrs. Donna Podto; and brothers, Harold and Pennington.

Burial was in Sunset Cemetery.



Investigation Ordered In 'Y' Burglary

Franklin County Juvenile Court heard the case Tuesday afternoon of three teenage boys accused of breaking into the Hilltop YMCA a week ago and stealing $200 from a safe.

The three were referred back to the Delinquency Department for further investigation.

Denver Hart, a custodian at the "Y", discovered the theft when he came to work Monday morning.

The trio apparently forced a basement air duct to gain entry. They then rolled the safe from the main office to the rear of the building and forced its lock in a back hall.

OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY CENTER includes aids for rehabilitation of patients of the general hospital as well as the mentally ill. Sr. Priscilla watches staff nurse, Miss Mary Conti, demonstrate to Terry King, employee of the out-patient clinic, an oven designed for the use of wheelchair patients. Refrigerator is also placed under counter level. The kitchen, planned as an aid in preparing women to return to normal living, will also be available to psychiatric patients for preparing snacks. Other features of the center include looms, woodshop, piano and all needs for making pottery.

LIGHT AND BRIGHT, and resembling a college dormitory more than the rooms in outmoded mental hospitals, patients will be housed in double rooms. Walls throughout the unit are in soft pastels, furnished in light woods and colorful upholstered chairs and cheerfully lighted by modern fixtures. Mrs. Carole Pase is a staff nurse, and the two hospital secretaries are Pauline Warren, seated on the bed, and Beverly Ann Walsh.

GOOD SPOT FOR BALLOON LAUNCHING

THE CLEAN, AIRY esplanade in front of the City Health and Safety Building, 181 S. Washington-blvd, was an appropriate place to launch balloons Monday proclaiming Cleaner Air Week. Names were drawn in the schools and two South Side youngsters were chosen to do the honors. Safety Director Albert G. Giles (right) guides "King" William Kinser, 1607 E. Innis-av, of Smith-rd School and "Queen" Marcia Ball, 614 Lock-av, of Holmandale School as they release helium filled balloons. At far left is Service Director Ernest Stork. Last balloons were returned from Mardithville, Va., 310 miles away, and from Brookneal, Va., 301 miles distant.

Eibling: City Lowest In Education Cost

(Editor's note—This is the second of three articles devoted to providing background information on the 7.4-mill operating levy that will appear on the Nov. 7 ballot. In this article, Dr. Harold H. Eibling, superintendent of the Columbus Public Schools, discusses what Columbus is now spending for its educational program, as compared to other communities in the area and the state, and what cost of the levy to Columbus home owners will be).

By Dr. Harold H. Eibling

Can Columbus afford to continue its educational program at the present level of quality for the next three years? And can the people of Columbus meet the challenge of expanding this program to meet the needs of more than 100,000 pupils within the next three years?

These decisions will be made by every citizen who faces a voting machine on Nov. 7 and marks "Yes" or "N" on Issue Number 6—the issue designated by the Board of Elections as being for the benefit of the Columbus City School District.

In recent months, the Columbus Board of Education faced the same decisions. They concluded that the answers to both questions were "Yes," if the people of Columbus placed the same values on education as citizens of communities throughout our area and state do.

Following are some of the facts that brought them to the conclusion that Columbus can afford to support the 7.4-mill levy for the operation of its schools.

Fact One: Columbus spends less per year on the education of each of its 88,000 school-age children than any of the other seven large cities in Ohio. Actual expenditures per pupil for the 1959-60 school year (the last year for which figures have been tabulated) were as follows: Youngstown, $392.89; Cincinnati, $377.38; Dayton, $368.94; Cleveland, $354.06; Akron,

Traffic Talks End Tonight At Sullivant

The last of six West Side neighborhood discussions on traffic problems will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. tonight (Oct. 25) at Sullivant School. Mrs. Ruth Burke will preside.

Residents will review much of what has been recommended from other West Side areas and will have a chance to add their own suggestions.

The next step will be a meeting of the West Side Neighborhood Council's traffic committee at Gladden House, Nov. 1, to lay out the peoples wants in a form to present to the council at the WSNC's first fall meeting, Nov. 9.

After considerable discussion of the one-way street proposals, the majority thought it would be better if the one-ways south from Sullivant were to stop at Thomas-av instead of Mound-st. They predicted that resident traffic onto Mound would be too severely restricted, under the original proposal.

The question was raised about the future of the bus route if Davis-av becomes one-way, north. A proposed solution was to make Souder two-way from Town to Sullivant to accommodate the buses. Alternatives: (1.) Leave Davis-av, only, a two-way so the bus route will remain unchanged; (2.) Rather than use Souder or Davis, allow the bus to turn south at Town-st and run alongside the expressway, jog left at Rich under the expressway and travel old Sandusky-st to Sullivant.

Other suggestions recorded at the Bellows session: Place traffic lights at various Town and Rich-st intersections to allow pedestrian and school crossings; limit speed to 25 m.p.h. on these streets if they become one-way; exclude all truck traffic from residential streets between Broad and Mound, including Town and Rich but excluding north-south Central and Glenwood; place a traffic light at Davis and Town.

There was some discussion regarding traffic light locations on Mound-st but no resolutions were made.

Among Ohio State University engineering graduates are 283 company presidents, board chairmen and owners of businesses.

LETTERS TO EDITOR:

Leukemia Group Appreciates Aid

To The Editor:

The Franklin County Chapter of Leukemia Society, Inc., wishes to thank the people of the Hilltop area for their generous support during our annual appeal for funds in September.

To the Hilltop Record newspaper for their excellent publicity and all our friends and neighbors for the wonderful way in which we were received — our heartfelt thanks.

Says Newspaper Helped Success Of Big Game

To the Editor:

Just a few lines to thank you for the fine article highlighting the Westgate Hawks-W. Mound Rams game in last Wednesday's edition. The turnout Sunday was ample proof of the power of the Hilltop Record.

We had a terrific crowd, ran out of programs and pop. This was a giant step towards helping us out, of the financial deficit we are in.

Thanks once more for your efforts and cooperation this whole season. No one could do more than you have.

Lee Lawrence, in his role as office monitor, will lead Tom and Sally Jo, playing the school's students, through the school's distributive education, American history, drafting, industrial arts, journalism and foreign languages departments, and a session of Student Court.

David Randall, West principal, and Edwin Kaylor, guidance counsellor, will have a part in the presentation and background music will be supplied by the mixed ensemble, directed by Mrs. Edith White.

Representative social and academic clubs will also be included in the roundup.

Carol Herbster will be the participating Y-Teen member; Susan Kerry, American Youth For God and Country; Larry Maish, Victorious Christian Youth, and Mary Pemberton, Future Teachers of America.

The script's opening and closing was written by Jim Widener, and Dick Robbins served as head engineer responsible for editing and splicing the tape for the broadcast.

The entire production, from script writing to taping, was under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn Hall, head of West's radio, speech and dramatics department.

Under her leadership, the school won the gold microphone award from WBNS Radio the past two years for excellence in writing and announcing.

The half-hour series of broadcasts, featuring area high schools, is a community service project of WBNS Radio, designed to offer each school an opportunity to present its program.

and organist is Edith Pedrick.

Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Choir will sing "Send Forth Thy Spirit," with Carl W. Speckman, Jr., director and Mrs. Eldred Heisel, organist.

"Last Words Of David" will be sung by Westgate Methodist Choir. Director is Jack O. Woodruff and organist is Mrs. Phillip Sprecher.

Westminster United Presbyterian Choir, directed by Mrs. Robert Muncie and accompanied by Emri Green, will present, "As Torrents In Summer."

West High School Choir and the school's Brass Ensemble will present "John The Baptist" and "Battle Hymn Of The Republic." Mrs. Edith White is the director.

All choirs will combine for "Eye Hath Not Seen," "Sine Nomine" and "Hallelujah," chorus from "Messiah."

Mrs. Paul Crosier will present the final organ number, "Rejoice In The Lord."

WHAT IS IT?

THAT'S WHAT Mr. and Mrs. Fay Green, 693 S. Wayne-av, would like to know. Right now they know only that "it" is a tree and rare. Mrs. Green, who obtained the plant from a sister in West Virginia, thinks it might be a South Carolina Cottonwood —maybe. The tree grew from a sprout of several inches to a 12-foot "giant" in a period of 18 months.

IS PRESIDENT

DUANE SHIVELY, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Shively, 2584 Emileyrd, Hilliard, has been named president of his freshman class at Heidelberg College, Tiffin. He is a member of St. John Lutheran Church on the Hilltop.

Club Will Hear Newspaperman

Clyde D. Moore, 236 Binns-blvd, writer and columnist for the Columbus Dispatch, will speak on his craft at the Thursday noon meeting of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

The club meets at Berry's Restaurant.

Education Cost—

$340.84; Toledo, $337.70; Canton, $322.34; and Columbus, $299.29. Columbus, therefore, is approximately $100 in per-pupil expenditures behind the leader among Ohio metropolitan centers. And, according to a recent Kiplinger Magazine yardstick, it is also that far behind the national average.

Fact Two: In per-pupil expenditures, Columbus is also low among Franklin County school districts, ranking eighth among 10. Grandview, Bexley, Upper Arlington, Whitehall, Southwestern and Worthington spend more per child. Only Westerville and Reynoldsburg spend less.

Fact Three: Among 40 Ohio city school districts having populations in excess of 30,000, Columbus ranks 38th in the amount of money it spends each year on the education of a child. Columbus is one of only four whose expenses per pupil were below $300 per year.

Fact Four: Columbus property taxes, from which the schools drew their operating funds, have remained consistently low by any comparative standards, and they will remain among the lowest in the state even if the 3.6-mill additional school operating levy is added. Columbus has the lowest property tax rate among the eight large Ohio cities, standing from seven-tenths of a mill to 12.1 mills behind all others. Columbus also has the lowest property tax rate in Franklin County, standing from 1.3 mills to 11.9 mills behind nine suburban communities.

Columbus Board of Education is convinced that the people of Columbus will not be overburdened by approval of the 7.4-mill operating levy. But the voters will decide, and each voter will consider the cost of approving this levy in the light of his financial and social well-being.

For this reason, we offer a few simple rules for estimating increased cost. First, the assessed valuation of a home is approximately one-third its market value. A $15,000 home, therefore, is on the tax books at about $5,000. Second, since 3.8 mills of the 7.4-mill levy is simply a renewal, only 3.6 mills will be the size of the increase. This is $3.60 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation. The annual increase on this property is therefore $18, or 35 cents per week. The weekly cost for an $18,000 home will be 41 cents. The weekly cost for a $25,000 home will be approximately 58 cents.

During discussions about the levy, I have often been asked why the tremendous increase in housing does not provide enough property-tax income to cover increased enrollment costs. A few facts are needed to explain why tax income from homes never pay for the education of the children that come from those homes.

First, the increase in enrollments in the Columbus Public Schools have almost matched the increase in the number of new housing units in the city for several years. This means that one new housing unit has meant one new public-school pupil during this period. The average new housing unit (selling at a market price between $15,000 and $18,000) brings to the schools less than $100 per year in operating funds. At the same time, the one public-school pupil that the house represents is being educated at a cost of about $300 per year.

It is for this reason that home owners with children in school owe a debt of gratitude to those in the community who make up the deficit—those being businesses and industries, who depend upon well-trained employees and consumers, and property owners who have no children in the schools but who would rather contribute their tax dollars to schools than to correctional and mental institutions.

I also have been asked why the Board of Education made the decision to submit just one 7.4-mill levy rather than a 3.8-mill renewal and a 3.6-mill additional levy. In making this decision, the board was considering its total responsibility. Members were well aware of the tremendous enrollment increases facing them. They were well aware of the number of teachers and the amount of materials and supplies that would be needed to extend our program to 12,000 additional pupils by 1964. They also were well aware of what would happen if only a renewal levy passed. They certainly could not deny 12,000 children their rights to an education.

Therefore, they would have to furnish an "education" for 100,000 children on a budget designed to meet the needs of 88,000 children. Could the board divide the children into two groups—those who "belonged" (the 88,000) and those who swelled enrollments (the 12,000)? Impossible. Every child in every classroom could not help being affected by the emergency measures that would inevitably follow defeat of one or both issues.

In asking for approval of a 7.4-mill levy for the operation of the 131 school buildings in the city, the Board of Education considered its total responsibilities to the children and the adults of Columbus. In its best judgment, the total support needed from the community at this time is represented by the 7.4-mill figure.

The board, being in the position of an intermediary and educational executor between today's citizens and tomorrow's citizens, can only pass on to the latter that which the former is willing to provide.

Civitans Slate Annual Fruit Cake Sale

West Columbus Civitans have begun their annual sale of old-fashioned fruit cakes, according to Armer Hank, 406 Dunhurst-rd, sales chairman. The sale will continue through the holiday season.

Civitans are offering the famous "Claxton Fruit Cake" in one, two, three and five pound sizes. The price remains at $1 a pound.

Cakes may be purchased from Civitan members and are available at Lincoln Village Market, Murphy's I.G.A., New Rome, and Prairie 66 Service Station. Phone orders can be placed at BR. 4-8046, TR. 8-4567 and TR. 8-4453.

This annual fruit cake sale provides the funds for Civitan's civic and charitable projects in the community.

Price Seeks Re-election In November

City Auditor John H. Price has announced his candidacy for re-election in November. Formerly a state examiner assigned to municipal audits, and later a deputy supervisor, Price has held his present office since December, 1955.

Born in Nelsonville and raised in Athens, Price who is the son of an attorney, was himself admitted to the bar in 1933 and has been a resident of Columbus for the past 25 years.

Price is member of several Masonic orders, Elks, Lions Club, American Legion, Buckeye Republican Club and other Republican organizations, the Ohio State Bar Association and the Maple Grove Methodist Church, among other activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Price make their home at 80 W. Weisheimer-rd.

Judge Petree Is Candidate For Re-Election

Judge Charles R. Petree has announced his candidacy for re-election Nov. 7.

Petree was trial lawyer in Franklin County and State courts at the time he was appointed to the Municipal Bench in January 1945. He has won repeated endorsement by the lawyers of Franklin County, and a recent poll by the Columbus Bar Association was favorable to Judge Petree.

Petree is married and has one son, Charles, a Columbus lawyer. Judge and Mrs. Petree live at 4153 Edgehill Drive.

Judge Petree has been active in Kiwanis for 14 years, is a member of the Episcopal Church, Franklin Post American Legion, and is a Past Patron of Lorraine Chapter OES. He is a member of Columbus, Ohio State, and American Bar Associations.

Hilltop Library Shows Paintings

An exhibit of watercolors, currently on display at Hilltop Branch Library, 2936 W. Broad-st, contains 20 paintings by Leland McClelland, a cartoonist by profession and may be seen through Nov. 25.

McClelland who has had a previous showing of his work at the Athletic Club, received his training at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts.

When At The FOP, Do As Policemen Do

PART OF THE BEAUTY surrounding the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge is explored in a meditative manner by Patrolman Robert Price of Bexley, standing, and Patrolman Tom Trass of Whitehall; Sgt. Kingston and Chief Sager.

But policemen, too, like to find some relief now and then and one of the best places for them to do so is at the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge, just north of Gahanna along Rt. 62.

The organization, known as Capital City Lodge No. 9, was first formed in 1932 by a handful of Columbus police. Since that time it has expanded and now has 623 active members from the Greater Columbus area, including Bexley, Gahanna, Arlington, Whitehall, Worthington, Darbydale, Westerville and will soon add Grove City, plus some 300 associate members.

Its purpose: to better existing conditions as they affect police; to advance the social, charitable and educational undertakings of police; to advocate rigid enforcing of Civil Service laws as applied to police; not to become affiliated wth any political, religious or other similar types of organizations.

Besides the lodge itself, where dances are currently being held every other Friday night, a picnic pavilion, a playground, and a pond provide adequate depth for fun and relaxation. The grounds are open to the public in small numbers and to large parties on a rental basis. The Friday night dances are also open to the public.

Associate membership fee is but $15 a year for the first year and $10 a year thereafter.

And those who join will have the "privilege and the knowledge of helping to improve the police departments of their own town," according to long-time member Sgt. Frank Kingston.

Take a look at the surrounding pictures, then see if you too wouldn't like to get to know your police force better.

AROUND EDUCATIONAL CIRCLES

Want 'Spirit Of '76' Law Changed

Akron educators are going to launch a three-pronged attack on an Ohio law that is presently keeping teachers from instructing youngsters about Communism.

The Akron school board will ask the Ohio School Boards Association to pass a resolution calling for the law to be changed.

The law, adopted in 1955 and called by many the "Spirit of '76" now says that youngsters cannot be instructed in such subjects as world government, Communism, and Socialism until they have taken courses in American and Ohio history, geography and others. An attempt to do away with this prescribed set of studies in the recent session of the legislature died in the Senate Education Committee without being given a hearing.

Many educators have criticized the bill on grounds that it "muzzles" teachers in instructing youngsters about world Communism.

• • •

Credit Cards Next

A new state law has gone into effect in Ohio. It will allow schools to participate in a popular bit of economics—instalment buying. School boards will be able to use this method to purchase land for future building requirements.

Leave Something For High-Schoolers

A new law goes into effect in California in 1965 requiring schools to begin teaching youngsters a foreign language before they reach the seventh grade. A course in English will be required in the fourth grade.

Censorship Begins At Home

Censorship is not a four letter word, but with the connotation it carries to those engaged in the arts and in related fields, it could just as well be.

The point of contention in any censorship law always involves the definition of the word "obscene." It is trite to comment that what appears obscene to one may not to another, but nevertheless it is true. Legal definitions of a term, while they may parallel, are not necessarily taken from a Webster's reference.

Significantly, Columbus City Attorney Russell Leach has pointed out that the legal definition of "obscene" is closer in meaning to "pornographic" than it is to "objectionable." "A point," he added, "that few people understand."

Certain movies, proponents of censorship have claimed, are objectionable and should not be shown to youngsters. Youngsters are impressionable; many tend to believe that what they see in movies is not altogether fantasy. From this view, the proponents have a point. And—censorship is the answer. But not the kind of prohibition of thought and expression they are attempting to foster. The best kind of censorship is that which begins at home.

The movies — certain objectionable ones—do not saturate the public, including the youngsters, with filth, lewd and lascivious behavior. The public saturates itself. No one is forced to attend any showing of any film of any kind.

If parents are worried, as they should be, about how their children are going to grow up, then it is up to the parents to stiffen their spines, and instead of being afraid of what their children will be, stop being afraid of themselves.

Teach them the tradition of good versus evil. Teach them character by your own example. Teach them moral and ethical values—how to tell right from wrong. Teach them of life so when they become disturbed by their emotions, they will know how to restrain themselves and why they should.

Teach them of love, its meaning, of all its shades of being, and also the exploitation of its meaning. Teach them of integrity—integrity of the soul, of the mind, of the body.

Then—when you have taught to the best of your knowledge and ability—let them on their own. And have faith enough in your teachings to "honor thy children." J.P.

Fight For Better Air Very Encouraging

How many of us remember the dismal cold weather scenes from Broad and High less than 20 years ago? A thick pall of choking smoke that cut visibility to only a block or two—cinders that ground into the eye and ruined white shirts.

That picture has brightened tremendously in the last two decades. The sun is getting through again.

While much of this can be attributed to new fuels and burning methods in home heating, industry, rail power, and the like, a good measure of credit also should go to the Columbus' smoke abatement program. smoke sluethe have had to prosecute many times to get their job done, but their cause was usually valid.

Of the many weeks observed annually, none hits closer to home than Cleaner Air Week, Oct. 22-28. The Division of Smoke Regulation reminds us that we could do without water and food, perhaps for days—but our need for air is never more than a breath away.

Every element of community life adds pollution to the atmosphere—homeowners who burn refuse or have faulty stoves, motor vehicles and their exhausts, factory furnaces and chemical processes.

We as individuals may not be able to cause governments to put a halt to nuclear testing and its resulting "fallout," but we can do our own bit toward keeping the skies clear of debris, by working cooperatively with the Department of Public Safety.

Enjoyable Hunting Excursions Easily Tailored To Tastes Of Individuals

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

Along about now a group of eight area business and professional men are hunting deer on one of the islands in Lake-of-the-Woods. They left last Friday and will arrive back on the 30th.

If all are as enthusiastic about a hunting or fishing trip as Emmett Seely, 23 Wisconsin-av, one of those on the trip, then the jaunt is bound to be enjoyable. A 10-day trip with 1,200 miles to travel each way can be tiresome if the hunting party is not compatible. "We've never had such problems," said Seely, "our trips are always fun." His companions this year will be Don Novac, Bill Southworth, Dr. John Schott, Harold Poll, Bill Shriver and two out-of-towners.

Word of the trips has spread and people ask Seely how they organize a hunting party. "There are several things you should know," he told me, "but basically it's a case of friends asking other friends to go along. The trips are not really expensive in this day of inflated vacation costs, and we've never had any trouble filling up a party. Not expensive, that is if you already own a gun and hunting gear."

The first thing to decide is where to go. The Lake-of-the-Woods has been productive of deer so they went back to Al Ulmer's Fish Narrows Camp. It is located on an island, and Ulmer meets the party with a boat to transport members to their quarters. Guides and food are taken care of in the camp charges.

Newcomers should ask about prices and just what services are included, Seely advised. Firm reservations must be made in advance.

The same holds true of a fishing trip, and Seely and his friends have had successful vacations at Lake Nipissing in Canada.

The kind of trip Seely is talking about costs approximately $150 a week per man, not counting travel expenses. It does include licenses. In this price range you can expect good guides and you should have all the good food you can eat. Cabins will not be plush, but will be heated and may have running water.

At such a camp the hunting is not strenuous. Deer are usually driven past the hunters, and guides do the driving. All you need to do is bundle up in plenty of clothes and wait. On bad days when the deer are likely to be bedded down, duck hunting is available. You can also try for grouse, excellent prospects in some locations, and bear after you get a deer.

Seely, who laid down his MI rifle after World War II and never expected to shoot another round, thoroughly enjoys these hunting and fishing parties. "It is not only getting game or fish," he says, "but part of the attraction is getting away from business a few days and the good fun and companionship we have in camp. We do a lot of windbagging about past hunts, and have been known to play a round or two of gin rummy."

Such hunting is not the rugged type you often read about—unrolling a sleeping bag on the lumpy ground, and breaking ice in the morning to make coffee and splash a little water on your face. But for those who want to intersperse a few of the comforts of home with their jaunts afield, hunting and camps fill a definite need, becoming more popular all the time.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

Today's Grocery Bill Includes Many Things

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

Fruits — Apples, cider, grapes, [illegible]

Vegetables — Cabbage, carrots, potatoes, (white and sweet), turnips, winter squash, endive, spinach.

The food bill and the grocery bill are two different things these days. As each year passes, more and more non-food items are being added to grocery shelves—and to customer's shopping carts. And they all go on the "grocery" bill.

According to a summary of retail food store sales published recently by Food Field Reporter, non-foods made up 13.86 per cent of the total sales last year. This report covered all supermarkets and grocery stores in the United States.

Non-food sales include items which have always been sold at grocery stores such as soaps, detergents, paper products, pet foods, tobacco products and so forth. Also included in this grouping are the recent arrivals to food store shelves —such things as health and beauty aids, magazines, toys, housewares and clothing items.

In the non-food grouping, health and beauty aids showed the biggest increase of sales—up to 18.5 per cent from 1959. The fastest growing products were weight-reducing preparations, which are classified as health aids. These items made up 5.78 per cent of food store sales last year.

The increase in non-food sales at grocery stores is an indication that many people like the convenience of being able to buy these items when they go food shopping. This is also evidenced by the increasing number of non-food items on food stores shelves and the larger number of stores that are carrying non-foods.

It means also that a significant and increasing part of the money families spend at food stores is for non-food items. It is important to keep this in mind in budgeting the food dollar and in recording the amount spent for food. Your "grocery bill' probably won't look nearly so big.

WRAPPING UP LOCAL GRID GAMES . . .

Here's How The Action Went Over The Weekend . .

AT WHITEHALL, the Rams were never in trouble and scored in every period, thanks to some fancy tossing by quarterback Ron Paxson, as they smothered visiting Mt. Vernon, 38-6.

Besides Paxson's passing tactics for the evening, he opened up the scoring early in the first quarter on a one-yard run to climax a 26-yard drive stemming from a recovered fumble. Bobby Benjamin scored two touchdowns to lead the scoring.

AT WORTHINGTON, the Cardinals found that Bexley offered little resistence and the Lions couldn't stop Mark Weller who hit on two touchdown drives of 6 and 5 yards. The hosts won, 36-0.

Bexley never threatened closer than the 20 all evening.

AT WEST JEFFERSON, John Mast carried the offensive attack for the home team Friday night to push his Roughriders to their fourth win of the season against Triad, 38-0.

Mast scored two touchdowns during the evening, his first was an 84-yard run on his team's first play of the game. He scored again on a two-yard sprint.

AT CANAL WINCHESTER, Millersport outscored the hosts, 36-22, thanks to sophomore fullback, Steve Budnick, who led Millersport by scoring four touchdowns on runs of 3, 4, 1 and 1 yards.

AT CARROLL, Amanda-Clearcreek shutout the hosts, 22-0, with Jim Anderson scoring all three of his team's touchdowns. He hit on a 48-yard run, a 4-yard run and added another one on a 80-yard punt return.

AT UNIVERSITY, the Little Bucks scored twice in the first period and once in the second period for its 18-6 win over Hamilton Township.

Glen Weldon scored on a one yard run and then Mike McCoy recovered a fumble in the end zone for the second TD. Bob Jacques ran 52-yards for the other University score. Fred McClary scored for Hamilton.

Scoring in every period, Rosary rolled up 211 yards rushing and 187 more through the air on eight completed passes in 13 attempts while losing 16 yards to the charging New Albany Eagles late in the contest.

AT DUBLIN, the Reynoldsburg Raiders ran its unbeaten string to seven and No. 4 in a row in the County League by dropping the hosts, 60-0.

John Thompson, the top scorer in the area and in league play, scored three times, all on short runs. He picked up a total of 126 yards in 10 carries.

AT JONES FIELD, Bruce Draudt scored on a one-yard run and a 25-yard pass play that provided Academy with its margin over St. Mary, 13-8.

The Vikings spotted St. Mary two points after going on top in the second quarter and then held four times on a first and goal situation before they launched the game-winning drive.

AT WILMINGTON, the undefeated and untied South Central Ohio League leading hosts handed visiting Franklin Heights the short end of a 14-12 score for the latter's first loss in league play.

Dwight Wallace's pass to Larry Vanscoy Wilmington's first touchdown proved to be the margin of victory.

John Shomer and Ed Isham each accounted for a pair of touchdowns to pace the Washington C. H. triumph over Pleasant View. One of the former's six pointers came on a 50-yard pass play from John Enochs.

AT MARYSVILLE, undefeated Gahanna is the sole leader in the Mid-Eight league, thanks to its win over the host team, 34-6.

Marysville didn't give this one up easily, though, and held the Lions to a 2-0 halftime lead. But the Gahanna attack started shortly after the intermission and rolled onto 26-points in the final quarter.

AT HILLIARD, the Mid-Eight league previous co-leader, Mifflin, was dropped by the hosts, 20-6.

AT WESTERVILLE, Groveport scored on the last play of the game to edge host Westerville, 6-0.

AT GROVE CITY, London bopped the hosts, 24-0, when three visiting players took part in the scoring. Jon Sherman was the stand out in this win.

Sherman took off on a 74-yard punt return in the second quarter and climaxed it with an 11-yard dash.

AT MARION-FRANKLIN, Frank Stavroff, Eastmoor's talented quarterback, was again a main spark for the Warriors as he paced his team to a 50-0 win over the hosts.

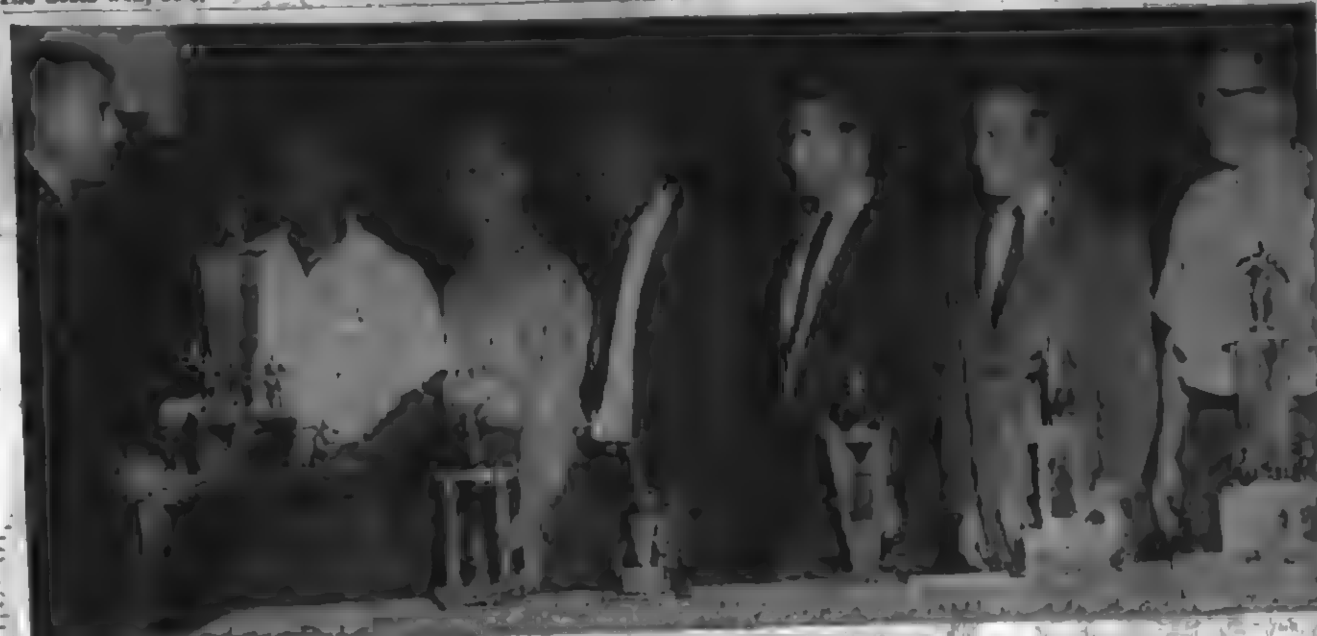
He threw three touchdown passes and then scored one himself on nothing more than a 102-yard run after he took an unsuccessful field goal attempt behind the goal line and was off to the races.

AT WEST, the hard hitting Terriers of Aquinas struck for two quick touchdowns in the last quarter, to down the never-say-die Cowboys, 12-6, before a standing room only homecoming crowd.

With the score tied 6 to 6, Larry Allegrini broke through to block Jim Cook's attempted punt, and recovered in the end zone for the winning touchdown with just 2:43 left in the game.

AT SOUTH, Central's well-balanced attack, aided by some sharp blocking, was the big difference in the win over the Bulldogs, 34-8.

Five different players scored touchdowns and two others extra points. All but six points came in the second half, with a 20-point third period featured.



AT NORTH, the Polar Bear's second win of the season came on two touchdowns in the first period and single scores in the third and fourth periods in a 27-12 decision over East.

North amassed 271 yards, just six more than East. The Maroons tallied their first two on 65 and 60-yard drives.

AT MANSFIELD SATURDAY NIGHT, St. Charles jumped to an early lead over Mansfield Madison, but couldn't protect it and lost 22-6.

AT BISHOP HARTLEY SATURDAY NIGHT, Hartley quarterback Bob Kastl was injured in pre-game warmups but reserve signal caller Joe Kulp stepped in and engineered the Hawks to a 28-0 win over Scioto Township.

AT EASTMOOR SATURDAY NIGHT, two Bens — Arledge and Pinkston — made things dandy for Walnut Ridge as they assisted the new school to a 50-14 victory over Bishop Ready's fledglings.

OHIO, CITY HORSESHOE BANQUET HELD

THE OHIO HORSESHOE League and the City Horseshoe League held their annual banquet at Sunshine Recreation Center last week. The awards for the season were presented to the loop champions. Pictured are, from left, Mel Dodge, supervisor of the City Recreation Department who presented the City League trophy to Clinton Hedges, captain of the Garland Equipment Co. Others from left, are J. D. Rhymer, leading scorer with 4,166 points in the city; Clarence Handen, most efficient City League thrower; Joseph Jennings, most efficient thrower in the Ohio loop; Tom Pearce, leading scorer in the Ohio League, with 5,539 points and Ottie Rese, captain of the Pike County Club who won in the Ohio Horseshoe League.

HOGE TO STAGE TWO-DAY BOOK FAIR

Thousands of volumes ranging from history to poetry, travel, mysteries, classics, cookbooks, children's favorites, fiction, textbooks and do-it-yourself topics, will be offered for sale by the Women's Association of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church in a two-day sale.

The second annual book fair will be held at the church, 2930 W. Broad-st, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 3 and 4. Hours will be from 4 to 9 p.m. Friday, and from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday.

A marzetti dinner will be served to shoppers on Saturday evening from 5 to 8, by the church's Citadel Class. No reservations are necessary, and tickets are available from any class member or at the door.

Books in any of the above categories are being sought by the Women's Association, and will be picked up by calling the church during the day or Mrs L. H. McAllister, BR. 4-8093, in the evening.

Anyone wishing to bring books to the church may leave them at the church office, rear west side door, during daytime hours.

PTA NOTES . . .

Student Projects Feature Of Central Open House

Central High School's annual Open House was held Oct. 18. The program for the evening was the introduction of the faculty and a talk by Francis Rudy, assistant superintendent of the Columbus schools, followed by a visitation period.

Each teacher was in his home room to visit with Central parents and friends. Student projects were on display and an experiment was performed for the guests. This years open house gave people their first chance to see the improvements made at Central during the summer.

Library Has New Books On Sewing

Homemakers, who would like to satisfy their creative instincts and at the same time save money by making their fall wardrobe themselves, will find many practical books on sewing and dressmaking at the Hilltop Branch Library, according to Miss Mary Elizabeth Keyes, of the library staff.

Newest of the volumes is the "Better Homes and Gardens Sewing Book," with helpful facts on sewing everything from dresses and coats to curtains and slip covers.

Mary Johnson's "Sewing the Easy Way" and Madelyn Grigsby's "Sew It Yourself" can take the place of a teacher for the would-be seamstress.

Other helpful books for the home dressmaker include "Creative Sewing," by Allyne Bane; "Clothing for Moderns," by Mabel Erwin; "Singer Sewing Book," by Mary Picken; "The Complete Book of Sewing," by Constance Talbot, and "Sew Smartly," by Mildred Ryan.

It is estimated that mothers who sew can dress their children for about a third of the cost of good ready made clothes.

Many additional books at the library provide instructions for making apparel items for various members of the family. Several of the titles are Kay Hardy's "Make Your Own Teen-Age Clothes" and Marisha Karnes' "How To Make Growing Clothes For Your Baby."

Social Evening Set At St. Joseph's

St. Joseph's Academy Mothers Club will sponsor its annual fall festival, which is open to the public, Thursday, Oct. 26, at the academy, 331 E. Rich-st, 5 to 11 p.m.

Mrs. Richard Brooks is general chairman, and Mr. and Mrs. George McCaffrey are co-chairmen.

Spaghetti dinner will be served from 5 until 8 p.m. Refreshments will be available throughout the evening.

Dinner arrangements are being handled by Mrs. Ralph Capuano, Mrs. George Califf and Mrs. Peter Sargini. Reservations will be accepted by Mrs. John Hardy, BR. 4-0981, and Mrs. Francis Craft, HU. 8-4138.

Annual bazaar will be held the same evening between the hours of 6 and 11 p.m.

A gift fair has been added this year, where many hand made items some of which will be donated by the Sisters of Notre Dame, will be offered.

A school dance will be held this year Nov. 4 in the school hall, from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m., with Paul DeGiola's, "Lucky Joy Quartet" supplying music.

Chairmen for the dance are Mr. and Mrs. Jess Howard and Mr. and Mrs. John E. Pope. All proceeds from the festival and the dance will benefit the academy.

Lois Lemmon, Herbert Brown Wed In Indiana Ceremony

First Presbyterian Church in Shelbyville, Ind., was the scene of the Sept. 30 wedding of Lois Jean Lemmon, 2594 Kent-rd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gael H. Lemmon, Ensenada, Puerto Rico, to Herbert N. Brown, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Brown, of N. Warren-av.

The bride's gown was of bouquet taffeta with alencon applique, designed with a scoop neckline and full skirt with a chapel train. She wore a crown of lace and seed pearls held with a bouffant veil of imported silk illusion. Her bouquet was a small cascade of stephanotis and orchids. She was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Brown is a clinical instructor at the Riverside-White Cross School of Nursing. The bridegroom is a senior in the school of electric engineering at OSU. The couple will make their home at 431½ E. Lane-av.

SHOE PROTECTION

Has your "pride and joy" come home from school with wet feet, yet? Look for it any day now . . . fall rains, sleet and snow! If you have little girls and they are wearing this year's best seller . . . black nylon velvet oxfords, watch out. Nylon is cloth and it's no more water-proof than a pair of tennis shoes. Protect your child's health and shoes by providing overshoes or boots and get them large enough so the child can put them on and take them off without help. Busy teachers can't be bothered by thirty or forty tearful little souls who can't get into their galoshes.

If you are faced with a pair of water-logged leather shoes, don't try to dry them in a hurry by putting them in the oven or over a register. Wet leather will "burn" at a temperature your hand can stand. Dry wet shoes out at room temperature slowly. Use a good wax dressing or one of the new silicone water - proofing compounds on them.

Hilltop Mother And Son Die In Tragic Accident

Funeral services for Mrs. Janice Mullins, 25, and her four-year-old son Tracy John, of 816 Mark-pl, will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday, conducted by Rev. Carl Wilson, Av[illegible] EUB Church. Interment at Greenlawn by the Jerry Spears Funeral Home.

The Hilltop mother and her son were drowned Sunday night when the car in which they were riding, driven by John Mullins, the husband and father, apparently went out of control and plunged over an embankment into the Scioto River seven miles southwest of Delaware on Rt. 257.

Mullins and a younger son, 19-month-old Gary, were apparently thrown clear as the convertible hit the water. The father held the baby and making shore flagged a passing car that took him to a nearby grocery store where he summoned help.

body of Mrs. Mullins floating bed yo fMrs. Mullins floating on the water. Tracy's body was recovered later.

Mullins was admitted to Jane Case Hospital with severe shock but later released and Gary was treated for a head bump and [illegible].

Mrs. Mullins is survived by her parents Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, and a sister, Mrs. Betty Jane Steiner.

ONE HUNDRED PATIENTS a day can be treated in the out-patient clinic on the pavilion's second floor. Dr. Salem Davis with nurse, Miss Mary Conti and clinic employe, Terry King, are shown at the central desk, nerve center of the clinic. A comfortable, colorful waiting room, rooms for examination and consultation, and a pharmacy are included on the floor.

THERAPY OF COLOR, as recommended by modern authorities on the treatment of mentally ill, is used extensively throughout the pavilion. Patients are not confined but move about freely under an approved open-ward policy. Both the third and fourth floors include spacious day rooms, as this one above, decorated in softly glowing colors and equipped with Hi-Fi and television. Wide windows are covered with airy, light draperies and protected by detention screens rather than bars. Patients eat together in dining rooms located on the connecting bridge and furnished with round, mosaic-tiled tables to encourage conversation. Nurse Mrs. Carole Pass, practicing for patients, offers Miss Warren and Miss Walsh a friendly cup of tea.

many rooms on the second floor. Organized in 1953, it has grown so rapidly that the number of patients greatly exceeded the capacity of previous limited facilities. The new quarters will accommodate many more patients.

Children coming to Holy Cross Pavilion are provided with specialized services by cooperation with the Diocesan Child Guidance Center, located across State-st. Also, these children who come to the center, may have use of the hospital facilities.

Runaway Boys Return to JDC

Two of nine boys who walked away from the Juvenile Diagnostic Center, 2280 W. Broad-st, Sunday, returned voluntarily, according to police. The other seven were returned within a short period of time by JDC workers and police.

Prior charges against the boys ranged from larceny and auto theft to truancy and assault and battery.

Holzapfel Named Area Chairman For Passmore

John E. Holzapfel, attorney with offices at 2977 W. Broad-st, will act as West Side campaign chairman for Keith Passmore, candidate for a newly-created Municipal Court Judgeship. The term will begin Jan. 5, 1962.

BEST TIME TO PAINT

Fall is regarded by many people as the best season to paint the outside of the house. Temperatures do not go too high or too low, humidity is down and bugs are at a minimum.

invited to compete for prizes, too. Classes will be prettiest, funniest, and most original and all entries must bear a label stating name, address and phone number of the owner.

Sunshine Center

Sunshine Recreation Center will be Halloween headquarters for the West Side teenage set. Gene Fullen and Company will turn out a Hi-Fi Hop guaranteed to please. The dance from 7:30 until 9:30 p.m. is for the 13-through-18 age group, said Director Don McCann. The preteeners are urged to attend functions at Gladden or Sullivant Gardens.

Go-home dollars will again be awarded to lucky youngsters who register at the West High and Sunshine parties and go home quickly after they are over. Phone calls to a number of Hilltop children 12 and under will be made at 9:30 p.m. Teen go-home calls will be made at 10:30.

GLADDEN

West Side youngsters 5 through 8 will have their Halloween fun between 6 and 7 p.m. at Gladden. From 7:30 until 9 the older pre-teens will be treated to a spook house, booths, refreshments, and a contest for funniest, prettiest, ugliest, and most original costumes. Both groups will have grand marches.

SULLIVANT GARDENS

Children at Sullivant Gardens will start off their evening with a masquerade parade through the neighborhood, followed by a record hop between 7 and 9:30 p.m. Girl Scout leaders and some of the mothers will help with the crowd.

BOYS' CLUB

West Side Boys Club will host a pre-teen party between 7 and 9 p.m. at 115 S. Gift-st. Mothers' Auxiliary will furnish refreshments. There will be games and a costume parade to determine the best dressed, funniest, ugliest, and most original.

The West Side Board of Trade is assisting with party finances at the various centers.

First Aid—Boy Scout Troop 45; pop—St. John's Lutheran Church; tickets—Highland Garden Club and Kiwanikwe; hot dogs and milk—West High PTA; hat bar — American Legion Camp Chase Post No. 36 Auxiliary.

City Council Okays One Zoning Plea

The solons approved one of the petitions and rejected the other two.

Approved was a zoning change on the north side of Sullivant-av between Midland and Whitethorne-ave to permit the construction of four-family apartments on five lots.

A plea to build a service station at the southwest corner of Sullivant and Atlanta-dr was vetoed after the petition was withdrawn.

A petition was withdrawn on the third case too. This one had sought council's approval to erect an office building and pharmacy at the southeast corner of Davis and Ash-sts.

Readout, Schaub Join OEA Staff

Two additions have been made to the headquarters staff of the Ohio Education Association.

Ralph E. Readout, 2010 Azelda-av and Donald W. Schaub, 320 N. Virginia Lee-rd, were employed to assist in expanded activities of the association which has a membership of more than 75,000 Ohio teachers and school administrators.

Readout, former coach at New Lexington and Westerville high schools, will serve as an administrative assistant to O'Keefe. Schaub, former staff member in the Columbus bureau of United Press International, joined the division of publications and information services.

Lions' Council Will Convene

State Council of Governors, Lions of Ohio, will plan future projects at an Oct. 28-29 session at the Southern Hotel. Local club officers will attend.

To be discussed will be participation in aid to the blind, eye research, CARE, the Peace Corps, and upcoming conventions.

TAX STAMPS

Starling is having a drive to collect all tax stamps possible before the state stops redeeming them.

For every $50 worth of stamps a pupil brings in, he will receive 25 cents. Leading the list are Patricia Slyh with $422 and Devona Sems with $378 in stamps, both of Home-room 212.

SKATING PARTY

First Starling Junior High School skating party was held Oct. 19, 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. at Smith's Skating Rink. Approximately 250 people attended.

Center Plans Teen Dances

A Hi-Fi dance has been scheduled at Sunshine Recreation Center on Thursday, Oct. 26, from 7:30 until 9:30 p.m. Gene Fullen and Company will be on hand to play records and Gene will act as master of ceremonies. The dance is open to teenagers, 13 to 18.

The pre-teen dance at Sunshine will carry a Halloween theme on Friday, Oct. 27, from 7 until 9 p.m. in the auditorium of the center. Each child is asked to come in costume if possible, and prizes will be awarded for costumes.

West Grads Plan 25th Reunion

January and June 1936 graduating classes of West High School will hold their 25th reunion Friday evening, Nov. 3.

The group will attend the West-South game at Magly field at 8 p.m., sitting together in a reserved section of the stadium.

Following the game there will be a buffet supper and dance at Holiday Inn, 4601 W. Broad-st.

Reservations, at $6 a person, may be sent to Mrs. Dorothy Clark Hartley, 1370 Wilson-rd, Cols. 4, June class secretary.

Information about their whereabouts will be appreciated by the committee.

Mary Lou Koehler Rhoads, secretary, 668 S. Roys-av, may be contacted for additional information at BR. 9-0906 after 6 p.m.

Clubs Meet At Sunshine

The Golden Age Club at Sunshine Recreation Center met Tuesday at the Center. They recently enjoyed an outing at Blendon Woods followed by lunch at Miller's Restaurant. A workshop on making wall plaques of seed pods and flowers has been planned under the direction of Mrs. Carl Bogart, leader of the group.

The Girls Leaders Club will meet on Wednesday evenings at 7 at Sunshine. Future plans for the club are under discussion. Miss Jean Bigley is in charge of the group.

Dance Dated At St. Agnes

A Halloween costume dance, sponsored by St. Agnes Athletic Association, will be held Saturday, Oct. 28 in the parish social hall, W. Mound-st at Wheatland-av, 8 p.m. until midnight.

Costumes are optional. Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes.

New Classes Held At Center

A creative rhythm band and creative rhythm class are being held at Sunshine Recreation Center Friday afternoons from 3:30 until 5:30. The classes are open to children in the early school ages.

Every Monday and Wednesday there will be baton classes at the center. Any child who is interested should come to the center and register on Monday.

EATIN' AND LOOKIN'

PATTY BRADSHAW, one of the West majorettes, takes a breather after the halftime show to munch on an apple. But she still doesn't take her eye off of what's happening on the field. Seeking a sample on the right is Jenny Tier while Barbara Bollman takes a powder in the background. The scene was snapped at the West homecoming game with Aquinas.

Eagles Move Into Second Place Slot At Glenwood

Defensively, the Eagles kept the Browns in trouble during the first quarter as they trapped quarterback Sonny Wilber in the end zone for a safety. Gary Watters was the offensive star for the Eagles as he scored on runs of 20, 15 and 25 yards.

On Oct. 12, the Eagles lost a hard-fought battle to the first place Forty-Niners, 20-6. The Forty-Niners pushed across a quick score as the league's leading scorer and ground-gainer, Leslie Payne, swept left end for a 12 yard tally.

In the second quarter, Payne scored again and the Forty-Niners were ahead by a 12-0 count. Spearheaded by Richard Webber, the Eagles scored to climax a 60 yard ground attack in the third period to make the score 12-6.

In the fourth quarter, the Forty-Niners scored with Payne scoring on a fake reverse from the Eagle's 15-yard line. A two-point conversion was added as Bobby Watters went around end, making the score 20-6. The Eagles struck back as Jimmy Bennett scored on a three-yard plunge and Webber scored the two-point conversion.

With the score 20-14, the Eagle defense dropped Forty-Niner end Bob Watters in the end zone for a safety.

Parish Dance Set Saturday

Athletic Association of St. Mary Magdalene Parish will hold its monthly dance Saturday, Oct. 28 in the church basement.

The IOIA band will furnish music from 9 to 12.

Halloween costumes are optional. Public is invited.

Boys' Club Team Ends With 26-1

The West Side Boys Club Pony League-Junior Knothole team, this year playing under the banner of the Downtown Breakfast Optimist Club, posted a 26-1 record this season.

The team won the Southwestern A.A. Pony League with a record of 10 wins and no losses. They won the South Section of the City Recreation Junior Knothole League with eight wins and no losses, and then capped the season by winning the City Knothole Championship over the North League Champions.

Although there were several standout individuals the keynote to success was team play and hard work along with confidence and poise. The starting team and their positions were normally: Pete Eyer (p), Dan Dent (c), Butch [illegible] (1b), Dusty Hoover (2b), Jerry Francis (3b), Rick Wuertz (ss), Dana Noble (lf), John Morlan (cf), John Postle (rf). The bench strength was provided by Dan Collins, Sam Watson, Harold Frasure, and John Kelly outfielders, and infielder Ron Lyons.

As a team, the boys were at bat 677 times, pounded out 228 hits, for a .308 team average, and tallied 235 runs. They limited the opposition to 61 hits in 518 at bats for a .134 average and 61 runs. The hitters were led by John Morlan with a .550 average followed by Eyer .500, Postle .375, Francis .373, Wuertz .347, Noble .339, and Dent .323.

The pitching staff was led by Pete Eyer who posted a record of 14 wins and one loss including a no-hitter in the championship game. He received superb support from Francis 7-0, Morlan 3-0 and Dent 1-0.

The boys were uniformed by the Breakfast Optimists who also had the boys as their guests at a Jet ball game and the breakfast at Kuennings Restaurant.

At an Awards Night program, Optimist Club Members Bill Lisle and Lee Asbury spoke to the boys and their parents, and each boy was presented with a trophy.

The team was coached by Paul Pennell, a June graduate of Ohio State University, presently teaching at Columbus East High School.

A Sports AUBLEGRAPH

BY JOHN AUBLE, JR.
Hartley Sports Editor

You Think You've Got Troubles . . . Just Read This

You say your shoelace just broke and your new wool sweater is itching and driving you crazy? To top it off, you just shoved a fountain pen in your pocket with the cap off and you sat on your glasses.

Deppner is faced with — and has been faced with —a problem that few coaches have had. He's a brand new coach in a brand new school.

It's certainly not unusual to begin a new high school. Look at Walnut Ridge and Whetstone and some of the others. But, problems there—sportswise—are fairly simple compared to Deppner's.

The other schools entered football competition with juniors or at least sophomores playing on their squad. Deppner has nothing but freshmen and he's done an amazing job. The smell of roses there has been most intoxicating.

'We've Been Lucky . . .'

Deppner looked back over his school's first year of football competition and can sum it up by saying "I guess we've just been lucky."

BISHOP READY COACH Jack Deppner, seated, checks over some plays used this year by his team—the youngest team to hit this area in quite awhile. All the boys are freshmen and the team still ended with a 4-2-2 record. Looking over Deppner's shoulder are three of the squad's mainstays, from left, Steve Guglielmi, Jim Muir and Paul Eberts.

His team closed out with a 4-2-2 record and part of this "luck" Deppner referred to is wrapped up in three of his freshmen players.

These boys—Paul Eberts, Jim Muir and Steve Guglielmi—have handled most of the scoring chores and kept the Ready team from going under in their debut.

"These fellows have been keeping our defensive unit strong, too," says Deppner. Eberts is a 6-foot, 2-inch, 185-pounder, Muir is the teams leading scorer with 38-points and Guglielmi is a 5-foot, 7-inch, 155-pound linebacker.

"The boys have come along very well for a new school," Deppner said. "If they stick together, work hard and take pride in their size and ability, they certainly should do a very respectable job in a couple of years."

Elem School Thanked . . .

"Certainly a lot of credit must go to the elementary schools and their coaches. Not having the chance to know these people personally, I can certainly appreciate what these men have done with these boys. And there, maybe, lies the story of our success," the coach added.

Ready lost one game this year to Scioto Township varsity squad, 28-8, and dropped another last Saturday against Walnut Ridge, 50-14.

The Ready Knights scored 135 points to the opponents' 134. Offensively speaking, the ball club is centered around the quarterbacking of Tom Weisenbach who is also an outstanding student.

Most of the boys have come to Ready from St. Agnes and St. Mary Magdalene elementary schools. There are 15 local teams who want to play Ready next year—the only game that's set for sure is with St. Francis DeSales.

Abit About Deppner . . .

He was graduated from the University of Dayton in 1957 with a BA degree. He coached for a while at Wilbur-Wright High School in the Dayton area for two years.

The 26-year-old coach is handling basketball and golf duties at Ready, also. While at the Wright school, he compiled a 12-2 basketball record last year.

He spent his first two years in college at Denison and played guard on the football team there. While with the Dayton Triangles—an American semi-pro football team—he was voted the "Rookie of the Year" in 1954.

SUPPORT YOUR SCHOOLS!

SUPPORT THE 7.4 MILL SCHOOL LEVY!

Columbus can afford to support this levy because:

- OUR SCHOOL COSTS ARE LOW

In school expenditures Columbus ranks 20th among the 40 city school districts in Ohio having populations in excess of 50,000.

- OUR TAX RATE IS LOW

Columbus has the lowest real estate tax rate among Ohio's eight large cities and also among Franklin County's 10 municipalities.

- OUR TAX RATE HAS INCREASED LESS THAN ELSEWHERE

The real estate tax rate in Columbus has increased by 7.4 mills since 1950. Increases in the tax rates of eight other Franklin County municipalities ranged from 12.3 mills to 17.3 mills during this period.

- THIS LEVY WILL INCREASE TAX PAYMENTS OF THE TYPICAL HOMEOWNER BY ONLY 35c PER WEEK

Only 3.5 mills of the 7.4-mill levy represents an increase in the tax rate. This means that taxes on a home which could be sold for $15,000 would be increased by approximately 35c per week.

This levy will enable Columbus to:

- EDUCATE 12,000 MORE CHILDREN

Estimates based on children already born and living in Columbus indicate that enrollment will increase by 4,000 pupils each year during the next three years. By 1964, 100,000 pupils will be enrolled in the Columbus Public Schools. It should be obvious that the Board of Education can't educate 100,000 children on a budget that is barely adequate for 88,000 pupils.

- MAINTAIN A SOUND EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

During the last three years, the Columbus Public Schools have carried out an extensive improvement program that has strengthened instruction in all grades. Failure of the 7.4-mill levy would jeopardize all of the improvements that have been made, eliminate the possibility of any further improvements, and imperil the program of instruction in every classroom in the city.

- ATTRACT AND KEEP GOOD TEACHERS

Good teachers are the key to the effectiveness of a school system. Therefore, the Columbus Board of Education strives to place in each classroom the best teacher available. Unfortunately, Columbus is not in a strong position to compete for the services of the best teachers seeking employment because its salary schedule is comparatively low. We must provide salary adjustments for Columbus teachers.

COWBOYS DROPPED, 12-6

Aquinas Spoils West Homecoming Friday In Battle Of Unbeatens

By MELVIN HOOVER and GLENN ROHRER

Aquinas edged West, 12-6, in a homecoming thriller at Magly Field Friday night. The Terriers defense proved to be the winning factor.

In a battle of the undefeated, the Cowboys came up on the short end. Although losing their first City League contest, the Broncos played a good game.

Early in the first quarter the Cowboys paraded 81 yards in 5 plays. The big play being a 62-yard pass from quarterback Jim Cook to right halfback Jerry Ball. Ball grabbed the pass on the 38 and outran the Terriers secondary. Neely's conversion attempt was [illegible] short, giving the Cowboys a 6-0 lead at the end of the first period.

Neither team was able to score during the second or third quarters. Both squads threatened several times but they couldn't come up with that big scoring play. Thus at the end of the third period the Cowboys 6 points looked as if it would be enough.

However, the Terriers struck for two quick touchdowns late in the fourth quarter. The Cowboys unable to pick up the first down were forced to punt. Mike Welling grabbed Jim Cook's punt on the 48 and behind fine blocking rambled down the left sidelines to tie the score 6-6.

The Terriers, using something not lately seen in high school football, attempted to kick the point after touchdown. Their attempt was unsuccessful, however, as Bill Gray cracked through the Aquinas line to smother the ball.

With 2:43 seconds remaining, Cok was called upon to punt the ball from deep within his own end zone. Larry Allegrini broke through to block the punt and then fell on it in the end zone for the winning score.

Down 12-6 and time running out, the Cowboys took the Aquinas kickoff and preceded to march 73 yards to the Aquinas 7 yard line.

The Cowboys, having used all their time outs, gave it one last attempt. Cook threw for big Dwight Newman on the 1-yard line. He overshot his mark and the ball was intercepted in the end zone by Pat Mental who raced to the 43 as the game ended.

West picked up 212 yards and 11 first downs to 141 yards and 7 first downs for Aquinas.

The Cowboys travel to North Friday to meet the strong Polar Bears.

AT WEST
Aquinas	0	0	0	12	—12
West	6	0	0	0	— 6

WEST'S JERRY CLAYTOR seems to be making a side effort in this picture taken in the first half of the tilt with Aquinas last Friday. Stephen Hoegele (62) moved in to stop Clayton but not before he had made a first down. Bill Gray (65) helped spring Clayton on his run but the Cowboys faltered in the second half and bowed to the league-leading Terriers, 12-6.

Panthers Are Lion Grid Loop Champs

Fullback Jim McVay received a pitch-out from quarterback Bob Lehman and raced 7 yards around end to score a TD in the first quarter.

In the second period, McVay plunged for 1-yard over the middle to score. Lehman passed to end Sam Towne for the extra point.

The Cavaliers were forced to punt later in the same period and linebacker Campbell blocked the punt and pounced on it for another Panther touchdown.

The Panthers continued their scoring spree in the third quarter as Bobby Dennis scooted 25 yards around end to pay dirt. John Kuhn accounted for the extra point on an end run.

Campbell, a defensive standout all morning, pounced on a Cavaliers' fumble on the 1 yard line and Lehman scored on a quarterback sneak.

Sam Towne was the target of a Lehman pass again and he accounted for the extra point.

Campbell again displayed his versatility in the fourth period as he intercepted a Cavalier pass and raced 60 yards for a touchdown. The extra point was made by Bill Weeks.

Fullback McVay scored on a one foot plunge and Lehman passed to Weeks for the extra point to round out the scoring in the fourth quarter.

Panthers scoring: TD—McVay 2 (7, 1, 1 runs); Dennis (25, run); Lehman (1, run); Campbell 2 (blocked punt, [illegible] interception). EP — Kuhn (run); Towne (pass from Lehman); Weeks (pass from Lehman).

Chargers Bounce Back To Tame Lions, 37-0

After suffering their first defeat of the season last week, the Chargers came bouncing back to tame the Lions, 37-0.

Fleet-footed halfback Jeffrey Tucker was the spark in the Charger's machinery, scoring on an electrifying 60 yard reverse play, a 6, and a 7 yard run over guard.

Also accounting for TD's were quarterback Billy Prillerman, fullback John Bennett, and halfback Ron Denbow.

Chargers scoring: TD—Tucker 3 (60, 7, 6 runs); Prillerman (30, run); Bennett (10, run); Denbow (8, run). EP—Bennett (run).

Headhunters Down Colts In 20-7 Win Smother

The Headhunters defeated the Colts 20-7 to replace them as number three in the final team standing.

Lamar Barnes scored on a 66 yard end sweep in the first quarter and received an 11 yard touchdown pass from John Nolan in the second period. Barnes gathered in another Nolan pass for the point after touchdown.

The Colts held the Headhunters scoreless in the final quarter and were able to spring fullback Steve Hedges around end for 40 yards to score. Hedges accounted for the extra point.

Headhunters	6	8	6	0	—20

Headhunters scoring: TD — Barnes 2 (66, run; 11, pass from Nolan); Cheiro (3, run). EP—Barnes (pass from Nolan). Colts scoring: TD—Hedges (40, run). EP—Hedges (run).

An all star game is scheduled to be played at Westgate Park Saturday morning, Oct. 28, at 10. The first, fourth, and sixth place team stars will compete against the second, third, and fifth place team stars.

The climax of the season will be an awards night November 15, at 7:30 p.m., in the Westinghouse auditorium.

49'ers Hold First Place At Glenwood

They strengthened their hold on the top spot by defeating the Browns 46-0 Oct 17. The 49'ers scoring attack was spearheaded by quarterback Leslie Payne and end Bobby Watters. These two accounted for all 46 points.

After taking a punt on their own 25 yard line, the 49'ers moved the ball to the Browns 20, where Payne swept left end for a score and then carried the ball over for the two extra points. After holding the Browns on their own 15 yard line, 49'er Payne hit end Bobby Waters with a perfect strike which covered 60 yards and a touchdown.

WEST'S LAST HOPES for at least a share of the City League title died with this blocked punt late in the game against Aquinas last Friday night. Jim Cook (17) was standing on his own end zone line in an effort to get the punt away but the Terriers' Larry Allegrini (64) broke through to smother the kick and recover the ball (show by arrow) at Cook's feet.—Photos by Bernie Karuke.

By DAVID EVANS and WILLIAM PARKER

Central's Pirates romped 34-8 against South for their fifth win of the year, Friday, at the loser's field. Central, rebounding from their initial loss last week, made short work of the Bulldogs.

Central started the game off right when Paul Frasure broke loose for a 55-yard run which was shy only one yard of a touchdown. Quarterback Tom Fullove plunged the remaining distance for the touchdown. The rest of the first half was fairly quiet with neither team threatening much.

Central [illegible] on strong in the second half with some fine running and passing. Surprising no one, Central scored again as Clifton Moxley hit George Gilchrest for a 25-yard pass-run play.

Toland scored the second touchdown of the third quarter when he broke off tackle and raced 45 yards. Later in the same period, Don Poling combined efforts with Don Mitchell for an 85-yard pass-run play for a touchdown. Roger Jewell scored the extra points on a pass from Fullove.

South finally broke the ice in the middle of the fourth quarter as Denver Ferrell scampered 25 yards for South's only touchdown. Ferrell also crashed into the end zone for the extra points.

Central scored its last touchdown late in the fourth on a 10-yard run by Moxley. Throughout the game Central featured a well-balanced attack with some sharp blocking.

This Friday, Central hosts St. Charles in a non-league contest. This is Boosters Night and a Booster ticket will admit one to the game.

South	0	0	0	8	— 8

Central scoring: TD—Fullove (1, run); Gilchrest (25, pass from Moxley); Toland (45, run); Mitchell (85, pass from Poling); Moxley (10, run). EP—Jewell (pass from Fullove); Toland (pass from Fullove). South scoring: TD—Ferrell (24, run). EP—Ferrel (run).

Full Sports Season Seen At Sunshine

Sunshine Recreation Center Junior Football League continued its round of games last week. The week's action saw the Buckeyes over the Chargers 20-14, the Blue Angels over the Buckeyes 8-0 and the Eagles over the Chargers 14-6.

The Buckeyes over the Chargers game, Don Pinto scored two touchdowns, Bob Middlebrook had a one and one conversion for the Buckeyes. Bill Miller also had two touchdowns and a conversion for the Chargers. In the Blue Angels win Butch Bond scored the one touchdown. Ralph Morgan scored all 14 points for the Eagles in the win over the Chargers. Bill Miller also scored for the Chargers.

Basketball is now being organized. Boys and girls interested in joining a team and receiving instruction in the fundamentals of basketball should contact Mike Coleman, athletic director, CA. 4-9560, or come to the center. Teams are planned in all age divisions, junior, intermediate and senior for both boys and girls.

Westgate Hawks Top W. Mound Rams, 36-0

A fourth down play on the Hawks five-yard line in which the Rams needed a first down failed. The Hawks quickly scored from this situation and broke the Rams spirit. Outstanding on defense for the Rams were Robert Arnett, Dick Skinner and Roger Johnson.

The Rams Booster Club and football team wish Westgate the best of luck in all games in 1961.

The West Mound Rams 90 team bounced back into the win column Sunday, Oct. 22 by downing Linden Mlo-Rec, 20-6. Ken Jackson and Jim Gustin were responsible for the scoring.

Paul Anderson and Lee Skinner were outstanding on defense with Francis Ford doing an outstanding job as line backer. Ken Jackson made one run of 80 yards to score with good down field blocking.

The 90-pound team ended its season with a record of four wins and one lost record.

AT WEST HIGH

Westgate Hawks	8	6	14	6	—36

Westgate Hawks scoring: TD—Thompson 3 (66, pass from Glascor, 60 punt return, 18 run); Eyer (2, plunge); Winston (9, run). EP — Thompson (plunge); Eyer (plunge); Ewing (plunge).

Colo's Ex-Nurse Recovering From Sleeping Illness

Dr. Warren Thomas, director of the Oklahoma City Zoo, and son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Thomas, West Jefferson, is recovering from sleeping sickness contracted while capturing animals in Africa.

Thomas, who first vaulted into the national limelight as nursemaid for Colo—first gorilla born in captivity—became ill in Cairo, Egypt in late September and flew to Rome where he was hospitalized in serious condition. He remained on the critical list for over a week.

Thomas has since flown to Oklahoma City where he is under a doctor's care.

He is a graduate of West Jefferson High School and Ohio State University, and is an ex-Hilltopper.

Improperly placed fertilizer can cause germination injury to seed. As salt concentrations build up in the soil around the seed, according to OSU extension agronomists.

FOURTH NEW CLUB FORMED

HILLTOP KIWANIS CLUB has sponsored its fourth new club in Central Ohio. During Charter Night ceremonies at London, O., last week Ohio District Governor Earl Brooks (left) presented a badge and trophy to William Jones, president of the Hilltop club in recognition of the accomplishment. Jones later announced that the Hilltoppers were paying initiation fees of the London club. William Rush is the club's first president.

BR. 9-1982

With a score of 74 out of a possible 80 points, Blackhawk Patrol of Troop 136, First Presbyterian Church of Grove City, won the patrol competition at the Southwest District Fall Camporee. The test was in the form of a nine-mile hike. At various points along the trail there were judges who observed patrols working out problems of Scoutcraft from Tenderfoot to First Class.

This camporee, held at Scioto Trails State Park this past weekend, was one of the best in recent years. The weather was fine. The campfire on Saturday was an outstanding one, a real highlight of the weekend.

All of the 16 troops attending received a three-cheveron-ed ribbon which is the highest grade. The 210 Scouts and their leaders received special camporee patches in the shape of an animal skin for their activities.

Any Scouter not a Scoutmaster or assistant who would like to become a neighborhood commissioner for the Southwest District, please call District Commissioner Robert Dings at BR. 4-5010. You are needed!

NEW POST GOES CAMPING

Some of the members of the newly-chartered Post 79, Burgess Avenue EUB Church, went on a camping trip to Tar Hollow the past weekend. They also visited the Circleville Pumpkin Show.

Scouts on the trip were Paul Morgen, Richard Gardner, Mel Allard, Ed Slaughter, Bob Schmidt, Jim McCann and Tom Hammon. Advisor Evan Morgan was the aduk present.

Post 79 consists mostly of former members of the Highlanders, active Senior Scout patrol of Troop 79. The senior patrol passes out of existence with the formation of the new post.

Local Delegates Named To State Education Meet

Nine delegates to the Ohio School Boards Association meeting Nov. 16 have been named from Franklin County districts.

William Hockman, Canal Winchester, Franklin County; Ruth H. Mann, 2681 Fair-av, Columbus, Bexley City; Ralph Bender, 368 Franklin, Canal Winchester, Canal Winchester Local; Paul R. Langdon, 75 Powhatan-av, Columbus, Columbus City; Ned Woodruff, 2363 Alton-Darby-rd, Hilliard, Scioto-Darby Local; Roland Long, 1553 Demorest-rd, Columbus, South-Western City; Charles E. Weaver, 178 Longview-dr, Dublin, Washington Local; Walter Clipp, 560 S. Yearling-rd, Columbus, Whitehall City; Margurite Molk, 7624 Dalglen-dr, Reynoldsburg, Reynoldsburg Local.

When fog closes in, good drivers are extra alert, says the Columbus Auto Club. Normal driving speeds are out of the question when normal visibility is lacking. Heavy ground fog, a common autumn occurrence, calls for the most careful kind of driving.

School Boards Slate Annual State Meet

Delegates representing 716 districts will convene Nov. 16 for the sixth annual business meeting of the Ohio School Boards Association in Columbus. The meeting will wind-up the 2½-day convention.

The convention theme is "Ohio Can Provide Quality Education For All." Activities deal with "how-to" techniques of school management, consideration of school finances and new technological advances in education.

It will feature as keynote speaker Nov. 14, Warren G. Hill, Commissioner of Education for the State of Maine. Hill has worked with the Ford Foundation in developing a model curriculum for the country's schools.

A 150-booth exhibit of school products and services will be on display in the exhibit hall of Veterans Memorial. The Trade Show annually attracts over 100 firms which supply Ohio schools with day-to-day necessities, construction materials and special equipment. The Architects Society of Ohio stages an exhibit of scale models and drawings of school plants under construction or recently opened.

Judge Draper Will Speak At Historical Society Meet

Common Pleas Judge Robert Draper, chairman of the Ohio Committee for the Preservation of Gettysburg Battlefield, will address the 13th annual dinner meeting of the Franklin County Historical Society Thursday evening, Oct. 26, at the parish hall of the First Congregational Church.

In observance of the national Civil War Centennial, Judge Draper will speak on "Columbus During the Civil War." During the years 1861-1865, Columbus was a beehive of activity and a center of mustering in and out of new and old troops. The city was also the crossroads for Union troops moving from the eastern to the western fronts.

Appearing on the program with Judge Draper will be the Mount Vernon Fife and Drum Corps under the direction of W. W. Dorsey. The Corps will play a selection of well-known Civil War songs.

Reservations for the annual meeting program may be made by calling CA. 1-7437 weekdays; evenings call HU. 6-2328 or AM. 6-2005.

P. O. 'MAILSTERS' COMING

Dog Show Scheduled At Central Point

At 11 a.m. there will be a Kennel Ration "Kids Amateur Dog Show." Youngsters are invited to bring their dogs to the arena near the J. C. Penny Store at 10:30 a.m. for registration.

There will be prizes for the winners and fifth for each owner as well as free dog food.

Through the cooperation of the Franklin County Humane Society there will be available for adoption a large assortment of puppies, cats and wittens. A small price is charged for the pets to cover licenses and the necessary veterinary services.

This event takes place in the storeroom between the Reeves Sporting Goods and Miller-Jones. It will start at noon and continue until dark.

Boy Scout Calendar Is Announced

Wednesday, Nov. 8—Commissioners' Meeting at Robert Ding's home, 474 S. Terrace, 7:30 p.m.

Wednesday, Nov. 15—District Roundtable, Westgate Methodist Church, Brinker and Wicklow-sts, 7:30 p.m. Paul Schofield, in charge of cubmaster session; Mazie Minier, denmothers; Gene Stinson, scoutmasters.

Monday, Nov. 20—District Committee—3100 W. Broadst, 7:30 p.m. Approval of 1962 calendar; formulate operating committee meeting plan.

Deadline Noted On Ballots For Absent Voters

With the Nov. 7 general election less than two weeks away, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown today warned Ohio civilian and disabled voters that the deadline for requesting or casting an absent voter's ballot is 4 p.m., Nov. 2.

Ballots returned by mail must reach the Board by 12:00 noon, November 3.

Those qualified to vote an Armed Service Absent Voter's Ballot are required to make application by 12:00 noon, Nov. 4.

Colo's Ex-Nurse Recovering From Sleeping Illness

Dr. Warren Thomas, director of the Oklahoma City Zoo, and son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Thomas, West Jefferson, is recovering from sleeping sickness contracted while capturing animals in Africa.

Thomas, who first vaulted into the national limelight as nursemaid for Colo—first gorilla born in captivity—became ill in Cairo, Egypt in late September and flew to Rome where he was hospitalized in serious condition. He remained on the critical list for over a week.

Thomas has since flown to Oklahoma City where he is under a doctor's care.

He is a graduate of West Jefferson High School and Ohio State University, and is an ex-Hilltopper.

Improperly placed fertilizer can cause germination injury to seed as salt concentrations build up in the soil around the seed, according to OSU extension agronomists.

FOURTH NEW CLUB FORMED

HILLTOP KIWANIS CLUB has sponsored its fourth new club in Central Ohio. During Charter Night ceremonies at London, O., last week Ohio District Governor Earl Brooks (left) presented a badge and trophy to William Jones, president of the Hilltop club in recognition of the accomplishment. Jones later announced that the Hilltoppers were paying initiation fees of the London club. William Rush is the club's first president.

BR. 9-1982

With a score of 74 out of a possible 80 points, Blackhawk Patrol of Troop 136, First Presbyterian Church of Grove City, won the patrol competition at the Southwest District Fall Camporee. The test was in the form of a nine-mile bike. At various points along the trail there were judges who observed patrols working out problems of Scouteraft from Tenderfoot to First Class.

This camporee, held at Scioto Trails State Park this past weekend, was one of the best in recent years. The weather was fine. The campfire on Saturday was an outstanding one, a real highlight of the weekend.

All of the 18 troops attending received a three-cheveron-ed ribbon which is the highest grade. The 210 Scouts and their leaders received special camporee patches in the shape of an animal skin for their attendance.

Any Scouter not a Scoutmaster or assistant who would like to become a neighborhood commissioner for the Southwest District, please call District Commissioner Robert Dings at BR. 4-5010. You are needed!

NEW POST GOES CAMPING

Some of the members of the newly chartered Post 79, Burgess Avenue EUB Church, went on a camping trip to Tar Hollow the past weekend. They also visited the Circleville Pumpkin Show.

Scouts on the trip were Paul Morgan, Richard Gardner, Mel Allard, Ed Slaughter, Bob Schmidt, Jim McCann and Tom Hammon. Advisor Evan Morgan was the adult present.

Post 79 consists mostly of former members of the Highlanders, active Senior Scout patrol of Troop 79. The senior patrol passes out of existence with the formation of the new post.

Local Delegates Named To State Education Meet

Nine delegates to the Ohio School Boards Association meeting Nov. 16 have been named from Franklin County districts.

William Hockman, Canal Winchester, Franklin County; Ruth H. Mann, 2681 Fair-av, Columbus, Bexley City; Ralph Bender, 366 Franklin, Canal Winchester, Canal Winchester Local; Fred R. Langdon, 75 Powhatan-av, Columbus, Columbus City; Ned Woodruff, 2363 Alton-Darby-rd, Hilliard, Scioto-Darby Local; Roland Long, 1553 Demorest-rd, Columbus, South-Western City; Charles E. Weaver, 178 Longview-dr, Dublin, Washington Local; Walter Olpp, 560 S. Yearling-rd, Columbus, Whitehall City; Marguite Molk, 7684 Dalgien-dr, Reynoldsburg, Reynoldsburg Local.

When fog closes in, good drivers are extra alert, says the Columbus Auto Club. Normal driving speeds are out of the question when normal visibility is lacking. Heavy ground fog, a common autumn occurrence, calls for the most careful kind of driving.

School Boards Slate Annual State Meet

Delegates representing 716 districts will convene Nov. 16 for the sixth annual business meeting of the Ohio School Boards Association in Columbus. The meeting will wind-up the 3½-day convention.

The convention theme is "Ohio Can Provide Quality Education For All." Activities deal with "how-to" techniques of school management, consideration of school finances and new technological advances in education.

R will feature as keynote speaker Nov. 14, Warren G. Hill, Commissioner of Education for the State of Maine. Hill has worked with the Ford Foundation in developing a model curriculum for the country's schools.

A 150-booth exhibit of school products and services will be on display in the exhibit hall of Veterans Memorial. The Trade Show annually attracts over 100 firms which supply Ohio schools with day-to-day necessities, construction materials and special equipment. The Architects Society of Ohio stages an exhibit of scale models and drawings of school plants under construction or recently opened.

Judge Draper Will Speak At Historical Society Meet

Common Pleas Judge Robert Draper, chairman of the Ohio Committee for the Preservation of Gettysburg Battlefield, will address the 12th annual dinner meeting of the Franklin County Historical Society Thursday evening, Oct. 26, at the parish hall of the First Congregational Church.

In observance of the national Civil War Centennial, Judge Draper will speak on "Columbus During the Civil War." During the years 1861-1865, Columbus was a beehive of activity and a center of mustering in and out of new and old troops. The city was also the crossroads for Union troops moving from the eastern to the western fronts.

Appearing on the program with Judge Draper will be the Mount Vernon Fife and Drum Corps under the direction of W. W. Dorsey. The Corps will play a selection of well-known Civil War songs.

Reservations for the annual meeting program may be made by calling CA. 1-7487 weekdays; evenings call HU. 6-3228 or AM. 8-2005.

P. O. 'MAILSTERS' COMING

Deadline Noted On Ballots For Absent Voters

With the Nov. 7 general election less than two weeks away, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown today warned Ohio civilian and disabled voters that the deadline for requesting or casting an absent voter's ballot is 4 p.m., Nov. 2.

Ballots returned by mail must reach the Board by 12:00 noon, November 3.

Those qualified to vote an Armed Service Absent Voter's Ballot are required to make application by 12:00 noon, Nov. 4.

Dog Show Scheduled At Central Point

At 11 a.m. there will be a Kennel Ration "Kids Amateur Dog Show." Youngsters are invited to bring their dogs to the arena near the J. C. Penny Store at 10:30 a.m. for registration.

There will be prizes for the winners and gifts for each owner as well as free dog food.

Through the cooperation of the Franklin County Humane Society there will be available for adoption a large assortment of puppies, cats and kittens. A small price is charged for the pets to cover licenses and the necessary veterinary services.

This event takes place in the storeroom between the Reeves Sporting Goods and Miller-Jones. It will start at noon and continue until dark.

Hilltonia Plans Birthday, Reformation Rite Sunday

The congregation of Hilltonia Evangelical United Brethren Church, 514 Columbian-av, will observe its 35th anniversary Sunday, Oct. 29 during the morning worship program. A family-style dinner will be served at noon.

Rev. William E. Jones, first pastor of Hilltonia, now retired from the ministry, will give the anniversary sermon on "Not Ashamed of the Gospel."

Hilltonia will also be host to Evangelical United Brethren Churches in Columbus at a reformation service Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

The newly-formed EUB Youth Choir, under the direction of Laverne Warner, will sing and Rev. William Snider, pastor of South High-st EUB, will speak.

Hilltonia congregation was started in 1926 in the home of one of its members, and for some time continued to meet in the homes of charter members.

For several years the church program of worship and Christian education was conducted in the house now used as a parsonage, at 533 Columbian-av.

Church construction started in 1948 and dedication service was held on Easter Sunday, 1953.

Rev. Gerald Koster, minister of Hilltonia and the church's 11th pastor, will conduct the anniversary service. The chancel choir, directed by Mrs. Koster, will sing.

Members from nearly 30 churches will participate in the reformation service Sunday afternoon.

Sunday will be the first general appearance of the new Youth Choir, comprised of young people from Columbus area EUB Churches.

The choir sang for the first time last Sunday at a youth rally at Burgess Avenue EUB. Rev. Irvin H. Lane, pastor of Burgess, is advisor and director of young people in area EUB churches.

Guest Evangelist To Speak Sunday

Church of Christ, meeting at John Burroughs School, 2585 Sullivant-av, has scheduled Everette Alexander, evangelist from the 10th Avenue and 31st Street Church of Christ at Huntington, W. Va., to speak Sunday, Oct. 29.

Bible study is conducted at 9:45 a.m., with preaching and communion at 10:20 a.m., and preaching at 7:30 p.m.

Visitors are welcome at all services. The congregation will schedule other evangelists to speak in coming weeks.

Bible study classes are also conducted each Wednesday evening at 7:30

Missionary To Speak At Bellows

Rev. Spurgeon Hendrix

Bellows Church of the Nazarene, Bellows-av at Cypress, will hear Rev. Spurgeon Hendrix, missionary and educator, recently returned from Cuba, Sunday morning at 10:30.

He will describe the island nation and its people and show curios. Rev. Hendrix has recently been obliged to suspend his work in Cuba.

Another of the series of shining light services will be given Sunday night at 7:30 with an evangelistic emphasis and an old fashioned hymn sing with both instrumental and vocal numbers by choir and congregation.

Revival Set At Hilltop

Rev. Stanley Patterson

Rev. Stanley R. Patterson of Cincinnati will begin a one-week revival at Hilltop Community Church, 179 N. Huron-av, beginning Oct. 30, each night at 7:30.

Rev. Patterson, camp meeting evangelist and radio speaker, is also pastor of Wesleyan Christian Church in Cincinnati.

He recently made a trip around the world, visiting in Japan, Formosa, China, Philippines, India, Africa, Egypt, Holy Land, Greece, Turkey, Rome, Germany, France and England and the first few evenings of the revival will show moving pictures of the trip.

Public is invited by the pastor, Rev. L. Richard Rahrar.

Area Supervisor Visits Jehovah's Witnesses Here

Louis Rylewicz

Jehovah's Witnesses of the West congregation are in the midst of a week of special activity. Louis Rylewicz, circuit supervisor, and Mrs. Rylewicz are conducting a door-to-door training program for ministers associated with the local congregation.

Mr. and Mrs. Rylewicz make week-long visits three times yearly to 18 congregations in central Ohio.

He spoke Tuesday night following sessions of the congregation's Bible speaking and ministry development classes, and each day for the remainder of the week Mr. and Mrs. Rylewicz are accompanying members on house-to-house visitations.

A Bible question period is planned Saturday at 8 p.m. with audience participation.

Highlight of the week will be a public discourse, "Where May Real Security Be Found?" at 3 p.m. Sunday.

Meetings will be held at the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses, 501 Josephine-st. Public is welcome.

A 30-FOOT CROSS of steel was hoisted high in the air Monday and placed atop the bell tower of the new Glenwood Methodist Church, under construction on Valleyview-dr at Hague-av. Workmen of Igel and Co. mounted the huge, four-ton cross on the tower, 58 feet above the ground. Construction on the church is expected to be completed by February. The architectural firms are Holyroyd and Myers, and McDonald, Cassell and Bassett.

Will Sophia, Bridgette Go Under Cover?

Columbus Hopes To Make Movies 'Better Than Ever'

By JOHN POEPPELMEYER

They are, that is, if the 15-person review board set up by Columbus Council deems certain films are not suitable for public consumption.

In the measure advanced by Robert Smith, which could be termed censorship in reverse, the board would view the films at an early showing, and if it is determined that any are in violation of the law, the police will be notified.

If the police refuse to act on the board's verdict, the chairman of the board would be allowed to initiate further proceedings.

How does the board determine if a movie is violating present statutes? A majority ruling among five viewers would suffice. If a majority is not forthcoming, the film will be viewed by the entire board.

Mrs. Goldie May Edmonston was the only council member voting against the review board bill. She claimed it would do nothing more than "clutter up laws already on the books."

At first, the councilwoman wanted to table the issue pleading "it requires further study" and that "I don't understand it." Yet, later when Smith called her attention to the power of the review board chairman to instigate proceedings in the event the police did not agree with the board's findings, she replied "I've read it carefully and very thoroughly."

Council President William Hicks went along with the review board, but indicated he felt it should have been done in a "slightly stronger manner."

William Hoermle, who had abstained on the censorship issue and had refused to vote on the review board method last week, finally grunted forth an "aye" after Smith explained the cost to the city would amount to between $75 and $100 a week for board members' expenses.

Under questioning by council, Police Chief George Scholer commented "This type of ordinance is not enough. It just means that more films will be viewed more frequently than the police are able to do it." He added that regardless of what the board decides, the police will have to make the final decision. He called the bill a "groupthink" reaction. "It does not solve the problem."

Ronald Dore cancelled out plans to submit a bill placing restrictions upon 18-year-olds who view certain movies saying "There's no need for it now."

At any rate, movie attendance should be up.

Westgate Bears' Win Streak Is Snapped By Maryland

The speed of Maryland and the lack of blocking by Westgate were the main factors in the Westgate Bears first loss of the season.

The ball changed hands three times within the first minute of play. Jim Barber's pass to Jeff Wieller was intercepted by Eric Evans. Then Roger Nelson intercepted a Maryland lateral on their first play from scrimmage.

Then in the second quarter, Terry Underwood's punt was returned 55 yards for Maryland's first TD. Shortly in the same period another one of Underwood's punts was taken all the way for the second score for the East side team by Eric Evans.

The second half of play the Westgate team came to life when Virgil Starks scored on a trap, with Jim Barber collecting the two points after. But Westgate didn't have the speed or power to overcome a determined Maryland squad.

In the final period Bob Schollfield scored on a end sweep to end all hopes of a Westgate victory.

Westgate Bears now stand, 4 wins and 1 loss, second only to Maryland who boasts a 5 and 0 record.

Maryland scoring: TD—Guice (50, run); Evans (55, punt return); Meeks (7, run). EP — Meeks (run). Westgate Bears scoring: TD—Starks (7, run). EP—Barber (run).

New Y Program Trains Leaders

Another in the top-notch new programs started at the Hilltop YMCA this Fall is the Leadership Training Program. Members of this group become Junior or Senior Leaders. At the present only a Junior Leaders Club has been started at the Hilltop YMCA, but eventually it is hoped that a Senior Leaders Club can be formed.

The main responsibility of Junior Leaders is to assist in the physical program of the "Y". At the same time, each Leader gains confidence and skill and is enabled to learn new theories and skills and can pass on his knowledge to other members.

This group of Junior Leaders consists of a selected number of boys within the membership who possess leadership potentialities. Each boy has responsibilities and it is his duty to carry them out, enabling the physical program to broaden and run more smoothly.

The Ohio-West Virginia Area of the YMCAs are number ONE nationally in this Leadership program. It is one of the top programs offered for boys, many of whom have become YMCA professionals due to the program.

Members of the Junior Leaders Club must meet some of the following requirements:

1) Be of good Christian character.

2) Maintain at least average grades in school.

3) Attend 80 percent of all meetings.

4) Give five hours of service per week to the betterment of the Hilltop YMCA.

Junior Leaders Club officers are president, Richard Curtis, 142 S. Wayne-av; vice-president, Steve Barnard, 2929 Fremont-st; secretary, Dan Walker, 334 Josephine-av; treasurer, Daniel Dent, 201 N. Chase-av; chaplain, John Grashel, 335 N. Ogden-av.

Your Youth

By Hilltop YMCA Staff

All regular programs at the Hilltop YMCA are now well under way. All school clubs and building programs being well attended. All "Y" members and prospects are urged to look into the program to see what areas they might be interested in."

All Gra-Y Club officers held their first Council meeting last night. The schedule of meetings this year is: Lindbergh and Binns on Monday; Highland, North Franklin and Westgate on Tuesday; John Burroughs and West Broad on Wednesday; Eakin Road, Georgian Heights and Prairie Lincoln on Thursday; and West Mound and Valleyview on Friday. Any boys in grades four to six are urged to learn more about this program by attending the next meeting at their school.

Members of Westmoor, Hilltonia and West Jr. Hi-Y Clubs met last week at the Hilltop "Y" for the first in a series of monthly joint meetings. Each club meets twice a month with business meetings taking place on the first Tuesday in the schools. Boys in grades seven to nine who are interested should contact the advisor at their school.

The next Junior High Dance will be held at the "Y" from 7:30 to 10:30 this Friday evening. It is open to all junior high students who have memberships in the Hilltop YMCA or YWCA. A fee of 25 cents is charged to YM members while members of the YW pay 50 cents. Members of the two staffs are supervisors.

Annual Hilltop Nation of Indian Guides Campout and Induction was held at the South Side "Y" Park this past weekend. About 120 dads and their sons enjoyed this fun and fellowship. Highlights other than the induction were presentation of awards and a feather burning ceremony. New members of the Indian Guide Dance Team who received trophies for their first year were Doug Myers, Jim and Joe Hutchison, Richard Kautz, Jeff Hughes, Paul Clay and Jim Kincaid. Harold Kountz, Richard Fickeisen, Dave and Charles Stephens were awarded trophies for more than one year of service.

Programs on Monday and Wednesday evenings have started at the Westmoor Jr. High School gym. Every Monday evening from 7 to 10 boys in junior high and older, along with adult males have an opportunity to enjoy free play in the gym. Families are invited to take part Wednesday evenings.

Youth Center at the "Y" is open every day after school from 3:15 to 5 p.m. This activity is open to all grade school youngsters holding memberships in the Hilltop YMCA. Evenings find the Youth Center open from 7 to 9 for junior and senior high age members of the "Y". Friday evenings are set aside for family activities.

Craft classes are held every Tuesday for boys and Thursdays for girls during Youth Center hours for these groups. Various crafts are available for 25 cents at these times.

A feature length movie is held each Saturday at 10 a.m. for "Y" members. The next "All-Day-At-The "Y" " program will be held Nov. 4.

Vikings Squeeze Past Comets In Gra-Y Play

The third week of Gra-Y Flag Tag Football was action-packed. In the North Division the Valleyview Vikings squeezed through to their third straight victory by defeating the North Franklin Comets 14-6.

Jim Mathies caught a pass thrown by Joe Khoury for the Vikings' first TD, and Craig Pentello carried the ball for a two-point after touchdown score. Bob Cassady intercepted a Comet pass and raced for the Viking's second and last TD of the game.

The North Franklin Comet quarterback, Mike Hiller, scored a TD from 10 yards out to give the Comets their only six points. The second game of the morning was forfeited to the Highland Trotters to give them a three-game winning record, while their opponents, the Westgate Wildcats, have an 0-3 record.

The last game in the North Division, on Saturday, Oct. 21, was a close contest between the West Broad Colts and the and the Prairie Lincoln Eagles. The Colts won by a 32-28 margin. Tom Randall and Bob Mueller were the standouts for the Colts. Bill McGee and Rick Dillahonty sparked the Eagles' squad. Al Burner, Eagle back, also scored a TD.

In the South Division, the Georgian Heights Rebels won their second game of the season by receiving a forfeit from the Eakin Road Panthers. The Panthers now have a 0-3 record, while the Rebels have won two and lost one. The second game of the morning in the South Division was a one-sided contest.

The last game of the morning saw the John Burroughs Hawks and the Lindbergh Falcons battle.

Both teams were undefeated going into this contest, and both are still undefeated since the score at the end of the game was John Burroughs 28 and Lindbergh 26.

Sunday Law Hits Two More

Two additional retail establishments have been named in affidavits as violating the Sunday closing law by Howard P. Johnson, of 332 S. Brinker-av, a member of the Greater Columbus Sunday Association.

Named were Brookshire IGA Foodliner, Inc., 2781 Eakin-rd, and Delores Hawkins of the Brookshire IGA; American Victory Sales, Inc., doing business as Surplus City, 4106 E. Main-st and Dorothy Lilly, of Surplus City. Purchases were made Sunday, Oct. 8, according to the association.

In other association activities: bumper stickers are now available; Earl Wilson of J. C. Penney Co. at Great Southern has challenged other shopping centers with the statement that his center will solicit more new members than any other.

UA Nears 80%

The Hilltop area United Appeal residential solicitation result stood at 72.5 per cent, or $3284, and the small business at 57 per cent or $2511, as the drive headed into its final five days.

With the overall campaign total standing at 78.7 per cent with five days to go, it was hoped that the drive can be over the top by the Victory Meeting which was to be held Tuesday night.

Reformation Rally Slated At Capital U

Protestants from Central Ohio area will celebrate the reformation with the annual rally to be held Sunday, Oct. 29, at Mees Hall on the campus of Capital University.

The rally will be presentation of a Christian drama, "Christ in the Concrete City."

A dramatic troupe, "Cross and Crown Players," will come from Detroit for the two performances at 3:30 and at 8 p.m. There is no admission charge.

Columbus Lutheran Pastoral Conference will again sponsor the Reformation Rally. Dr. Harold Yochum, president of Capital University, has made the campus available for over 2,000 who are expected.

More than 40 Lutheran congregations, participating in Lutheran open house, Nov. 5-9, will consider the rally a part of the preparation for a week-long evangelism mission.

Kiwanis Club Nets $2425

Receipts from the Sixth Annual West Franklin Kiwanis Auction Sale, held last Saturday night at the Prairie-Norton School, netted the club $2425, according to C. O. Tope, chairman.

"It was the most successful in the history of the event and we are most grateful to everyone who assisted in any way," he said.

Proceeds will be used by the organization to continue its work in West Franklin County, most of which is charitable. The policy of the club, Tope pointed out, has been to carefully scrutinize each expenditure "to make every dollar count for 100 cents."

"Contributors to the sale — merchants and individuals — and the buyers, too, have come to look upon the auction as a most worthwhile community event, and we can only say that we will strive to merit their continued confidence in us," the chairman added.

Reserve Unit Is Organizing

A public information unit of the US Army Reserve with headquarters in Columbus, is being organized to serve the 20th US Army Corps area of Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky, it was announced today by Lt. Colonel Patrick J. Kirwin, commanding officer.

Assignments for qualified reservists in Columbus and central Ohio with news media experience — newspaper, radio, television and advertising — are currently available.

An organization meeting of the Columbus Detachment will be held at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 31, in the office of Maj. Leo H. Gerhardstein, unit advisor, in Building 64 at Fort Hayes. Interested reservists may call him at CA. 1-5861, extension 404 for further information.

Chapter To Convene

November meeting of the Central Ohio Chapter, National Kidney Disease Foundation, Inc., will be held Thursday, Nov. 2, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Farrell, 4373 Wanda Lane-rd, at 8 p.m. All members are invited.

Question:
Why should I buy in Grove City?

Answer:
In the first place, Grove City is quicker to downtown Columbus minute-wise than any other municipality in Franklin County via the new freeway.

In the second place, and this should be in [illegible] place, property values are much cheaper in Grove City than in comparable areas.

Our banks are open on Saturdays — we have coming real soon a complete one-stop shopping center.

You say taxes are high in Grove City? Wait and see the increase you will be getting real soon on your [illegible] bill. We have Columbus water, the same as you are using. We use the same electric and gas as you do. We have wide, modern streets. You folks in Columbus have nothing over us in Grove City. We have 20-minute bus service to downtown Columbus.

If you live in Grove City and work at GM, Westinghouse or any place of employment outside the corporate limits of Columbus "YOU PAY NO CITY TAX!" As a matter of fact, it doesn't cost to live in Grove City, it pays!

We have all kinds of choice listings at this time. Stop in at our new drive-in office, 3680 S. Broadway at Park.

The GIRL SCOUT DISTRICT DIARY

Mrs. James W. Whelan — Ohio Trefoil Council

The regular monthly Hilltop Neighborhood meeting was held on Oct. 19 at Hoge Memorial Church. Eighteen adults were present, representing the following troops: 294, 630, 352, 537, 669, 137, 641, 943, 249, 1158, 162, 308 and 350. Presiding was Mrs. Louis Boehringer, neighborhood chairman.

Discussed during the meeting were important dates to remember in the future, and there was an exchange of Christmas projects and crafts ideas.

New officers for the Hilltop Neighborhood were elected on Sept. 21. They are Mrs. Robert Duncan, neighborhood chairman; Mrs. William Schultz, vice chairman; Mrs. Charles Wood, secretary; Mrs. William Schultz, troop organizer; Mrs. George Ralph, troop consultant; Mrs. Kenneth Baxter, special sales representative; Mrs. John Dennher, camping representative; Mrs. H. C. Booth, Juliette Low representative.

Mrs. James Mullins, public relations, Mrs. John Sines and Mrs. Sammie Lancia, council delegates, with Mrs. Donald Stout and Mrs. W. H. Ballmer, council alternates; Mrs. James McKenna, chairman of the nominating committee, with Mrs. Sterling Williamson, Mrs. William Schultz, members of the nominating committee and Mrs. Louis Boehringer, district chairman.

Susan McKenna and Diana Grandstaff received their swimmer badge Oct. 17 at Westgate Park. On Oct. 28, the girls are planning a Halloween party at the home of Mrs. James McKenna. Guest of honor will be a former member, Kathy Werling.

Troop 1148 began fall with a planning session.

A mother's meeting was held at the home of leader Mrs. William H. Schultz on Oct. 17. Plans were made for the year's activities. Mothers present were Mrs. Elmer Thomas, assistant leader; Mrs. Weatherby, Mrs. Meadow, Mrs. Kistner, Mrs. Green, Mrs. Coirner, Mrs. Trague, Mrs. Wise, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Nasner, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Katon.

Troops 249, 630 and 669 have 42 girls working on their skating badge requirement at the Grove City Roller Skating Rink. Leaders are: Troop 249, Mrs. Sammie Lancia; Troop 630, Mrs. Charles Wood, and Troop 669, Mrs. John Sines.

News 'n' Notes of Camp Fire Girls

Girls Picnic At Westgate

Members of the Wa-m-nahki Camp Fire Group recently bicycled to Westgate Park for a wiener and marshmallow roast. Before eating, girls who attended Camp Wyandotte sang a camp prayer. Beads were awarded to Sue Schneider, Paula and Karen Kartsimas, Marsha Gladden and Chris McCutcheon, and new members, Judy Rieser, Chris Riner, Cindy Jones, Lynn Morgan and Karla Marlow were welcomed into the group.

Members of Intermediate Troop 163 have started their second class requirements. They also welcomed two new members, Marjorie Handly and Denise Hand. A hike was held at Big Darby Metropolitan Park on Sunday, Oct. 15. On Oct. 13, Joe Holbrook, of WBNS-TV, spoke to the girls about weather forecasting.

• • •

Intermediate Troop 352 members held a cook-out at Westgate Park on Saturday, Oct. 14. They regret losing member, Laura Lake, who is moving to Toledo. An election of officers was held and they are, president, Joe Ellen Moeller, and secretary-treasurer, Sue Brdy.

SEE NEWSPAPER PLANT

Leader Mrs. Nancy Truelove, 881 Chestershire-rd, was accompanied by two mothers, Mrs. G. Bonaventure and Mrs. Ruth Hill, and the following girls:

Sonya Tatman, Renee Bonaventure, Beverly Barklow, Nancy Houser, Susan Lowry, Kitty Stillwell, Candy Hauser, Mary Truelove, Kathy Gehring, Christy Hill and Denise Bonaventure.

The Ga-kon-ci-ne-wa group of Camp Fire Girls spent the week end of Oct. 6-7-8 in the Nature Cabin at Wyandot. Linda Rittenhouse, Shirley Miller, Carol Hussey, Vicki Hastings, and Carol Deitrick enjoyed the beautiful outdoors and cooked on hobo stoves. Sue Hoffman and Marilyn Rath are joining the group this week.

Eleven girls passed Fire Makers rank Saturday, Oct. 7. They were from the Da-kon-ya and Mekakwa groups and their names are: Karen Roberts, Pat Currier, Bonnie Plevel, Stephanie Emory, Cathie Rheinscheld, Darryl Mueller, Pamela Foothe, Susan McCann, Patti Wheeler, Pamela and Patricia White. They are now ready to work on Torchbearers rank.

BOYS ARE REMEMBERED

Beryl Badgley At Great Lakes

The nine-week training program is designed to provide a smooth transition from civilian to experienced bluejacket, ready for duty with one of the fleets.

In struction ranges over topics from cold weather training to naval history, and includes military drill, physical fitness and swimming.

Spring-Sandusky Accident Prone

Police Chief George Scholer's traffic accident report for Oct. 1 through 15 shows six crashes in the Spring-Sandusky-st interchange and three at Mound and Sandusky-sts.

The chief has called for increased enforcement on stop sign and speed violations, and special attention to W. Broad and W. Mound-sts between 3 and 8 p.m.

As many as 8,000 different items fill the shelves of a modern supermarket.

School Levy Lifts Level Of Education

(EDITOR'S NOTES—This is the last of three articles providing background information on the 7.4 mill school operating levy that will appear on the Nov. 7 ballot. In this article, school administrators review some of the program improvements effected by the schools as a result of the 3.8 mill levy originally passed in 1958 and submitted for renewal this year.

BY DR. HAROLD H. EIBLING

The 3.8-mill school operating levy passed in 1958 has had a tremendous impact upon the instructional program of the Columbus Public Schools.

- It has permitted the Columbus Public Schools to absorb enrollment increases totalling 12,660 children without cutting services to the individual pupil.
- It has provided the money to hire more than 400 highly trained, competent teachers to cope with enrollment increases alone.
- It has kept the Columbus salary schedule for professional teachers from falling too far behind those of other large Ohio cities so that replacements have been found for more than 1,000 teachers who have resigned, retired, or taken leaves of absence during the last three years.
- It has provided almost $900,000 for the purchase of textbooks alone.

And it has financed improvements in the instructional program at all grade levels and in every building in the city.

Individual building principals have been in the best position to notice these significant developments the 3.8-mill levy has brought since 1958. Typical of principals' comments at secondary level were those of David P. Randall, principal of West Junior-Senior High School, and Leslie M. Evans, principal of Central High School.

Asked what improvements in the educational program he has noticed since voters approved the 3.8-mill school levy in 1958, Randall replied, "First, I have noticed better teacher morale, certainly one of the most important factors for effective instruction. This new esprit de corps, I feel, has reduced the loss of many teachers to other fields of endeavor.

"Second, because of the 3.8-mill levy, we have had greater supplies of the tools of instruction, which increase the possibilities of expanding the various fields of learning. I refer especially to the greater use of television and radio and to the use of our new language laboratory. These instructional tools make possible supplementary instruction by specialists in the fields of science, mathematics, English, foreign language, earth science, and social studies.

"Third, the levy has made possible the expansion of accelerated classes for able learners and modified classes for pupils who learn more effectively at a slower pace.

"Finally, the 3.8-mill levy has caused an increase in the amount of services in the fields of child study, student counseling, and student testing—all of which are vital to the operation of a sound educational program."

In comments on the benefits to Central High School brought about by passage of the 3.8-mill levy, Principal Evans also noted the improvement in foreign-language instruction since the installation of a language laboratory, the enlargement of student-counseling services, and the strengthening of academic instruction through the use of television.

Other advantages listed by Evans included:

- Improved materials from the Board's Department of Audio-Visual Education.
- A revamped vocational program to provide better services for boys and girls from throughout the city.
- Additional reference books in many departments.
- And new equipment for office-machines training, as well as restaurant, shop welding, and woodworking training.

Speaking for elementary principals of the area, Miss Hortensia Dyer, director of elementary education, has noted some of the program improvements provided by money from the 3.8 mill levy. Following are some of the most important items on that list:

- A revised agreements booklet—The concise presentation of the elementary curriculum puts order and direction into primary and intermediate study efforts and eliminates duplication of effort at the various grade levels.
- An independent activities book for first grade—This book guides the teacher in the development of her pupils' vocabulary and reading abilities.
- Sound charts—These charts are important aids in phonetic word analysis at all elementary grades.
- Supplementary handwriting manuals—These manuals show better ways of teaching handwriting at the first three grade levels.
- Revised resource files for kindergarten through grade 6—These files show ways to carry out agreements-booklet suggestions.
- Physical education manuals—These manuals provide a guide for physical education activities at each elementary grade level.
- New textbooks in health, history, geography and arithmetic.

New maps and globes—All schools have been brought up to at least minimum standards established by a committee of teachers.

- More and better educational study trips for grades 3-6—The number of available buses has been increased from

EUB's First Pastor Gets Honorary Title

Rev. William E. Jones, first pastor of Hilltonia Evangelical United Brethren congregation, was honored during the church's 35th anniversary service Sunday with the title of minister emeritus of Hilltonia.

Now retired after 55 years in the ministry, Rev. Jones was presented a plaque inscribed with the honor, and he and Mrs. Jones were given a gift of money.

He served as first minister of Hilltonia when the congregation was formed in 1925, and continued in the pastorate until 1929. The couple are now members of Hilltonia and live at 439 Townsend-av.

The anniversary program at 10:30 a.m. Sunday was followed by dinner at noon, and reformation service for all EUB churches in Columbus at 2:30 p.m.

For the first several years of the congregation's history, members worshipped in the homes of members, and then in the house now used as a parsonage at 522 Columbian-av.

Church construction was started in 1948 and dedication service was held on Easter Sunday, 1950.

LEAF PICKUP IS WEEK AWAY

West area homeowners have a week to get ready for the city's annual leaf cleaning program.

The following schedule was announced today by J. C. Chavous of the Street Maintenance Department:

Wednesday, Nov. 8—Civic Center-blvd to Schultz-av between Broad-st and the railroad north of Broad-st.

Thursday, Nov. 9—Civic Center-blvd to Glenwood-av, between Broad-st and Sullivant-av.

Friday, Nov. 10—Glenwood-av to Central-av, between Broad-st and Sullivant-av. Central-av to McDowell-av, between Sullivant-av and the south city limits.

Three approved methods of disposing of leaves are:

(A) Place them in the length of the gutter in front of the house, (not in piles) and wet them down.

(B) Place them in separate regulation containers for regular pickup by sanitation crews (or dump them free of charge at city landfills at Prisoners' Quarry, McKinley-av; Frank-rd or John-st).

(C) Burn them, in non-combustible container during daylight hours only. Burning must be done at a safe location and with a competent person in attendance.

Chavous said no vehicles should be parked on the streets during the days when leaf cleaning is scheduled. Equipment driving around one car will miss 30 feet of gutter, he said.

Reactivate Membership Drive At 'Y'

A reactivated membership drive for the Hilltop YMCA will get under way Monday, Nov. 6 in an attempt to reach the goals originally set by the membership committee during the recently completed drive.

The second phase of the campaign will be directed by Roy Agin, second vice-chairman of the board of management.

A goal of 1,601 members has been set for the "Y" and a collection of $12,000. In the first drive, a total membership of 1,575 was reported and a collection of $9,000.

According to the membership committee, every effort will be made to reach the goals by the end of November, and families and individuals have been urged to enroll as soon as possible.

Memberships are accepted at the Hilltop Branch YMCA, 2879 Valleyview-dr. Information may be received by calling BR. 6-5306.

Zone Boards Give OK To Three Cases

A rezoning petition, initiated by Eakin-rd neighborhood residents and given the backing of the Planning Commission, became law Monday night.

Spots at Wayne, Burgess, Richardson and Eureka-ave and Eakin were rezoned from C-4 Commercial to R-4, one-to-four family residential.

Last Friday the Board of Zoning Adjustment approved two Hilltop zone variances. Permission was given Frank Ongaro, 57 Letchworth-av to maintain a dental laboratory at that address. Provisions are that no one except the immediate family be employed in the business, that no signs be erected, and that the special use will terminate upon sale of the property, death of the owner or termination of the profes-

William Kontras, 3069 Wicklow-rd, was granted a variance to lot area regulations to erect a 12-family apartment at 2033 W. Broad-st in an apartment-residential district.

Greenlawn Clearance Seven Months Away, Officials Predict

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

The long-overdue termination of a WWII housing project on Greenlawn-av should take place the last of June, according to Earl G. Fellows of the metropolitan housing authorities.

The project has been causing much concern among local civic leaders who claim they were promised that the revamped army barracks would be dismantled by 1960.

The relocating of the residents there and the demolition of the barracks has taken longer than expected and Fellows offered this explanation Wednesday:

"We just don't want to place any hardships on the tenants living there and so we just didn't think it was right making a deadline on the clearing of the project."

Fellows reported that there are just 45 tenants left in the project which, in the beginning, housed 315 families, including some 1,000 children.

The project was created in Southview Park to give veterans a place to live and the homes have been used to house vets and service men ever since.

Last March, 115 families were still residing there. Now-retired Greenlawn manager E. J. Dolle promised that the project would be torn down in "a couple of months."

Now, seven months later, the project is still in operation and many of the buildings are still standing.

The demolition of the barracks is being handled by the city using workhouse wrecking crews. The process has been a slow one.

One civic leader in the South Side said, "We want to get that project over with as soon as possible so we can start beautifying it like Wheatstone and other parks in the city."

The kind-hearted housing authorities, however, don't seem to be concerned with beauty and are making sure that the families in Greenlawn have suitable places to live before they ask them to vacate.

"We don't even like to set that June 30 deadline," Fellows said, "but we feel that they'll be cleared out by that time. We're rapidly relocating the families."

Originally, a verbal agreement was made between the Park Commission and the Housing Commission to have the buildings completely destroyed by 1960.

Hilltopper Heads UCW World Community Day

Deeds and dollars of women in 160 churches, all directed toward aiding neighboring Latin American children, have been coordinated by a Hilltop woman this year, in the UCW's World Community Day project.

Mrs. Thomas L. (Josie) Chase, 3452 Race-st, is chairman of the United Women of Columbus and Franklin County's project to help supply educational needs of children.

The planned World Community Day program Friday, Nov. 3 at Linden Heights Methodist Church, 1630 Minnesota-av, will be an expression of the combined efforts of women in participating member churches of the UCW.

Their offerings are school bags supplied with basic study needs, school clothing and gifts of money.

These will be assembled at Linden Heights Friday, or may be left at the Council of Churches office, 135 N. Front-st, until Nov. 15. Gifts of money may also be mailed to the UCW treasurer, Miss Ruth Palmer, 2895 Sullivant-av.

Rev. Frank L. Hutchinson, associate director of the overseas program of Church World Service, relief and rehabilitation arm of the National Council of Churches of Christ, will address the Friday meeting.

"Getting To Know You" will be the theme of the morning session, with a panel discussion by students representing various countries of the Americas.

The UCW Choir, directed by Mrs. C. Weir Hartman, will sing and luncheon will be served at noon.

Afternoon meeting will close at 2:45.

Mrs. Chase is representative to the UCW from the Greek Orthodox Church.

Mrs. Thomas L. Chase

She is also chairman of the YWCA Hilltop Committee and a member for a two-year term of the YWCA Metropolitan Board.

She was chairman of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra Accelerando Unit last year, and is now membership chairman.

Recording secretary of the Columbus Women's Club, she is also a member of American Association of University Women, Robert Morris OES and Meals on Wheels.

This year, she is serving in the national office of grand treasurer of Daughters of Penelope, and was an area captain in the 1961 United Appeals drive.

Now a substitute teacher in Columbus Public Schools, she taught in elementary schools, including Westgate, for 12 years.

Businessmen Will Choose New Officers

Election of officers will be an important feature of the Tuesday, Nov. 14 meeting of the Hilltop Business Association.

Balloting is in progress now. Results will be announced during the Nov. 14 luncheon meeting at Berry's Restaurant.

The following are on the slate: Nelson Greene, Jr., president; Elmer Hegenberger, first vice-president; James Goudy, second vice-president; Bill Jones, John Reece, treasurer; Gilbert Coffman, Chester Herbert, Dorothy Hott, Ron Jones, William Raines and Les Swinford, trustees, (three to be elected).

Guest speaker at the meeting will be John Schley, special agent in charge of the U.S. Secret Service office. His topic will be "Counterfeiting and Counterfeit Money."

Members can make reservations by calling BR. 4-2400.

$1.8 MILLION FACILITY FOR MENTAL PATIENTS OPENS

MOUNT CARMEL HOSPITAL'S new Holy Cross pavilion, four-story structure for the treatment of psychiatric patients, was officially opened Sunday in ceremonies officiated by Clarence G. Issenmann, Bishop of Columbus. The unit houses occupational therapy and medical education departments on the first floor, out-patient clinic capable of handling up to 100 patients a day on the second, and facilities for the care of 100 patients on the third and fourth floors. Located on Souder-av and connected to Mount Carmel by bridges on the third and fourth levels, the structure was built at a cost of $1.8 million, and brings to 452 the number of beds at Mount Carmel. Pictured at Sunday's ceremony are, from left, Fr. Hugh Murphy, visible behind the crucifix; Bishop Issenmann and Fr. James A. Geiger. Both priests are faculty members of St. Charles Seminary.

DR. HUGH C. BENNER, general superintendent of the denomination, will speak at the mortgage-burning service of Warren Avenue Church of The Nazarene Sunday morning at 10:45.

Church To Burn Mortgage

Warren Avenue Church of The Nazarene, 650 S. Warren-av, will burn the church mortgage Sunday, Nov. 5, 10:45 a.m.

Dr. Hugh C. Benner of Kansas, City, Mo., general superintendent of the Church of The Nazarene, will deliver the sermon, and Dr. Harvey S. Galloway, superintendent of the denomination's Central Ohio District, will assist in the service.

Music will be provided by the Golden Keys Quartet of Portsmouth.

Construction of the church building was begun May 29, 1950 and was completed and dedicated Mar. 30, 1952.

Building program was under leadership of Rev. Norris B. Anthony, minister of Warren Avenue for the past 24 years.

Hilltop Longhouse Of Indian Guides Beat Drums For More Membership

Hilltop Longhouse of Indian Guides of the Hilltop YMCA will hold a promotional session at 7 p.m. Friday, Nov. 3 at the "Y". Al Stephens, extension chairman, urges all fathers who have boys five to nine years of age and are interested in gaining a close relationship with their sons to attend this informative session.

Fifteen tribes currently make up the Hilltop Longhouse. Each consists of from four to seven fathers and their sons. Tribal meetings are held in the homes of the Big and Little Braves twice a month. Each Big and Little Brave has an Indian name and also a voice in deciding on the permanent name of his tribe.

An outstanding aspect of the Indian Guide program is that both Big and Little Braves must be in attendance at tribal functions. Psychologists claim that at this age boys need the influence of their fathers and this is one of the main reasons for the rapid acceptance of the program throughout the country. The motto of Indian Guides is "Pals Forever."

Indian Guides accept six aims as their guideposts:

1. To be clean in body and pure in heart; 2. To be "Pals Forever" with my dad/son; 3. To love the sacred circle of my family, 4. To be attentive while others speak; 5. To love my neighbor as myself; 6. To seek and preserve the beauty of the Great Spirit's work in forest, field and stream.

Included in most tribal activities throughout the year are crafts, games, movies, trips, swims, nature study and campouts. The Hilltop Longhouse supplements these programs with campouts at Camp Willson in the spring and fall, Annual Longhouse Induction and Campout at the South Side "Y" Park, pow wows, Match Box Derby and Miniature Golf Tournament.

Dance Team Popular

All Little Braves are invited to participate in the Indian Guide Dance Team. This group practices every Saturday morning at the "Y", learning various authentic Indian dances which are then presented at public appearances. Dancers have their own Indian outfits. The tom-tom beater and leader of this group is the Longhouse medicine man.

Officers of the Hilltop Longhouse are Bob Kerr, chief; Al Stephens, sub-chief; Bill Myers, tally keeper; and Bob Walker, wampum bearer. Bert Korte of the Hilltop "Y" staff is the medicine man. Mel Senerius, chairman of the induction committee, is also serving as a member of the National Executive Committee of the Indian Guide Movement. Senerius is also current Franklin County Indian Guide Federation Chief and Stephens serves as tally keeper.

Plans call for several new tribes to be formed as a result of the promotional Friday meeting at the "Y", 2879 Valleyview dr. Those interested but who are unable to attend may contact Bert Korte at BR. 6-5306 or Al Stephens at BR. 9-4123.

To Form Coin Clubs At YMCA

Youth and adult coin clubs will be formed soon at the Hilltop YMCA.

The organizational meeting for the Adult Coin Club will be at 7:45 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 9, at "Y" 2879 Valleyview dr. Those interested will decide on a definite meeting night and plan future programs.

The Youth Coin Club will kick off at 7 p.m. Monday, Nov. 6, at the Hilltop YMCA. The first session will be devoted to the Lincoln penny. Anyone wishing to bring pennies for trade are welcome to do so. An adult advisor will supervise the club.

Myerses Direct, Accompany Choir

Joseph C. Myers will direct Columbia Heights Methodist Church Choir during the Hilltop Music Festival Sunday, Nov. 5, 7:30 p.m. at Hillcrest Baptist Church, and Mrs. Myers will accompany the choir on the organ.

Last week's issue erroneously listed Joseph C. Jones as choir director, and Mrs. Jones as accompanist.

Democrat Judicial Group Endorses Seven Judges

A slate of seven Franklin County candidates has been endorsed by the Democratic Lawyers Judicial Committee, as qualified for election Nov. 7 to Municipal Court on the non-partisan judicial ballot.

Clayton W. Rose, Jr., 8 E. Broad-st, chairman of the committee, announced that the group is supporting incumbent Judge Fred J. Shoemaker, Keith H. Passmore, William H. Brooks, Ralph V. Thomen, Thomas F. O'Shaughnessy, Harry P. Nester and John E. Palcich.

Judge Shoemaker was elected to Municipal Court in 1959 to fill the unexpired term of Judge Henry Holden and is now seeking the full term beginning Jan. 2, 1962. A former city councilman, Judge Shoemaker is a member of the Columbus and Ohio Bar Associations and the Ohio Municipal Judges Association. A member of many civic organizations, Judge Shoemaker has also coached Little League football and in 1959 and 1961 managed the State of Ohio Fast-Pitch softball champions.

Keith H. Passmore is associated with the law firm of George, Passmore and Bain has been practicing law for eight years with wide experience as a trial court lawyer. A World War II Navy veteran, Passmore saw combat service in Europe, Africa, the Philippines and the South Pacific. He is village solicitor for New Albany, a board member of the Town and Country branch of the YMCA and a member of the Columbus, Ohio and American Bar Associations.

A former chairman of the Civil Service Commission, William H. Brooks now serves as special counsel to Attorney General Mark McElroy. He is also vice president of the Board of Management of the Spring Street YMCA and a member of its building committee. He has been a lawyer in both civil and criminal practice for 16 years with extensive trial experience. A World War II veteran, Brooks is a 32nd degree Mason and Past Potentate of the Ali Baba Shrine.

Ralph V. Thomen has been practicing law since 1954 and last January was admitted to practice before the United States Supreme Court. He was formerly chief law enforcement officer for the Ohio Department of Insurance and its deputy superintendent, attorney examiner and hearing officer for the Bureau of Motor Vehicles and deputy clerk in Franklin County Probate Court.

An extensive public service record has been achieved by Thomas F. O'Shaughnessy, who served as State Senator in 1959-60. Other positions formerly held by this Ohio State University law graduate include assistant U.S. attorney, assistant secretary and legislative representative of the Ohio Bar Association, deputy commissioner of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation and chief district attorney for a 22-county district of the Office of Price Stabilization.

A veteran of 40 years of continuous law practice in Columbus, Harry P. Nester has gained considerable trial experience and has appeared before all local courts and administrative bodies. He has served as enforcement attorney for the Columbus office of Office of Price Administration and as special assistant to the U.S. Attorney General, which included acting as hearing officer in approximately 150 conscientious objector proceedings.

For his military record in World War II, John E. Palcich holds the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with four Oak Leaf Clusters. He has practiced general law for 12 years obtaining extensive trial experience and is active in civic affairs including the American Legion and Northern Kiwanis.

Thomen Is Candidate

Ralph V. Thomen

Candidacy of Ralph V. Thomen for the office of municipal judge was announced recently by Thomen.

A graduate of West High and Ohio State University Law School, Thomen was admitted to practice in the U.S. Supreme Court in January of this year.

Now in private practice, he has had experience with the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, as deputy clerk of the probate court, as attorney examiner and hearing officer of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles and as warden chief law enforcement officer, Ohio Department of Insurance.

Among other organizations Thomen is a member of F. and A.M. Lodge 372, Ohio State Bar Association, Disabled American Veterans, Barrister Club, the American Legion and Glenwood Methodist Church.

Physician Seeks Post On S-W School Board

Dr. Roland E. Long, a dermatologist residing at 1569 Demorest-rd is a candidate for the South-Western City Board of Education. He is currently a member of the board of education, having been appointed to fill a vacancy in January, 1961.

Dr. Long is a graduate of North Central College, Naperville, Ill., and the Ohio State University School of Medicine where he is also a member of the faculty.

He has been a resident of the area since military service in World War II and completion of his medical studies. He served with the armed forces an additional two years as a medical officer during the Korean conflict.

A member of the medical staffs of Mt. Carmel, Children's Riverside Methodist and University Hospitals, Dr. Long is also an active member of the Westgate EUB Church. He has been active in fraternal affairs, as a member of David N. Kinsman Lodge, Westgate Chapter and Council, Mt. Vernon Commandery, Scottish Rite and Aladdin Temple Shrine.

His interest in school affairs is motivated by the fact that four of the five Long children are currently enrolled in schools in the district, plus the feeling that his professional background makes a worthwhile contribution to administration of schools in the Southwestern District.

Passmore Seeks Judgeship

He entered Ohio State University in 1940, enlisted in the Navy at Columbus in 1942, and served three and one-half years in the African, European, South Pacific and Philippine theaters in World War II.

After graduation, Passmore engaged in insurance claims work for the Travelers Insurance Company and was claims manager for the National Surety Corporation while attending Franklin Law University.

Since admission to the Bar in 1953, he has been actively engaged in the practice of law, being a partner in the former law firm of Shoemaker, George, Hill and Passmore and is presently associated with the law firm of George, Passmore and Bain.

He is a member of various fraternal and veteran groups, board member of the Town and Country YMCA Branch, village solicitor of New Albany, member of the Columbus Bar Association, and American Bar Association, and a member of the Mifflin Presbyterian Church of Gahanna.

Schools Need Our Support

Dublin's doing it. Reynoldsburg's doing it. So are Groveport, Hilliard, Whitehall, Columbus.

From nearly every sector of Franklin County, school boards are again asking citizens to take a direct hand in their school systems by approving requests for more money, operating-wise or building-wise.

Nor do school boards do it in just Franklin County. In West Jefferson, a $600,000 bond issue is up. The only bond issue in Franklin is that of Groveport's for $600,000.

The rest are urgently trying to either maintain or improve existing conditions mainly from the standpoint of hiring and retaining quality teachers for an ever increasing enrollment and curriculum load.

Dublin (Washington Local) is asking for 2.5 mills for five years. Reynoldsburg seeks 3 mills on a renewal basis, for three years. Hilliard (Scioto-Darby Local) would like a 10-mill renewal levy authorized for 10 years. Whitehall is asking for a total of 5 mills, 3 on a renewal basis, 2 are additional, for five years. Columbus is requesting a total of 7.4 mills, 3.6 of which is repewal.

You are being urged to vote "yes" for these issues in your respective areas.

Education, students, teachers must keep up with the times. In the years to come, it will be necessary to make progress in order to stand still.

We Can't Shut Out The Needy

Voters next Tuesday are being asked to approve a levy for welfare in Franklin County at a cost of no more than 1.8 mills for every dollar of valuation, or 18 cents per each $100, for the next three years.

This levy is being proposed following a survey made by a joint city-county relief committee and upon the recommendation of the committee whose findings show positive need of this money if Franklin County is to care for several hundred needy persons in the next three-year period.

Relief is a dangerous subject because of the fact that many people have taken advantage of it. Some would rather live on relief than as a result of their own labors. This does not mean, however, that because a few take advantage of such a situation others should suffer.

The survey that has been conducted reveals that for the most part Franklin County welfare money is spent on deserving people.

Passage of this levy will provide health, food, clothing and housing needs for children and families as well as fill the needs of many elderly people in the County Home and Alum Crest Hospital. Retarded children will also benefit from this program as well as widows and deserted mothers and many who need medical care but cannot afford it.

It is hoped that the voters will look with favor upon this levy and vote "yes" next Tuesday, Nov. 7. It is likewise hoped that administrating agents will keep faith with the public by carefully investigating and then spending this money only on needy cases.

New Group Tackles Old Problem

Ohio schools are to be called upon to play a big part in tackling the problems of unemployment.

The Ohio Worker Training Committee, authorized under a new law, will endeavor to find out how education can be used to provide new skills for workers whose jobs have been made obsolete by technological change and automation.

New County Laws

Two new laws have gone into effect in Ohio. One allows county commissioners in counties of more than 100,000 persons to establish technical institutes to train students in technical and professional skills. The other permits two or more school districts within a county to band together to establish a joint vocational program.

Jim Mills, Now A Solid New Englander, Still Enjoying The Good Life Outdoors

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

Jim Mills, former assistant Franklin County agent, is probably the northern-most subscriber to this newspaper. He now lives in Presque Isle, Maine, along with a lot of potatoes. Jim has a job similar to the one he held here.

He writes that he likes his work fine, which includes a five-minute segment of farm news on television every week. The only question I have, is how he gets any work done with all the hunting opportunity he has up there?

As of the middle of October, Jim had bagged six pheasants; two were hens which are legal in Maine, five ruffed grouse and a deer. He used bow and arrow to shoot the large doe.

Woodcock are plentiful, he just hadn't gotten around to shooting any. And he reported that grouse hunting is getting easier as more and more leaves fall off the trees.

Jim's deer hunt was exciting, if brief. Here is what he said in his letter: "A big doe was in a clover field when I got to it so I decided to crawl down to the trail which entered at the corner and use her as "bait" for a buck which was hanging around there. I had crawled about 50 yards and had about 30 yards more to go when she decided to come over to my side of the field. I froze.

"She stopped at about 30 yards and started stomping her feet. (I'm on my hands and knees.) I got tired of it after about five minutes and decided to take a shot. As I raised up slowly she started blowing and ran off and stopped about 50 yards away. I took a shot as she whirled to run and the arrow went right where she had been!

"This sent her on down to the woods, but she started stalking right back at me. I had forgotten all about waiting for a buck by this time. The doe came fairly close and started stomping again. This time she didn't run when I shot.

"First shots I'd had and my season was over. Next year it's bucks only for the first month!"

Jim has also taken a fox with his bow this year, and is now looking for a bear to use for target practice. He says that if he gets a bear he will send back a picture to tease us Ohioans.

The Mills have been enjoying the famed New England autumn foliage this year and report that it is really something to see.

Except for a few letters, this paper has been keeping Jim, Betty and their two children in touch with the goings-on in the area. A well-known sportsman in this vicinity, Jim enjoys reading about the outdoor activities in this column (or is at least polite enough to say so).

With a new job and a new state to explore, the Mills are having a wonderful time, and they send good wishes back to all their friends here.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

November Food Shopping Tips Given

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Apples, cider, grapes, bananas.

Vegetables — Broccoli, cabbage, potatoes, lettuce, endive, turnips.

The makings for a lot of good eating during November appear on the plentiful food list, according to reports from the Department of Agriculture. Approximately, the list is topped by that well-known team of turkey and cranberries.

Turkey prices, generally, are at an all-time low, so there's no reason why everyone can't have all the turkey they want for Thanksgiving. And this year there's a full range of sizes available at these prices.

As for cranberries, whatever your choice — fresh, frozen or canned — sauce, jelly or juice — it's available and in quantity. This year's cranberry crop is smaller than last year's record breaking one, but is still 15 per cent above average, and there's a large carryover of processed items from last year.

Apples will remain on the bargain list for fruits. You will find almost all varieties offered at attractive prices. Citrus fruit shipments will increase steadily during the month. At present, it looks like a good citrus year in Florida. The grapefruit promises to be bigger than last year's and the orange crop about the same as a year ago. However, the California crop is estimated to be 30 per cent below last year.

Plenty of potatoes also will be available — during November and well into the winter months. Bake them—boil them—they're too good a buy to pass up. Remember to bake some sweet potatoes for variety—they are plentiful also.

Cabbage and all its cousins—broccoli, cauliflower and Brussels sprouts—can be added to your list along with rutabagas, parsnips and local turnips.

Pork will be in abundance, more than a year ago, the American Meat Institute estimates. Pork chops and roasts will be attractively priced, but if you want to discover budget benefits as well as good eating, investigate the economy cuts. Butt steaks, fresh picnics, Boston butts, pork hocks and sausage meat are always good buys.

To dress up what might be ordinary meals, there'll be a good supply of pecans and almonds. This year's pecan crop will be record large and the almond harvest is expected to be the second largest on record.

Old Soldier Attacks 'Do Gooders'

To the Editor:

As an old soldier who has lived in foreign lands such as was described by the young "do gooders" of the so called Peace Corps, I can understand why the natives got fired up over international meddling in the way of life of another nation.

Old George was so right when he warned of entangling foreign alliances. Our world conditions today and our bankrupt national condition are ample proof that the old boy knew what he was talking about.

Oh, I know, if you are critical of any of the New Horizon pet schemes you are branded a Red and are playing the Communist game, but if someone does not call a halt to national spending on such things as Peace Corps, pensions to over-aged Chinese soldiers on Formosa, pensions to the invaders of Cuba, now residing at American taxpayers expense in the finest housing in America, we will soon be broke.

The pathetic part of all this is that we are doing just what the Ruskies predicted we would do—spend ourselves in to a bankrupt nation, one that has already placed a plaster on everything we own and who have our children and grandchildren in debt, before they are born.

Let me ask you this question: How can people sell any product if they don't know anything about the product they are trying to sell?

As proof of the fact that these international do gooders do not know anything about their own nation, just take a trip to any American school and examine the history your kids are now being taught. Honestly tell me, JUST WHAT DOES THE KID OF TODAY, KNOW ABOUT AMERICAN HISTORY, WHEN JUST TWO LINES COVER A WORLD WAR?

I know they are grinding out a surplus of professional do gooders from our schools and universities every year, but why wish them on to the foreign nations, these professional meddlers can, and do, cause enough damage in America. Why make it world wide?

The facts are these: If America will set its own house in order, by cleaning up the organized rackets in every community and clean up the slums in every American city, then and only then, can it honestly turn its attention to the other nations housekeeping problems. In short, let's get our collective noses out of other nations business for a change and see if world conditions do not improve immensely.

ONE MAN'S Opinion . . .

New Obscenity Bill Is Negative Approach

On the heels of what is apparently a defeat of the recently proposed movie censorship legislation in Columbus City Council, we are faced with another such proposal.

GREGG

It cannot be called "just another proposal", because of two things. It is far broader than movie censorship, and, it seemingly has the support of some of those prominent in Ohio's public life.

The movement is called "Citizens for Decent Literature"; the proposal is in the form of Bill H R. 1826 and more recently H R 5822 introduced in the 87th congress, and involves censorship of everything but individual conversation; it supposedly has the support of people such as Gov. Michael V DiSalle, our Attorney General, Mark McElroy, numerous ministers, and a whole host of other honorable men.

Both Gov DiSalle and Attorney General McElroy disclaimed to me any knowledge of current moves by the organization, although their names appear on CDL stationary.

It is proper to assume that their motive is one of concern about "the filth that is flooding our news stands." Their approach, however, is an entirely negative one, both ineffectual and dangerous.

"Filth" and "obscenity" (the CDL makes them synonomous) have existed in the society of man since the beginning. It exists because man desires it, and can never be made to cease its existence until man no longer desires it.

As it was so well put by B.R. Redman of the Saturday Review of Literature: "Everyone — even a child — can roll his own obscenity, his own pornography. Critical censorship must always be defeated by creative obscenity . . . . obscenity does not lie in the stimulating object, but in the determined-to-be-stimulated subject; the sin, if sin there be, is not outside us, it is within."

So, rather than to put the blame on themselves and their community for creating a market for obscene literature, these people are making a public cleansing of their own hands by blaming the suppliers of obscenity.

Such action is of no doubt, a benefit to those involved in its enactment, but it poses a severe threat to those not threatened by or interested in obscenity. It proposes that a few be given the right by law to make moral choices which are the heart of individual freedom.

If these same backers of various forms of censorship would spend their time and effort in the education of their children and set examples themselves of higher moral standard, then we could, and would be moved to praise their actions.

There is nothing laudable, however, in a purely negative stand, which attempts to shift the responsibility to others, and to endanger the freedom of all. This is not the kind of leadership that wins any sort of battle.

It is a desperate effort which results in a serious threat to all of us. — TAYLOR GREGG three to eight per day. A conservation and natural resource study trip to Blacklick Woods has become a part of every fifth-grade child's experience.

- Mobile science laboratories for each elementary school.
- Additional television sets for all buildings.
- Expanded use of educational television—Two science lessons, two art lessons, and a French lesson added.
- The teaching of French, Spanish and German through the facilities of WCBE, the board's FM radio station.
- An extended summer program in the areas of art, music, reading and arithmetic.

Enrollment in the Columbus Public Schools in November of 1958, when the 3.8 mill levy was passed, was 75,884. By realistically looking at educational challenges that faced them then, the people of Columbus had the foresight to approve the 3.8-mill levy so that instruction in their schools could be maintained and improved during a period of intense enrollment growth. Enrollments were expected to grow by 10,000 pupils. The growth has actually been 12,000 pupils; yet, no instructional cutbacks have been made.

This year Columbus voters face a similar serious decision. Enrollments—again conservatively estimated—are expected to increase by more than 12,000 pupils during the next three years. By exercising conservative fiscal policies, the Board of Education feels it can extend its present program to educate more than 12,000 additional students with an additional 3.6-mill operating levy. Also of utmost importance is the renewal of the 3.8-mill levy passed in 1958.

Combined, these two levies make up the 7.4-mill issue on the Nov. 7 ballot. To keep education on its present forward course in Columbus, the Board of Education considers approval of this levy for operating funds imperative.

OSU MOTHERS CLUB WILL MEET

OSU Mothers Club will meet Wednesday, Nov. 8, at the Ohio Union in the Conference Theater, at 1:30 p.m. Speaker will be Charles E. McCombs, assistant to Student Financial Aid. Mrs. Joseph Toepfner's groups CENPPMRVX will be guests at the noon luncheon in the Ohio Union.

Trio Pledges Halt To City 'Petty Politicking'

City council candidates William R. Fornof, Tom Moody and Robert T. Southwick combined to issue a statement of principles that puts the trio "on record to halt bickering, indecision and petty 'politicking' in Columbus council meetings.

The statement pledges the candidates to a three-part program for the city covering their purpose, as councilmen, municipal economy and progress.

Among their purposes is a pledge to tie up the loose ends of previous plans and studies made for the city and to introduce a workable master plan.

Their program also includes a pledge not to introduce new taxes without a general vote and to exercise fiscal responsibility in the expenditure of municipal funds.

They additionally promise rapid completion of the outerbelt-innerbelt system, development of cross town arteries, adequate off-street parking in downtown and community business areas, and "better service to forgotten and recently annexed areas."

The candidates have all spoken strongly of the need to use existing funds for the development of flood control through cooperation with the new Scioto Conservancy District and the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

All three men are Columbus-ites and graduates of Columbus high schools, Fornof and Moody from South High and Southwick from North.

Fornof is president and general manager of Peter Fornof and Sons and lives at 103 Fornof-rd.

Everhart Cites Experience In Race For Judge

Assistant County Prosecutor Eugene P. Everhart, who is running for municipal judge, believes in meeting people personally. For months he has been burning evening oil to attend functions and express his views — especially on the problems of youth and senior citizens.

Everhart's background includes 16 years' general practice of law. He attended Ohio Northern and was graduated from Ohio State and Franklin Universities.

He worked as federal attorney for the VA Claims Service from 1946 until July 1956 and is a World War II veteran. He is a member of the Ohio State and Columbus bar associations and was assistant attorney general for Ohio for three and one half years.

Among other associations Everhart is a member of the American Legion's Raymond Scott Post and the Agonis Club. He coached Kiwanis Junior Softball teams in 1957 and 1958, is committeeman for Boy Scout Troop 50, and is a trustee of Linden Heights Methodist Church.

Everhart is married and has two boys, Larry 12, and Jimmy 11.

Kaye Wilson To Manage Six Salons

Kaye Wilson, manager of the M. Robert Beauty Salon in Great Western Shopping Center, is the newly appointed supervisor of the six M. Robert Beauty Salons, according to an announcement made this week by nationally known hair stylist Robert Streitenberger.

A seventh salon will be opened about mid-November in the new University City shopping center on Olentangy River-rd at Ackerman. Other salons are in shopping centers at Graceland, Northern Lights, Town and Country, Great Eastern, Great Southern and Great Western.

Mrs. Wilson is an expert hair stylist with 20 years experience in the business. In her supervisory capacity she will see that each shop continues to offer each customer the newest, individually styled hair fashion by expert hair stylists with no appointment necessary and the ease of Shoppers' Charge Service, Streitenberger said.

Mrs. Wilson is available to women's clubs and school groups to speak and give styling demonstrations.

Mrs. Wilson and her husband, William, reside at 354 Lechner-av.

Shoemaker Candidate For Judge

Columbusite Fred J. Shoemaker has announced his candidacy for re-election to the office of Municipal Judge.

A graduate of Ohio State University Law School, Judge Shoemaker practiced law eight years before he was elected judge of the Columbus Municipal Court in 1959. He has also served as a member of Columbus City Council.

Judge Shoemaker has coached Little League Football and in 1959 and 1961 was manager of the state Fast-pitch Softball Champions.

He is a member of the Agonis Club, American Legion, Linden VFW, Linden Lions, UCT, Columbus Bar Association, Ohio Bar Association, the Ohio Municipal Judges Association, and the Linden Church of Christ.

If your ceiling is high, "lower" it by painting it a darker shade than your wall color. If it is low, "raise" is by using a lighter tint of the wall color.

GOP Judge Candidates Winding Up Campaign

Franklin County Republicans are winding up their campaign in behalf of their candidates for judges in the Columbus Municipal Court. All voters in Franklin County will be eligible to vote for such candidates.

Judge Charles R. Petree is seeking re-election to this bench having served for 15 years in this capacity as well as having been an experienced trial lawyer and Asst. City Attorney and City Prosecutor.

Judge Fred L. Donnally, senior judge and presiding judge of the Columbus Municipal Court is also seeking re-election following 17 years of judical experience.

Bruce Jenkins, assistant to the mayor of the city and former asst. city attorney is seeking a judgeship. He is a graduate of North High School and OSU College of Law, is married and has two sons. Previous to taking his position in the City Hall he was an experienced trial lawyer.

Clifford E. Rader, an active trial attorney for the past 11 years, seeks also to become a municipal judge. He is a graduate of OSU Law School and active in civic, political and church affairs.

Eugene P. Everhart, an assistant prosecuting attorney of Franklin County since September, 1959, is a candidate for the municipal bench. He is a graduate of OSU and Franklin University and a veteran of World War II.

Wilbur L. Shull has been judge of the municipal court since 1956 and is seeking re-election. He formerly served two terms as State Senator. He is active in problems of the alcoholic and in organizing traffic safety committees. He is a Kiwanian, Mason and member of the Council for Retarded Children.

Now serving as a Judge of the Columbus municipal court is William T. Gillie who is seeking re-election. He is a graduate of Western Reserve University and Cleveland Law School.

City Service Jobs Available

Deadline for applications is Saturday, Nov. 11, at 5 p.m. Applications must be made in the candidate's own handwriting and must be submitted personally at the Civil Service Office, City Hall Annex, 67 N. Front-st.

A written test will be given Saturday, Dec. 2. This will be worth 30 per cent of the final grade. The rest of the grade will be determined by a performance examination.

OBSERVATORY TRIP

BIBLE CLUB

Bible Club at Starling Junior High met Oct. 18, to elect officers, Danny Wise, Chairman, and Mary Flannery, secretary.

BOOK STORE

Starling's Book Store is run by 12 people, with John Canfield as head advisor, and Mr. [illegible] as his assistant.

First period is run by John Metzler; second, Rodger Moore; fourth, Dick Begman and Gary Berry; fifth, Galen Thompson and Karen Barth; sixth, Terry Breckenridge and Nora Tripp; seventh, James Price, and ninth John Jones.

Small items, such as pencils, pens, paper, notebooks and bookcovers are sold. Students keep books in order and act as salesmen.

Four At Hilltonia Earn Straight A's

Central To Stage Musical Hit, 'Goldilocks'

Ohio premiere of the Broadway musical, Goldilocks, will be presented by Central High students in two performances, Nov. 16, 1:30 p.m. and Nov. 17 at 8:10.

The play, written by Walter and Jean Kerr with music by Leroy Anderson, is concerned with the days of the silent movies, and settings range from a 1913 musical finale and an old time movie lot, to a towering Egyptian pyramid.

Two revolving turntables will be used to handle the staging. Bob Stegmiller is responsible for staging and designing and Joseph Shumway is faculty advisor.

A student cast of 40 will be used in the production.

GET CHURCH-SCOUT MEDALS

HONORED IN CEREMONIES Oct. 22 were these three members of Boy Scout Troop 357, Hilltonia EUB Church, who received the God and Country Medal. From left, they are Keith Eaton, 611 Woodbury-av; Sheldon Hetzer, 528 Porter-st, and Dick Grossinger, 467 Wrexham-av. The award culminates three years of extensive study and service to the church, under the guidance of Rev. Gerald Koster.

Central Grads Hold Reunion Dinner-Dance

Les Susi served as master of ceremonies.

Evelyn Duey Runyan received a prize for the person traveling farthest for the reunion; Delbert and Ann Smith, and Joe and Dorothy Ross, for having been married the longest and Marion and Isabel Story for having the most children.

Committee in charge were Les Susi, Shirley Wilbur Maurath, Phyllis Thiwener Brooks, Betty Fulks Stalter, Mary Tompkins Seipel, Janice Butt Worley and Jo Rickey Murphy.

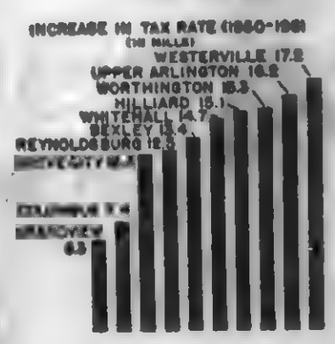
SUPPORT THE 7.4-MILL SCHOOL LEVY!

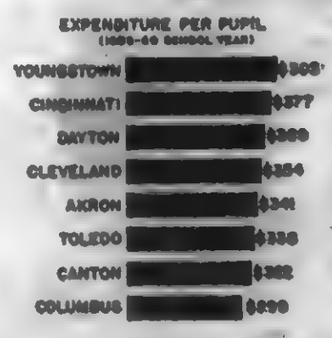
We can afford to support this levy because . . .



Help your schools . . .

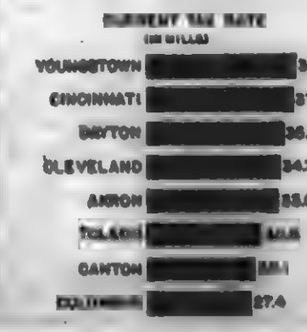
• EDUCATE 12,000 MORE CHILDREN
By 1964, enrollment in the Columbus Public Schools will reach 100,000 pupils, an increase of 12,000 over enrollment this fall.

• MAINTAIN A SOUND EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM
The Board of Education cannot educate 100,000 children on a budget that is barely adequate for 88,000 pupils, without sacrificing quality instruction.



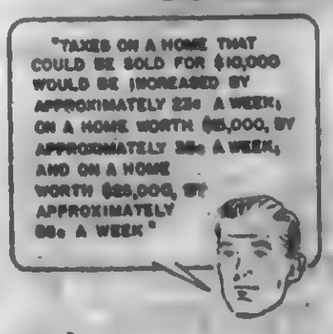
• ATTRACT AND KEEP GOOD TEACHERS
The Board must improve its teachers' salary schedule in order to be able to compete strongly for the services of the best teachers available.

OUR SCHOOL COSTS ARE LOW



In the amount of money invested in the education of each child, Columbus ranks 38th among the 40 city school districts in Ohio having populations in excess of 50,000. This fact was revealed by a recent report published by the State Department of Education. This same report also showed that Columbus is spending less on the education of each child than each of Ohio's seven other large cities. (See graph).

OUR TAX RATE IS LOW



Columbus has a lower tax rate than any of Franklin County's nine other municipalities. Here are the current rates (in mills): Worthington, 38.7; Westerville, 38.0; Upper Arlington, 36.8; Hilliard, 36.3; Reynoldsburg, 33.3; Grove City, 31.8; Bexley, 31.0; Whitehall, 30.2; Grandview, 28.7; and COLUMBUS, 27.4. Columbus also has a lower tax rate than any of Ohio's seven other large cities. (See graph).

OUR TAX RATE HAS RISEN LESS THAN RATES ELSEWHERE

The tax rate in Columbus has increased by 7.4 mills during the last 11 years. Eight of Franklin County's nine other municipalities have experienced larger increases during this period; increases in each of these cities have ranged from 12.3 to 17.2 mills. (See graph).

THIS LEVY WILL INCREASE TAXES ON A $15,000 HOME BY ONLY 35c PER WEEK

Only 3.8 mills of the 7.4-mill levy represent an increase in the tax rate; the other 3.6 mills have been in effect for three years and will expire on December 31, 1961, unless renewed. Passage of the 7.4-mill levy would increase taxes by $3.60 on each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Long-Time Hobbyist Returns To Live, Operate Shop Here

After an absence of 19 years, Mr. and Mrs. Allen W. Strete (Al and Edith) have returned to live at 633 Derrar-rd and are opening a hobby shop at 3655 Sullivant-av, Westgate Manor Shopping Center.

An avid hobbyist all his life, Al in earlier years was well known by local amateur radio operators and Central Ohio airplane pilots. Besides radio he is proficient in photography, wood and metal working and, more recently, model railroading.

His shop, known as Strete Hobbies, features a complete line of HO railroads, model airplanes, boats and cars, various crafts and associated supplies as well as science materials. A working railroad (the AL & E) is on display.

In addition, the store carries an extensive line of Gibson greeting cards, gift wrapping materials and Pakay Party Papers.

Al Strete

Ham radio was Al's chief hobby until World War II. He started in 1911 and many will remember his W8EQV call letters. In 1930 he became a radio technician and operator for TAT, now TWA, at Port Columbus.

In January of 1938 he was employed by the city to install and operate the first traffic control tower at Port Columbus. Early in 1942 the tower was taken over by the CAA (now Federal Aviation Agency) and he was transferred to the Chicago regional office as traffic control inspector.

The regional office was moved to Kansas City, Mo. in 1953 and Al went along. He retired from federal service July 7, 1961 and immediately moved to Columbus.

Al said he has 13 good reasons for returning to Columbus: "Three daughters and nine grandchildren living here—and an urgent desire to establish a good hobby shop."

Committee Ready To Compile List Of Traffic Ideas

Parents in the Sullivant School area are asking the West Side Neighborhood Council to revive action for a traffic light at Souder and Renick-avs. The parents' petition for the light two years ago was rejected after the city made a traffic count.

The issue came to light again Oct. 25 at the last of six West Side neighborhood discussions on traffic problems. The Sullivant meeting, best attended of the series, was conducted by Mrs. Ruth Burke.

Residents declared that children walking from Sullivant Gardens to the school face hazardous traffic at the intersection. After discussing several types of signals, the group decided to again ask for a regular traffic light.

As a means of renewing the request to city authorities, the WSNC traffic committee advised the people to circulate a new petition. This, then, will be included with final traffic pattern proposals [illegible] the committee will draw up at a closed meeting tonight and present for approval at the full council meeting at Gladden House Nov. 9.

Again, as in other neighborhood meetings, there was a strong request for a traffic light at Davis and Town-sts. Another was for a light on Harmon-av to allow easier access to business places on the east side of the street. Committee members gave little encouragement to this appeal, however.

Several persons asked why "no parking" signs on the south side of Renick-av, erected during the expressway construction, have been left standing. The committee promised to find the answer.

The majority of those present objected to a proposal to make Souder-av one-way south from Sullivant-av to Mound-st. It was pointed out that this is the only north access road for Sullivant Gardens. The majority felt that one-way streets should not be laid out south of Sullivant-av and that, in any event, Souder-av should be two way south of Sullivant-av.

It pays to use the Classifieds.

Colombian Killed In Accident

Fatal injuries were received Sunday by Luis Fernando Pelaez, 21, of 936 S. Harris-av, when the automobile he was driving struck a parked car on W. Mound-st and Pelaez was thrown out of the car by the impact.

According to police, as the spinning car flung Pelaez to the pavement a westbound car driven by Herman H. Lovett, 32, of 755 Wedgewood-dr, hooked the body and dragged it 60 feet before Lovett, who saw the accident, could bring his car to a halt. He was unaware that the body was attached to his car.

Pelaez was a student at Bliss College, whose home was in Bogota, Columbia, where his father owns a firm distributing General Motors Corp. parts.

MAYOR NORRIS S. BOOTHE of Valleyview, seated, signed the proclamation naming the week of Oct. 29 to Nov. 4 at Telephone Pioneers of America recognition week, in observance of the organization's golden anniversary. Herman L. Jantzen, 819 S. Terrace-av, retired employe of Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and president of the Telephone Pioneers' Life Member Club, witness the signature.

Pioneers Mark 50th Anniversary

About 1000 active and retired area employes of Ohio Bell Telephone Co. are marking the 50th anniversary of the national organization in a week-long celebration which began Oct. 29.

A homecoming for retired employes at their former place of employment, and a dinner party Thursday evening, Nov. 2 at the Maennerchor are features of the week.

Telephone employes are eligibl for membership in the Pioneers after 21 years' service. Membership in Columbus Council of the N. C. Kingsbury Chapter totals 975.

C. A. "Whitey" Hunter, 580 E. Town-st, transmission supervisor of Ohio Bell, is president of the state-wide N. C. Kingsbury Chapter.

Dr. DeWeerd Plans Crusade At Livingston

A Crusade for Christ will be held each night at 7:30, Nov. 12 through 19, at Livingston Methodist Church

For five years he was pastor of the Cadle Tabernacle in Indianapolis and has been heard on many radio and TV programs while serving in that post. He was also heard daily over WLW as speaker on the Nation's Family Prayer Period.

Dr. DeWeerd served as chaplain in World War II and was recipient of the Silver Star, Purple Heart and Oak Leaf Cluster awards. He is a world-wide traveler and an author of several books.

Rev. Joe Crouse of Wilmore, Ky., will assist in the crusade as song evangelist. Rev. Crouse has participated in several evangelistic series in Columbus.

Public Christian Science Lecture Slated Nov. 4

A lecture on Christian Science will be delivered Saturday, Nov. 4, by Wilson M. Riley of Kansas City, Mo.

Open to the public without charge, the lecture will be sponsored by members of Second Church of Christ Scientist, and will be held at the church, 871 N. Park-st, at 8 p.m.

Now on an extended tour as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Mr. Riley withdrew from the publishing business in 1940 to devote full time to the public practice of Christian Science. He became a Christian Science teacher in 1933 and has served as moderator of the television series "How Christian Science Heals."

Concordia To Mark Open House

Rev. Wm. J. Hughes

Concordia Lutheran Church, 225 Schoolhouse-la, will be among the more than 40 American Lutheran and Missouri Synod Lutheran Churches of Central Ohio sponsoring Lutheran Open House Week, Sunday through Thursday, Nov. 5 through 9.

A guest pastor from out of town will team up with the host pastor each evening for an informal service of hymn singing and gospel preaching. The public is invited.

A children's talk, question and answer period, and special music will complete the program.

Preceding the service each evening members will visit families in the community which have no church home.

Rev. William J. Hughes, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church Villa Park, Ill., will serve as Concordia Lutheran's guest missioner.

Rev. Hughes became the senior pastor of his current charge of 1200 members in 1956, after graduating from Concordia Theological Seminary, Springfield, Ill.

Recent graduate study at Wheaton College and Chicago Lutheran Seminary, Maywood, Ill., has qualified him for a master of sacred theology degree from the latter institution.

Rev. Hughes' sermon topic for mission week addresses will be "The Postman from Patmos," based on Revelations, chapters 1, 2, and 3.

Rev. Rodney G. Lensch, a classmate of Rev. Hughes at the seminary, is pastor of Concordia Church.

The country's 68 land-grant universities, which include Ohio State University, enroll 20 per cent of the nation's college population and grant 40 per cent of the doctoral degrees.

St. John Lutheran Plans Series Of Six Services

Lutheran Open House will be sponsored by St. John Lutheran Church, W. Broad-st at Hague-av, Nov. 5 through Nov. 9, with guest missioner, Rev. James R. Long, conducting the series of services.

Services will be held during Sunday morning worship, Nov. 5, at 8 and 10:30 a.m., and each evening through Thursday at 8 at West Broad School, directly across Broad from the church.

Young people of the church will participate in the final program, Nov. 9.

The public is invited. Rev.,

Rev. James R. Long

Carmon Pastor To Be Guest At Bethlehem

Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Harris-av at Vida-pl, is among the 40 congregations of the American Lutheran and Missouri Synod Lutheran Churches observing Lutheran open house Nov. 5 to 9, with a mission week.

Friends of the congregation are invited to the special evening services at 8 o'clock Sunday through Thursday.

Rev. Ron Wolter of Canton will be the guest preacher at Bethlehem.

Each evening's service will include an opportunity to ask religious questions and a children's object sermon.

Members will meet at the church an hour before the service and visit friends in the community, inviting them to attend.

More than six months' planning has gone into the mission week.

New Novena To Start Next Monday

Fr. Raymond Rauschard, pastor of Saint Mary Magdalene Church, Roys-av at Wicklow-rd, announces a new series of miraculous medal novena services will begin Monday, Nov. 6, and continue for nine Mondays.

Rev. Valerian Lucier, O.P., Catholic Chaplain of Ohio Penitentiary, will be guest preacher.

Services are held each Monday at 6:30 a.m. with mass at 10 a.m., 3, 4, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30 and 8:30 p.m.

Confessions are heard during each service. All are invited.

Sunday Series Of Sermons Set At Bellows Ave.

Bellows Avenue Church of the Nazarene, Bellows-av at Cypress, will feature a November Sunday night series of sermons by Rev. Ralph Scharman, "Messages For Our Day From the Bible Prophets."

Topics are: Nov. 5, "Why I Believe In Jonah"; Nov. 12, "The Great Day of the Lord is at Hand"; Nov. 19, "A Tragedy In the Parsonage"; Nov. 26, "The Voice of Malachi."

Youth choir, ladies' and men's trios and other musical numbers will feature the service.

Men Of Hilltonia To Sponsor Fete

Evangelical United Brethren Men of Hilltonia EUB Church will sponsor a spaghetti supper Wednesday, Nov. 8, 5 to 7 p.m. at the church, 514 Columbian-av at Springfield.

Tickets are available from members or at the door.

Boerstler Church Slates Seance

A circle seance will be held at Boerstler Memorial (old West Side) Spiritualist Church, 69 McDowell-st, Thursday, 7:30 p.m.

Public is invited to attend.

The wiggly lines you see above are recordings of sound waves on an actual seismographic map used by geologists to probe rock formations located miles under the surface of the earth. The geologists are searching for—and finding—natural gas.

Drillers, working with charts prepared by the geologists, discover huge new supplies of gas in many sections of the country. Natural gas reserves in the United States are now at an all time high. At the end of 1960, the proved recoverable gas reserves in the nation amounted to 283 trillion cubic feet—or three times the reserves on hand 20 years ago.

Every year more gas is found than is used. Despite the tremendous increase in the use of gas, reserves continue to grow.

This is important to you. It means that there is gas for today—and for generations to come—to serve you as an efficient, dependable fuel in your home, and as a versatile fuel, tool, and chemical raw material at the place where you work.

2-3-5 Teams Topple; Boys Ranked 1-4-6

Hilltop Lions Little League football season [illegible] to a close last Saturday as the second (Chargers), third (Headhunters), and fifth (Cavaliers) placed team stars defeated the first (Panthers), fourth (Colts), and sixth (Lions), placed team stars 14-6 at Westgate Park.

Faking, dodging and running behind excellent blocking, elusive halfback Billy Prillerman raced 60 yards to score the winning team's first touchdown on a well executed reverse play early in the first period.

The losing stars put on a sustaining drive late in the fourth period. After three cracks in the line, quarterback Bob Leman banged over to score from the one foot line.

With three seconds remaining in the game, Jim Chiero received the kickoff and raced 82 yards only to be caught from behind on the 13 yard line for a dramatic ending of a fine football game.

AT WESTGATE

2-3-5	8	0	6	0	—14

2-3-5 scoring: TD — Billy Prillerman (60, run); John Bennett (40, run). EP — George Jones (pass from Chiero). 1-4-6 scoring: TD—Bob Lehman (1, run).

An awards night is scheduled for Nov. 15, at 7:30 p.m., in the Westinghouse auditorium.

Chuck Brockmeyer, a Columbus Colt football star, will be the principal speaker. The public is invited.

Ricky Miller Judged 'Tops'

Four-year old Ricky Miller walked off with the grand prize of five silver dollars last night at the big Hilltop Halloween celebration at West High School.

Ricky, who lives at 300 S. Warren-av, was truly the "mixed up kid." Hands, feet, and even his head was so scrambled that he kept the crowds guessing.

Other silver dollar winners were: (in order of increasing age groups) funniest — Michael Ritter, 336 S. Harris-av; Linda Sue Graebel, 2268 Mary-av; Dana New, 159 Binns-blvd, Dennis New, 159 Binns-blvd; Prettiest — Nancy Brown, 3102 Fremont-av; Lynn Sanders, 572 Mark-pl; Leigh Sanders, 572 Mark-pl; Sharon Sharkey, 393 S. Burgess-av.

All-Breed Dog Show Slated

Entries for the 20th annual All-Breed Dog Show and obedience trials sponsored by the Central Ohio Kennel Club will close at noon Tuesday, Nov. 7.

The unbenched show will be held at Veterans Memorial from 9 a.m. until 8 p.m., and is open to dogs in six classes: Sporting, non-sporting, working, toy, terrior and hound.

OSU Union Members Meet

Ohio State University Employes, Local 590, will meet Saturday, Nov. 4 at 7:30 p.m. at the CIO Hall, 276 S. Third-st.

An executive board meeting at 6:30 p.m. will precede the general meeting.

IN MARINE EXERCISE

Marine Pfc. Paul W. Bailey, son of Mrs. Cynthia Goebing of 2327 W. Broad-st is taking part in Exercise "Warm-Up", a joint naval-marine amphibious operation in the Okinawa area, while serving with the Second Battalion of the Third Marine Regiment.

South Division Upset In Gra-Y Grid Tag

The fourth week of Gra-Y Flag Tag Football was completed last Saturday. An upset in the South Division provided the most exciting game of the day.

The Georgian Heights Rebels upset the Lindbergh Falcons, one of the first place teams. The Rebels out-scored the Falcons 38-20, thus enabling the John Burroughs Hawks to take the lead in the South Division.

The Hawks won their game Saturday by a forfeit from the West Mound Tigers. The last game of the morning in the South Division was a forfeit also. The Eakin Road Panthers forfeited to the Binns Bombers.

In the North Division, the Prairie Eagles dropped their third loss to the Highland Trotters 30-12. Winford Dearing was [illegible] outstanding scorer for Highland and the Eagles! Bill McGee scored all 12 points for Prairie Lincoln.

The West Broad Colts and the Valleyview Vikings clashed in a game that was exciting from the beginning kickoff to the final gun. The score at the end of the game was 12-12.

The North Franklin Comets won their first game of the season Saturday by beating the Westgate Wildcats 14-0.

Rams Close Season With 28-0 Victory

The second touchdown was a combination of pass and off tackle smash by Dick Skinner, Keith Edwards and Arnett, with Edwards going the final 7 yards.

The Rams will hold their annual team banquet at St. Agnes on Monday, Nov. 6 at 6:30 p.m. The parents and families of both the 110 lb. and the 90 lb. team are invited.

AT GAHANNA

Rams	12	0	8	8	—28

Rams scoring: TD—Keith Edwards 3 (7, 46, 38 runs); Robert Arnett (56, run). EP — Arnett (run); Redman (run).

Hilltop 'Y' Again Sets Basketball

The Hilltop YMCA is again organizing a Junior and an Intermediate basketball league. A meeting will be held Tuesday, Nov. 7, at 7:30 p.m. at the Hilltop YMCA.

Any church or civic organization interested in entering either or both of these leagues should be present.

CAPITOL CITY BARRACKS 461 MEETS SUNDAY

There will be a regular meeting of Capitol City Barracks 461 Veterans of World War One and its auxiliary Sunday, Nov. 5, at 2 p.m. in room 201 and 203 Veterans Memorial Building 250 West Broad-st. This is to be followed by the dedication of barracks banner by the state chaplain, Rev. Geo. G. Shurtz of Newcomerstown, in memory of deceased buddies. All World War Veterans and wives are invited.

The Auxiliary of Capitol City Barracks 461 Veterans of World War One of the U.S.A. will sponsor a Euchre Party at 8 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 2, at the City National Bank Building, 3100 West Broad-st. There will be a number of prizes. Refreshments will be served. Public is invited.

Three More Firms Join Sunday Closing Effort

The drive to "Keep Sunday Sunday" gained further speed today with announcement of an end to Sunday sales by three large home appliance stores.

The three are East Broad Appliance Co., Inc., 4260 E. Broad-st; Barry Appliances and Television, 3715 E. Broad-st, and West Broad Appliance Co., Inc., 3192 W. Broad-st.

Their actions brought to 11 the number of Greater Columbus stores which have announced voluntary compliance with Ohio's Sunday Closing Law since the start of an enforcement campaign by the Greater Columbus Sunday Association Aug. 10.

"This is the type of voluntary cooperation from business which further supports our stand that the public wants Sunday for worship, relaxation, and family recreation," said Gene P. King, executive secretary of the association.

In a public statement, John Lucas, president of East Broad and West Broad Appliance Companies, declared that the stores had started Sunday Sales last spring for competitive reasons only and that he now felt that the time had come to rescind this decision.

Missionary Meet Set

The annual missionary convention of Westview Alliance Church, 2143 McKinley-av, will be held from Nov. 5 through 12.

Featured speakers include Mrs. Robert Pease, Mali, Africa; Rev. K. G. Biggerbach, Indonesia, and Rev. W. O. Brooks, Arab lands.

Curios, slides and movies will be used to present the missionary program.

Services begin Sunday, Nov. 5, 10:30 a.m., and continue nightly at 7:30. Public is invited.

Avondale Plans Men's Program

Men's Day will be observed Nov. 5 at Avondale Evangelical United Brethren Church, W. State-st, at Avondale-av.

Speaker for the 10:30 a.m. service will be Edwin Richardson, purchasing agent for the Lincoln Plastic Corp., and an active layman of the Circleville First EUB Church.

Other laymen participating in the service are Guy Stoll, Everett Holan, John VanAtta, Harvey Priest and James Banbury.

North Gives (Polar) Bear Hug To West Team Friday Night

By GLENN ROHRER and MELVIN HOOVER

The Cowboys bowed to North, 24-12, on the victors field Friday. The Shepard brothers, in a dazing display of speed, paced the Polar Bears attack.

The Northerners gave the Westerners a cold welcome, as they scored 2 quick touchdowns in the first quarter. Their first score climaxed a 59 yard drive consuming 12 plays.

Wayne Cauley found daylight over right guard and scampered 11 yards for the TD. Taking advantage of a Cowboy fumble, Vic Shepard scooted 39 yards over guard giving North a 12 to 0 lead.

After this early scoring blizzard, the Cowboys warmed up and began to move. They drove to the North 1 yard line where North's defense held. However, 2 plays later the Cowboys big tackle Art Clemmer pounced on a Polar Bear fumble.

This time the Cowboys would not be denied. League leading scorer Rick Neely cracked over right tackle from the 2 yard line, this made it 12 to 6.

The Cowboys, seemingly back in the game, kicked off, Vic Shepard grabbed the kick on the 18 yard line and turning on the speed, raced 82 yards down the right sideline for North's 3rd touchdown.

With only 18 seconds left in the first half, quarterback Doug Shepard on a roll out decided to run. West was sorry he did, as he scampered 45 yards for another Polar Bear tally as the first half ended.

In the third quarter the Cowboys bounded back, as Jim Brewer cracked over right guard for West second score. This capped a 51 yard drive taking 11 plays.

In the final quarter, the Cowboys held the Polar Bears offense in tact. They were unable to score themselves however, although they had several opportunities. They weren't able to come up with the big play. Thus as the gun sounded, the Cowboys went down to their second City League defeat.

The Broncos piled up a total of 166 yds. and 11 first downs. North picked up 281 yards and 11 first downs.

In their final contest of the season, the Cowboys meet the South Bulldogs at Magly Field Friday. The football players' fathers will be the honored at this game.

St. Charles Wins Non-League From Central Friday

By DAVE EVANS and WILLIAM PARKER

St. Charles gave Central their second loss of the season in a non-league clash defeating the Pirates by a score of 26-14.

St. Charles kicked off to Central. The Pirates had the ball on their 40 and moved the ball 60 yards for their first touchdown, sending Winston Scales over from the 2-yard line. Don Poling threw to Toland for the extra points.

St. Charles had Central's kickoff on their 10. The Carolians marched 86 yards down to Central's 4 yard line. Coma went over from the 4 to give St. Charles their first score.

Central and St. Charles again changed drives in the second quarter. Central marched 58 yards for their final touchdown as Don Poling hit George Gilchrest with the 16-yard scoring play. St. Charles' Coma again scored on a 10-yard run completing a 60-yard drive, Central had the ball on their 23 as the first half ended.

St. Charles and Central exchanged the ball in the third quarter several times as both teams fumbled and punted throughout the quarter.

St. Charles took advantage of a Pirate punt and moved the ball 54 yards as Coma scored again from the 8. A fumble set up St. Charles' final score. Don Mitchell scored from the 4. Central had the ball on their 40 as the game ended.

Hawks, Duckworth Set For Playoff Contest

The Westgate Hawks meet their perennial rival, Duckworth Plumbers Sunday at West High's Magly Field in the playoff game for the championship by the Ohio Boys Football Foundation.

Game time is set for 2 p.m. and a goodsized turnout is expected for this clash between these two undefeated elevens.

On the records, this looks like a toss-up but if an edge is to be given it appears that the Plumbers would rate it with their high scoring Harper in the backfield.

Coach Dennis McDonald had an opportunity to give all his boys a chance at quite a bit of game time at Lockbourne last Sunday as the Hawks scored an easy 34 to 0 victory.

The most spectacular scoring play was on a short punt that Jim Bell gathered in much like an intercepted pass and raced 45 yards without a hand being placed on him.

As usual the No. 1 defensive line led by Co.-Capt. Bobby Spears were outstanding the short time they were in the game.

Westgate	8	12	6	8	—34

Westgate scoring: TD — [illegible] (45, run); Winston (9, run); Bell (45, punt return); Dombinski (6, run); Dearing (55, run). EP — Hanson (pass from Spears); Glasser (pass from Spears).

Westgate Bears Down Big Sullivant Gardens, 20-0

The Bears were led by the slashing runs of their great fullback Gary Smith with 6 points and a season total of 36 points. The Bears got off to a slow start and did not score until midway through the second period when fullback Gary Smith went off tackle for 32 yards.

The Bears held Sullivant Gardens scoreless and were led by the great efforts of tackles Brad Henderson and Terry Underwood.

The Bears next Sunday will play at Marion Franklin High School Field at 1:30 p.m against the very much improved Westside Pirates.

"I just feel I'm more important than dusting boxes or last night's ball game. It makes me mad to wait 10 minutes trying to hold down a squirming child while some shoe salesman absolutely ignores me. So, if you want to know why I don't shop at anyone particular store it's because no one, in the three years I've been living in my town has made me welcome. No salesman acts as if he gives a darn about my children's feet, and they all wear shoes, and I have three of them. I'd be duck soup for a really interested salesman because my children's feet are important to me. But so far it seems NOBODY WANTS ME"
We are quoting a woman to whom we put the questions, "Do you shop at one store regularly? If not, why not?"
HARRY GRAHAM SAYS:
"WE DO!"

Neighborhood Council To Present New Traffic, Holiday Relief Plans

Gladden Hosting Public Meet At 8 P.M. Thursday

Thursday evening, Nov. 9, will be "town hall night" for the people of the West Side.

Starting at 8 p.m. at Gladden Community House, Hawkes and Town-sts, two important topics will be put up for public discussion. Sam Alford, president of the West Side Neighborhood Council, will preside.

The council's welfare committee is expected to present plans for the coordination of Thanksgiving and Christmas basket giving in the West Side. A central clearing house for all organizations and individuals giving this kind of help is proposed so that as many needy families as possible will receive help, and duplications can be prevented.

Has 25 Traffic Proposals

The traffic committee, which has been working on a master traffic proposal for the West Side for three months, will present its final recommendations based on neighborhood expressions from recent school-based meetings. From a long list of proposals the committee has refined 25 for inclusion in the master plan.

Some of the more important suggestions involve: no-left turns off Broad-st during peak traffic hours, the establishment of one-way streets both north-south and east-west, installation of new traffic lights and stop signs, banning of through truck traffic on residential streets, and correction of present narrow curb lanes.

Go To City Next

Following council approval of this plan, the traffic committee, chaired by Frank Schneider, will present the plan before the City Traffic Commission Tuesday, Nov. 14. The commission has agreed to give it study and consideration, then set a separate meeting with the West Side committee to arrive at specific changes later in November, said Al Wilder, council field worker.

In order to give the traffic and welfare committees as much time as they need Thursday night, none of the other committees will give reports.

"We hope every civic-minded West Sider will appear Thursday night and voice his opinion on these new proposals for community betterment," Wilder said.

FORTIFIED with an ample supply of coffee and doughnuts, the traffic committee last week prepared 25 traffic reform proposals for public approval at tomorrow night's West Side Neighborhood Council meeting. The group is culminating a three-month study of local traffic needs. Seen here (clockwise from foreground left) are: Frank Schneider, chairman; Emmett Seely, Mrs. Ruth Bertin, Fred Staley, Don McCann, Robert McGuire, George Weber, Stanley Duran, Ralph Oberleitner, Al Wilder, Walter Cunningham and Claud Jones.

Local Groups Will March Veterans Day

In step with the rest of the nation, Columbus area patriotic, school, and civic groups will honor all military veterans Saturday.

A three-division parade, reduced by two from last year, will move through several downtown squares starting at 10:30 a.m.

Oran S. Toy, 1058 W. Mound-st, immediate past commander of the Franklin County Council, American Legion, will be parade marshal.

Starting on E. Broad-st at Fifth-st, the columns will march west past a reviewing stand in front of 30 E. Broad-st (Chamber of Commerce building). Occupying the places of honor will be officers of the Armed Forces, state and city officials, and representatives of the various veterans' organizations.

ORAN S. TOY
Nov. 11 Parade Marshal

Proceeding across the river bridge, the divisions will close ranks on Washington-blvd between W. Broad and Town-sts and, facing to the east, will observe a three-bomb salute and solemn tribute to deceased veterans.

Fifteen minutes later, the crowd will move to the small auditorium in the Veterans Memorial for a patriotic program. Paul M. Herbert, former lieutenant-governor of Ohio and past department commander of the American Legion, will speak on "Our Country." A mixed ensemble of North High School seniors will sing.

Many veterans' organizations will hold open house during the day. Camp Chase Post 98, 2211 W. Broad-st, will hold its traditional public breakfast starting at 6 a.m.

Absent from this year's parade will be units from Lockbourne Air Force Base who are now on constant alert and some National Guard troops that have been activated.

The first parade division, headed by Columbus Police cyclists, patrolmen and drill team, will include color bearers of the Army, Navy, and Marines. The 37th Division, ONG, and 338th Army Reserve bands will play. Marchers will represent the Army XX Corps of Ft. Hayes; 83rd Division Army Reserves; Marine 88th Reserve Rifle Company; U.S. Naval Reserve drill team and marching platoon; Army, Navy and Air Force ROTC students from Ohio State University; and First Ohio Regiment, Sons of Union Veterans.

High School Bands Assist

The second parade division will feature bands from Bexley, South, East, and West High Schools and Franklin Post No. 1 band. Marchers will represent the 12th District, American Legion, and will include the following posts: Franklin No. 1, Columbus No. 82, Charles Bloce No. 157, Raymond Scott No. 182, Navy-Marine No. 278, Camp Chase No. 98, Malcolm D. Jeffrey No. 466, Comrade-Whitehall No. 490, Tri-Village No. 561, Bexley No. 430, Memorial No. 614, Hanford Village No. 690, Capital City No. 698, and Southway No. 144.

Third division units will include Veterans of Foreign Wars posts; Caldwell Post band; Disabled American Veterans; and 37th Division Veterans Association, Columbus and Camp Shelby chapters.

Col. Donald E. Pratt, Maj. Vincent Primaver, Maj. Clyde E. McConnell, Ernest Obert, Herman McDaniels, Ralph Hedrick, William Bruce, Tom Cavanaugh, Gordon Peltier, Ralph Geese, Jim Hand, William Saunders, Bob Powell.

Croft Merritt, Albert W. Martin, Jr., Donald A. Woodard, Col. Robert E. Kinner, and R. A. Billups.

Veterans Day Breakfast Set

Veterans Day breakfast, annual event of Camp Chase Post, American Legion, and Auxiliary will be held Saturday, Nov. 11, 6 to 10 a.m. at the post home, 2211 W. Broad-st.

Tickets, at $1 each, will be available at the door and entitle guests to all the ham, eggs, fried potatoes, bread, butter and coffee they can eat.

George Levisay is breakfast chairman and John C. Wolfe is commander of the post.

Valleyview Seeks Gas Rate Answer

Valleyview council is continuing its search for a solution to the gas rate dispute.

Latest approach considered by solons centers on employment of an expert to negotiate a contract with the Ohio Fuel Gas Company.

The council approved a proposal to contact such an expert "and see if he thinks he can do us any good," according to Mayor Norris Boothe.

Dispute over the village rate is based on the fact that it is $1.40 higher than that of the Columbus rate and apparently is destined to go even higher.

The village had to previously decline employing a rate expert for lack of funds. Since early last spring, Valleyview officials have been stalling attempts for a new contract sought by the gas company.

The contract the company is seeking calls for a one and one-half cent increase per 1000 cubic feet the first two years and another cent and a half hike the next two years.

BOOTHE RE-ELECTED

Valleyview's 21-Year Spell Finally Broken!

Norris S. Boothe

For 21 years Valleyview went without a contest for mayor, Tuesday the spell was broken.

Incumbent Mayor Norris S. Boothe, 514 N. Harris-av, collected 194 votes to beat the 71 chalked up by ex-Marshal Jack Maurey. Maurey, an electrician, lives at 2666 Elliott-av.

Boothe, a retired railroad was appointed to the village's top office three years ago to serve out a year remaining when Charles Ringer resigned. Then he ran for the office two years ago and won. Another member of the Boothe family, daughter, Myrna, is returning to the office of clerk, having won by 182 votes.

Four-year terms to Valleyview council went to the four top vote getters, Henry Whipps (185), Harry E. Holroyd (184), Lester A. Dumm (181), and Daniel W. Umberger (180).

School Levy Passes

The 7.4 mill tax levy for Columbus Schools' operating funds was passed by voters by a narrow margin. Unofficial returns are 42,218 for the levy, and 38,880 against.

School tax levies in Columbus have received voters' approval steadily for nearly 20 years.

Jingle Writers—Sharpen Pencils!

"Jol-A-Jingle," a fascinating contest for young and old, will be sponsored by Hartley Newspapers beginning with the week of Nov. 20 and continuing for the following four weeks. It will appear in conjunction with the Christmas Gift Guide on the Classified pages.

Fifteen prizes will be awarded for the best jingle, three a week for each of the five weeks. A total of $50. will be presented in merchandise certificates.

Readers are urged to read the Gift Guide in next week's newspaper. Full rules and details will be published in the Classified section.

James Thurber Rests In Family Plot On Hilltop

James Thurber is home to stay.

The internationally famous writer and artist whose peripatetic drawings of odd people and pets and whose gently satiric humor delighted the English speaking people of the world, is resting finally in the Thurber family plot in Greenlawn Cemetery on Columbus' Hilltop.

Rev. Karl Scheufler, First Methodist Church, conducted the simple graveside services Wednesday afternoon.

Born in a house on Parsons-av in December, 1894, Thurber was raised on the east side of Columbus, attended Ohio State University and began his writing career as a reporter on local newspapers. Affectionately humorous memories of his hometown formed the basis of many of his most famous stories.

The Franklin county relatives of Thurber, most of them mildly eccentric, became famous in every European country but particularly in England, where Lowe, the famed English cartoonist, once said that Thurber was America's most enjoyable and finest writer.

Pneumonia following an operation for the removal of a massive blood clot on the brain took the life of James Thurber Sunday, Nov. 5 in New York's Doctors Hospital.

Services followed by cremation were held before the remains were brought to their final resting place on the Hilltop.

'Y' Drive Assistants Announced

Roy Agin, chairman of the second phase of the Hilltop YMCA membership drive, has announced that he will be assisted by Victor Karl, president, Hilltop Y's Men's Club; Mrs. Robert Walker of the YMCA Mothers' Council; Harry Miller, president of the Square Dance Club; and Mrs. Harry Miller, president of the Mothers' Council.

In addition, members of the YMCA Board of Management and Advisory Council, Highwinders Auto Club and Indian Guides, will be assisting. The drive will be extended to Dec. 1 in an attempt to reach the $3,000 goal.

Persons in the community have been asked to call the "Y" at BR. 6-4306 for information on the program or to come to the "Y" at 2370 Valleyview-dr, to be shown the facilities and have the program explained.

Traffic Commission Makes More Changes On West Side Streets

More changes in parking and in the movement of West Side traffic have been made by city engineers, according to information reported by the City Traffic Commission.

Left turns, formerly prohibited at Central and Broad-sts are to be allowed, except during the peak hours 7 to 9 a.m. and 4 to 6 p.m., for south to eastbound traffic and all west bound traffic.

Only east to north bound traffic is completely banned from left turns at any time. This is to become effective as soon as new traffic directions can be installed.

Other changes to take effect immediately are at Rosedale and Race-avs, Race-st and Brinker-av and Westgate-av and Wicklow-rd.

Additionally, a raised traffic island is now under construction at the intersection of Sullivant-av and Georgesville-rd. When finished, a red flasher will be installed to aid in channelling traffic.

Race-st and Whitehead-rd, the two streets between Mound and Sullivant, will now stop for Brinker-av traffic.

Rosedale-av traffic will now yield to traffic on Racine-av. Rosedale is a street recently cut through south of Sullivant-av and in a school area.

No parking at any time is to be allowed on the east side of Westgate-av from Fremont-st to Wicklow-rd. The restriction was made at the request of the Fire Department to allow a fire lane in the vicinity of Westgate School.

Leaf Cleaning Schedule Posted; Suggestions For Pickup Made

The city leaf-cleaning program will begin Wednesday, Nov. 8. Crews will proceed with the following schedule:

Monday, Nov. 13: From Central-av to Wheatland-av between Sullivant-av and the south city limits.

Tuesday, Nov. 14: From Wheatland-av to Orel-av between W. Broad-st and the railroad north of Broad-st.

Wednesday, Nov. 15: From Columbian-av to Belvidere-av between W. Broad-st and Sullivant-av.

Thursday, Nov. 16: From Belvidere-av to Wheatland-av between W. Broad-st and Sullivant-av.

Friday, Nov. 17: Assessed Street Cleaning.

Suggestions have been made to residents on how to handle leaves and facilitate leaf cleaning. The three methods of disposing of leaves are, placing them in gutter for pick-up by leaf crews, only at the time that cleaning is scheduled; placing them in separate regulation containers for regular pick-up by Sanitation crews, or burning them between the hours of day-

FOR BOARD OF TRADE —

'Monte Carlo' Party Will Pep Up Meeting

All business and no play can cause a drop of attendance at meetings, the West Side Board of Trade believes, so tonight's monthly session will include a "Monte Carlo" party.

A short business session, including nomination of officers, will begin at 8 p.m. at Sunshine Recreation Center. After that, some games of skill will be conducted by Tom Timlin, who is lining up some prizes. At 10 p.m. a buffet supper will be served. Husbands and wives of members are invited. There will be no charge for the party.

At a recent directors' meeting it was pointed out that attendance had dipped to 20 or 30 persons at regular meetings. This has led to more expense in preparation of the meal. One proposal was that only three meetings a year be held in addition to the annual banquet.

Final tabulations from the West Side June Jubilee revealed a profit of $1,092.39. A portion of the money was allotted to next year's event.

The directors voted to give $40 to Sullivant Gardens Recreation Center to help finance their parties next year. A set of barbells also was ordered for Sunshine Center, in return for its help with the Jubilee.

Directors will meet again Nov. 29 at the Robert Miller home.

Hilltop Community Council Election Dated This Week

Election of officers will be an important item on the agenda of the Hilltop Community Council Thursday night, Nov. 9. The public meeting at the Hilltop YMCA, Valleyview-dr, will start at 8 p.m. Mrs. Charles Shaw is chairman of nominations.

Other discussion will pertain to the community Christmas tree lighting ceremony and the success of the recent Halloween party at West High.

Robert Frakes, president, said school personnel were pleased at the conduct of the large crowd, estimated at 3,000. More than 500 teenagers bought tickets to the dance, he said.

IT'S A BUMPY RIDE

MOTORISTS HAVE A ROUGH TIME driving over most railroad crossings in West Franklin County. The Pennsylvania R.R. crossing on Hague-av just north of the Valleyview corporation limits is no exception. Lights of a car at the crossing—recorded at night by a news photographer—graphically indicates the problem faced by motorists—roughness. They have two alternatives—slow down or have a bumpy ride.

Caged Birds Exhibit Slated

The 13th National Cage Bird Exhibition, sponsored by the Columbus Canary and Parakeet Breeders Club, will be held at the Youth Center, Ohio State Fair Grounds, Thursday, Nov. 16, through Sunday, Nov. 19.

Entries will be received at the Youth Center from 11 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 16, to 9 a.m. Friday, Nov. 17. More than 300 trophies will be awarded in the show which will be open to the public free of charge.

MICHIGAN TRIP ARRANGED

BOBBY DOBBINS, 18-year-old legal secretary, reminds football fans that Wednesday, Nov. 15, is the deadline for reservations on the Columbus Jaycee Michigan Special train.

The train to the OSU-Michigan game at Ann Arbor will leave Union Depot at 6:30 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 25, and return at approximately 10:30 p.m. The $25 per person fare includes transportation both ways, game ticket, refreshments, snacks and noisemakers. Reservations can be made at the Jaycee office, 30 E. Broad, or by call ng 228-2772.

Heart Fund Bowling Chairmen Are Named

Local league bowlers will have an added incentive to try to better their scores the week of Nov. 12-18, when the fifth annual Heart Fund Bowling Tournament will be held. Winners are determined on the basis of the greatest number of pins scored above their established league average.

Cooperating in the tournament is the Columbus Bowling Proprietors Association, of which L. J. Stone is president. Thirty-six local lanes will take part. At each lane a woman bowler will be present as chairman to handle the details involved.

Two prominent bowlers, Harold E. Metzger, 85 W. Tulane-rd, and Mrs. Rowena Walters, 93 Castle-rd, are serving as general chairman and co-chairman, respectively, for Franklin County.

At the individual lanes, cash prizes will be awarded to high scorers, and in addition, a trophy will go to the man and woman with the highest scores in Franklin County.

Bowlers are eligible to compete at the same time they roll in their respective leagues. An entry fee of $1.00 is charged, of which 70 cents goes for research in the heart field and the remaining 30 cents is used for [illegible].

"Score a strike against heart disease" is the slogan for the tournament, which is sponsored by the Franklin County Heart Council.

AAU Cross Country Championship Set

The Ohio AAU Cross Country Championship will be held at Ohio State University Golf Course on Saturday, Nov. 11, starting at 10:30 a.m.

Conducted by the Columbus Recreation Department and co-sponsored by the Knights of Columbus 400, this annual event will feature a two mile event for high school age boys who have not reached their 19th birthday before Sept. 1, and an open four mile event for anyone.

Medals will be awarded for the first ten places in each event with the winning teams in each receiving trophies.

All contestants must be registered with the Ohio AAU or have a coach's certificate.

The two mile event will start at 10:30 a.m. and the four mile event at 11 a.m. Entry blanks are available at Room 124, City Hall (Columbus Recreation Department) or at the golf course before the events begin.

OSU Concert Band Program Announced

The Ohio State University Concert Band, under the direction of Donald E. McGinnis, will include in its program at Mershon Auditorium at 3 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 12, the premiere performance of the second movement from "Heritage Suite" by Edward E. Montgomery Jr., a senior student at the OSU School of Music.

The "Heritage Suite" was completed this fall. It is dedicated to the memory of the composer's grandfather, T. L. Montgomery, former Coshocton banker, who died in 1959, at the age of 92.

City, Council Groups Organize To Aid Christmas Seal Campaign

Goal for the 1961 Christmas seal campaign conducted by the Tuberculosis Society of Columbus and Franklin County is to be $300,000, say TB Society spokesmen.

Inadequate in itself to meet expanded program needs, the money to be collected, the society hopes, will be supplemented by a $20,000 bequest.

Heading the '61 drive is Columbus businessman William K. Westwater, 202 N. Drexel-av, assisted by volunteer groups from the various areas of the city and county.

Among these groups are the Altar-Society of Holy Rosary Church, Christ Lutheran Church, Church, Morgan Memorial Church and First English Lutheran Church on the East Side.

On the West Side are the Willing Workers of Hilltop Lutheran Church.

In the south and southeast sections are St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church Women's Guild, Calco-Fourth Methodist Church, Trinity Lutheran Church, Groveport Methodist Church WSCS and David's Evangelical and Reformed Church of Canal Winchester.

William K. Westwater

Working on the campaign in the southwestern section of the county will be the Laval Social Club, O.E.S., Rebecca Starlight Lodge and women of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Rome.

In Reynoldsburg the Women's Club is to assist with the campaign.

Speaking of the campaign, Westwater pointed out that Christmas seals paid for 60,000 free x-rays in Franklin County schools and industries and for the general public.

"And," he said, "seal funds will finance 18,000 tuberculin tests for school children before the end of the year. They will also underwrite local medical research projects and school health education programs. Christmas seals are the only source of income for all these TB Society services."

Westwater stressed, "Each contribution is gratefully received and carefully budgeted for the year ahead." The annual fund raising campaign is conducted entirely by mail.

KC Volunteer Intructors Still Needed

There is still a great need for volunteer instructors to teach first aid, according to Dr. Drew L. Davies, chairman of Red Cross First Aid.

A second training school for instructors will start Monday, Nov 13, meeting each Monday and Wednesday from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. for five consecutive weeks.

Prerequisite for the course is a minimum of the Standard First Aid Course or persons who are associated in the allied fields of medicine.

Registration must be made by Friday, Nov. 10. Interested persons should contact the Red Cross First Aid Department, CL. 3-8511 for more dialed information.

Volunteers Needed By Red Cross

Home Service, Franklin County Chapter, American Red Cross, is in need of volunteers due to the current military build-up, according to Red Cross spokesmen.

Home Service is the program through which the American Red Cross meets its responsibilities to servicemen, veterans and their dependents. Volunteers assist the case work staff in these services and training is given before volunteers assume this responsibility.

Aides should be at least 21 years of age and it is helpful if they have a college degree, some training and/or experience in social welfare or related fields.

Additional information may be received by calling Mrs. Bremson at the Chapter House, CL. 3-8511.

New Trap Gun League Opens

A new four-team trap shooting league swung into action last week at the El Rancho Gun Club.

Making up the league are the Browns'-Hotshots, O'Hara Blasters and Wing Cowboys along with North American, the only team that did not start the season Oct. 31.

The Hotshots hit for 216 to take the league lead followed by the Blasters at 200 and Cowboys at 196. The North American score, determined last Tuesday, was not reported in proper time.

High in the opening round was James Nhen with 47 out of 50. Tied at 45 were Gene Stanton, John Esterman and Bill Williams.

Ohio is one of several states participating in a pilot 4-H Peace Corps project designed to send volunteers to other countries to strengthen local 4-H type programs.

The farmer spends from 28 billion to 29 billion dollars a year for goods and services to produce crops and livestock.

Jewelers Robbed Of $15,000 In Gold, Diamond Rings

Western Shopping Center, was robbed of $15,000 in diamond and gold rings Friday, Nov. 3 by a woman whose two male accomplices distracted attention of the store manager while she committed the theft.

According to police, the men drew the attention of store manager Abe M. Dworkin, 960 Berkeley-rd, manager of the store, and Joseph Sanders, 2301 Ashley-dr, while the woman reached around a counter to get the rings.

Store employes became suspicious of the men's actions after the woman had left the store and chased them from the premises. It was then the employes realized the rings were missing.

Church Of God Holding Revival

Evangelistic services, now in progress at the Church of God, 3398 Clime-rd will continue for two weeks.

Rev. Wayne Chelette of Monroe, La., is the evangelist. Services are held each evening at 7:30 except Monday, and at 11 a.m. Sunday. Public is invited.

An addition is now being built to the church, and is expected to be finished by the church's fourth anniversary, Jan. 8.

Rev. E. T. Hitte is pastor.

Allied Conservation Clubs Reactivated In Franklin Co.

Search for a public hunting area in central Ohio has led to a decision to reactivate the Allied Conservation Clubs of Franklin County, according to William Hendershot, District 5 supervisor, Ohio Division of Wildlife.

District game management personnel have been anxious to secure a public hunting area in Fayette, Pickaway or Madison County in this better pheasant habitat region to act as a buffer and have leased a 900-acre portion of a farm in Pickaway County, on State Route 762, between Orient and Commercial Point, for $900 annually. The farm is owned by William Green and will be open for upland game hunting Nov. 15, when that season starts.

Meanwhile a group of Columbus organized sportsmen met to help the district locate a suitable area, but by that time the lease had been signed. Representatives of the 12 clubs decided to reactivate the Franklin County allied group, in order to present a united front in the solution of any conservation problems.

Represented were the Central Ohio Hunters and Anglers Club, Indian Springs Beagle Club, Battelle Research Rod and Gun Club, Hoover Dam Boating and Fishing Club, Columbus Beagle Club, Northeast Conservation Club, Oakland Park Conservation Club, Aircraft Snakehunters Club, North American Trap and Field Club, Clintonville Conservation Club, Southeast Conservation Club and WRFD Conservation Club.

Earl Schaefer and Frank Gentile, both of Columbus, former president and secretary, respectively, of the old organization were named again to those posts until a reorganization meeting can be held.

Final Forum Talk Slated

Rev. Robert M. Lucht, instructor in history at St. Charles Borromeo College, will review "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich" Wednesday, Nov. 15, at 8:15 p.m. in the Little Theatre at St. Charles College.

John J. Dilenschneider, 2565 Berwyn-rd, presiding chairman, will conduct the audience participation period of the forum.

Mrs. John J. Imwalle, 1017 Columbus-st, is in charge of the reception following the forum.

Because of the historical nature of the review, high school students will be admitted free of charge. Holders of season tickets may bring guests if they have not used their tickets for preceding lectures. Any unused portion of the season ticket will be considered the same as a single admission ticket for this final lecture.

Cash Is Stolen From Union Safe

Police are still investigating the recent theft of $697 worth of cash and checks from a filing cabinet safe at Local 746, IUE, Radio and Machine Workers, 3580 Grace-st.

Mary M. McKenzie, bookkeeper, reported that all but about $100 of the amount was cash.

Schoedinger Bequest Should Prompt Public To Do Its Share In TB Drive

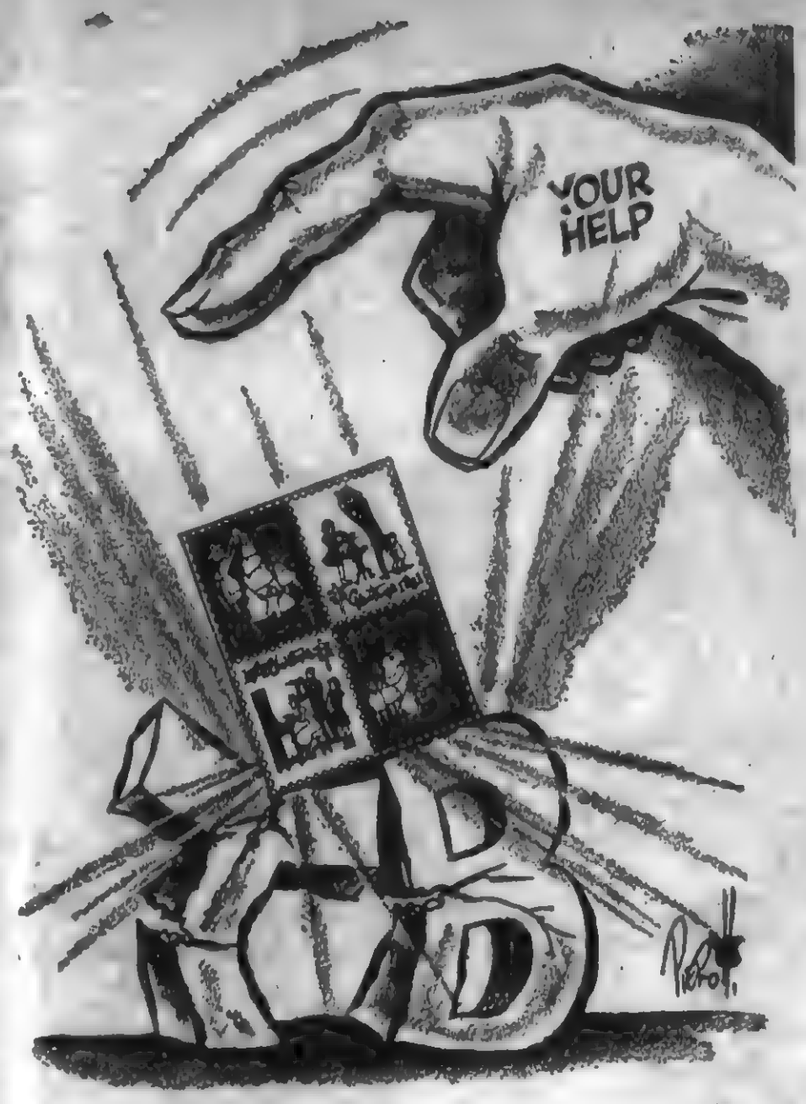
The Tuberculosis Society is asking the public for only 90 percent of the money it has declared necessary for its 1961-62 program of local service.

The goal for the Christmas seal campaign is $205,000. When reached, it will leave a gap in budget needs which will be filled with a special bequest of $20,000 from the Society's founder, the late F. O. Schoedinger.

The campaign goal of $205,000 is $5,000 more than last year — the first increase in four years, despite constantly rising costs and continuously expanding services.

This unusual "deficit-fund-raising" campaign, combined with the bequest, is to pay for vigorous new action against tuberculosis in Franklin county in the year ahead.

A unique double assault will be made on the city's high TB incidence areas. Using the tuberculin test and the chest X-ray at the same time — its most effective tools — the Society has high hopes for wiping out certain wells of infection.



Time for aggression is now, tuberculosis authorities point out. Increasingly, they say, TB germs are becoming resistant to one or more drugs being used to "cure" patients. One TB bacillus out of a million is resistant to one of the TB drugs. Uncurbed, this resistant bacillus spreads. In 1952, 2.5 percent of the new TB patients in Veterans Administration hospitals was resistant to streptomycin. Abroad, where drugs have been used less discriminately, resistance among new patients has recently crept up to 15 percent.

The battle's strategy is clear, according to authorities. We must find all TB cases; treat all cases properly; and use the right combination of drugs — continuously — for along time.

This is how the Tuberculosis Society will carry out its responsibilities for TB control in 1961-62: In addition to its special knock-out attack, the Society's tuberculin tests will reach a new high of 16,000 in 165 local schools. The Society will continue its free chest X-rays, "seeing" and reporting on suspected tuberculosis (and also on other suspected chest ailments, like cancer, and enlarged heart, since the information is already at hand).

It will finance research on tuberculosis, and other chest diseases akin to TB, which now baffle medical authorities. It will support two fellowships in tuberculosis and respiratory diseases to attract physicians to this field where medical skill is acutely needed. And, it will further information about tuberculosis to the public, primarily through clubs and organizations and school classrooms.

This is an ambitiously increased program of service which Franklin county residents will be able to buy for 1961-62 by supporting a modestly increased campaign goal, thanks to the faith and foresight of the society's founder, the late F. O. Schoedinger.

AROUND EDUCATIONAL CIRCLES

Contract Boost

A new Ohio law dealing with teachers' contracts has gone into effect. It calls for teachers in districts of fewer than 800 pupils to be given continuing contracts when eligible for tenure. Previously, teachers were usually given extracts for a maximum of five years.

TV Teaches Better Than Teachers

In an effort to find out what effect television has on learning, the Davidson County school system last year divided its 4,180 sixth graders into three groups.

One group was instructed in science by a teacher with the aid of television. Another was given science lessons by television without supplementary material from the teacher. The third group was taught by the teacher alone.

Results at the end of seven months after all three groups had been given a standardized test: with teacher and television, 7.6; television alone, 7.3; teacher alone, 6.7.

Sunday Sales Decisions Past Due

That seems to be the key word in describing the current status of Sunday Closing Law cases now before the court.

In the courts "continued" means postponed. Fifty affidavits seeking prosecution of Sunday sales violators have been so handled since Sept. 27. In some cases continuances of as long as eight weeks have been granted. The Greater Columbus Sunday Association last week filed suits for the third time against four firms.

As Gene P. King, executive secretary for the association said, "We have taken this action because these four stores have demonstrated, by continuing Sunday sales:

1. Continuing contempt for the law,
2. Continuing confidence that the Columbus public officials and courts will wink at the Sunday Closing Law.

"We do not believe this latter is so. Columbus is a city of law and order. Ohio is a state of law and order. Our public officials have sworn to uphold the laws.

"The Sunday Closing Law is simple, understandable, and enforceable. It makes all necessary allowance for the good things that people want to do on Sunday. It seeks only to stop the fellow who turns a fast and illegal buck while his law-abiding competitors are closed."

The situation is simply this. Sunday closing laws do exist. They have remained on the books because they have merit and the majority of the people apparently favor them. Laws should be treated as laws and properly enforced.

Judgments are past due on all these cases now in court. They should be attended to immediately.

November 'Hunting Moon' Will Cast Its Spell On Many Here Next Week

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

November is the hunting moon. At least for present day hunters in Ohio. The American Indian divided his year up by various "moons" according to his predominant activity that season. Some tribes called September their hunting moon, and to others it was October.

To us, the hunting moon is November, for it is then that most of us go afield with gun and dog. Nov. 15, is the big day when open-season fever sets in. Some rural communities almost "shut down" as shop keepers go hunting.

This year on the 15th seasons will open on rabbits, pheasants, quail, partridges, raccoon and opossums. The trapping season also opens.

Enthusiasm will run high next week, a little too high perhaps. For mixed in with all the fun of opening day will be the sadness of a few shooting accidents. Most of these will be caused by lack of caution—running, climbing fences, getting guns out of cars, or shooting too hastily. A slogan sponsored by the Division of Wildlife a few years ago is good to keep in mind when hunting, "Be sure it's game before you aim."

Opening day enthusiasm, however, is not long sustained. After the first day and first Saturday, a lot of shotguns go back into closets for another year. There is nothing wrong with this. If you like to hunt only one or two days a year, then don't push it. There is no use to go if you do not want to, and it leaves the coverts uncrowded for those of us who hunt all season long.

Go Back Later

If you are only an opening-day hunter, then you may be surprised at what goes on later in the season. For one thing you will not have difficulty finding a place to hunt. After the first week or so you will be allowed to hunt pheasants on thousands of acres that are closed at the opening. You must ask the farmer's permission, of course, but he will usually not object after he and his friends have had a few days "chasing roosters."

The Division of Wildlife maintains quality shooting on state areas with in-season releases of pheasants. The season is extended on these areas to Jan. 13, and all of this late-season fun is overlooked by many. Of particular interest to sportsmen in this area is the fact that the Division has leased for public hunting the 900-acre farm of William Green, located on State Route 762 between Orient and Commercial Point.

After the excitement of opening day, dog owners have their real fun. Not that there aren't plenty of dogs down at the start of the season, but hunting conditions are not often ideal. Whistles may be blowing at all points of the compass; a lot of gun shots and shouting will be heard. It takes a dog with plenty of experience to work under these conditions. Opening day is not the time to hunt with a young dog still in training. But after the smoke clears, then is the time for laisurely days afield when a dog has room to work.

The hunting moon is here and is exerting its strange influence on hunters just as certainly as it affects the tides. Come opening day, we'll all be out.

Turkey Shoots Dated

Two weekends of turkey shoots, the card type, have been announced by the League of Ohio Sportsmen. They'll be held starting at 1 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 11, 12, 18 and 19 at 20th and Wilmis-avs, near the Youth Center of the fairgrounds.

Some nice 10 to 14 pound birds will be handed out to the best marksmen.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

The Fall Pork Supply Is Increasing

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Apples, cider, bananas, cranberries.

Vegetables — Potatoes, cabbage, Cauliflower, braccoli, lettuce.

The season has arrived for such menu treats as a juicy pork roast, stuffed pork chops and oven-barbecued spareribs. Pork production is seasonally in volume now and all meat counters are filling up with a wider selection of cuts. Retail prices are lower and frequent specialing of fresh pork cuts can be expected.

This period of large pork supplies will continue for the next couple of months, with peak volume likely late this month and in December. In addition to a greater day to day use of pork, this is also the time to consider buying pork in quantity for later use, if you have a freezer.

Quality purchases can be made in several ways. One is the purchase of a whole carcass, to be cut and wrapped for storage. Another is to buy wholesale cuts of pork such as whole loins, Boston butts of hams. Purchase of retail cuts on "special" is another possibility.

Buy in quantity can be justified on an economy basis only if there is some saving in total cost. If quantity buying means additional storage costs, the savings should be great enough to offset these. Of course, the ideal time to make quantity purchases is when higher prices are anticipated in the period ahead. This year that period for pork is expected by mid-winter.

New Food Productions Available

If you are like most of us—always on the look for new menu ideas—you'll be interested in some of the newer products available in our markets.

One frozen food processor has added deep dish beef, turkey and chicken pies to his line of well-known individual meat pies. The new ones weigh one pound, compared to the smaller half-pound ones. Another new item by the same company is a pork meat pie, with apples added.

Vegetables have been added to the list of items in boil-in-bag pouches. Frozen in the bag with a butter sauce, they are ready to serve after a few minutes cooking.

ONE MAN'S Opinion . . .

Is Veterans Day Fervor Fading?

Veterans Day, 1961 in Franklin County. How will it be observed?

From all indications the parade will be smaller. A shorter procession downtown, fewer patriotic and youth groups, and because of that, fewer flags.

ORR

Is this an indication of a flagging interest in things patriotic? Of fading respect to the men who lived and died for the perptuation of a free United States of America? Sad, but perhaps true.

Even if the car-choked thoroughfares seem indifferent to a parade Saturday, why not employ other ways, even out into the suburbs, to mark tribute to our veterans? The sounding of whistles and church bells at the ever-significant 11 a.m. would not be asking too much.

Children, the post-war generation particularly, should be reminded before they go home from school Friday that there is no barbed wire dividing their town or country into east and west, that binoculars do not watch daddy as he goes to work, or grandma when she enters church.

This is so because of the bravery and devotion of men by the millions who believed in America, and of some who still do.

MARCUS ORR

Jimmy Bell swept his own right end for 2 points and the Hawks led by a score of 8 to 0.

Shortly thereafter the Hilltop team iced the contest when Mike Colgrove and Ray Glaser dropped Duckworth's Roger Harper in his own end zone as he attempted a pass and this 2 pointer concluded the afternoon's scoring.

The Westgate team will be honored as champions of the Ohio Boys Football Foundation again at a recognition night to be held Dec. 1, at the Lockbourne AF Officer's Club at 7 p.m. This replaces the annual dinner usually held in past years.

Still pending for the Hawks is a post season game with a McKeesport, Pa., team with the winner playing in Texas during the Christmas holidays. This would be a fitting climax for a fine team and coaching staff.

Westgate Bears Fight Determined Pirates

Early in the first period the Bears crossed the goal line on a 30-yard pass to end Henry Butcher, which was called back because of a clipping penalty, and did not score until there was only two minutes and 10 seconds left in the game. Fullback Gary Smith then smashed over from the five-yard line.

The Bears' defense held the Pirates' two great backs, Rick Bergman and Dick Brown, to small yardage. Leading the Bears' defense were end Jeff Wiler, guard Mike Tiller and halfback Mark Miller.

The Westgate Bears' final game will be played this Saturday night at Jet Stadium against the Maryland A.C. team, which early this season beat the Bears 30-0. Game time will be 7 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased from any player or coach or by calling BR. 6-1630.

BULLDOGS BEATEN, AGAIN

The Party's All Over For West Who End With A 16-6 Victory...

BY MELVIN HOOVER and GLENN ROHRER

The West High Cowboys ended the 1961 season on a winning note. In a rain plagued contest Friday night, the Broncos downed the South Bulldogs 16-6 at Magly field.

Cowboy halfback Rich Neely scored all of the Cowboys 16 points to strengthen, and we hope clinch, the city league top scoring honors.

Neely capped the first Cowboys' drive on a six-yard burst over right tackle ending a 65-yard drive taking six plays. Neely also added the extra points, crashing over right tackle, to put the Cowboys on top 8-0.

South's only tally, of the rain-drenched evening, came on a 73-yard sprint around right end by quarterback Sam Wilson. The conversion attempt was stopped short but the Cowboys' lead was cut to only two points.

At the end of two periods of play the Cowboys were out on top 8 to 6. During the first half of play the rain was so heavy that neither the South continuous drizzle had turned the playing field into a mass of mud. Thus neither team could get its offense rolling in the final quarter. So as the gun sounded the Broncos added another victory of their 1961 total.

Because of the mud, the Cowboys piled up only 11 first downs and 181 yards rushing. South gained 194 yards rushing and nine first downs.

Local Liquor Permit Suspended Two Weeks

Temporary suspension of a permit for the sale of liquor was ordered by the Ohio Department of Liquor Control against the Dial Carry Out, 1890 Sullivant-av, according to a department announcement.

The penalty, which begins at Nov. 14 and lasts until Nov. 26, was inflicted for the violation of two regulations covering the sale and consumption of liquor upon the premises on Sunday and allowing consumption of liquor on the premises while not in possession of a proper permit.

Your Youth

By Hilltop YMCA Staff

The 10th Annual Hilltop YMCA Gra-Y induction will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 14 at Westmoor Jr. High School. Members of the 12 local clubs will be inducted and all officers installed.

Other highlights will include recognition of all members and presentation of the Hilltop Y's Men's Gra-Y "Club-of-the-Year" plaque. Trophies for football, softball and track also will be presented. All families and friends are invited to attend and use this opportunity to gain a better insight into the total Gra-Y program.

At 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 21 at the Hilltop YMCA, members of the Hilltonia, Westmoor and West Jr. Hi-Y Clubs will be inducted and officers installed. A special speaker will highlight this annual public occasion.

Members of Hilltonia and Westmoor Jr. Hi-Y Clubs will engage in a flag tag football game at the Hilltop YMCA at 4:15 Monday, Nov. 13. The loser will meet the West Club Friday, Nov. 17 at 4:15 at the "Y". This marks the first of a schedule of inter-school activities for the year.

The West Sr. Hi-Y will hold a special meeting at the "Y" tonight at 7:30. An interesting program has been set up and all members are urged to be present. The next meeting will be held at 8 a.m. Nov. 28 at the school.

Several new Indian Guide tribes are now being organized as a result of a recent promotion held at the "Y". Boys from the age of 5 to 9 and their fathers who are interested in this program (and who were unable to attend the recent meeting) should get in contact with the Hilltop YMCA office as soon as possible.

The Indian Guide Dance Team will hold its next practice session Saturday morning at 9. Any Little Brave interested should plan on being present as several appearances will be coming up soon. Tomorrow evening the dancers will perform at the Central YWCA at 7:30.

The next Junior High Dance will be held Friday, Nov. 10, from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. These dances are open to all junior high members of the Hilltop YMCA or YWCA. Members of the two staffs are on hand to supervise these dances and spin the records.

Volleyball League Set For Hilltop

The Hilltop YMCA is once more organizing an "open volleyball" league for men, 18 years old and up. This league is open to any individual or group wishing to have an evening of volleyball in the Westmoor Junior High School gym.

Program will begin Nov. 16 at 7 p.m. League play will begin shortly afterwards.

Any adult member of the Hilltop YMCA is invited and urged to participate.

Blue Angels Leaders Of Center Squads

In football action at Sunshine, the Eagles beat the Buckeyes, 26-0. The Chargers beat the Blue Angels, 6-0, and the Blue Angels defeated the Eagles, 8-0.

Ralph Morgan, Ernest Osborne and Bob Dupler led the Eagles in their rout of the Buckeyes. They received excellent support from their line as they repeatedly ran for good gains through the middle of the Buckeye defense.

In the Chargers' upset over the previously unbeaten Blue Angels, center Rodney Stapleton blocked a punt in the Blue Angel end zone and fell on it for a touchdown. Bill Miller was in one most of the tackles for the Chargers. Bill moved into the line from quarterback and made the difference in the game's outcome.

The Blue Angels regained the league leadership with an 8-0 win over the Eagles. Steve Ketell scored both the touchdown and extra point on line plunges.

Picture postcards were first used in this country in Atlantic City, N.J. The idea was a European import.

Car Club Members Hope To Locate Suitable Garage

Members of the Hilltop YMCA-sponsored High Winders club are hoping to locate a garage large enough to enable them to expand their car craft activities.

According to club member Jack Burgy, space for eight to 10 cars is desired and its must have all utilities. A location in the central or western part of the city is being sought. It it will be used non-commercially, he said.

Burgy may be reached by calling 878-6855 between the hours of 6 and 10 p.m.

Central Is Beat On Own Field By Strong Aquinas Team, 10-0

Central was closely overrun in a game with Aquinas, Friday, Nov. 3, at Central. The game was played in a constant downpour with a final score of 10-0. Neither team, throughout the game, could operate to its potential on the wet grounds.

After halftime, which featured a battle of the Civil War, Central looked as though she might score but was forced to punt on several occasions.

However, during the middle of the fourth quarter, Central loomed on the Aquinas eight-yard line. Things were in vain though as quarterback Tom Fullove's pass was intercepted by Aquinas.

Aquinas, after some unsuccessful drives, was forced to punt, though, and Central had another chance at the game. Partially because of the poor weather Central also faced a punt situation. Gambling on a fake punt it the last minute of the game the roof fell in as the ball was fumbled.

Again Weinsteger brought the Terriers closer to victory as he kicked a 25-yard field goal in the remaining seconds of the game. Central's last play was in vain as quarterback Don Poling was smothered by several Aquinas players with two seconds left to be played.

Gra-Y Tag Football Sees Final Game Of Season Last Nov. 4

The last games of the Gra-Y flag tag football season were played last Saturday, Nov. 4. In both the North and South Divisions tension was high since any of four teams could have been division champs. However, the John Burroughs Hawks won the South Division championship by defeating the Binns Bombers 28-24.

The Hawks earned the opportunity to meet the North Division champs in a play-off for the Gra-Y football champs for 1961. The North Division champs, the Highland Trotters, earned their way to the championship play-off by downing the Valleyview Vikings 34-12.

The Vikings and the Trotters were both carrying an undefeated record.

Nov. 11 marks the date, 10 a.m. marks the time, when the South Division champs, the John Burroughs Hawks, will clash in a gridiron contest with the Highland Trotters, the North Division champs.

Other games played Saturday morning saw the Georgian Heights Rebels squeeze past the West Mound Tigers 38-36. The Eakin Road Panthers forfeited to the Lindbergh Falcons. The Westgate Wildcats played their best game of the season against the Prairie Lincoln Eagles by allowing only one TD to be scored against them, but that was one too many—the final score Prairie Lincoln Eagles 6, the Westgate Wildcats 0.

The West Broad Colts scored two touchdowns against the North Franklin Comets. The Comets were unable to reach pay dirt and the final score was Colts 12, Comets 0.

Girls Basketball Being Organized

Girls basketball leagues are being formed at Glenwood Recreation Center. The junior league for those 12 and under will play on Thursday after school. The intermediate league, 13 to 15, will play on Thursday from 6 to 9 p.m. The senior league for those 16 to 18 will play on Wednesday from 6 to 10 p.m.

Anyone interested in playing basketball should contact Mary Russell, BR. 4-7416 or BR. 4-0208.

Reduce your time painting baseboards by using a roller. First use a small brush for the top and bottom molding, protecting floors and walls with a metal guard or shirt cardboard. In between use the roller.

AUBLEGRAPH

BY JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Accent Is On Youth This Saturday Night At Jet Home

Towering Frank Barker strolled into our office last week. He was smiling, said he had something "hot" for me and I was glad I listened.

Barker has been long known for his work with civic groups in the area and you can usually make book that something will be successful if he's connected with it.

He's taken on a new project—along with a fellow named Edward Walker and other local businessmen—and his plans all add up to enjoyment to football-minded fans in and around Columbus.

Walker has been recently named commissioner of the Ohio Bearcat Football Association, replacing Lou Jacobs, and the little guys have a real program lined up for this Saturday night.

All eight teams in the Bearcat loop will participate in Saturday's "Youth Fitness" exhibition at Jet Stadium—just BEFORE the 8 o'clock start of the Columbus Colts-Louisville Raiders' game.

The youths will play scaled down four quarters from 7 to 8 p.m. Each team will engage in one of the 12-minute quarter games.

Some 250 boys will take part in the "Football-rama," Walker says and added, "much credit should go to Lex Mayers who is helping to make this all possible."

Big Halftime Show, Too . . .

Even the halftime activities will be different this Saturday at the Jet home. It will concentrate on Youth Fitness and National Security.

Franklin County Council, American Legion, and the Armed Forces-Community Relations Council will guide the intermission entertainment.

A representative of the President's Council on Youth Fitness is slated to make an appearance. A colorful "Pledge of Allegiance" and a fireworks display will round out the patriotic keynote Veterans Day program.

Notes From Capital . . .

The 1961-62 Lutheran cagers will be paced by co-captains Joel "Bud" Dill and Bob Holiday, Regan reports. Dill, a six-foot-five center from St. Marys, led last year's team in scoring with 382 points in 24 games.

Holliday (5'1"), hampered all season with a sore leg muscle, netted 171 points in 22 games.

Four vets, who paced Capital to a 19-6 record last year, were lost through graduation. They were forwards Duane Pelkey and Mark Fenton and guards Skip Mullaney and Ramon Shealy.

Cap will open its 1961-62 season at Franklin College (Ind.) Dec. 1. The Lutherans will play at Earlham College (Ind.) Dec. 2 and will host Muskingum in their home opener, Dec. 9.

49'ers Win Thriller At Glenwood Center

Strengthening their hold on first place in the Junior Boys football league at Glenwood, the Forty-Niners defeated the Eagles 34-28 on October 26, 1961.

The victors scored first on an end around by Paul Mays after having marched to the Eagle 12 yard line. After returning the kick-off to their own 38, the fired-up Eagles drove for a score, the final play a sweep around right end by Benny Wilburn. Wilburn kicked the point after touchdown.

An alert Eagle defense recovered a Forty-Niner fumble on their own 25 and marched for a score, climaxed by Wilburn's 40 yard sweep around right end. The try for the point after touchdown was unsuccessful.

Another Forty-Niner drive was stopped on the Eagles 45 yard line. From there, they took the ball to the Forty-Niner two, where Frank Robinson scored. The try for the conversion failed and the score at half-time was Eagles 20, Forty-Niners 6.

At the beginning of the second half, an aroused Forty-Niner team scored with Paul Mayes going over from the Eagle 18 on the same end around on which they scored in the first half. Point after touchdown was good.

After receiving the kick-off, the Eagle offense rolled to the Forty-Niner one yard line, where stubborn defensive play held them and the Forty-Niners took over and went 99 yards, climaxed by a 30-yard jaunt off tackle by Forty-Niner quarterback Payne for the score. He also scored the point after.

Another Eagle score put them ahead with three minutes remaining in the game. Taking the kick-off on his own 35 yard line, Payne returned it 65 yards for a score and the winning margin.

In another league game, the Forty-Niners also downed the Browns, 46-6, Oct. 24. The strong play of the Forty-Niners, both on offense and defense, proved too overpowering for the Browns. Payne scored five of the Forty Niners seven touchdowns.

The Browns' Danny Thaggard, however, carried for the longest run of the day—a 78 yard run for the Browns' only score.

Bricker Scores High In Bowling

Tim Bricker bowled a high single score of 141 in Glenwood Recreation Center's Bantam Bowling League. Tim also had high single two-game series of 219.

John Postle had high single score of 173 for the Senior League and bowled a 273 for high single two-game series.

Team I had a high-two game series of 786 for Bantan. bowlers and Team 5 had a high two-game series of 962 for the Senior League.

Check viaducts before driving into them after a downpour. Puddles collecting there can mean wet brakes.

Hilltop Library To Close

SERVICE OF FIT!

Not long ago, one of the "cripple yourself" discount shoe stores advertised: "Why Pay Retail Prices?" Inferring that if you did away with all of the services rendered by stores like ours, you could obtain shoes at a lower cost.

I'm still not convinced that such stores are in business for their health, but forgetting that angle let's see what it costs you to buy shoes without a fitting service. Take children's shoes, . . . the most expensive shoe bought at the cheapest give-away price is a total loss if it is improperly fitted. The average parent isn't qualified to fit or even judge fit.

And the child can't or won't say anything you can go on. Shoe fit involves judgement, skill, training, experience, knowledge of shoes, leathers, feet, function, widths, lengths, lasts and a host of other things. Fitting service is part of the price of a shoe, of the shoe's value. If you sacrifice fit for a deceptive "bargain," your child may pay a terrible price later, in foot trouble.

Library Tour Offered During Child Book Week

Columbus Public Library system will climax observance of National Children's Book Week, Nov. 13-18, by inviting all interested persons to guided tours of the newly-enlarged and reorganized Main Library building at 96 S. Grant-av, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday, Nov. 17.

Open house will be held throughout the week at the 13 neighborhood branches and in the Children's Department of the Main Library for visiting school classrooms, according to Mr. Magaret E. Carroll, Chief Librarian.

Exhibits for the younger set will center around new children's books and posters with the "Hurrah for Books!" slogan.

Family groups will also be especially welcomed throughout the library system during the evenings of the week.

Major attraction for daytime adult visitors to the Main Library on Friday, Nov. 17, Mrs. Carroll said, will be the opportunity to view the behind-the-scenes processing of books for the entire library system and services and facilities made possible by the recently-completed $700,000 improvement program.

Specialized services offered only at the main or headquarters library include some 7000 long-play phonograph recordings including foreign language courses and other spoken-word recordings; more than a thousand 16-millimeter sound movie films; and fact-finding and reference facilities.

Chapel Choir Slates Concert

Capital University's Chapel Choir, scheduled to make a European jaunt next summer, will present its annual Christmas concert Sunday, Dec. 10, in Veterans Memorial Auditorium, 300 W. Broad-st.

Two performances will be given, one at 3 and another at 8:30 p.m. All seats for the concerts are reserved. Tickets may be ordered by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to: Chapel Choir, Capital University, Columbus 9, Ohio.

Catholic Men Will Convene At Hartley

Martin H. Work, executive secretary of the National Council of Catholic Men who has been honored by two Popes of the Roman Catholic Church, will address the third annual convention of the Columbus Diocesan Council of Catholic Men, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 12 at Bishop Hartley High School.

Work was honored in 1954 when the late Pope Pius XII made him a Knight of St. Gregory. Last year Pope John XXIII named him to the eighty-man Board of Directors of the Permanent Committee of the World Congress of Lay Apostolate — one of the most important coordinating lay groups in the Roman Catholic Church.

The NCCM is a federation of 10,000 men's organizations in the United States participating in the lay apostolate movement.

Work, a former advertising executive, will speak at the 11:30 a.m. luncheon.

He received his AB degree from Loyola University in Los Angeles and an LLD from Springfield College, Ala. He also earned an MA degree from the University of Southern California.

Some of the workshops to be presented at the day-long meet include interracial justice, communism, religious vocations, education and the recent encyclical of Pope John XXIII, "Mater et Magistra."

Bishop Clarence G. Issenmann will offer the opening mass at 10 a.m. and preside at the 4 p.m. closing business session.

CD Plans New Class

A three-hour Home Preparedness course will be conducted Monday, Nov. 13, from 7:30 until 10:30 p.m. in the Civil Defense Auditorium, 1045 S. High-st.

The class, teaching survival techniques, will be limited to the first 40 persons to place reservations by calling HI. 3-9444.

The application of science and business to agriculture has opened many new opportunities for young men and women who want to work in areas of business, industry, production, education, research, and related services.

Hoodlum Priest To Speak Here

Father Dismas Clark, founder of Dismas House, St. Louis, Mo., who is known as the Hoodlum Priest, is to be the guest speaker of the Ohio Committee to Abolish Capital Punishment at the meeting of the committee scheduled for 8 p.m., Nov. 14, in the Bishop Hartley High School Auditorium.

The meeting is open to the public.

Westgate Auto Expands Line

Westgate Auto Service, located at 3339 Sullivant-av, now stocks a complete line of ignition and brake parts which enables them to give "faster service," according to Worthy Law, owner.

In addition, the firm is now able to offer immediate delivery on all transmission parts, he said.

For customer convenience, Westgate Auto has a "loan car service" for use while the customer's car is being repaired, Law pointed out.

Also prominent in the organization's expansion program, is the addition of a line of specialized tools used in servicing late model cars.

Other services offered include complete winterizing and ignition analyzing.

Residents living on streets with curb and gutters should place their leaves in the gutters the length of their lot rather than in piles. Residents living on uncurbed streets should place their leaves at the edge of the pavement the length of their lots, rather than in piles or on their lawns since the city's equipment cannot work well on the shoulders of the streets. After the leaves are in place they should be wet down to keep them from blowing.

No vehicles should be parked on the streets on the days when leaf cleaning is scheduled. Leaf cleaning equipment operating around vehicles will miss approximately 30 feet of gutter.

Residents have been warned that leaves can only be placed in the gutter legally, during a scheduled cleaning period. At any other time it is a violation of the city laws. If leaves are placed in the gutters before the scheduled cleaning any citizen inconvenienced by such violation may notify the Police Department.

One hour of farm labor produces four times as much food and other crops as it did in 1919-21, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

John Kirwin Is Promoted

John F. Kirwin, 2667 St. Patrick-rd, has been named executive secretary of the Ohio State Pharmaceutical Association, the professional and trade association of Ohio's registered pharmacists.

Kirwin joined the association in 1959 as field secretary and was named assistant executive secretary in 1960. He was formerly public relations director of the Ohio Small Business Committee, and is a graduate of Ohio State University and the Syracuse Institute for Organization Management.

Dry Holiday Ahead, Says Police Chief

No deviation from regular police policy covering the sale of liquor and beer will be made on New Year's Eve, according to Police Chief George W. Scholer.

Inquiries have already been made to police by persons anticipating the holiday which falls on a Monday this year.

Chief Scholer also emphasized that all liquor laws and ordinances will be strictly enforced. Sale of liquor on Sunday before midnight is prohibited but sales may be made between midnight and 1 a.m. or 2:30 a.m. as indicated by the permit held by the person making the sale.

Landmarks' Stockholders Get Dividends

Two thousand investors holding nearly three million of Landmarks' Cost-of-Living Common Stock received dividends amounting to 67 cents per share, it was announced by C. W. Fullerton, vice-president and director of finance of Landmark Farm Bureau Cooperative, Columbus. Last year's index dividend was 45 cents per share.

"Our policy provides for dividends three times a year," Fullerton said, "with regular dividends on June 30 and Dec. 31 at the annual rate of 3.7 per cent and a Sept. 30 dividend based on the consumer price index in August each year. This year it was 3.35 per cent.

All three dividends will provide an annual return of 7.09 percent to investors in this stock."

BILLY: SCIENTIST IN 1988?

Billy's a bright, likeable kid. He's always puttering around his basement doing experiments with his chemistry set. You might say he's the neighborhood's budding young scientist.

Yes, Billy could probably be a famous scientist some day. But, right now, his chances are pretty slim.

In Billy's community there is a scarcity of classrooms, of teachers, and of good textbooks. Result? Billy is short-changed on his schooling.

Let's be sure that this doesn't happen to the children in our schools. Join with the other good citizens of our community to back up our School Board, attend PTA meeting and school conferences.

Dinner To Mark Birthday At Unity

A turkey dinner will be given Friday, Nov. 10, at 6:30 p.m., sponsored by various groups of Unity Church of Christianity, to celebrate the third year in the new building.

Donation is on an offering basis and will be used for the church retirement fund. For reservations call Jack and Louise Morey, HU. 6-1274, or the church office, AM. 7-7511.

EARN NATIONAL HONORS

FOUR WEST HIGH seniors were tapped as candidates for the National Honor Society in a ceremony held during assembly last Wednesday. The four, members of the January graduating class, had scholastic averages of 3.5 or more, held at least 10 service points and had good character references. In front is Jean Larsen and in back are, from left, Richard Rector, 12A class president; Mellie Myers and Susan Kerr, class treasurer.

Study Grant In Journalism Set At West

West High School's journalism department announced today the inauguration of a scholarship fund for students planning a career in journalism.

The $150 scholarship will be awarded on a character, scholastic standing and service point basis, according to John F. Pottibone, department advisor.

The award will be given to a student from one of the two publication staffs, selected by a committee consisting of Miss Harriet Brown, vice-principal; Edmund Kaylor, guidance head, Pottibone and two other faculty members.

If all students in one particular year are found to lack the necessary qualifications, the award will be held over until the following year. At that time, a scholarship will be given to either one or two students.

Future plans for the department include another scholarship of $100 to be awarded to any West students other than a journalism student, with the necessary qualifications, according to Pottibone.

Rare Books, Dolls Shown At Library

Columbus Public Library is celebrating book week, Nov. 12 through 18. An exhibit, "Comparing Books," has been prepared for display at the Hilltop Library, 2936 W. Broad-st.

Several teachers from West Broad Street school have pooled their collections of rare text books, together with old-fashioned dolls that illustrate the books.

The books are unusual because of their size and format. There is a tiny "New England Primer" dating from 1765 that is full of small illustrations to help children learn words.

The McGuffey Readers, one through five, date from 1853 and 1863 along with an old spelling and arithmetic book from 1879.

Contrast with today's new boks for children is startling. Mrs. Waymer included some bright new books for children in the display. The display was collected and arranged by Bess Sperry, Roma Waymer, Stephen Thompson and Steven Jaques.

Revival Now Under Way At Westhill

Westhill Church of Christ will be engaged in an evangelistic revival at the church, 3220 Sullivant-av, beginning Tuesday evening, Nov. 7, and continuing through Tuesday evening, Nov. 14.

Evangelist will be Allen H. Duffy, minister of the Church of Christ at Texhoma, Okla.

Music for the revival meetings will be under the leadership of the Singing Evangelists of the Columbus Churches and the local congregation.

Public is invited to attend all meetings at 7:30 each evening, including Saturday.

Area Church Will Host Missionary

Rev. and Mrs. James Andrews, soon to leave for the mission field in Formosa, will speak at Trinity Assembly of God Church, 29 S. Eureka-av, Sunday.

They will present a program of Chinese music, will dress in native costume and show a film of China before and after the Communist regime, at both the 6:15 p.m. Youth Fellowship service, and the 7 p.m. church service.

Public is invited.

Rev. Andrews, son of missionary parents, grew up in Southwest China. After study of the Chinese language and a term of missionary work in Jamaica, BWI, he and his wife have been assigned to the Formosa field.

Dr. E. T. Quanabush, pastor of Trinity Church, visited the Andrews when he was abroad in 1958.

Hilltop Girl Is A Heroine Of Honduras Hurricane

A heroine of hurricane Hattie is Mary Lou McCormick, 22, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. McCormick, 788 Chestershire-rd, and a teacher at Stann Creek, a rural section of British Honduras.

Hundreds perished in the hurricane which demolished all of Stann Creek except a damaged hospital, convent and school. It was at the school that Mary Lou hoisted an American flag to show survivors where to come for help at the newly established relief center and she has since been assisting in their care.

Information that Mary Lou was alive and well following the storm came first from an Alaska-based ham radio operator to Edward Dygert, 3145 Eakin-rd, also a ham operator.

Dygert had first contacted yet another operator in Tegucigalpa, Republic of Honduras for information of Mary Lou's welfare.

Friday, Nov. 3, the South American operator located Mary Lou and attempted to contact Dygert who was not on the air. An Alaskan operator picked up the message and relayed it here.

Additional information of Mary Lou was given her parents by a magazine writer who had talked to Mary Lou and called the McCormick's from New York.

Usual Campaign, Voting System Used At School

Social studies' teachers are using film strips, small models of voting machines and a regular voting machine to instruct students in proper voting procedures.

Voting machines damaged in a flood were purchased by the Columbus Board of Education and placed in senior high schools for such instruction and for use in school elections.

Seniors desiring to run for office submitted their signed petitions and a primaray election was held Oct. 30.

From this a slate of candidates was formed — for president, Patricia Gillispie and Marvin Whittaker; vice-president, Linda Lynch and Judy Stamper; secretary, Rebecca Evans, Karen Ireton, and Marsha Moorehead; and treasurer, Charlotte Brasham and Marilyn Moore.

Each candidate has chosen his campaign manager and campaign posters are now in evidence.

Balloting on a regular voting machine will take place Nov. 10, 8 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. Results will be announced Nov. 14.

To Honor Centralites

Optimist Club of Columbus will hold its annual recognition banquet for representative outstanding senior high school students Nov. 15 at the Youth Building, Ohio State Fair Grounds.

Optimists' Downtown Breakfast Club will have as its guests at this banquet, Central High School students, Danny Thatcher, Sheila Skinner, Marsha Moorehead, and Leslie McGuire, and principals, Leslie Evans and Genevieve Griffith.

Vets' Day Assembly

Central High School's Veteran's Day assembly was held Nov. 8, 9 a.m.

George Gilchrest led the school in the pledge of allegiance, and the senior choir, under the direction of Paul Ward, presented "America Our Heritage" by Steele and "God Bless America" by Berlin.

Dr. James Hull was the speaker.

Nurse Dies In Head On Truck Crash

A sheriff's deputy believes confusion over poor lane markings on the Georgesville-rd at the Ternstedt plant were responsible for the head-on collision resulting in the death of Mrs. Charlotte L. Friesner, 45, of 538 S. Murray Hill-rd, Thursday night, Nov. 2.

Mrs. Friesner, who was a nurse for Dr. John W. Schenz, 2255 W. Broad-st, was southbound when her car crashed into a tractor trailer in the center of a northbound lane. Two of the lanes on the road are northbound, one is southbound.

Patient Killed By Another At State Hospital

Jacob Schottenstein, a patient at the Columbus State Hospital since 1924, was beaten to death by a chair-wielding patient in a third floor ward of the institution Tuesday night.

State Highway patrolmen said Willie C. Chapman crashed the chair down on Schottenstein while he was watching television, fracturing his skull.

A number of patients witnessed the incident. Two attendants were in another part of the building at the time.

The farmer spends from 25 billion to 28 billion dollars a year for goods and services to produce crops and livestock.

Valleyview PTA To Stage Fun Night

BIG TOP will be the theme of the family evening of fun planned by Valleyview PTA Friday, Nov. 10, 6 to 9 p.m. Features include the appearance of a mystery man, waffles, cake walk, cake sale, bazaar, hat toss, snack bar, fish pond and a rummage room for children. Public is invited. From left are Mrs. Ralph Marioth, social chairman, Mrs. John School, vice-president, and Mrs. Beatrice Cooper, teacher of fourth and fifth grades.

Enforcement Increased On Broad, Mound

Special attention to traffic law enforcement on W. Broad-st and on W. Mound-st between noon and 6 p.m., particularly on speed and stop sign violations, will be given, according to a recent report of the Traffic Bureau of the Columbus Police Department.

Seven accidents at the intersection of Sandusky and Broad-sts were recorded during the last two weeks of October and one fatal accident, in which the driver was driving while intoxicated, was recorded on W. Mound-st.

Rites Held Thursday

Requiem high mass will be Thursday at 8 p.m. at Holy Family Roman Catholic Church for Walter Butler, 66, of 320 Dana-av, who died Monday, Nov. 6, from a heart attack induced by the excitement of a car crashing into his home.

Police reported that the car, listed as one stolen earlier Monday evening from the 300 block on Belvidere-av, was traveling east in the alley near the Butler home when it was run over a concrete abutment and into the Butler home causing heavy damage to the rear of the house.

Police were first informed that two boys were seen running from the car. Later a third boy was reported to have been seen.

Interment is to be in St. John's Cemetery, Fryburg.

THE BEST TIME TO BUY A HOME IS NOW. The best place is C. V. Perry & Company's Ridgewood.

Best time is now, because you have a wide choice, and the builders want to reduce inventory to get started for the big spring market. Thus you get the benefit of their willingness to talk business NOW.

Ridgewood is the best place, of course, if you're looking in the $24,000 to $34,000 range.

It's just a mile North of Fishinger, West of the beautiful Scioto on Dublin Road. It's far away from city noise and traffic, yet only 18 minutes from downtown. It has wide, deep lots, full water, sewer and gas service. Two minutes from school, also.

And the variety of homes is amazing. Twenty-three builders offer you ranches, split levels, bi-levels, Cape Cods and two stories. Choose from modern, contemporary or traditional styling. Choose three, four or five bedrooms. All homes have two or more baths, fireplace, attached garage, modern kitchens. Most have family rooms.

Financing is the best in Ridgewood, with 75% or better loans. Or you can make things easier with a trade. Dozens of the 150 Ridgewood residents have done it. So can you. Or if you wish, we'll build your new house while we're selling yours.

With buying so easy, and so right, in Ridgewood, why be satisified any longer with your too-small home? Drive to Ridgewood and see for yourself. All homes are open daily 1 - 7.

IN CONJUNCTION with the Civil War Centennial, Cub Scouts of Den 8, Pack 214 have built a replica of the Camp Chase POW compound. Studying a model of the camp and a wartime broadside are Scouts Pat Sheridan, Larry Heringer and John Schoenrade.

Scouts Become Experts On War Between The States

Any of them can tell you for instance . . .

The location of the cities, harbors and rivers which played important parts in the conflict.

What type of newspapers were in circulation.

How the armies of both North and the South were equipped.

What issues led to the war.

And they can do this without the benifit of American history or geography in school.

They are all in the third and fourth grades at St. Mary Magdalene School. Den mother is Mrs. Donald Francis.

In addition to their study, the Scouts have watched television shows on the war and had an art program in which they sketched various military developments such as land mines, iron-clad ships and aerial re-

Major undertaking of the project was construction of a replica of the Confederate prisoner of war compound at Camp Chase.

Members of the group decided on this project because their church and school are located on land formerly occupied by the camp.

Camp Chase American Legion Post.

Other information on the camp was obtained from the Franklin County Historical Society.

Stage Troop Camp

Next weekend, Nov. 11 and 12, will find Scouts of Troop 248, Franklin Township Fire Co. 2, on a camping trip. They are going to Camp Lazarus to work on First and Second Class requirements. Troop 248 had 15 boys at the last Southwest District Camporee. Gerald Beavers is Scoutmaster.

Commissioners to Meet

District commissioners will meet at the home of Robert Dings, 474 S. Terrace-av, Wednesday night, Nov. 8.

Roundtable Dated

Southwest District Roundtable will be held Nov. 15 at Westgate Methodist Church, 345 S. Brinker at Wicklow. All Scoutmasters and den mothers are urged to attend. The Boy Scout theme for November is "To Help Other People." This theme is meaningful and important because it has to do with the motto "Be Prepared," and that part of the Scout Oath or Promise worded . . . to help other people at all times."

Cub Scout theme for November is "Cub Scout Magic." This will acquaint the Cubs with the fun and trickery to be found in magic.

National four-year theme recently adopted is "Strengthen America — Character Counts." Accompanying slogans spelling BSA are: "Build, Serve, Achieve." The last four-year theme was "For God and Country."

Kingpin

Blackhawk Patrol of Troop 136, First Presbyterian Church of Grove City, won the Kingpin Award at the Southwest District Camporee held at Scioto Trails State Park on Oct 20-22. They were awarded the top prize for having the best grades in the games and in camping inspections. The pa[illegible] will be given the kingpin at the next district Roundtable meeting.

Take Long Hike in Hills

Members of Troop 172, Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church recently hiked the U.S. Grant Trail. It is a two-day, 34 miles hike. It starts in Georgestown, Ohio and ends at Pt. Pleasant, on the Ohio River. Overnight camp is held at Bethel. This is a new trail opened in March of this year.

Scouters hiking the trail were Assistant Scoutmasters Russell Marx and Tom McGill, Committeemen Delbert Smith and Harold Broome, and Scoutmaster John Birle.

Troop Hikes in Indiana

Twenty-two Scouts and four leaders of Troop 214, St. Mary Magdalene Catholic Church, hiked the 10 O'Clock Line Trail in Brown County, Ind., on Oct. 21.

Scouters hiking were Scoutmaster Larry Hoye, Committee Chairman R. C. Martin, Committee Member John McGrail, and Assistant Scoutmaster Ed Bartow.

Physical Skill Classes Slated At Hilltop 'Y'

The Hilltop YMCA is once more starting a fall gym program. The Saturday morning physical skill classes are planned to start Nov. 18 at the Westmoor Junior High School gymnasium.

Skills such as tumbling, wrestling fundamentals, basketball skills and fitness testing are among the planned schedule of events.

Boys eight and nine years old meet in the gym from 9 to 10 a.m.; boys 10 and 11 years old meet from 10 to 11 a.m.; and the boys 12 years old and up meet from 11 a.m. to 12 noon.

Boys must be registered for these classes since a limit of 50 boys per class is set as the maximum. Registration can be done by the parent of a boy by calling the Hilltop "Y" at BR. 6-5306.

Dance Classes Start Friday

A social dance class is being held at Glenwood Recreation Center Friday, 3:45 p.m. for boys and girls 12 and under. The two-step, fox trot, waltz, polka, and other contemporary dances will be taught.

For further information or to enroll in this class, contact Mary Russell at Glenwood Recreation Center, BR. 4-7416 or BR. 4-0298.

Nonrusting nails are your best bet on wood siding. However, ordinary nails, when used, should be counter-sunk, given a dab of anti-corrosive primer and puttied over. Flush nails should be spot primbed.

Easy to apply rope caik is the answer to what to do about drafts around air-conditioners. No tools are needed; just unroll the amount needed, press it on, and when summer comes, peel it off.

Homework . . . Parental Help Is Debated

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

An interesting comparison in educational techniques came to light this past week as a city school leader squared off in that corner opposing county school leaders in this corner.

The problem they were both battling was presented to them by Hartley Newspapers: "Should parents help their children with homework?"

In essence, the city leader, Harold Eibling, superintendent of Columbus City Schools, shot an emphatic "No!" to the midsection of several County School superintendents who countered with a staunch "Yes!"

It was a case of Eibling's tried and true traditionalism against the progressiveness and desire for new practices of the counties.

The arguments are presented herewith (and, may the winner rise triumphant).

Harold Eibling commented for the City School system by saying:

"Parents should encourage students to do their own homework and can help them by providing the right kind of study environment for them.

"Parents may want to help answer questions and this is all right just so they don't lean too far. This, of course, isn't what we want.

"They can encourage resourcefulness and ability in their children but we are stressing that students should do their work independently. We've even worked out some study outlines to make children work more independently.

"We are finding that most parental help is coming in the upper elementary and junior high levels. In senior high, students usually get a feeling of inde-

Council Proposals Reach City Hall

Committee To Screen Basket Distribution

West Side Neighborhood Council last Thursday created a clearing house for holiday basket distribution and gave the green light to a City Hall-bound petition for traffic improvement.

Half a hundred residents who gathered at Gladden Community House gave swift, but serious, examination and voice vote to the proposals.

The projects were the second and third major accomplishments of the WSNC since its formation just one year ago, said Sam Elford, president. A successful clean-up campaign was waged last spring.

Al Wilder, United Community Council-appointed field worker, said coordinated basket giving long has been needed in the West Side. He stated that a subcommittee working from Gladden House will screen all families being given help by organizations. This, it is hoped, will avoid duplicate giving. Wilder said the subcommittee also will receive all referrals from West Siders pertaining to local families who need help.

Final details of the clearing house plan will be arranged at a meeting at Gladden at 1:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 17. The subcommittee will operate approximately a week prior to Thanksgiving and the first two and one-half full weeks in December.

All organizations are being asked to refer needy West Side giving at Gladden (163 Hawkes-av, CA. 1-7801) rather than with the Christmas Bureau at the United Community Council offices. The WSNC subcommittee will in turn clear the family names with the bureau. All requests will be handled in the strictest confidence, Wilder said.

Hicks Heads West Gate Lodge 623

Paul L. Hicks

A 182 S. Algonquin-av resident, Paul L. Hicks, was elected worshipful master of West Gate Lodge, 623 of Masons, at the annual meeting held Nov. 13.

Other officers elected were, James Smith, senior warden; Fred Fry, junior warden; Warren Hilbert, treasurer; Kenneth Sharadin, secretary; Howard Minnameyer, senior deacon; William Allen, junior deacon; William Pascoe, tyler, and Edwin Perry, trustee.

Installation will be held Thursday, Nov. 16, 7:30 p.m.

A reception and dance will be held Saturday, Nov. 18, 9 p.m., at West Gate Temple.

Hicks is also a member of West Gate Chapter 216, West Gate Council 120, Scottish Rite and Aladdin Temple.

He served as worthy patron of Robert Morris Chapter 372, OES, in 1958, and is a member of Glenwood Methodist Church.

Hilltoppers Appeal To Zone Board

Two appeals involving Hilltoppers will be heard before the Board of Zoning Adjustment at City Hall Friday, Nov. 17, at 2 p.m.

Dr. Duane Burnard, 2528 W. Broad-st, has appealed for variance to the setback regulations to enclose the front porches of the doctor's office and a retail furniture store in a C-4 commercial district.

The second appeal is that of Edward Laughlin, 1371 Sullivant-av, who is requesting variance to the use district regulations to erect an eight family apartment at 1961-65 Sullivant-av in a C-4 commercial district.

Leaf Pickups Heading West

The 1961 leaf-cleaning program will continue on Monday, Nov. 20, with three crews proceeding on the following schedule:

Monday, Nov. 20. Wheatland-av, to Burgess-av between W. Broad-st, and Sullivant-av.

Tuesday, Nov. 21. Burgess-av to Roys-av between W. Broad st and Sullivant-av.

Wednesday, Nov. 22. Roys-av to Demorest-rd between W. Broad-st and Sullivant-av.

West Side's Want List---

TRAFFIC REFORMS

Following is the package of suggestions for an improved traffic picture presented Tuesday by the West Side Neighborhood Council to Jack Gallagher, Columbus traffic engineer:

(1) Install traffic light at Glenwood and Broad, with a 30-second left-hand turn signal both to north and south.

(2) Erect four-way stop signs on the corners of all streets intersecting Cable-av from Central-av east to Yale-av.

(3) Retain all traffic lights presently placed, except to change the traffic light at Davis and Broad to Souder and Broad. Seek more consideration of hazardous conditions at Hartford-av.

(4) Convert Town-st one way west, from the river to Glenwood-av and Rich-st one way east from Glenwood-av to the river.

(5) Install traffic lights at the expressway off ramps on Town, Rich, and Greenlawn.

(6) Install 30-second left hand turn north-south signals on present or new traffic lights on Broad-st, from Central-av east to the river.

(7) Convert following streets to one way, running from Broad on the north to Sullivant on the south.

A. Cypress—north
B. Dakota—south
C. Avondale—north
D. Hawkes—south
E. Hartford—north (Town to Broad)
F. Souder—south
G. Davis—north.

(8) Replace blinker school light at Grubb and Town-sts with permanent traffic light at Gift and Town-sts.

(9) Replace blinker stop signs at State and McDowell with four-way stop signs.

(10) Erect speed law signs on all west side streets.

(11) Install a traffic light at Davis and Town-sts.

(12) Level curb lanes on Broad, for smoother course of travel.

(13) Install car-actuated traffic light at Cable and Central to allow time for traffic flow west off Cable, not just pedestrian flow.

(14) Paint cross walks for school children at corners of Yale and Cable.

(15) Exclude all through truck traffic from residential streets between Broad and Mound, excluding north-south traffic on Central and Glenwood.

(16) Reconsider installation of traffic light at Souder and Renick, for school children crossing. (Would also serve to slow down fast traffic.)

(17) Take down no-parking signs on south side of Renick, erected during expressway construction.

(8) Convert following streets to one-way, running from Central to Ryan:

A. Union—west
B. Walsh—east
C. Thomas—west.

(19) Erect stop signs on State and Rich-sts from Central to Yale.

(20) Straighten and widen Central-av at Mound by rounding off northwest corner.

(22) Retime traffic light at Avondale and Broad to allow longer span of time for school children and other north-south pedestrian crossing.

(25) Urge that concentrated effort be made to improve routing of traffic at Broad-Sandusky interchange.

Churches Invited To Submit Thanksgiving Service Plans

Community churches will join those throughout the land in services of Thanksgiving worship next Wednesday evening and Thursday morning.

Area ministers are invited to send information concerning union and individual programs planned in their own churches, to be published in next week's issue.

Earlier delivery dates of all seven Hartley newspapers will assure publication of the news before the holiday.

Stories and pictures of Thanksgiving church services should arrive in Hartley Newspapers' office before Saturday noon.

Board Of Trade Hits No Left Turn Idea

All but one of the WSNC Traffic Committee's proposals were given public approval Nov. 9 and Tuesday were in the hands of city officials. Suggestions for new traffic lights and stop signs, some one-way streets, and for a crack-down on speed predominated.

No one, however, moved for revamping of the bus route along the west access road south from Town-st to Rich-st, then east under the expressway and south to Sullivant-av.

A PTA delegation from Sullivant School came forward with a sheaf of signatures again asking for a traffic light at Souder and Renick-ave. Mothers also declared that some means must be devised to slow down traffic on Harmon-av. They were turned down by the city after similar efforts last year.

A letter from the West Side Board of Trade was read, condemning a move to establish no-left turns off of Broad-st. The letter only served to back up the wishes expressed by many residents who attended neighborhood traffic sessions during the last three months. Opposition always slightly outweighed the affirmatives for no-left turns.

Before the traffic package was wrapped up, one resolution was added. It, in effect, deplored the engineering at the Broad-Sandusky "interchange." The back-alley transfer of traffic from a national highway. (Route 40) to the Sandusky-st expressway (a leg of Interstate Route 71) was declared quite inadequate.

Frank Schneider, who presided at the traffic session, forwarded the approved proposals to a meeting with the Columbus Traffic Commission yesterday.

J. W. Burr

J. W. Burr Elected To Lodge Post

Elected and installed as worshipful master at the annual meeting of Luther B. Turner Lodge 732, F&AM was J. W. Burr, 1044 N. Hague-av.

Others taking office are Irwin M. Frost, senior warden; Wayne E. Martin, junior warden; Fletcher H. Wright, treasurer; Herman E. Eisele, secretary; J. Nelson Beesler, senior deacon; Clark Houser, junior deacon, and Cranston Williams, tyler.

Willard Hale was elected to serve as trustee for a three-year period.

Appointed officers were Charles Jones, senior steward; Ivan Cotterill, junior steward; Otey Freeman, chaplain, and Andrew Johnson, assistant tyler.

A past master's jewel was presented to Cranston Williams, together with a past master's apron and lapel pin. James Baker made the presentation of a gavel to Burr.

Annexation, New Zoning Is Approved

Two West area rezonings and an annexation of 46.8 more acres to the city was approved by Columbus City Council, Monday night.

The new city tract was formerly part of Franklin Township and is located north of Briggs-rd, near the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Another former township area, consisting of 41.5 acres north of Clime-rd and south of Holly Hill Subdivision, was zoned for city residential. Both single and double family properties will be permited.

Following a public hearing, council also zoned for apartments a spot along the north side of W. Town-st, east of Davis-av. It had carried a commercial zone designation.

W. F. Thiemt

Mr. Lionism Thinking Of Retiring (Maybe)

By Phyllis Hayes

A quietly unassuming man with a warmly attractive personality is Wilhelm F. Thiemt (pronounced teemt), formerly European ambassador plenipotentiary of the Hilltop Lions Club.

Visiting Europe in his official capacity last year, Thiemt, who is tri-lingual and speaks French, German and English equally well, visited Lions Clubs in Germany, Holland and Denmark. Until recently he has maintained a heavy correspondence with clubs in these countries and France and Italy.

"And you know," he says, "they all say the same thing. They say Uncle Sam's the greatest guy in the world. They're all thoroughly pro-American."

Each letter he has written and each European club he has visited has received not only an exchange of greetings from one Lions Club to another but a strong boost for the America Thiemt believes in so strongly.

Yet just 19 years ago, after America entered World War II, Thiemt was forced to "practically give away" the paper he had owned and edited for 28 years because there were a few who believed it to be a Nazi publication. "But it wasn't," says Thiemt. "Not ever. It was entirely and completely American. Only it was printed in German."

The German-American combination was entirely in keeping with Thiemt himself. Born in Dortmund, Germany, 79 years ago, to a family which had published newspapers for more than 100 years, Thiemt decided to travel in America after he graduated from college, but his travels ended with his marriage to a German-American girl.

Following the family tradition he, too, was a newspaperman in Detroit, working on both the Detroit Times and the Detroit Free Press. Hearing that the Columbus German language daily was in need of a managing editor, he came to this city and soon became the owner of the Express-Westbote on S. Fourth-st.

Thiemt's roots in South Side

Look For New Contest Next Week

Just one week to go before the Hartley Newspapers' Christmas Gift Guide and "Jot-A-Jingle" contest begins. It will be seen on the Classified pages next week and the following four weeks.

Fifteen prizes will be given for the best jingles, three a week for each of the five weeks. A total of $30 in merchandise certificates will be awarded.

Fun for young and old, the contest is easy and readers may enter as often as they wish. Full rules and details will be published in the Classified section next week.

Early Papers Next Week

All Hartley Newspapers will be published a day earlier next week to enable employes to observe Thanksgiving.

Correspondence, ad copy, photographs, and general news (including society and church) releases should reach the publishing offices at 2469 W. Broad-st by noon Saturday, Nov. 18, if possible.

1962 Officers Elected For Community Council

Robert Prakes

Elected to the presidency of the Hilltop Community Council recently was Robert Prakes, 38 N. Powell-av, credit manager of the Borden Co.

Other officers elected to serve in 1962 are Gerald Willey, 848 S. Harris-av, vice-president; Mrs. Benjamin Trigg, 44 S. Oakley-av, recording secretary; Mrs. Frank Bowles, 3120 Ridge-av, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Ralph Clements, 320 Powhatan, treasurer. Mrs. Clements was re-elected to the office.

Installation ceremonies for the new officers will be held at a dinner, Dec. 14.

Lodge Holds Elections

Katinonkwat Lodge 99, Order of the Arrow, national honorary scout camping society, held its annual election Nov. 5, at the Suburban Motor Freight Co.

Gary Reynolds surrendered his title as chief of the lodge to Bob Wells. Others elected were David A. Wright, vice chief of Brotherhood; Melvin Wetrous, vice chief of Ordeal; John Long, vice chief of Ordeal elections; Art Stellar, vice chief of service; Skip Osborn, secretary, and Walt Davies, treasurer.

There will be a father and son banquet given in honor of the officers Dec. 10, at the Ohio State Youth Center.

The lodge will also hold a square dance, Nov. 18, at the Jewish Center, 1125 College-av, from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. It is open to the public at $1 a couple. Tickets may be purchased by mail or by phoning either Gary Reynolds, 24 N. Eureka-av, Columbus 4, BR. 9-6938, or David Wright, 320 N. Eureka-av, Columbus 4, BR. 9-2343.

Post To Hike Trail

The newly-organized Post 79, Burgess Avenue EUB Church, will hike the Chief Tarhe Trail Saturday, Nov. 18. The trial is 13 miles in length. It is southwest of Lancaster. An overnight stay will be held at Camp Kiy-ro.

Ten Attend Camp

Central Ohio Council's Camp Lazarus, located near Delaware, was the scene Nov. 11 and 12 of a campout held by Troop 154. Nine boys and one adult of the Hilltop Christian Church-sponsored unit attended the weekend affair. They worked on advancement requirements of outdoor-type activities. The troop is currently working on first aid in the weekly meetings.

Scoutmaster Louis Vander Molen was the adult present. Scouts were Eugene Gordon, Roy Milner, Steve Spencer, Scott Spencer, Robert Van Houten, Mike Kight, George Tomkins, Mark Rodenfels and Richard Gilly.

Monthly Rabies Clinic Will Be Held Friday, Nov. 17

The monthly Rabies Vaccination Clinic will be held Friday, Nov. 17, from 1 to 3 p.m., at the Health and Safety Center, 181 S. Washington-blvd, under the sponsorship of the Columbus Academy of Veterinary Medicine, the Columbus Health Department, and the Humane Society.

Planned to help low-income families to protect their pets, and to comply with local regulations requiring all dogs over the age of three months to be immunized against rabies, a charge of $1.50 is made to cover the cost of the vaccination.

The academy pointed out that the only effective way to eliminate rabies is to see that every dog in the community is vaccinated.

Heart Fund Bowling Now Under Way

Bowlers rolling in more than one league this week can still take part in the fifth annual Heart Fund Bowling Tournament, which opened Sunday, Nov. 12. It continues through Saturday, Nov. 18.

Keglers can compete as often as they roll in league competition during tournament week. "Anyone who bowls in two or three leagues can increase his chances of winning by entering each time," Mrs. Rowena Walters, 93 Castle-rd, co-chairman, pointed out. Harold E. Metzger, 95 W. Tulane-rd, is general chairman.

Cash prizes will be awarded to high scorers at the individual lanes, and a trophy will go to the man and the woman with the highest score in the county. Entry fee is $1, of which 30 cents goes for prizes and 70 cents for heart research.

Winners are determined on the basis of the number of pins they down over their established league averages.

Last year the Christmas Seal X-ray Cruiser gave free chest X-rays to 28,560 employees of 103 Franklin County firms.

Catholic Youth Set Dance, Show

The second annual Catholic Youth Council city-wide high time dance and talent show will be held 8 to 11:30 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 22, Thanksgiving eve, at the Youth Center on the Ohio State Fairgrounds. The theme of the dance is "Autumn Leaves." Connie Captretta and his orchestra will play for dancing.

Christmas seals will pay for 16,000 tuberculin tests in 165 local schools by the end of this school year. TB tests find those infected with the TB germ.

Apply Now For Coast Guard

Applications are now being accepted for the next two convening Coast Guard Officer Candidate School classes, according to a recent announcement by the Second Coast Guard District.

Active duty assignments include aviation duties for those who qualify through a flight training program, sea duty aboard Coast Guard cutters, buoy tenders or patrol craft, and shore station duties in search and rescue, law enforcement and office administration.

Interested persons are invited to take the Officer Qualification Test by contacting the 2nd Coast Guard District, 815 Olive-st, St. Louis, Mo.

Warns Against Driving Dangers

One of the several added dangers of driving during cold weather is carbon monoxide poisoning, according to Russell H. Campbell of the Columbus Automobile Club.

Reminding that poisoning deaths reach a peak during cold weather, the AAA club official warned:

Never warm up the engine in a closed garage; never keep the engine running unless fresh air is entering the car constantly; be sure that the snow is not clogging the exhaust pipe; when in a line of cars, close ventilators as protection from exhaust fumes of cars ahead; be sure the car exhaust system is in good working condition.

Detective Opens Society's Series

Capt. Wade H. Knight, chief of detectives of the Columbus Police Department, will open the Franklin County Historical Society's "Know Your Local Government" series at old Memorial Hall, Sunday, Nov. 19, at 2 p.m. with an illustrated talk on "Problems Of Criminal Investigation."

On the program with him will be Capt. Francis McWilliams, chief of the traffic bureau, who will speak on "Training and Development of Police Officers."

STORE WINDOW CONVERTED TO CLASSROOM

NATIONAL EDUCATION WEEK was observed in the South-Western City Schools recently. Demonstrations like those depicted in the Great Western Glick's store were common place throughout the shopping centers as well as Grove City and Lincoln Village stores. Exhibits at Glick's were given by the Alton Hall first graders, Mrs. Helen Nelson; the Elementary Chorus conducted by Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald; the seventh and eighth grade from Prairie Norton, Mrs. Sue Myers and Mrs. Harriet Appleby and Mrs. Elsie Weaver's sixth-grade class.

KNOTS HELP GAMBLER FIND FAITH

Modern Miracle Of Faith Is Man's Belief Of Cancer Cure

By Phyllis Hayes

"Just when I needed God most, I stopped praying and started playing poker."

Thornton Chappelear held in his hands a short-knotted rope that he twisted restlessly as he said this, while telling of his total recovery from throat cancer.

Thornton Chappelear

I was standing in line for therapy one day, and standing in line for therapy one day and, there, I found my conveyance to health.

I leaned down and took out my shoe lace. Then I tied it into knots. And I started praying. With each knot I said the same prayer."

The prayer he said was an affirmation of his faith in the power of God and that he would recover.

The complete recovery of Thornton Chappelear, 1664 N. Fourth-st, from epidermoid carcinoma of the larynx has been certified by the cancer clinic of University Hospital, where the original diagnosis was made in 1954.

Telling his story now, Chappelear relates that it was in the operating room of the Dayton Veterans' Hospital, minutes before the surgical removal of his larynx was to begin, doctors attending a cancer clinic at the hospital decided not to perform surgery.

"You're too far gone," he said they told him. "Every tissue and every muscle of your neck is full of cancer. To remove it we'd have to take off your head."

Here was the true beginning of Chappelear's great experience of faith — an experience that he is now sharing with the church groups and organizations to which he speaks and through a syndicated article written by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale.

"Chapple," as he is known, was not a religious person at the time of his illness. He was, in fact, an inveterate gambler, he states.

His health had been excellent in the 30-year period before his illness, with the exception of corrective surgery shortly before he was stricken with cancer, and that had no relation to it.

A persistently painful sore throat had finally induced him to drop into a doctor's office, and from there he was sent to the cancer clinic.

At his request, when told that without surgery he could live only 60 days, he was sent to the hospital in Dayton.

In the days that followed the decision not to operate, Chappelear was treated by intense x-ray therapy. He had not prayed since childhood, but began to do so then. After a few days, prayer was discarded in favor of poker games with other patients.

He was feeling better than he had in some time and the treatments were not annoying. Still, he says, he felt a need for prayer that he did not seem to be able to answer.

Then he found his "conveyance to health." "I can't tell you," he says now, "how many thousands of times I said my prayer. I carried the knots with me constantly and each time I touched a knot, I prayed.

"Of all the men who were receiving electrical therapy, though, I was the only one who did not have difficulty as a result of the treatment."

Extreme treatment of the kind Chappelear was receiving at the Dayton hospital has limits and when, a few months later, the x-ray saturation point was reached, he was sent home.

He says that he weighed only 85 pounds and was expected to die. The shoe lace knots had been replaced by a small length of rope and, though he could not talk, his "conveyance to health" was in constant use.

With his wife, he left Columbus to go to Florida, hoping to regain his health, but another ailment, unrelated to the cancer, necessitated returning to the hospital in Pennsylvania where he had been treated before his cancer developed.

Surgery was again indicated, but surgery of a particularly serious nature. The danger of his throat closing permanently eliminated the possibility of the doctor's use of anesthesia. A "Civil War" operation was the only alternative.

By that, his doctors explained, they meant surgery without anesthesia.

There, Chappelear claims, the knots, that he now called his "affirmation knots", meaning that they affirmed his faith in God, came to his aid, and he prayed his way through the dreadful experience.

His affirmation knots, says Chappelear, have no healing power. He calls them "conveyances," reminding the people to whom he now sends them to pray.

With each knotted length of rope are four cards printed with Biblical texts and his interpretation of their meaning. On the fourth card he seals two mustard seeds, the amount of faith needed to begin to reach God through prayer.

In 1961 the Columbus Cancer Clinic declared him free of any trace of cancer.

Chappelear can talk now and is actively engaged in business. His voice has a rasp and an occasional hesitancy which he says miraculously disappears when he speaks to groups of his experiences.

"I had to have faith in the know-how of the medical team," said Chappelear. "I give credit to the doctors and the electrical therapy. But I was healed by God, just as surely as Jesus healed the suffering when He was here on earth!"

The deep sincerity of Thornton Chappelear is apparent and regardless of what you may believe to be the reason for his present good health there can be no doubt that he attributes it primarily to his faith.

Affirmation knots were sent to hundreds of people after Dr. Peale's article appeared. Chappelear carries and uses his constantly.

The tremendous faith of Thornton Chappelear is expressed clearly in the first prayer on the cards that accompany his affirmation knots, the prayer he said over and over to himself in the Veterans' Hospital in Dayton:

"Dear God, I thank Thee that through Thy loving kindness I am growing better each day. I Believe. I Believe."

High C's Deferred At Kent University

Registrar Charles E. Atkinson says that Kent State University's deferred admission policy for incoming students with poor high school grades eliminated all new freshmen with less than a "C" average this fall. Under this policy, 475 would-be-freshmen will not begin classes until January or later.

'Bag Lunch' Plan

The nation's first system of "bag lunches" as part of the school lunch program is being tried out in three West Virginia counties. The lunches, designed to give children two-thirds of the minimum daily food requirement, are prepared in central school kitchens and carried to schools that do not have hot lunch facilities.

World Education

It is estimated that 45 per cent of the world's adults are illiterate, half of the children of elementary school age are not in school, and 70 per cent of the world's people have no access at all to newspapers, radio or other regular sources of information. The statistics come from Shannon McCune, director of education for the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

HERE'S TO YOU(TH)

OPTIMIST-IC NOTE ON YOUTH

Give Them Credit . . .

This has been called the decade of 'Youth', and in many ways that is certainly so. There are few times in the history of any nation when teenagers and young people in general have had as much of the public eye.

Juvenile delinquents and scholarship winners are regularly making the headlines. Both of these groups however, are small. In fact they are the exceptional few. The simple fact is that although we are constantly made aware of our youth, we never hear of or from the 95 per cent who are not exceptionally good or bad.

The Optimist Clubs every year sponsor a 'Youth Appreciation Week' with one aim in mind. To pick out and honor young people for the "plain and ordinary good things they do."

The idea behind this action is to somehow show appreciation to that large majority of kids who day in and day out are good citizens. Most of them never make the headlines, never win the prizes, or show up in juvenile court.

The boys picked to be honored are just good citizens. They are people who work hard to make the everyday tasks things they can be proud of. They work quietly and often without personal or public notice of any kind. They are seldom the leaders, either in lawbreaking or class activities, but they are the steady, reliable, hard workers that make good things work.

This week, in communities around Columbus, some of these people will be honored at luncheons and banquets, but for each one of them so honored, there will be many others still unnoticed. To all of them, we say "we appreciate youth."

Are You Sure You Aren't Living In A Potential House Of Death?

The return of cold weather brings to mind the alarming threat of the "silent killer" which the fire department and housing inspectors found in so many homes just one year ago.

In many cases people interviewed were living with death—carbon monoxide — and didn't know it. Some were found to be complaining of headaches and nausea without knowing the real cause.

Carbon monoxide poisoning can come swiftly and without warning because it cannot be detected by the senses. Lives of whole families have been snuffed out overnight by CO escaping from a faulty vent which could have been corrected for only a few cents' worth of time and materials.

Listen to these words of advice from W. G. Strickfaden, chief of the Columbus Fire Department.:

• Burning any fuel without a good fresh air supply can produce carbon monoxide. Make sure the heater is vented to good chimney.

• See that the vent pipe goes up, not down, to reach the chimney.

• See that there is a cleanout opening with cap in the chimney under the vent (stove pipe).

• See that the chimney is clean. (One way is to blow smoke into the clean-out opening to make sure it is drawing properly. If the smoke is drawn into the opening and up the chimney, the draft is sufficient.)

• Use a safety thimble to keep the pipe from going too far into the chimney and seal around the pipe with cement or plaster where it enters the chimney.

• See that there is outside fresh air to the space where the heater is located.

• Have a qualified, licensed installer connect and adjust your heater.

• Don't use a cooking stove for room heating.

"Finally," Chief Strickfaden emphasized, "don't neglect calling an authorized repairman if you suspect that your heating equipment is not working properly, or if you smell fumes. It may cost a few dollars but it may save your life."

Hunting Trip Graduation Present Leads Youth To Prize Of A Lifetime

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

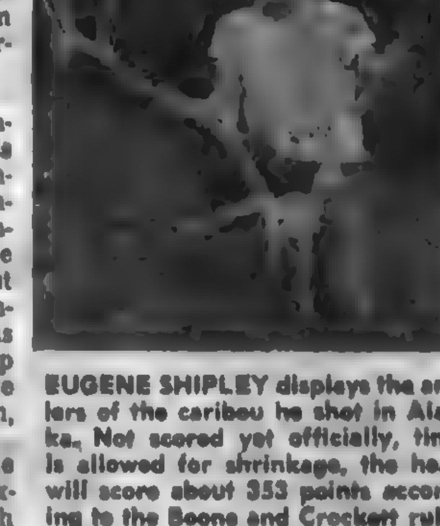
Eugene Shipley, 705 S. Ogden-av, is about to join the ranks of the world's trophy hunters, when the record-making antlers of a bull barren ground caribou he shot in Alaska this fall are measured. He is probably the only freshman at Ohio State University, or anywhere else for that matter, to be so honored.

The trophy bull was the result of a month-long trip given to Eugene for a high school graduation present by his family. His father, Max Shipley, well-known taxidermist and hunter, accompanied him on the 10,000-mile auto trip to Fairbanks and back.



Used No Guides

One of the most interesting features of the whole trip to me, is the fact that the Shipleys were entirely on their own and did not employ guide service. A rather extensive side trip took thm down the famed Kenai Peninsula where great numbers of moose roam the countryside. Here they had fabulous salmon fishing, and caught fish up to 15 pounds. Some friends gave them a few tips on where to fish, and they had excellent sport.

"We lost about every bait in the tackle box on those whoppers," exclaimed Eugene. "For every fish we caught we lost one," added Max, "those fresh sea-run silver salmon were really full of energy and hard to hold. They were just on their way upstream to spawn in late August."

After plenty of good fishing and sightseeing, hunting was on the agenda. Eugene took some ptarmigan with a shotgun they had along. He did not want to shoot a moose, for they were "too common."

So the Shipleys drove northeastward to a few miles west of Paxton. Here in a broad valley they began Eugene's caribou hunt. "Migrating caribou were all around and when they started across the road you just had to stop and let them go," he reported. "The meat hunters were after young cows and could hunt from the road. But the trophy bulls were more wary, and we hiked about three miles up the valley until we saw this big one."

EUGENE SHIPLEY displays the antlers of the caribou he shot in Alaska. Not scored yet officially, time is allowed for shrinkage, the head will score about 353 points according to the Boone and Crockett rules for scoring record big game trophies. This will be enough to put Shipley's name in the record book.

Carried Out Their Animal

Two shots from a 30.06 rifle with 4X scope at about 100 yards, and the caribou hunt was over. There is a law in Alaska that requires hunters to pack out their game—in other words, you cannot shoot something and just leave it. So the Shipleys de-boned the large bull and carried the meat out on their backs, as residents in the area were charging $100 to carry animals out on weasels. They ate one loin along the way, and gave the rest of the meat to an Indian in Fairbanks.

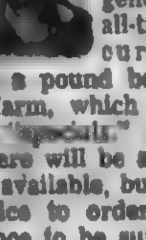
For a month, father and son camped out, fished, hunted and explored Alaska. And this dream trip was not expensive, for the only costs were for gasoline, oil and licenses. There were no lodges to pay and no guides. Food expense was not a chargeable item, for they caught and shot a lot of it and they would have been eating at home anyway. They reported that camping areas in the Yukon are very fine.

This is the age when home craftsmen do everything for themselves, but this is the first do-it-yourself big game hunting trip to come to our attention.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

Tips Given For This Week's Food Buying

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS



THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Meat and Poultry — Turkeys, chickens, pork loins, beef roasts, medium eggs.

Fruits — Apples, cranberries, bananas, grapefruit.

When you go to market this week you'll likely have the choice of a Thanksgiving meat on our mind:

You can't go wrong, price-wise this year, on the traditional choice of turkey. Because of the huge turkey crop, prices generally are at an all-time low. They are currently 11 or 12 cents a pound below last year at the farm, which will mean many store "specials."

There will be a full range of all sizes available, but it's always good practice to order your turkey in advance to be sure of getting just the size and grade you like best.

For this week's eating, you may want to consider pork. Supplies of pork are increasing each week and prices moving downward. Whole loins are a good choice if you're a large family or own a freezer.

Good beef buys at present are found in cuts from the loin, rib and chuck. Veal prices stay high and lamb prices are the same as last week. Competition from other meats keep chicken prices low even though the supply is smaller than in past months.

Many fresh vegetables are in good supply. In addition to those listed above, consider carrots, beets, green beans, peppers, onions and any number of the cabbage family. Local greenhouse tomatoes from the fall crop are at their best and lower priced than usual. Leaf lettuce, romaine, endive, escarole and many of the cooking greens are now high in quality and also inexpensive.

And here's good news if you like a tall glass of orange juice for breakfast. Orange supplies from Florida and Texas are increasing rapidly, with prices moving downward. Prospects indicate a large supply of juice oranges for the next few months. This should mean fairly low prices on fresh oranges and a plentiful supply of frozen concentrate. At present frozen orange juice concentrate supplies are a tenth larger than usual.

Attention Holiday Cooks:

The forecast of nut production looks promising for a large supply and thus lower prices this year. The national pecan crop promises to be the biggest on record and there will be many more almonds than we had last year. Filberts are estimated at 34 per cent above the 10-year average. The walnut crop will be average or better, although many of the nuts will be small in size. Added together, this year will be a good one to bake all holiday goodies that call for nut meats.

Nation Crying For Old-Fashioned Patriots

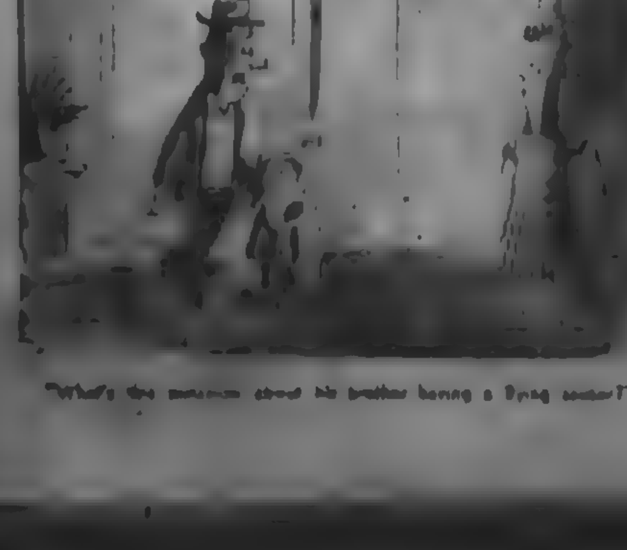
To the Editor:

SEND US MORE PATRIOTS!

What an unusual request, but it is in the hearts and on the lips of every conscientious American.

We in America are observing the same symptoms that preceded the collapse of ancient Greece. Like the Greeks, we have become complacent. The dignity of man, the rule of law, limited government and constitutional safeguards are becoming hollow concepts. We want security more than we want freedom. Instead of individual responsibility and independence, we want to be pampered by the State.

Perhaps we should remain unconcerned, because we are constantly being reminded that it can't happen here.



Well, it can. It is time we took stock of our plight. Everywhere we turn the fresh breath of freedom is being contaminated by communist tyrants and welfare-socialism.

What we need is more men like Messrs. Patrick Henry, Thomas Jefferson, and George Washington; articulate and persuasive patriots who were willing sacrifice their lives . . . their fortunes . . . and their sacred honor to free man from the age-old oppression by government.

How desperately we need patriots like these today. Let their faith in the dignity and rights of each individual remain true.

And may their spirit help us preserve the sacred fire of liberty and the glory of freedom.

Fallout Shelters Not Altogether A Folly

The cold war has stirred up many hot controversies.

But none has been any more heated than the current set-to over fallout shelters.

To shelter or not to shelter, that's the rub.

Gress

The key fact is that shelters could save lives in event of nuclear attack.

Initial blast will kill only so many people, the others can survive if protected from the fallout which will blanket the nation.

(A good sized bomb reportedly will cause total destruction only within a four-mile radius, the largest only within a nine-mile radius.)

This, then when coupled with the further consideration that we have an obligation to survive, must earn an affirmative nod for the shelter program. Common sense dictates it.

How many people would survive? Who would they be? It's hard to say. The protection offered by the few shelters now in existence would be insignificant.

But a shelter certainly is called for. Any kind of program, regardless of its limitations, is better than none at all.

Estimates are that shelters for the entire population could be built over the next four years at a cost of $15 to $20 billion. An ambitious but not impossible proposal. Certainly the ideal.

But since it is the ideal it is improbable. We thus are faced with accepting a lesser program.

No one is under any illusions about the value of the shelters. At best, they are a poor last resort.

Again the ideal would be abolition of nuclear war. And again the ideal seems highly improbable. Regardless of how strongly we desire peace, the final choice is not ours alone.

Thus we must prepare for the worst. Not seek it, nor hope for it, but expect it. —BILL GRESS.

FEET HURT?

There's an old Scotch saying . . "You can't be both grand and comfortable." And that sure applies to feet. The very things that go to make shoes stylish take away from comfort. No two ways about it, foot comfort depends largely on the shoes you wear for every day.

That's right, your work shoes are the most important shoes you own. They should be purchased, not for looks but for what they do. They are just as much a part of the equipment for your job as the tools you use.

. . . and that includes house-wives . . . should never take old dress shoes for every-day. High heels and pointed toes lessen your efficiency and make you unpleasant to be around. Use lower heeled, well-fitted oxfords for work.

As far the men, buy the best for work . . . economize on dress shoes if you must, but spend the most money for the shoe you spend the most time wearing.

Hilltonia E U B Church Is Setting For Miller - Musser Marriage

Miss Dixie Dawn Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Miller of 686 Chestershire-rd, exchanged marriage vows with Mr. John Theodore Musser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Musser of 2978 Findley-av, Sept. 3 at Hilltonia Evangelical United Brethren Church. Rev. Gerold Koster officiated at the 2:30 p.m. ceremony.

The bride wore a ballerina-length gown of chantilly lace and silk mist, featuring a fitted bodice and a full skirt highlighted by a silk cravat bow and sash.

A crown of simulated orange and mimosa blossoms edged in crystals and pearls held her short pouf illusion veil and she carried a cascade of white carnations.

Miss Duane Casto served as maid of honor, Miss Karla Shawver and Miss Mary Lou Bricker as bridesmaids, and Miss Diana Lynn Spohn and Miss Laura Ann Wright as junior bridesmaids.

The maid of honor and the bridesmaids wore amethyst slipper satin gowns, fashioned with empire bodices, and pleated bell skirts, and matching crowns with seed pearls, and short veils.

Junior bridesmaids wore identical frosted rose gowns, and matching crowns.

Mr. Don Seidler served as best man, and ushers were Mr. Kenny Unger and Mr. Larry Smith.

The bride, a graduate of West High School, attended Ohio State University and Bliss Business College. She is employed with Beneficial Finance Co.

Mr. Musser was graduated from Linden McKinley High School. He served three years with the US Navy and is now a member of the Columbus Fire Department.

The couple is at home at 429 Asburton-rd.

CRAIG WEAVER PENS:

Teammate Letter Writer Feels West Boys Need Publicity . . .

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.
Hartley Sports Editor

In this age, when letter-writing is almost a lost art, it was refreshing to get a correspondence from a West High School student.

It was especially nice the object of the letter was that of praise for fellow classmates. This is even more unusual.

The letter came from a lad named Craig Weaver who thought that a couple of his teammates were being slighted publicity-wise — and he wanted to do something about it.

The letter read:

"I want to inform you about something which I feel warrants your attention.

"Two boys on the West High School Cross Country team have done a good job this year. They are Tim DeWitt, a sophomore, and O'Dell Walters, a senior.

"Tim placed seventh in the City meet and 12th in District competition. O'Dell finished fourth in the City and seventh in the District.

"This is pretty good, especially for a sophomore. Walters is the captain of the team.

"The team as a whole has had four victories and six losses. They have beaten seven or eight teams. They went to the Worthington Relays and came in fourth against stiff competition.

"I was on the team this year and know these fellows and how hard they worked and feel they deserve some publicity."

Weaver's interest in his teammates was enough for the Hartley Newspapers Sports Department. The lad seemed genuine in his praise and checking proved that this praise was not ill-founded.

Walters, a senior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Walters, 155 S. Westgate-av, placed seventh in the District Cross Country meet at the Raymond Memorial Golf Course last Oct. 27.

He ran Nov. 4 in the Ohio High School Cross Country meet at the Ohio State University golf course.

Walters' best time this year is 10:46 on a two-mile endurance run.

Young DeWitt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard DeWitt, 46 N. Westmoor. He placed 12th in district competition and seventh in the city.

His best time for the two-mile course is the same as Walters'.

According to Arthur Boles, West High assistant cross country coach, "DeWitt is the best prospect for the years ahead."

There are 15 members on the team.

This is quite a bit of cross country activity for high school era. Weaver knew what he was writing about.

Too bad there aren't more Weavers in this world.

Central Drops Last Game Of Season To North, 14-0

The Central Pirates were defeated in their final game of the season. The North Polar Bears came out on top by a score of 14-0.

Central ended in sixth place in the city league with two wins, three losses and a tie. North came in third place with four wins and two losses.

North, paced by the [illegible] brothers, did all their scoring in the second quarter. North's first score came when Mike Williams ran 32 yards to the Pirates one yard line. Vic Shepard went over from the one for the Polar Bears' first tally.

Doug Shepard threw to Jeff Alkire for the extra points. North took advantage of another Central punt with less than two minutes left in the half, marching 85 yards in seven plays, climaxed by a 46-yard run by Mike Williams with just 36 seconds left on the clock.

North's strong defense enabled them to hold the Bucklings several times inside the Polar Bears' 20. The Pirate offense didn't click at the right moments, but they played a good game.

Skill Class Will Begin This Week

The physical skills program, offered to all youth members of the Hilltop YMCA, begins Saturday, Nov. 18. All boys (eight years of age and up) who are interested should have one of their parents contact the Hilltop YMCA at BR. 6-5306 to sign up.

The eight and nine-year-olds will have their class from 9-10 a.m.; 10-11 a.m. is the time set up for 10 and 11-year-olds; and the boys 12 and up will meet from 11-12 noon.

A limit of 30 boys per class period is set as the maximum, so register now. Skills being offered this year will include tumbling skills, wrestling fundamentals, and basketball techniques. Also, a fitness test will be given to these classes and a follow-up program will be emphasized.

Reduce your time painting baseboards by using a roller. First use a small brush for the top and bottom molding, protecting floors and walls with a metal guard or shirt cardboard. In between use the roller.

AUBLEGRAPH

Ohio Colts Down But Not Out — They Say

The outcome of a recent court case here has left many sports fans wondering of Columbus is back to just one little ol' professional football team.

The case involved Robert F. Slatzer of Slatzer Advertising Agency, 21 E. State-st, who was awarded a $7770 cognovit note judgment against the Ohio Colts, Inc. The judgment was made by common Pleas Judge Joseph M. Harter.

Those who have been following the Ohio Colts (not to be confused with that team from Columbus that bears the same name) known that the organization has had a "shaky" year in this city.

This "shakiness" is quoted since the word was used by an Ohio Colt stockholder. The quote marks really aren't necessary, however, since I don't feel there's any doubt about it.

The Ohio Colts have had their problems. They've had their problems with the local daily papers and with money — particularly with money.

And since economics have been a big drawback in the organization this year, folks thought that the $7000 suit would just about put the Ohio Colt group out of business.

Not so.

At least, not so at this writing.

'Don't Quote Me . . .'

For some reason or another, however, no one in the Ohio Colt organization wants to come out and make a public, hard-fast statement that we'll be able to see the Ohio Colts at the Fairgrounds next year.

I chatted with some of the stockholders Monday . . . it was hard to find someone to chat with.

A fellow named Paul Kline was our contact with the Ohio Colt group, so we gave him a call to find out if the team would be around in the fall.

Kline said he had turned in his resignation 30-days ago. Said he wasn't sure about the team's financial status and that was that.

We finally reached one of the team's stockholders (there's 10 of them, reportedly, in the Columbus area) and he was willing to make the statement that the Ohio Colts were still on their feet but he ended with a hasty, "don't use my name in the story, Okay?"

So we said, "Okay."

This stockholder did have a lot to say about his team, however.

He spoke at length how the Name's-the-Same feud with the Columbus Colts had hurt the organization from Newark.

That Long, Lonesome Road . . .

This stockholder told his tale of woe about people who were driving "all the way from Newark" to see the Ohio Colts in action and got so confused that they ended up watching the Columbus Colts at Jet Stadium.

I mused "maybe they got hit by a strong head wind," or something like that but he didn't think that was very funny.

"The sports public was really confused this year," he added.

Actually, it was financial trouble that drove the Ohio Colt boys out of Newark. The pro team was playing under other names in the Newark area for eight or nine years.

They were brought to Columbus by Lex Mayers, who is still connected with the Columbus Colts. All of the Columbus Colt players (except four) of last year's team are now with the Ohio Colts.

Everything clear now?

So, the name business hit the Ohio Colts in the pocket-book, so they claim—but not enough to shove them out of the picture. The stockholders maintain that they've got enough funds to keep going in that American Football League.

Next year maybe the name jazz will have worn off. One fellow suggested that it can all be solved very simply if both Colt teams changed their nicknames to the "Browns."

Wouldn't that be ducky, fellows?

West Mound Rams Hold Annual Dinner

The West Mound Rams Booster Club held its annual banquet last Monday evening at St. Agnes School for both the 110-pound and 90-pound teams.

Guest speaker for the event was Aurelius Thomas, former Ohio State University All-American and now head coach at East High School.

Certificates, jackets and team pictures were given each participating boy. The coaches of both teams were also [illegible] team trophies.

Charlie Muller, Roger Johnson, Darnell Thomas and Keith Edwards.

When turning your basement into a playroom camouflage overhead pipes by draping fish netting across the ceiling. It is more decorative if you drape it casually and irregularly.

A HILLIARD CAROL LOOKS LIKE THE FAMOUS ONE

What A Kiss! | Sore Tooth | OK Baby | Yeowie! | Reetaly | Dim That Light

No Need To Name Her

DOES SHE OR DOESN'T SHE—look like Carol Burnett (on the right)? A lot of kids at Hilliard High School think that Carolsue Williams, a senior, bears a pretty close resemblance to the TV cutup. In the strip of pictures above Carolsue gives her rendition of the things that famous Carol might have mimicked when she was in high school. Actually Carolsue's voice is a better replica of Mary Moore's find than her face. "I don't try to imitate it," Carolsue assures, "that's just the way it's always come out." There are a few drawbacks to looking like a star — particularly one like Burnett." I don't know," Carolsue confessed, "if people mean it as a compliment or an insult when they tell me I look like her."

News of Hilltop Neighborhood

The Neighborhood meeting will be at Hoge Memorial Church Thursday, Nov. 16, at 9:30 a.m. with Mrs. Louis Boehringer presiding.

Brownie Troop 943

Sunday, Nov. 8, members held a pot luck dinner at Westgate Shelter House to celebrate the troop birthday. Ninety were present.

Presentation of service stars was made by Leader Mrs. William Schultz to the following:

First year stars, Diane Kairnes, Nancy Thomas, Linda Sue Selvage, Denise Young, Diane Young, Roberta Lee Arrasmith.

Third year star, Gail Kistner.

Serving on the troop committee are Mrs. Gerald Smith, chairman; Mrs. Floyd Green, special sales chairman; Mrs. Robert Katon, transportation; and Mrs. John Krupa, telephone chairman.

As a community service, troop members are preparing a Thanksgiving basket to be taken to Gladden Community House for a worthy family. The girls will begin decorating shoe boxes for the personal belongings of State Hospital patients. This is a Christmas project.

Assisting Mrs. Schultz is Mrs. Elmer Thomas.

Tuesday, following a Flag presentation by Mrs. Guy Myers, five girls were invested. They were, Mary Kay Nasner, Debbie Katon, Sharon Robertson, Susan Pugh and Melody Cesta. These girls are third graders at the W. Broad-st School.

Underneath The Spreading Chestnut Tree . . .

In West Jefferson a laundromat, not a spreading chestnut tree marks the spot where the village smithy used to be.

But horsemen from Maine to California will not soon forget one of the village's proudest possessions, the man who ran that blacksmith shop.

George Stephenson, who lives in a house at 54 W. Main-st, which surpasses his 77 years, is almost a legend now.

It's been over five years since the townspeople have heard that familiar ringing of hammer on metal and the smell of heated steel.

He'd shod thousands of horses and never been kicked. "I wasn't actually kicked then either," he said pointing to his hip. "I just jumped out of the way and fell. But it broke the bone," he lamented, "and I had to retire."

There are less than 50 blacksmiths in the country. When Stephenson was practicing his time-forgotten trade they all looked upon him as the master.

It all began more than half a century ago in Stephenson's hometown, Yorkshire, England. He was only ten.

And while the other eight children in the Stephenson family were kicking around cricket balls—if that's what English youngsters did—Stephenson was hanging around one of the city's blacksmith shops.

For two years Stephenson prodded the owner of the shop into taking him on as an apprentice. Finally the owner did. But the terms were not very lucrative.

Starting Pay 6c A Week . . .

The eager Stephenson would have to share a small room with six other children. The pay? Six cents a week.

The amount stayed the same for the next six years. "Sound like a mite small sum?" Stephenson inquired in a beguiling Scottish brogue. "'Twas," he added, "But I knew better things would come."

So they did. But not in England.

"I decided I would have to come to America if I was going to make anything of myself," he volunteered.

Preservation paid off quickly. He came first to Canada in 1906. After a few years of roaming there and in the United States, gaining experience and a reputation as well, he settled in West Jefferson in 1920.

H had shod horses for Purdue University and took up the same position with Ohio State University when he settled here.

Even in those days it was not easy to find a good blacksmith and Stephenson was deluged with more orders than he could fill. Orders still come in—almost daily.

The price was four shoes for a buck on the average. (It's about 10 times that much now). People from many of the 48 states placed their orders. Some of them were famous. The owners of the gigantic Kellogg empire, for instance, had a ranch in Utah and requested a set of Stephenson's specialties, "Scotch Bottoms."

He sent them. The charge for air freight was $22. "Collect, naturally," he quipped.

Among His Souvenirs . . .

Stephenson pulled out a dilapidated scrapbook to help him recall other highlights.

There were clippings from a dozen Ohio newspapers, from the New York Times and even Colliers Magazine.

Yellowed stories and pictures told of Burgoo King, the 1932 Kentucky Derby winner, shod by Stephenson. There were also numerous accounts of how he was called to do something unique—make cowshoes.

Two men were promoting the qualities of a particular breed and were walking a pair of cows from New Jersey to St. Louis.

The men were having trouble getting shoes, that would fit, along the way. When they came to West Jefferson they stopped at Stephenson's shop. He did such a good job they asked him to accompany them on the rest of their jaunt and he did.

As Stephenson thumbed through the book he started belching more smoke from his pipe. His eyes grew wider. He had reached the State Fair section.

His wife explained that his prowess at the fair is his real pride.

In 1920, '27, '28 and '29 he was the state's champion horseshoer. They're not very legible now, not even blue any more, but he has the ribbons to prove it.

"I became a judge in 1930," he recalled. "Not that I wanted to be, mind you. But the officials told me nobody would enter if I was in the competition again."

Shod Winners Galore . . .

Although he couldn't compete, he kept shoeing champions. He performed the service for more blue-ribbon winners than any other man in the state.

Last year his efforts were rewarded. He was asked to become a member of the elite 20th Century Club. It's unique that Stephenson should be in this organization because it had been reserved in the past exclusively for exhibitors.

Stephenson has never been an exhibitor. In fact he has never owned, or even ridden, a horse for that matter.

But as Manager Rowland Bishop put it: "The exhibitors wouldn't be here if somebody couldn't make shoes. It seems that there's only one man around here who can do it."

"It was the proudest day of his life," said Mrs. Stephenson. "He was even happier than he was a couple of years before when the Ohio Historical Society asked him to set up a model blacksmith shop at the fair."

He has one just like it now in his garage where he can go and reminiscence.

His hobby, raising fox terriers, takes up one corner of the shop. All the dogs have the same name—Lassie.

He reads a lot, too, because, "when you're too old to learn you're ready to die." And Stephenson's not ready.

"Me, I'm just starting to live," he beamed.

MAPS Puts Latest Drive In Operation

MAPS (Motorist and Pedestrian Safety) launched its latest safety campaign this week calling for pledged courteous driving.

Western Electric headed the kickoff with MAPS and Automobile Club officials explaining the program which calls for written pledges by motorists to obey traffic rules and regulations.

The campaign will last through the remainder of 1961 and will be used as the basis of the major 1963 MAPS safety program.

Represented at the breakfast meeting were such organizations as the Columbus Transit Company, the Columbus Police Department, Western Electric, Ohio Bell, Nationwide Insurance, the taxicab companies, major trucking companies, the Council of Churches, Catholic Youth Organization, the Sheriff's Department, press, radio and television, the Municipal Courts and many other groups and firms.

All openly endorsed the campaigned and pledged their support through employe organizations within their companies, and outside assistance where possible.

The program involves the signing of a pledge card which will be filed by MAPS for future use. In addition, organizations represented at the kickoff will act as "eyes" for the campaign and will report the name and license number of drivers performing courteous acts while driving. The drivers cited for their courteous actions will receive a letter from MAPS acknowledging their actions along with a special award.

Hilltop Man Helps With Courage, Inc., Production Friday

A Hilltop man is living up to the name of the organization he represents.

Richard Pusecker, 142 S. Hague-av, is a member of Club Courage, Inc. He, along with some of his friends, will present a play, "Meet the Duchess" at Mohawk Junior High School Friday night on Columbus' South Side.

Pusecker will be giving his presentation from a wheelchair —he's partially paralyzed.

Six of the nine actors in the presentation will be performing in wheelchairs along with the Hilltopper.

The production of a three-act comedy entitled "Meet the Duchess," is the group's first attempt at a play of this sort, although the group has presented three minstrel shows, Pusecker said.

"We had a little bad luck with rehearsals," said Pusecker. He explained: "We're not able to meet often."

The group also has other problems not normally encountered with the presentation of a play, such as allowing enough room on stage for manipulation of wheelchairs, wider than usual entrances and an auditorium with easy accessibility, not only for the cast, but for the members of the audience who are in wheelchairs.

The play will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday and tickets may be obtained at the door or from any member of the organization or by calling Jack Phillips at TE. 7-7905 or TE. 7-2268.

The donation for the tickets is 75-cents for adults and 35-cents for children between the ages of six and 12.

Pusecker and nine other actors — six in wheelchairs (leading lady is legally blind)—have been rehearsing at Schiller Recreation Center.

This play has been in rehearsal for more than a year, partly due to the fact that three original cast members had to drop out and also because last winter's bad weather stopped rehearsals for about three months.

ALUMINUM SIDING APPROVED — KAISER ALUMINUM — VALUE IMPROVING PRODUCTS

Fantastic—but true. Thousands of familiar items we use today are made using invisible natural gas as a chemical raw material.

Just as the baker uses sugar and flour as basic ingredients of a cake, chemists use the ingredient chemicals of natural gas to help create modern wonder products.

Natural gas is a "building block" in the chemical composition of nearly the entire list of things we know as "synthetics"—versatile plastics, like vinyl and polyethylene, long-lasting materials like Orlon, Nylon, and Dynel, "miracle" drugs and vitamin pills, modern cleaning detergents and solvents.

This is the field of petrochemistry—one of America's fastest growing industries—where natural gas is taken apart so that manufacturers can put together a wonderland of modern miracle products for you.

SPECIAL BOOKS GIVEN

SUPPLEMENTARY RAPID READING books for advanced students recently were given to Eakin Road and Georgian Heights Elementary schools by the Hilltop Kiwanis club. Books of this type are not ordinarily furnished by the school board. Seen at the presentation are (foreground) students Edna Wickline, Apt. 7, 616 Wedgewood-dr, and Gary Porter, 701 Somerset-rd; (rear, from left) Rev. Gerald Koster of the Kiwanis Boys and Girls Committee, and Principal William Weber.

Now That It's Cool—

pendence anyway and learn to rely less on their parents."

With the county schools, we'll take them alphabetically:

MADISON LOCAL Phillip Williams, Supt.

"We plan to give much discussion to this problem this year. It's a matter of basic philosophy and I haven't been in charge here long enough to learn just what is being practiced. (Williams took over Aug. 1 after the retirement of Robert McCracken.)

"I do think that it's well for parents to help students, however. It shows the students that his folks are interested in him/her. This is the main thing that a child needs while going through school."

SOUTH-WESTERN
Paul Hayes, Supt.

"We feel that parents can encourage children throughout the school years by working and reading with them. We encourage homework and encourage help by parents.

"To go one step further, if parents have trouble helping their youngsters with homework, they can contact the teacher of that particular class and go over the material to better explain to their children."

WHITEHALL
Robert Crabbs, Supt.

"I think partental help with homework is commendable. One of the values that comes from it is co-operativeness — an two-way communication that gives both a better understanding of school life.

"We never introduce a new concept through the use of homework. Instead, we use this time for drill and creatively and the parents can be a definite help along these lines."

This is a sampling of the comments.

One of the real problems, as some educators see it, is not so much whether parents can help their children with homework — but should they

Too often a parent is not capable of doing algebra and other highly-skilled subjects. This is when the aspect of contacting the teachers comes into being. "Sadly enough," commented Dr. Eibling, "this is done all too seldom."

Denver, Colo. City Schools have a grant this year to determine whether or not parents should help children. The Denver School folks are and will be studying this problem all this year.

According to Paul Hayes of the South-Western Board, this is the first time any research has done on the subject.

All of the educators interviewed in the City and the County expressed interest in the Denver study and unanimously agreed that they'll profit from the results of the survey and research there.

There have been numrous instances when parents have gotten too energetic about this helping with homework bit. A few were told this week.

In one case, a teacher knew full-well that the father of a certain boy was doing the entire homework lesson each and every day during one semester (competent teachers can always spot this).

So, when the grade cards were issued, the student sadly read that he had flunked the course but good 'ol' pop had passed with flying colors. Separate grades were given.

Thiemt—

Columbus are very deep. He is still a member of a South Side Lutheran Church, but now attends the more conveniently located Bethlehem Lutheran on Racine-av.

Now an honorary member, Thiemt has been with the Columbus Maennerchor 31 years and he is also still a member of the Germania Singing Society.

Even so, after giving up his newspaper and moving to the Hilltop and a new home at 995 S. Hague-av, Thiemt became an equally valued member of the Hilltop community while continuing his close earlier associations on the South Side.

Starting over in a new profession at 61, Thiemt became an associate of the advertising novelty company he still represents, and he was one of the original members of the Hilltop Lions Club. Although claiming to be "not too active any more" he is, he says, "still a very strong Lionist. And I always will be.

"I believe in what they stand for I had to give up night driving a few years ago, and that meant I couldn't do as much in the Lions but as often as I can I attend the meetings."

The letters continue to flow between the European Lions and the Thiemt home on Hague-av but not as frequently now as before.

"I've promised my wife I'll retire next year," says Thiemt who gives no indication of a desire to do so "and it's probably good. But you know, I've enjoyed my life. I'd really like to live another 20 years. I work in my garden now just as I did 20 years ago. I still like my work . . . there are many things to do."

His philosophy for living has been simple and direct as well as successful. "In all my life," says Thiemt, "I've always wanted what was mine. And I've never taken a nickel I didn't earn."

Interesting, interested in his clubs, church and community, Wilhelm Thiemt may retire to work more in his garden, but it is safe to assume that he will still go spreading Lionism via the mails as the Hilltop club's unusual European ambassador.

Thanksgiving Day will be a happier, more meaningful day...

It's a story we all know and love—the first Pilgrim Thanksgiving. The excitement in their little homes must have been pretty much as it is today—the tantalizing smells of roast turkey and pumpkin pie—the bustle and rush of eager children—it must have been a wonderful day!

But before the Pilgrims sat down to their feast they observed the true meaning of Thanksgiving. They all gathered together in their meetinghouse to give thanks for the good they had received, for survival through a long year of hardship, and to pray for the strength and courage to keep their faith in this strange, new land.

This Thanksgiving, why not take your family to your house of worship. A quiet hour of prayer and thanks will make your holiday so much more meaningful.

Wherever you are . . . whatever your beliefs may be . . . take time to offer your words of thanks . . . just as the Pilgrims did more than 300 years ago.

Worship together this week
you need not walk alone

Two Car Collision Kills Hilltop Child Sunday

A two year old Hilltop girl is dead and other members of her family hospitalized as a result of a two car collision late Sunday near Tiffin.

Janet Thomas, 4190 Sullivant-av, died of head injuries, according to the Seneca County coroner. Her parents, both of whom are in Mercy Hospital in Tiffin, received serious injuries to the scalp, face and body.

Seneca county sheriff's office spokesmen said the Thomas car was going north on Rt. 19 when Thomas ran a stop sign and smashed into the car driven by Ruth V. Henry, 48, of Columbiana.

The car driven by Miss Henry was slammed into a utility pole causing power lines and telephone wires to topple onto the car. Four passengers, all from Columbiana, were also injured, one seriously.

Indoctrination Meeting Announced

Robert T. Marquart, chairman of the Membership Committee, Columbus Chapter NOMA, has announced an information meeting at 4:30 p.m. Nov. 28 at the Fort Hayes Hotel for prospective members.

What the Columbus chapter can do for the individual members will be discussed.

Cranberry Ball Slated Soon

The seventh annual Cranberry Ball will be held at Glenwood Recreation Center, Wednesday, Nov. 22, from 8 to 11 p.m.

A queen will be elected from five candidates who will be announced next week.

In industry alone, Christmas seal money found 150 new cases of tuberculosis last year plus 658 non-tuberculous chest ailments.

Trotters Squeezed By Hawks

The Highland Trotters, sparked by Winford Dearing, squeezed by the John Burrough Hawks, 14-6. Dearing scored all the points for the Trotters. Chubby Gomer scored the only TD for the John Burroughs Hawks.

Both teams battled back and forth and every point scored was well earned. The winning of the championship game gave the Highland Trotters an undefeated season, 6-0. The John Burroughs Hawks finished the season with a 4-1-1 record.

YES YOU CAN TRADE UP!
Up to a beautiful home in C. V. Perry & Company's Ridgewood.

All you have to do is to pick your home - and you can be moved and settled before Christmas. And what a Christmas, with a roaring fire, Mom joining the fun because the dishwasher's doing the dirty work, lots of room for the guests to roam aroung in the family room. And your proud family, happy in the big, new home.

There's really a wide choice of homes in Ridgewood. Twenty-three builders offer you ranches, split levels, bi-levels, Cape Cods and two stories. Every home has two or more baths, fireplace, beautiful kitchen, and most have a family room. You can trade up to three, four or five bedrooms.

Prices range from $24,000 and $34,000. (You'd pay $4,000 to $6,000 more for identical homes in nearby Upper Arlington.) And terms are best, with 75% or better financing.

Ridgewood is a mile North of Fishinger on Dublin Road, just West of the beautiful Scioto. It's suburban, with wide, deep lots, no dirt and noise. Yet it has full gas, water and sewer service and is just 18 minutes from downtown.

Now is the time to make the buy of your life. Drive out and see for yourself. All Ridgewood homes are open 1-7.

Central To Give Play In Two Performances

"Goldilocks," musical play by Walter and Jean Kerr, will premiere in Ohio and Central High's stage this week. Performances will be Nov. 16, 1:30 p.m. and Nov. 17, 8:10 p.m.

A cast of 40 will present the production, a story of the days of silent movies. Two turntables will be used to handle staging.

Directing the play is Bob Siegmiller, Central graduate now a student at Ohio State University. He is assisted by Phil Moore, Central senior.

Faculty advisor is Joseph Shumway.

Hilltop Library Has Books On Home-School Problems

Because of record school enrollments and the national spotlight on the importance of education, the run on books offering advice to parents on meeting school-home problems is more pronounced than ever before, according to Mary Elizabeth Keyes, head of the Hilltop Branch Library.

"How to Help Your Child in School," offers practical, usable advice for parents she said. The authors interpret the elementary school curriculum and aims for the parent and describe how the child tries to fit in with both home and school situations.

Miss Keyes explained that helpful orientation on that first big year in the life of a small child is given in "Kindergarten: Your Child's Big Step".

"Launching Your Pre-Schooler," has suggestions for helping the pre-school child to become independent.

Ways in which parents can help their child to boost their IQ are discussed in "How to Raise Your Child's IQ."

A helpful grade-by-grade guide for parents who wish to help their children with grade school subjects is "How to Help Your Child in Reading, Writing, and Arithmetic".

The academic, social and sex life of the adolescent school child is discussed in "How to Live Through Junior High School" and "How to Live With Your Teenager".

Advice to parents regarding the backward child is given in "Retarded Children Can be Helped" while the bright youngster is discussed in "Helping Your Gifted Child".

Help with reading, a common problem, is available in such books as "Parents' Guide to Children's Reading" and "You Can Teach a Child That Reading Can be Fun".

Other helpful books for parents include "How to Get the Best Education for Your Child", "Your Child in a Scientific World", "The Magic of Bringing Up Your Child", "How to Bring Up Your Child to Enjoy Music",and "Parents Guide to Everyday Problems of Boys and Girls".

'Zorro' Star Promotes Film . . .

IT WAS REAL HOMECOMING FOR WEST HIGH'S SHELDON

By John Auble, Jr.

Genial Gene Sheldon returned to his hometown Columbus for the first time in 35 years this week, and he had only one demand: that his hotel room have a window with a westerly view. And, his thinking was certainly justified.

Sheldon, the Bernardo character in Walt Disney's TV Zorro program, stood in the Governor's Suite on the Deshler-Hilton's 14th floor and gazed toward the West Side of town. That's where the Sheldon magic first started.

The likeable silent man of TV stopped off in Columbus as part of a 10-city tour on behalf of Disney's first live action musical—"Babes in Toyland." The film is due for national release Dec. 22 and it'll be the Christmas show for New York's Music Hall as well as local theaters.

Sheldon was dwarfed by the huge room at the Deshler and he was eager to take his agent Frank Petragmin out for a tour of the star's old stomping grounds.

"I left old West High School (now Starling Junior High) about 1927," said Sheldon. "I never graduated, though for one thing I got mad at my dramatics teacher there. He would never let me take part in any school productions. He said I didn't have any talent."

So that was the way it all started. Sheldon got a chance to go with a New York vaudeville act called "Carnival Capers" and snapped it up. He played the banjo, danced a bit and performed some comedy routines.

He acted for a while in Columbus' old Broadway Theatre (now a downtown parking lot) and stayed with his folks at various West Side homes.

"The family always moved," Sheldon said. "We lived for a while on Hayden-av . . . then West Park . . . then, I just can't remember all the West Side homes we lived in."

During his Dana Avenue School and West High days, Sheldon was known by his family's name, Search. It was always Gene, however. And, it was at West that he learned to play the banjo which shot him into the entertainment field.

Most of the Sheldon "magic" was based on luck, Gene quickly admits. While performing at the Broadway, Sheldon developed his comedy tactics.

"There was a fellow on the bill named Jack Haley," he said. "He told me that if I wanted to make a name for myself, I should pattern myself after the man I thought was the funniest in show business.

"At that time it was Harry Langdon who had fans rolling during the silent movie days. I picked up his actions and have kept them ever since."

From then on it was the oldest of show business success stories. A producer would catch Sheldon's act and book him into a better show, and the chain of similar events carried him to where he is today.

He worked 40 weeks with 20th Century Fox Studios before signing with the Disney [illegible].

He filmed 84 shows of Zorro during his four years there. A mixup with Disney and ABC caused the withdrawal of Zorro and there's nothing left now but reruns.

During those four years, Sheldon did 14 Colgate Comedy Hours, five Dinah Shore shows and appeared on George Goble's, Perry Como's, Jackie Gleason's and Jack Paar's show, among others.

He likes television and says that medium as his real fu-

GENE SHELDON, star of Walt Disney's Zorro television show and currently in "Babes in Toyland" feature movie, caught up with some of his home town activities Saturday as he glanced through The Hilltop Record. Sheldon is a former West Side boy, attended Dana Avenue and old West High Schools. He's showing the Record to his publicity man Frank Petragmin.

Christmas Spirit?

Across the nation as family after family sits down to the annual Thanksgiving dinner the main topic of conversation will be, "What do you want for Christmas?"

Many people actually are not together all year long and then on the one day of Thanksgiving their time is spent in comparing notes on what to buy for dad, mother, the kids and Uncle Willie. Every member of the household exchanges ideas with every other member.

To some this is the sign that the Christmas spirit is catching on.

God bless them for their weak efforts to discover some form of Christmas spirit. Let's hope that before Dec. 25 they will learn that the real Christmas spirit is a faith . . . one that brings joy to the heart in August as well as December.

AT HOME in the America they long dreamed of, the family of Dr. Harry Michailidis has furnished their apartment in Westgate Manor with mementos of their colorful past. A shield and spears from Ethiopia, mask from Kenya, intricately carved tables and chests from Bangor and Bankok and a circular rug, painstakingly made of 70 monkey skins, fit with surprising harmony into a room containing a television set and western-style furniture. Dr. Michailidis holds tiny, two-year-old Marina. Peter is at right and George at left, and their mother, Maria, is at back.

DENTIST TO ROYALTY . . .

Like Pilgrims . . . Immigrant Greeks Seek New, Free Life

By Betty Daft

Thanksgiving Day, at first a holiday to be shared with friends in the American embassy and military in Ethiopia, and last year celebrated as the symbol of a cherished dream-come-true, will be a far more significant celebration Thursday in the home of Cheralambos Michailides, DD.

Dr. Harry, as he was known to hundreds of Americans abroad; his wife, Maria, and their three children will express their gratitude for many of the same reasons as did those at the original Thanksgiving feast . . .

For a country free from oppression, for a difficult year safely past and hopes for a brighter tomorrow.

The family's appreciation of America's precious freedom has been heightened by a 12-months' struggle to become established in a new country. Each heart-breaking disappointment has strengthened the doctor's resolve to some day practice dentistry here.

For, although he was graduated from Athens University with Greece's highest scholastic honors, an Arista Degree, his diploma is not recognized in America and he must repeat the study at the College of Dentistry, Ohio State University.

The family arrived in the United States last year on Nov. 11 and settled in Cleveland, expecting to make it their permanent home. But disappointing circumstances prompted Dr. Michailides and a friend to come to Columbus in April to start a dental laboratory.

The doctor hopes the Accurate Dental Laboratory, 690 N. High-st, will support his family and himself during his student years at Ohio State University.

His family arrived from Cleveland last month, and now are at home at 719 Daulton-ct.

It was Dr. Michailides' skill as a dental technician, rather than a dentist, that gained the family entry into the United States. Because of the need for qualified technicians in this country he was given a coveted, first-preference visa.

West Side Traffic Plan Approval Expected Soon

Major points in a new traffic plan worked out by the West Side Neighborhood Council with the aid of traffic engineer John L. Gallagher and other West Side organizations are expected to be adopted soon, according to Gallagher.

Plans call for the designation of more one-way streets among 25 steps proposed to improve traffic flow and relieve congestion.

A number of one way street designations to be presented to the City Traffic Commission for approval Nov. 28 have already been approved by Gallagher, he said.

One way proposals are:

• From Scioto River to Glenwood-av: Town-st one-way west, and Rich-st, one way east.

• From Broad-st to Sullivant-av: Cypress-dr, one-way north; Dakota-av, one-way south; Avondale-av, northbound; Hawkes-av, northbound; Souder-av, southbound, and Davis-av, northbound.

• From Town to Broad-st: Hartford.

• From Central-av to Ryan-av: Union-av, westbound; Walsh-av, eastbound and Thomas-av, westbound.

West Area Considered For Conservation Plan

Time - worn neighborhoods in the West Side and on the Hilltop may find a "fountain of youth" is theirs for the asking.

In a report to his commission Nov. 15, City Planning Director Jack Bachtel said he was convinced that the South Side's German Village success story could be duplicated in other older areas of the city. He asked for permission to initiate several new rehabilitation projects. He got it.

"No outside money is used in this type of conservation work," Bachtel said, "we rely on the residents and their organizations to help make the thing go."

Bachtel, when told by Hartley Newspapers of the effectiveness of the year-old West Side Neighborhood Council, agreed that the group seemed to be a "natural" to work with in such an undertaking.

First local discussions will take place in early December between Bachtel and Al Wilder, field worker of the West Side Neighborhood Council. Topics will include ways to enlist the cooperation of property owners and residents in fixing up homes, better enforcement of building and health codes, and improvement of public facilities.

The planning director conceded that the "retain our German atmosphere" theme had much to do with the success of German Village. But, he said, there is no reason to believe that enthusiasm for rehabilitation cannot spread to other communities without such strong folk ties.

"They are already doing it in the Near East and North Sides," he pointed out.

Proper Zoning Important

"One of the big things the city can do is straighten out bad zoning," he continued. "In the South Side, only weeks ago, we barred the spread of commercial establishments in German Village. People find that they can get loans for repairs and purchase of property more readily if the lender knows that a glue factory will not go in next door."

"Community facilities that were considered luxuries years ago are now necessities," Bachtel related, citing off-street parking, wide streets and spacious recreation areas as examples.

The planning director said that Mayor Ralston Westlake (who is chairman of the Planning Commission) seemed enthusiastic about the long-range work to prevent neighborhood blight here, including parts of the Hilltop.

UNION SERVICES ANNOUNCED

Congregations Will Observe Special Rites Of Thanksgiving

Traditional services of Thanksgiving have been scheduled in area churches for both Thanksgiving Day and Thanksgiving Eve.

Many of the services are interdenominational union services, sponsored by the Department of Evangelism of the Columbus Area Council of Churches. Others are the individual services of area churches.

Offerings received at all union services are to be donated to the chaplain's fund of the Columbus Area Council of Churches.

Union services to be held by the West Side Ministerium are:

Street Lights Will Usher In Holidays This Thursday

Broad-st in the near West Side will take on a holiday glow Thanksgiving night.

[illegible] ceremony some 1300 Christmas lights will be turned on. Strands of red and white bulbs already are in place on 51 street light standards.

Bob Miller, chairman of the West Side Board of Trade's street trim committee, said the lights will burn nightly until New Year's Eve. The decorations were purchased by West Side merchants and are maintained with funds from the West Side June Jubilee.

Hilltop lighting will not be ready this week. City crews hook up lights at various spots in the city each year. Last year Hilltop was one of the "early" areas.

Santa Claus Coming To Central Pt.

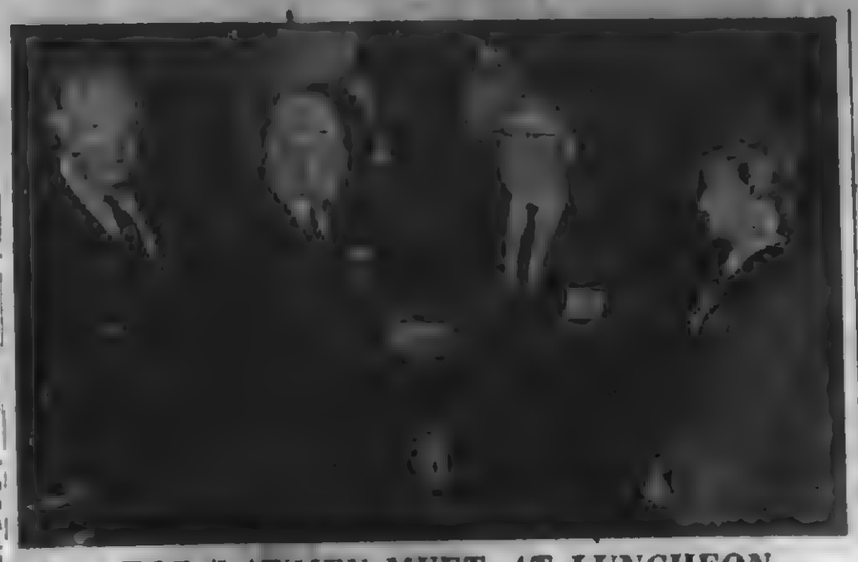
The Central Point Shopping Center, W. Mound-st at Central-av, becomes "Santa City" this weekend.

The gala Christmas [illegible] will be ushered in by Santa's arrival by Helicopter on Friday, at 11:30 a.m.

After parading around the center, Santa will be taken into his beautiful Santa House next to the J. C. Penney store.

There he will greet the hundreds of little friends certain to be present. For each he will have a peppermint candy stick.

Thereafter, Santa will meet and chat with the boys and girls from 4-8:30 p.m. weekdays and from noon to 8:30 p.m. Saturdays, from Friday until Christmas.



More Stores Will Close On Sundays

Three more stores have joined the list of Greater Columbus businesses ending Sunday operations.

The three, which bring to 15 the total taking such action since Aug. 16, are: White's Hardware and Paint Co., 1554 N. Fourth-st; Hasbrook Foods, Super Market, 1 S. State-st, Westerville; and Smith Hardware and Tool Co., 2086 Sullivant-av.

"These stores have recognized the futility of the Sunday business rat-race," said Gene P. King, executive secretary of the Greater Columbus Sunday Association, "and they have earned the thanks of the more than 150,000 residents of the Columbus area who have backed us in seeking to 'Keep Sunday Sunday.' We are urging our members to see that these stores are rewarded with more business."

Little Miss TV Contest Finalists Named, Orphans Party Arranged

Finalists in the Little Miss TV contest being held in connection with the annual Orphans' Party have been named by the contest judges.

Winners will be chosen on the basis of votes sent in by the public with a donation to be used to finance the party scheduled for orphans from the entire central Ohio area at the Veterans Memorial Monday, Dec. 18.

The girl who is named Miss TV and her mother will receive a one week all expense paid vacation at the Bahama Motel in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Votes may be sent to Box 161, Columbus. Each ten cents will count as one vote.

Approximately 94 orphans are expected to attend the party the contest is helping to finance. Ham and chicken dinners will be served and each child is to receive at least five silver dollars which they may spend as they want.

A donation of a necklace for each girl and a watch chain to be given each boy has been made.

Entertainment for the party is to be provided by teen stars and The Lawdsmen. Ray Cinclone's orchestra will provide music and a special welcome to the children from Santa Claus will appear on television.

A drawing is to be held to select one child for a week's vacation at the Bahamas Hotel, donated by Stan Boler, owner of the hotel.

ture. He plans to do a series with Henry Calvin (the Sergeant Garcia character in Zorro) which will be patterned after Laurel and Hardy shows.

"Calvin worked in the 'Toyland' movie with me," said Sheldon," and people said we reminded them of Laurel and Hardy. So we think we'll try to build a series out of it."

And "Toyland?" Well, Sheldon sees it as one of Disney's greatest. It was originally made in the early twenties — a Victor Herbert musical—and has been revived many times, including once with Laurel and Hardy.

Disney has retained all of Herbert's music, although he's changed the lyrics. Ray Bolger, Tommy Sands and Ed Wynn also have starring roles.

The show is slated for a December opening at the RKO Palace.

After the 10-city promotion tour, Sheldon will spend some time at his Tarzana, Calif., home with his wife, Peggy, and their two adopted children, David (6½) and Tracy (2).

And Sheldon's biggest surprise in his hometown? That's easy, he says. It came at the airport when he first arrived. "An old school chum greeted me," he said. "His name is Westlake and I vaguely remembered him. But when he told me he was mayor of this city, I almost fainted."

er than the first ascent in Ethiopia. He has 15 years' ex-America promises to be swift-perience as a practicing dentist, reads and writes six languages and a dialect, and has a tireless vitality and pleasing personality.

He will talk with Dr. Postel, dean of dentistry at Ohio State on Nov. 29, and will take aptitude tests at the university in January. Dr. Michailides is hoping that his experience and knowledge will help shave time off the usual four-year study course.

Harry's birthplace was Suez, July 25, 1921, and his parents were Greek peasants who had moved to Egypt.

College was made possible by a loan from his brother-in-law, Gregory Sava, who later became a priest.

When the Nazis invaded Greece, life became intolerable for college students, Harry included. In order to make money for food, he took a job singing in church and there met and fell in love with Maria Petta.

His weight fell to under a hundred pounds, and only extra food supplied by Maria kept him alive. With the end of World War II came civil war in Greece, and Harry returned home to Egypt for a while to rebuild his health, before returning to Athens to finish his study.

Hard on the heels of his triumphant graduation with the coveted Artiste Degree, came bitter disappointment, for he was unable to practice in Egypt.

Through the suggestion of an acquaintance, he went to Ethiopia, again to find barriers, this time opposition by foreign dentists in Addis Ababa who did not welcome competition.

Christmas Eve, 1947, is remembered by Harry as a night of pure despair, his last dime spent for a loaf of bread.

A suggestion by some Greek friends early in January that he "go from house to house . . . do dental work in people's homes," proved sound.

Concrete help followed their advice — a discarded foot-pedal that could be used to turn a drill, basic dental instruments and supplies.

When business continued to improve friends found and put in running order, a 26-year-old junked automobile, enabling him to make twice as many calls as on foot.

A wealthy Greek merchant, knowing something of Harry's circumstances, offered him a loan — enough to bring his bride, the waiting Maria, to Ethiopia and to provide a home and office.

Later he advanced more to help purchase a dental unit. The year also brought his first American woman customer. They followed in droves, first her husband, then friends and finally, the American governor of the State Bank of Ethiopia, who was impressed with the young [illegible].

In the next several years Harry borrowed several times from the bank for more and better equipment, most of it American. In his eagerness to learn more about American dentistry he subscribed to the Journal of American Dental Association, and then learned English in order to read it.

An advertisement in the journal, placed by Moskey and Geiss Dental Laboratories, Cleveland, let to events that would shape his life ahead.

A correspondence with Moskos S. Moskey, one of the partners, and himself a Greek, resulted in a flood of help for the struggling young dentist in Addis Ababa.

A correspondence course on the firm's new system of making dentures, accompanied by huge boxes of supplies and equipment came from Moskey. Other dental supply houses in America, learning of Dr. Harry's eagerness to learn, also sent supplies, all at no cost.

In his gratitude Dr. Harry attempted to repay the kindness of America in the only coin he had — dental work. All Americans in Addis Ababa, government officials, military personnel and tourists, were given preference. And all were astonished to find their bill very small or non-existent.

His practice prospered — he had become the accepted dentist for the United States Embassy, did much of the work of the United States military advisory group in Addis Ababa, and was official dentist to the Ethiopian Army.

One of his patients was the crown prince of Ethiopia, HIH Merd Asmatch Asfa Wosen, H.S., son of Hailie Selassie. Other members of the royal family, including the crown prince's children also became regular clients.

Among Americans traveling through Africa, who stopped at Addis Ababa in need of a dentist was Gordon Gaskill.

He was so impressed with Dr. Michailidis' fascinating true story he put it in writing, and "The Secret Of Doctor Harry," was published in the June, 1960 issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

"MY RENAISSANCE; my rebirth—It will be like being born anew when I finally have my diploma and am able to practice dentistry again, here in America." Dr. "Harry" Michailidis, Greek Cryptot who numbered the royal family among his patients in Ethiopia, will soon enroll at Ohio State University. His dental degree from Athens University is not recognized in America.

SCHOOL SCIENCE CLUB HEARS SPEAKER

WESTMOOR JUNIOR HIGH Science Club heard Capt. Donald H. Osterhant, now assigned to Squad. 8276, Lackbourne Air Force Base, speak Nov. 10. LETTER TO EDITOR

Westmoor School Thanks Voters

Dear Hilltop Voters:

We, the Westmoor Junior High School staff, wish to thank the Hilltop people who supported the recent school levy at the polls. The continued support that the people of Columbus have given the schools during the past years has been gratifying. Certainly the children of the Hilltop area will benefit from this levy.

At Westmoor, we, as staff members, are aware of our part in this continuing educational challenge and are proud to teach in a community where the people care about their schools.

At Thanksgiving We're Thankful..... With Exceptions

On the eve of Thanksgiving we must certainly pause to reflect that Americans generally have much to be thankful for.

But let's not jump up and down with glee and thereby sweep under the rug all the dirt that we certainly can't be proud of.

Surely we don't want to be proud of the fact that so many of our people have become so complacent that they have not learned the lessons taught by history when nations fell to disaster as a result of just such complacency.

And there is nothing to be thankful for in the fact that our nation is in an advanced state of moral decline.

What is there to be thankful for among people who believe that sacrifice and dedication are things to which only communists should adhere?

How can we be thankful for an educational system that does not shove the able student ahead and sift out the individual who merely takes up space in a classroom?

How can we claim we have made a contribution to the advancement of mankind when we give recognition to a thing called "art" that is nothing more than the product of amatuer paint slingers?

How can we be thankful for a system that gives recognition and financial success to the person most capable of writing the filthiest filth?

What thanks do we owe to a government that believes it owes every individual a living regardless of what that individual does to aid himself?

What thanks are due if we have lost sight of a doctrine known as individual responsibility?

How long can we be thankful while we have made it possible for indiscriminate and selfish groups and individuals to take away our very liberty while we defend their right to do so?

How can we be thankful until we become men of courage who are willing to stand up for what we actually believe, rather than go along with the crowd because that is the popular thing to do?

Count our blessings? Oh yes, we have them . . . many of them!

But the real blessings are likely to be overshadowed by the fakes in our midst unless we as individuals start taking vitamins to produce intestinal fortitude right now!

'Operation Humanity' Worthwhile Idea

A reader has written the suggestion that possibly people of our community can help less fortunates through some kind of a new project which she has chosen to term "Operation Humanity."

She further explains that in view of the failure of the Welfare Levy perhaps many hundreds of kind people of the area would be willing to take care of some of the needs of deserving families which the welfare program does not provide.

While the mechanics of such a program would have to be developed with care, it surely is a good idea. So much better than ideas that call for regimentation of welfare to the extent that sometimes the net result of some government aid is the development of a class of people who become dependent on government.

God bless any group that will step up and volunteer to help someone else . . . or better yet, a double helping of such blessings to those who are willing to help themselves.

For a Bountiful Harvest, We Thank Thee

AROUND EDUCATIONAL CIRCLES

Kids In Cans Get Taught Too

Some 61,000 pupils have been crowded out of regular classrooms in Ohio. A survey by the Ohio Education Association shows that many students are receiving instruction in makeshift rooms or attending school on split or half-day sessions. Figured on the basis of 30 pupils per room, the survey purports that the state needs at least 2,034 new classrooms.

More than 14,000 pupils are being taught in such places as corridors, restrooms, locker rooms, lounges, kitchens, school porches. About 15,000 are getting educated in churches, grange halls, empty houses. In Mt. Gilead, industrial arts classes are being conducted in a factory.

Myriad Art Treasures To Be Found In The Simplest Forms Of Nature

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

About the time birds start coming to our feeder, which they did last week, the phone begins to ring from people calling for information. Some of these calls could be classed as hunting calls, for sportsmen ask about open seasons, bag limits and the like.

But a surprising number of them concern other kinds of outdoor recreation—everything from leaf collecting to identifying rare birds and bones. It's really amazing the number of people who have outdoor hobbies that are not related to hunting and fishing.

The latest of these outdoor fans to come to my attention is Miss Harriet E. Wilson, 269 W. Main-st, West Jefferson, an artist who paints still lifes and landscapes from nature. By collecting leaves, blades of grass and nuts — objects you could pick up on any hike—she found subject matter for four plates that won first prize at last year's State Fair.

She arranged the material into the four seasons, then painted and glazed the plates. By using her artistic talents and powers of observation, Miss Wilson literally plucked a first prize from underfoot.

Well known in the community, Miss Wilson is a fine arts graduate of Ohio State University, and for 14 years was staff artist at the Maramor where she did everything from painting posters to designing candy boxes. Through all of her work, her greatest interest has been the outdoors and she is proudest of her work in this field.

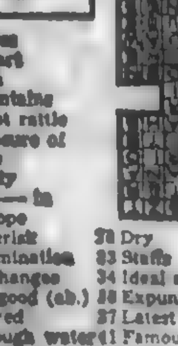
To me, the most interesting facet of Miss Wilson's hobby is that she enjoys it at home. She finds beauty in the intricate design of a dandelion leaf, and the rough texture of a seasoned walnut. There is outdoor adventure in her own backyard, although she hikes extensively in Madison and Ross Counties. She has friends in Ross County who direct her to fallen-in log cabins and out-of-the-way beauty spots, which she sketches. "Sometimes these areas abound in snakes and I'm scared to death of them," Miss Wilson exclaimed.

A lot of us go afield under the guise of hunting or fishing, but most of us will admit that much of our pleasure comes from a song sparrow perched on a bush, a wheeling hawk in the sky or a meadow full of flowers. These are the simple pleasures of the outdoors, and are the most popular.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

Food Shopping After The Big Holiday

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS



THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Meat and Poultry—Pork loin roasts and chops, beef roasts, ground beef, ham, chickens, medium eggs.

Fruits — Apples, grapefruit, juice oranges.

When you find time to sit down and read this column your Thanksgiving food shopping is probably completed and the refrigerator filled to overflowing. But refrigerators have a way of growing empty pretty fast. So, the following tips are for planning the three meals "per" that are sure to follow the big feast.

Pork and Beef are back in the food ads after playing second fiddle to turkeys last week. Supplies of both have built up, so you can expect attractive prices, whether your choice be roasts, chops or steaks. Ham will remain a good buy for the coming week and bacon prices have dropped.

Medium sized eggs remain the thrifty choice this week, even though the supply of large eggs is increasing rapidly.

A big bowl of tossed salad is usually welcomed after a few days on rich holiday foods. And you'll have no trouble finding the makings, for salad greens are abundant and exceptionally fine in quality. Consider greenhouse leaf lettuce and cucumbers, as well as Florida endive, escarole, romaine, parsley, radishes, peppers and green onions. A few dark green leaves of bibb lettuce and spinach will add interest and nutrition to your salads. Head lettuce is sweet and succulent again.

October's sunny days really put the flavor in the greenhouse tomatoes we're getting now. Over 90 percent of the local tomatoes, picked last week, graded U.S. No. 1 This is why you aren't seeing many of the big irregular tomatoes this fall - there just aren't many of the lower grades.

Potatoes are too good a vegetable buy to pass up. Remember the label is your best guide to quality. Many of the "store specials" are on ungraded potatoes, so give them a careful look to see how much waste you are buying. Prices are sure to advance when potatoes move into storage.

The volume of citrus fruits continues to increase and the larger volume has brought lower prices on juice oranges. Grapefruit prices have dropped steadily during the past three weeks. Prices are slightly lower on red varieties than on the white seedless, but retail marks on both kinds are quite low.

The quality of all citrus is improving. If some of the fruit you've been buying is dryer than you like, remember that Florida had a lot of very dry weather this fall. And, it takes rain to put juice into the fruit.

Defends Tighter Controls On Literature

To The Editor:

I usually enjoy receiving your edition of the South Side Leader with its fine classified section and coverage of neighborhood events. However, one of the columns in your editorial of the November second issue entitled "One Man's Opinion" by a Taylor Gregg cannot pass without comment. Here is "Another Man's Opinion."

I do not care to comment on each point of the article as such. My views are directed toward it as a whole and toward the subject of censorship in general. In these times as the pace of living is being ever increased and the accent is on material progress and 'easy living' our physical standards naturally improve, but must our moral standards decline? This is not only an opinion. From examining statistics it can be found that countless numbers of felonies of all types, but especially sex and juvenile offenses can and have been proven to be motivated by this risque literature and pornographic trash that Mr. Gregg so nobly defends.

We as adults are all aware of these "determined to be stimulated" (or I say more correctly would be "apt to be stimulated") proclivities in people particularly young people, where it is more of curiosity rather than of a wilful and knowing indulgence. The CDL and similiar groups could not hope to see abolishment of all forms of obscene publications, as we all know this would be an infatuation. However what they are trying to do is to suppress the widespread distribution of it, thereby preventing it from falling into the hands of our youth whose minds are naturally vulnerable. These points seem to be borne out by the fact that censorship legislation is always supported by law enforcement officials.

I just finished reading Hoover's "Masters of Deceit" which he closes by saying that the communist effort here can be defeated "with God's help." I wonder just how much of this help we can expect if we turn our back on Him and succumb to the dictates of our flesh.

So in closing I say "hats off" to these dedicated and hard working groups and individuals working diligently to raise the moral standards of our great nation.

Respectfully Yours,
George J. Felkner

Sertoma Happy At Success Of Pancake Day

To The Editor:

THANK YOU! Our SERTOMA Pancake Day Festival was a huge success and the YES program will continue to serve the young people of our area for another year. The success of this venture was primarily due to you and your fellow members of the radio, newspaper and television media. Without your excellent cooperation we would not have been able to put the promotion across.

You might be interested in some statistics — nearly 3000 people were served during the 12-hour festival — nearly 5000 tickets were sold for the festival — so far this year, Youth Employment Service has placed nearly 1000 students on jobs — students are still needed in some areas of the city — jobs are available but students have not signed up — they can sign up at the YES office after school or on Saturday mornings. Youth Employment Service, 30 E. Broad-st, Room 416, Columbus 15, O.

Thanks again to you and all of the companies who donated their time, services and products during this outstanding event.

Sincerely, Hugh W. Ray, Jr. Promotion,
George Smith, President Sertoma Club.

Says It's Time For Citizens To Act On Law

To The Editor:

This is my second request, (the first was to a daily paper), so would you please print this letter in your editorial column, as I feel it's about time the public helped in deciding whether to close on Sunday's or remain open.

This headline was in that paper Nov. 14: "Judge Will Halt Sunday Sales Arrest." It might just as well have read, "Courts In Agreement With Staying Open On Sunday," so we, the small businessmen and women who have voluntarily closed on Sunday can reopen, and also make a fast buck, like our unlawful abiding competitors are doing!

This order which was granted Monday, Nov. 13 at the request (get this, at the request) of Fame, Inc., E. Main-st; Treasure Island Trading Corp., E. Main-st.; Ontario Store of Cols., Alum Creek-dr.; and Shoppers' Fair, E. Broad-st. These four business places asked for the order until the Sunday closing matter is settled in Municipal Court, because there is serious question about the constitutionality of our state law.

The State of Ohio has a law, amended by the General Assembly in 1959, to regulate the transaction of business on Sunday. It is known as The Ohio Revised Code Section 3773.24. It was upheld by both the Ohio and U. S. Supreme Courts.

It seems that our courts cannot decide if this is a law or resolution, so maybe the citizens of Columbus can help them!

It's time we settled this question! Good citizens of Columbus let's support the law and "keep Sunday, Sunday."

If you're willing to support this law and enforce it, write to Mayor Ralston Westlake and also your Municipal Court judges so we can stop them from making Sunday another working day.

Sincerely yours,
Dorothy J. Schulze

SHOE CARE

Most [illegible] prepare the family car for winter by giving it one last good cleaning and a heavy coat of wax to with-stand bad weather. Shoes need something of the same care. Shoe leather really takes a beating during the next three or four months when you tramp through mud and slush most of the time.

Here is my formula for shoe care in winter . . . be sure your shoes dry thoroughly at room temperature. Don't try to dry wet shoes over a register or near artificial heat, wet leather "burns" at a temperature your hand can stand. Clean the shoes with saddle soap, letting the lather dry on them.

Follow this with an application of a good wax paste dressing and then rub with a soft cloth. For best results, alternate two pairs of shoes and keep the ones not being worn on shoe-trees. Shoe trees, good ones, pull your shoes back into shape, make them wear longer and feel more comfortable.

'Christmas Inn' Fete, Bazaar Heads Events At Glenwood

Lunch will be served at noon and supper starting at 5 p.m. Menu will be vegetable soup, hot sandwiches, home made pie, and cake, ice cream, coffee, tea and milk.

WSCS will meet Thursday, Dec. 7, 10:30 a.m. with devotions by Mrs. Myron Seifert. Topic for discussion will be under the direction of Mrs. Harold Buchanan.

Luncheon at noon will be served by the Gloria Brockington Circle.

Afternoon session will convene at 1, with Mrs. Harrison Jones presiding. Theme, "Because of Christmas," will be presented by the Esther Laird Circle.

Mrs. Warren Bright will arrange the worship center.

Mrs. William McGlone will sing, accompanied by Mrs. Marguerite Moore.

After the meeting the entire assembly will join in singing Christmas Carols, under the direction of Mrs. Hiser.

Executive committee will meet Tuesday, Dec. 5, 10 to 11 a.m. in the church parlor.

Yule Opera Is Scheduled At Veterans

"Amahl and the Night Visitors," tender story of a Christmas miracle, will be presented Saturday, Dec. 9, as the second production in the Youth Concert Series of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra.

There will be two performances of the musical drama, at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. in Veterans Memorial Auditorium.

The Christmas opera tells of Amahl, the little crippled boy, who is miraculously cured when he offers the Christ Child his most treasured possession — the crutches he has made himself.

Staging will feature the NBC Television cast.

All seats are reserved with tickets available Nov. 24 at Summers and Son, George Zeisler's Record Shop, Bexley Records, and Turntable Record Shop.

Tickets may be ordered now by mail from the Columbus Symphony Orchestra, attention Youth Series, 55 E. State-st, Columbus 15, CA. 4-7774. For mail orders, specify which performance and enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Orders received after Dec. 5 will be held at Veterans Box Office to be picked up the day of the concert. Tickets will also be on sale there Dec. 9.

Art Festival Sale Slated At Gallery

"The Wonderful World of Art," annual art festival and sale, of the Columbus Art League, will be held at the Gallery of Fine Arts, Friday, Dec. 1, noon to 5 p.m., and 7 to 11 p.m.

Some members will give demonstrations, while other artists will be sketching portraits of guests for a nominal fee.

With Christmas giving in view, Art League members are filling the sales booths with objects of art . . . oil paintings, watercolors, prints, jewelry, pottery, enameled ware, small sculpture, ceramics and weaving. There will be an auction with Lawrence J. Lorms, as auctioneer.

The public is invited. There will be music and refreshments at both the afternoon and evening sessions.

WEST HIGH'S RICH NEELY SAYS:

'Yes Sir! We've Got A Great Coach'

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.
Hartley Sports Editor

Junior Rich Neely sat in his West High School classroom Monday pondering over the fact that he was named to the All-City League football squad and he could come up with only one reason for the nomination.

"We've got a great coach here," he said. That fellow is Gene Fekete, former Ohio State All-American, who finished his first year of high school coaching at West.

"With Fekete, we all wanted to do just a little better," Neely said. "None of the boys were glory-hounds . . . everyone wanted to play together.

"And, it was Fekete's influence that caused this feeling. Just knowing that Fekete was an All-American and a local semi-pro team coach made all of the boys want to do better . . . sort of aspire to his heights."

And, Neely ended his dissertation on Fekete's help this year by saying, "it was a privilege to play under him."

Actually, Neely is the smallest boy on the All-City team and he naturally considers it quite an honor.

Neely is 5'8" — just one inch smaller than North High's Vic Shepard who was also named to the squad.

Incidentally, it's Shepard that Neely considers the toughest halfback in the league this season.

This year, City League coaches placed their all-star squad for 1961 in what they term a "more meaningful" proportion —namely, limiting their selections to just 11 of the best football athletes in the league.

This makes a domination more impressive.

As one coach stated, "we've picked the boys who can and often do play both offense and defense with outstanding skill."

This year's "dream team" was dominated, as to be expected, by Coach Bob Stuart's Eastmoor champs.

"There's no doubt that the Warriors were stronger than ever," said Neely. And he should know since he faced them last year.

Neely started his football career last year and played the first two games at fullback. He was then switched to halfback where he's remained and plans to remain.

What things, besides Fekete's influence, accounted for Neely's pick to the all-star squad? He puts it this way:

"I just tried to improve more and more. I made a lot of mistakes that first year and I was careful not to make as many this year. And, I had a fine line in front of me. With all that, if you halfway try, you've got to do something big."

And Neely did do just that. He played in every quarter this past season and had an outstanding yards-per-carry average.

"We had trouble with Central, most of all, I think," he says. "They slowed me down more than any other team. And, Aquinas was no slouch, either."

Boys from West named to the honorable mention squad include:

Jerry Ball, Ed Strutz, Dan Heintz and Dennis Moyer.

REDMAN IS NAMED TO POST AT BLISS

Bliss College President Gerald Wickham announced the appointment of James Redman as athletic director of the college, succeeding the late J. W. Griffin.

Redman, who has served as the Bookkeepers' basketball coach for the last five years, will also remain in that capacity.

Redman is a former Ohio High School principal and coach. He resides with his aunt, Frances Redman, at 1403 W. Third-av.

Completes Army Training Course

Capt. Emmett C. Reese, son of Mr. Sarah R. Reese, 880 Thomas-av, recently completed the air transportability planning course at the Transportation School, Fort Eustis, Va.

Regularly assigned as logistics officer in the 524 Artillery Group Headquarters at Fort Sill, Okla., Captain Reese entered the army in 1940.

He is a 1940 graduate of Gahanna-Lincoln High School and a 1960 graduate of the University of Omaha.

GARLAND EQUIPMENT WINS HORSESHOE HONORS

GARLAND EQUIPMENT CO. team won both the Columbus City League and the Central District League and finished 1st second place in the strong Ohio League recently. The picture shows them receiving another award from Mathew Hill, president of the Columbus Ringers Horseshoe Club, who presented the team with a trophy for the members contributing the most towards the success of the club. From left are Hill, Herb Witter, Clarence Handen, Clinton Hedges, Mel Montgomery and Robert (Midge) Johnson. This team along with Caskey Cleaners and Columbus Tarters—all of the Columbus Ringers Horseshoe Club—will play in the indoor leagues at New Rome and Waverly, Ohio.

Transfers To Mississippi

Airman Third Class James A. Bostic, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Bostic of 4200 Cemetary-rd, Hilliard, is being assigned to the air force technical training course for aircraft mechanics at Keesler AFB, Miss.

Airman Bostic completed the first part of his basic military training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He attended Ohio State University.

TEAMS ARE READY . . .

It's Time For Basketball Around Area School Circles

The sports scene shifts this week from the outdoors to the indoors in area high schools — so, let it snow.

Feature of the first full week's basketball program for high school teams this week in the Hartley Newspapers' area will be the Capital City Open at South on Friday and Saturday nights and the annual Missions Carnival for eight Catholic schools on Saturday night at Hartley High School.

Whitehall opened its season last Tuesday at home against Gahanna. The only game played previously by an area team was Holy Family on Nov. 10.

Marion-Franklin is the first of the City Leaguers to get under way by hosting Franklin Heights Wednesday, Nov. 22. Bexley, also sees action Wednesday.

Academy is scheduled to start on Saturday when Berne Union provides the opposition at the Viking school.

Fr. James Kulp, director of the Missions Carnival of Hartley, Saturday night, met with coaches of the respective teams in his office last Saturday morning and came up with this schedule:

Holy Family vs. St. Mary, 7:15 p.m.; Rosary vs. St. Charles, 7:55. First game losers, 7:55; winners, 8:15. Chillicothe Catholic vs. Watterson, 8:45 p.m.; Hartley vs. Newark Catholic, 9:05. Losers, 9:35, winners, 9:40.

There will be a trophy for the winner in each bracket.

Most of the area teams will play their 18 games on Friday and Saturday nights now that mid-week activity has been curtailed at the request of the various educational groups.

Ten local teams leave the barrier Wednesday night. This is one of the heaviest mid-week cards as there is no school the next day because of Thanksgiving.

Other Activity

Pat Burns and Herb Long had the honor of being elected honorary co-captains of Walnut Ridge's first football team by the school's first letter winners at a Booster Club meeting last Wednesday night.

At Whitehall

Robbie Neutzling, Whitehall athlete who re-injured a shoulder in the game with Worthington, may be lost to the wrestling team for as long as a month.

West Park Is Pace Setter With Ams

West Park Methodist is the pace setter in the South Senior Church League with a 3-0 record after defeating Thurman Methodist, 38-26, in amateur circles.

George Breckenridge of West Park was the top scorer in the game last Tuesday with 14. Bob Secrest of Oakwood tallied 13 as his team took St. John's Elst, 29-26.

George Poppy of St. John's had 10 and Chuck Rice of Thurman nine.

In other action, Clintonville Merchants ran wild against Columbus Art School in a 68-33 victory Tuesday in the Starling Independent at Starling Junior High.

Sunshine Sports, Class Schedule In Full Swing

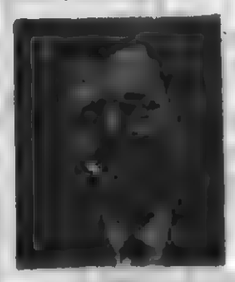
Sunshine Recreation Center's boxing team traveled to Marysville for a boxing tournament other boxing matches were scheduled for Nov. 21 and Dec. 5.

Boys who have not signed up for boxing, wrestling, judo, tumbling or weightlifting may do so at the center.

Children in arts and crafts classes have been painting large cut-outs of pilgrims, Indians and turkeys to use as Thanksgiving decorations around the building.

There is also a display of children's art in the hallway leading to the gymnasium. Classes are held daily at the center, from 3:30 until 5:30 p.m.

Girls in the sewing class have been learning to work electric sewing machines and will begin making aprons. After the aprons are completed, the girls will begin a pattern project.



A piano class is held Tuesdays from 3:30 until 5:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the center. Children are learning the basic fundamentals of piano and music. There are three divisions: beginners, intermediate and advanced.

Ballet classes are held on Fridays, from 4 until 5 p.m., under the direction of Dora Rosenfeld of the Columbus Recreation Department. Any child who is interested should come to the center at that time.

Urban League Makes Plans For School Youth Incentive

As part of its guidance program, the Columbus Urban League, a United Appeal agency, has a youth incentive program entitled Tomorrow's Scientists and Technicians (TST).

Working in conjunction with the schools, they encourage students to remain in school, take math and scientific courses and to prepare themselves for scientific or technical occupations.

By presenting speakers; men and women, who have attained in their fields, and by scheduling field trips to industries and universities, they attempt to show the students definite examples of what can be done. The program is extensive enough to include non-technical and non-scientific fields also, since not everyone will become scientists and technicians.

Some of the careers scheduled thus far include Dental Hygiene, Clinical Psychology, Geology, Physical Therapy, Medical Technology, Social, the Ohio Bell Telephone Company presentation of "Something New Under The Sun" (solar battery), and Oceanography.

Scheduled are trips to the Columbus State School, Children's Psychiatric Hospital, Borden's Moores and Ross Dairy, Ohio Wesleyan University (campus tour, lecture and football game), the Crime Laboratory of the Columbus Police Department, and Central State College.

As a cultural addition, 80 tickets covering the entire series of the Columbus Symphony Youth Concerts, have been purchased.

'62 Dog Tags Go On Sale Friday, Dec. 1

The 1962 dog licenses go on sale Friday, Dec. 1, according to an announcement made by the Humane Society and the county auditor.

A license is required by law for every dog three months of age and older. License fees are $2 for male, spayed female and female dogs; and $10 for a kennel license.

Dog owners who fail to purchase a license may be fined as much as $25 and costs. Unlicensed dogs are stray dogs and can be picked up and impounded as such.

Licenses may be purchased daily in the office of the county auditor in the court house or at the Animal Shelter, 3770 Groveport-pk or by mail, by forwarding the proper fee, a complete description, and a self-addressed, stamped return envelope to the County Auditor at the Court House.

In addition to being licensed, all dogs three months of age and older must be immunized against rabies. Health regulations require the immunization and re-immunization of all dogs every twelve months.

OFFICERS ELECTED

OFFICERS of the Central Point Shopping Center Association have been elected for the coming year. They are: (seated) Lee Dieflin of Krogers, president; and (standing) Dern Schneider of the Ohio National Bank, treasurer; M. C. Marsh of Lowe Brothers Paints, secretary; and Dan Dupler of Zettler Hardware, vice president. The new officers will take office Jan. 1. They will be officially installed in mid-January.

S-W Scout Group Sets Adult Training Dates

Training dates in the Boy Scout Adult Leadership program have been announced by Chuck Ogg, Southwestern District advancement chairman.

A basic training session for adult leaders will begin at 7 p.m. Friday, Dec. 1, at Briggsdale Methodist Church. The two-hour course will be concluded at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 3.

An advanced leadership course will start at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 7, at the church. On Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 9 and 10, an outdoor program will be held at a still to be announced location.

On Dec. 13, the program will feature a discussion of "The Troop Committee"; on Dec. 14, "Advancement"; Dec. 15, "How to Train Junior Leaders in the Patrol Method."

READY CHRISTMAS GIFT BOXES FOR PATIENTS

Council To Help Clear Donations

Mrs. Laura Beach, 483 S. Central, chairwoman of the Welfare Subcommittee of the West Side Neighborhood Council Christmas Clearing House, has stated that the project will try to prevent duplications of giving, match referred families with prospective donors, and encourage unified giving to these families needing assistance in the West Side.

The Clearing House will operate from Dec. 7 through Dec. 18. No referrals will be accepted after the 18, but the house will continue to clear families for West Side organizations through Dec. 22.

Families may be referred by calling CA. 1-7801.

'JUST A LITTLE BIT OF HELP'

Boys Club Means More Than Play; Printing, Mechanic Trade Offered

By Bernie Karako

"He's not a bad kid, just needs a little help to make him a fine young man."

The little man behind the desk in the administration room at the West Side Boys' Club sounded optimistic as he watched the boy disappear down the hallway.

His clothes were a little tattered. He needed a haircut but the surplus helped cover a face that had aged considerably beyond its 17 years. But there was hope for him now.

Ralph Oberleitner, unit director at the club, beamed as he began to explain why.

The club just recently opened classes in automotive mechanics and printing.

"Boys clubs are not just for recreation," Oberleitner hastened. "We're here for guidance more than anything else and now we're going to be able to carry it one step further.

The boys he is trying to reach in the vocational education classes are the ones who need help the most. Some of them are high school dropouts. Others are just not interested in high school.

"If it weren't for this program they'd probably end up digging ditches or even something worse," the one-time horseman confessed, adding, "now they'll have a chance to learn a trade."

It won't be any easier than high school and may be harder but the enthusiasm on the part of the boys taking the training is evidence they are willing to work.

"Everything is done by the book," Oberleitner emphasized. "We start at the bottom and go from there."

Other boys' clubs in the United States have similar programs but this is probably the first such set up in this area. Still, Oberleitner is reluctant to take too much credit for its indoctrination here.

"I certainly haven't revolutionized boys' clubs," he claims modestly. "This is not a new thing but it did take quite a bit of work to get it started."

The antiquated building which housed a produce market and opera house in its 135-year history is cramped for space.

After room was found equipment had to be provided. The Kiwanis, a local automotive supply store and an old printer came to the rescue.

Now three nights a week you can find boys 14 to 18 performing major surgery on a motor or busy setting type and getting the three presses ready to roll.

"Mind you they just don't tear the motor apart and leave it that way," Oberleitner interrupted. A five-pound motor manual will help them reassemble it and make it run.

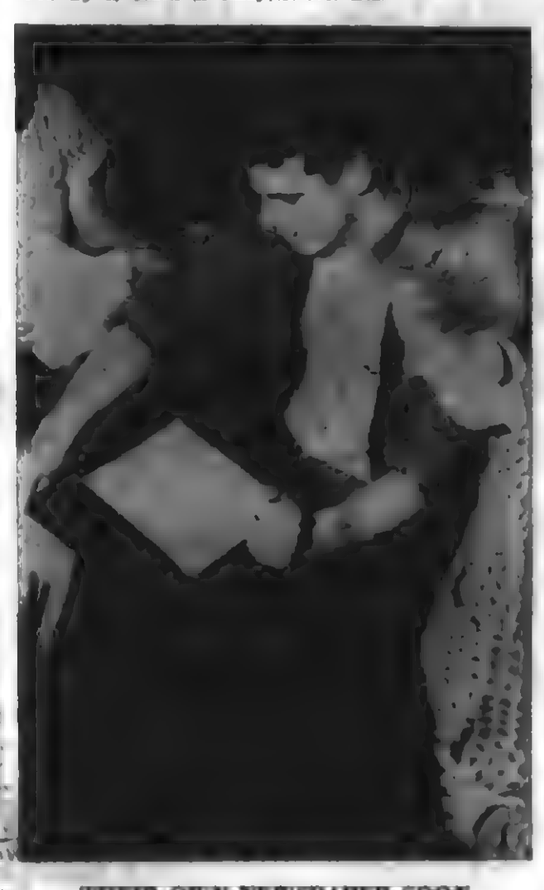
The printing class will eventually turn out a weekly publication for the club. All 600 members of the club will be eligible in a contest to name the paper.

Joe Hannan, a student at Ohio State, is the instructor in both of the courses. He, along with Oberleitner, will help the boys secure jobs once they have completed the course.

The success of the club is a real tribute to Oberleitner, who started his work 13 years ago as a volunteer.

"You try to reach as many kids as you can with different programs and projects," he explained. "You can never get to every boy, but you can sure try."

"We're not interested in the who, what or where on a boy. The only thing that concerns us is that he is a boy."



One of his dreams for the future is a swimming pool. "We could reach another 1,000 kids if we had one," he assured.

That would probably make an already content and happy man 1,000 times happier.

It's only natural it would for a man whose greatest joy is, "seeing a kid who had a bad start come back to me five or six years later with a wife and two cute kids. He doesn't have to even say thanks. It's written all over him."

Police Report Robbery Try

James Johnson, 65, of the Johnson Confectionery, 999 W. Broad-st told police a scar-faced man entered the confectionery and demanded "if you have any money, let me have it." He left empty-handed.

Places First In Contest

First place in the City Recreation Department's shuffleboard contest, in the senior boys' division, was won by Sonny Watson, of the Sullivant Gardens Recreation Center.

Others entered in the competition were Joe Collins, Wayne Holmes, Geraldine Watson, Janie Givens and Pat Russell.

New clubs organized at the center include a teen-age hobby club that is now making book shelves and what-nots as club projects, and a girls' charm club.

Members of the Girls' Junior Leaders Club are Andrea Ownes, Norma Dodley, Karen Masterson, Sharon Reed, Donna Smith and Linda Owens.

GARDEN CUES

Don't lose your evergreens by failing to give them sufficient water before the ground freezes. Give them a good soaking at least two weeks before the first freeze is expected.

Sunshine News Notes

Basketball teams are being organized at Sunshine Recreation Center. Boys and girls in all age groups are urged to contact Mike Coleman at CA. 4-9600. There will be leagues formed in all age groups junior, intermediate and senior.

Sunshine's Boxing Club entertained a lively crowd of 450 fans in an amateur boxing show sponsored by the Jay Cees at Marysville. Sunshine boxers took part in five of the 10 bouts.

Walt Dolder scored a draw in a real slugfest. Glen Pack, Henry Coleman, Everett Holbrook, Bob Murray hammered out decisive victories in other bouts.

Patty Cunningham, 330 S. Souder, came through with a win for Sunshine Recreation Center in City Shuffleboard Tournament and copped the first place ribbon in the intermediate division. Paul "Shorty" Lewis, 330 Bellows, captured the blue ribbon in the junior division, and Pat Hale, 451 W. Chapel-st, received a second place ribbon in the junior division. The finals were held at Glenwood Recreation Center on Thursday, Nov. 17.

A Pre Teen Club is now being reorganized at Sunshine Recreation Center. The Pre-Teeners meet on Fridays from 4:30 until 5:30. The group will plan a special Christmas dance.

Randy Gidley, 261 Skidmore was elected to the Inter Center Teen Council, of all city recreation centers. He will serve in the capacity of recording secretary. Kae Boggess, 775 Bellowsav, is the other member attending monthly meetings.

Joyce Curtis, 248 S. Green-st, has been elected to serve as alternate.

Central Ohio Scout Council Opens Development Drive

To make possible the development of two new camp sections at Greenhills Reservation in Hocking County and to modernize Camp Lazarus in Delaware County, a $750,000 Camp Capital Development Fund drive has been inaugurated by the Central Ohio Boy Scout Council.

The council comprises nine counties, Delaware, Fairfield, Fayette, Franklin, Hocking, Pickaway, Madison and Union, with a membership of 16,268 boys and 6,508 adult leaders.

Frederick W. LeVeque, vice-president of the L.L. LeVeque Company, Inc., has been named general campaign chairman; Robert Terhune, state director of agriculture, vice chairman in charge of district campaigns; and Frederick Stecker, director of community relations at Ohio State, vice-chairman in charge of the initial gifts divisions.

In 1957 the council purchased 1,126 acres in the Hocking Hills with funds from the sale of Scout-O-Rama tickets and from gifts by board members and friends. Since that time the national Scout engineering service has surveyed the site and recommended development of three sections, each of which will accommodate 10 to 15 camping groups. Two of these sections are to be developed immediately.

It was also recommended that Camp Lazarus be renovated. This camp has served since the 1920s when there were only 140 units in the council. Now there are 387 units and space for only 20 per cent of the boys eligible for camping.

Actual camping days have increased from 13,647 in 1951 to 23,263 in 1960.

Portrait Of Mary Thurber On Exhibition

Central Ohio Scout Council Opens Development Drive

To make possible the development of two new camp sections at Greenhills Reservation in Hocking County and to modernize Camp Lazarus in Delaware County, a $750,000 Camp Capital Development Fund drive has been inaugurated by the Central Ohio Boy Scout Council.

The council comprises nine counties, Delaware, Fairfield, Fayette, Franklin, Hocking, Pickaway, Madison and Union, with a membership of 18,268 boys and 6,506 adult leaders.

Frederick W. LeVeque, vice-president of the L.L. LeVeque Company, Inc., has been named general campaign chairman; Robert Terhune, state director of agriculture, vice chairman in charge of district campaigns; and Frederick Stecker, director of community relations at Ohio State, vice-chairman in charge of the initial gifts divisions.

In 1957 the council purchased 1,128 acres in the Hocking Hills with funds from the sale of Scout-O-Rama tickets and from gifts by board members and friends. Since that time the national Scout engineering service has surveyed the site and recommended development of three sections, each of which will accommodate 10 to 15 camping groups. Two of these sections are to be developed immediately.

It was also recommended that Camp Lazarus be renovated. This camp has served since the 1920s when there were only 140 units in the council. Now there are 387 units and space for only 20 per cent of the boys eligible for camping.

Actual camping days have increased from 13,047 in 1951 to 33,363 in 1960.

Portrait Of Mary Thurber On Exhibition

Broad-Central Among Highest In Accidents

W. Broad and Central-av tied with three other intersections in the city having high accident counts from Nov. 1 to 15. Four accidents were recorded by police.

Police Chief George Scholer has asked for increased enforcement on stop sign and speed violations, with special attention to W. Broad, between Washington and Central-avs, from noon until 6 p.m.

Other high-accident spots during the period were Alum Creek and Livingston, Stewart and Parsons, and Hudson and Fourth.

Local Airman Transferred

Assigned to new bases to attend technical training courses following completion of air force basic military training at Lackland AFB, Tex., are two West Columbus airmen.

Going to Keesler AFB, Miss., for technical training as an aircraft mechanic is Airman Basic Larry A. Washburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. Washburn, 3130 Fishinger-rd. A graduate of Hilliard High School, he attended Ohio State University.

Going to Lowery AFB, Colorado, is Airman Basic Frederick C. Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgle C. Peters, 197 Highland-av, for gunnery training equipment specialists course.

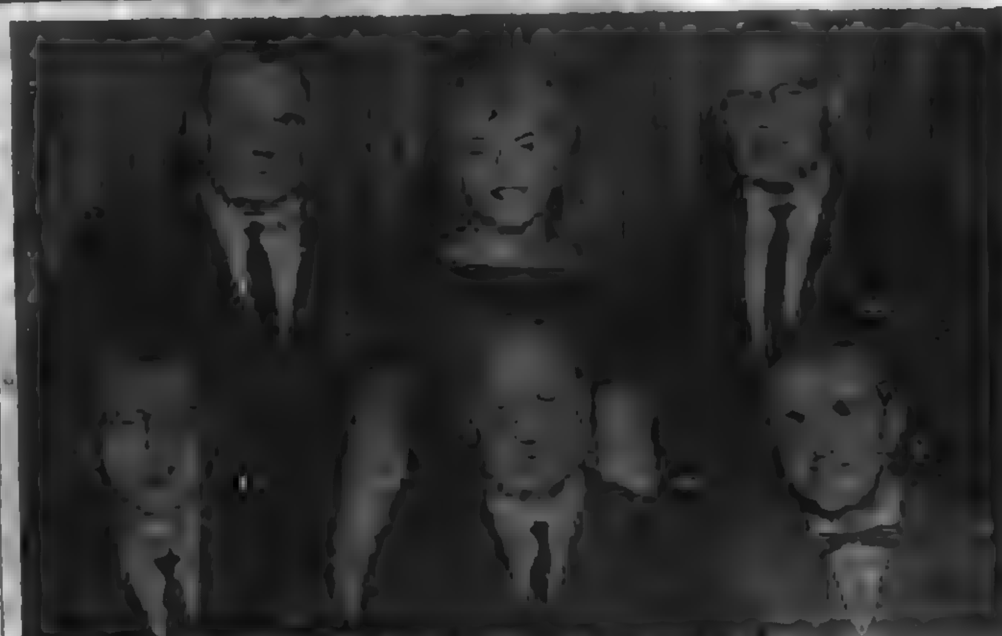
BUSINESS REVIEW

'62 Builders Directors Are Named

Names of the 1962 board of directors of the Home Builders Association of Greater Columbus were revealed today by Cecil K. Rose, president.

Builders named to the board were Charles C. Barr, 1481 Wakefield-ct, East; Neil E. Crabbe, 231 S. Sylvan-av; Clayton K. Jones, 150 W. Beechwold-blvd; Corwin L. Knowles, 3327 Farleigh-rd; Cecil K. Rose, 87 W. Cooke-rd; John E. Sandefur, 3830 Woodbridge-rd; Byron E. Schofield, 3223 Stygler-rd, Gahanna; and Warren E. Wittman, 1501 Moler-rd.

Associate members elected to the governing body include Randall C. Clark, Central Ohio First Mortgage Co., 20 N. High-st; Albert O. Myers, Jr., Myers Surveying Co., 2700 E. Main-st; and J. Richard Stein, Chester A. Smith, Inc., 1330 Norton-av.



$7 Million Post Office To Be Built

Columbus' proposed $7,000,000 Post Office is to be constructed near the Spring-Sandusky Interchange in 1963, according to Postmaster Allen M. Rowe, who said ground for the building is to be broken in the spring of that year.

The building is to have $4½ million worth of the most modern automated machinery for quick mail handling and will include a four story tower for offices in front and a factory type building behind.

All postal facilities now housed in main post office on Marconi-blvd, the Spring-st annex and the Lazelle-st truck terminal will be incorporated in the new central location.

Land for the building was purchased from Sears Roebuck and Co. for $850,000.

HILLTOP BUSINESS LEADERS ELECT

Medical Books Prove Popular; In Demand At Hilltonia Library

Medical scientists are approaching major breakthroughs in control and cure of our most costly diseases and books at the Hilltonia Branch Library about these advances provide fascinating reading and circulate constantly, according to librarians.

One of the most recent accounts of medical progress is "Medicine Today" which surveys the important medical advances of the past decade.

Other books published in recent years include "Modern Medical Discoveries," "Milestones of Medicine," "Modern Medical Discoveries," and "Men of Medicine." Medicine's long history is described in such books as "Before We Sleep," and "Men Against Death." The Wonderful World of Medicine" is an illustrated version of medicine's history.

The history of surgery, which in many cases parallels medical advances, is told in the recent book, "The Century of the Surgeon."

Numerous books have been published which describe advances made in the treatment of individual diseases.

A flood of books has come from publishers on heart disease, including "What We DO Know About Heart Attacks," "You Can Increase Your Heart Power," and "90 Days to a Better Heart" and others.

Other diseases are discussed in books available.

NOMA Executive Director Here

Columbus Chapter of the National Office Management Association will meet Nov. 28 at the Fort Hayes Hotel.

Principal speaker will be W. T. Cavanaugh, national executive director of the International NOMA from Willow Grove, Pa., who will discuss "How NOMA's Headquarters Serves the Individual Member."

To Hear Decorator

Westgate CCL will meet Monday, Nov. 27, at 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Elwood Beaver, with co-hostess, Mrs. Donald Bender.

Mr. Wones of Glick's Furniture Store, will speak on interior decorating.

THE BEST TIME TO BUY A HOME IS NOW. The best place is C. V. Perry & Company's Ridgewood.

Best time is now, because you have a wide choice, and the builders want to reduce inventory to get started for the big spring market. Thus you get the benefit of their willingness to talk business NOW.

Ridgewood is the best place, of course, if you're looking in the $24,000 to $34,000 range.

It's just a mile North of Fishinger, West of the beautiful Scioto on Dublin Road. It's far away from city noise and traffic, yet only 18 minutes from downtown. It has wide, deep lots, full water, sewer and gas service. Two minutes from school, also.

And the variety of homes is amazing. Twenty-three builders offer you ranches, split levels, bi-levels, Cape Cods and two stories. Choose from modern, contemporary or traditional styling. Choose three, four or five bedrooms. All homes have two or more baths, fireplace, attached garage, modern kitchens. Most have family rooms.

Financing is the best in Ridgewood, with 75% or better loans. Or you can make things easier with a trade. Dozens of the 150 Ridgewood residents have done it. So can you. Or if you wish, we'll build your new house while we're selling yours.

With buying so easy, and so right, in Ridgewood, why be satisified any longer with your too-small home? Drive to Ridgewood and see for yourself. All homes are open daily 1 - 7.

MEMBERS of Westgate Methodist Church will mark the anniversary of the congregation, now 20 years old, and of the building, occupied in 1955, with a banquet Dec. 7.

Westgate Congregation Nears Twentieth Anniversary Date

Congregation of Westgate Methodist Church will celebrate its 20th anniversary with a birthday banquet Dec. 7 and worship service the following Sunday, Dec. 10.

First service of the newly formed congregation was in progress when news of the attack on Pearl Harbor was flashed around the world.

The week also marks the anniversary of the church building at 345 S. Brinker-av. Members met in the music room at West High until the structure was finished in 1955. Lower level was completed in 1959.

Rev. Norman L. Schreiber, minister of Westgate from 1948 until 1959, will preach the anniversary sermon Sunday, Dec. 10, during a unified service of worship beginning at 10:30 a.m.

Honored guests at the banquet, to be held in Fellowship Hall, include denomination officials, former ministers and their families and the 180 charter members. Anyone wishing to attend may make reservations at the church office by Monday, Dec. 4.

Attending will be Rev. James F. Lorens, instrumental in starting the church, and Rev. George J. Taylor, pastor from 1953 to 1956.

Present and former superintendents of the Columbus District will speak briefly.

Rev. C. J. Everson is now minister of Westgate.

Chairmen of the committee on anniversary arrangements is Mrs. Mary Biegler, assisted by Mrs. Paul Pontius, Miss Winifred Colebeck, Vernon Chute, Walter Cochran and Rev. Everson.

Membership in the church has grown to almost 1300.

Santa Visit Scheduled December 3

Paraders To Start At 1 p.m.; Will Tour All Of West Side

For the fifth straight year West Siders are going to get a good sneak preview of Santa Claus, right in their own front yards.

The grand old man in whiskers will occupy the spot of honor in a parade next Sunday, Dec. 3, that will sweep through every major street of the near West Side.

As in the past, Santa will help the West Side Kiwanians publicize their house-to-house Christmas newspaper sale, set for the evening of Friday, Dec. 8.

A police escort will start the Santa caravan from Sunshine Recreation Center at 1 p.m. Sunday. Perched in the top of a float consisting of a little house with oversized chimney, Santa will toss hundreds of pounds of candy to the kiddies in the streets.

He will be assisted by Kiwanians riding in a Model T Ford, a motorized Surrey and a sign-toting van. Police sirens will herald the approach of the paraders into each street. Heading north on McDowell, they will go to Broad, then thread back and forth on the streets south of Broad to the city limits. After reaching Central they will cross to the north of Broad and, beginning at Schultz-av, will travel all streets to the east.

Kiwanis Club President Jack Williams is parade chairman, assisted by Ted Kientz. Vehicles will be furnished by John F. Ivory Co., Klentz Cut Stone and Frank Watts. A force of about 20 men has been recruited to help.

Papers Finance Club Work

The local service club publishes a Christmas newspaper every year to finance its community betterment projects. First editions of the papers will be auctioned to fellow members and prominent business people at noon Wednesday, Dec. 6, at Chicago Avenue Christian Church. On the following Friday night, starting at 6 o'clock, more than 6,000 papers will be offered to local residents who wish to contribute to the club's work.

Gladden Community House will be headquarters for 125 volunteer "adult newsboys."

More Than Hundred Enter Contest

Have you entered the Joe-A-Jingle Contest?

More than 100 readers of the Christmas Gift Guide on the Classified page sent in entries early this week. Some are sending in more than one entry, in hopes of snaring one of the nice prizes.

Remember the rules. Consult the Gift Guide and take four or more complete lines (each from a different ad if you wish) and combine them to form your jingle.

The first-week winners of $5, $3 and $2 merchandise certificates will be announced next week. You still have time to enter this week's contest and three more to follow. Get busy!

Yule Basket Clearing House Will Open Dec. 7 At Gladden

Details of the Christmas Clearing House plan for the West Side were announced this week by the area's Neighborhood Council.

Designed to help agencies and individuals with their Christmas basket giving, the project is aimed at locating needy families and preventing duplicate giving. The work is being co-ordinated with the Christmas Bureau of the United Community Council.

"In this way we hope to take care of as many worthy cases in our neighborhood as possible," said Mrs. Laura Beach, chairman of the council's welfare sub-committee. Mrs. Beach issued the following facts in a letter to many prospective givers:

Dates For Clearing—December 7, 8, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 18. (Any clearing following Dec. 19 should be directly with Gladden Community House, CA. 1-7901.)

Time and Place—The clearing house will operate in office space provided at Gladden House, Hawkes and Town-st, from 1 to 3 p.m. on designated days. The Gladden secretary also will be available to help from 9 to 5:30 p.m.

Clearing—Organization representatives are asked to clear all families to be assisted. They will be notified if duplications do exist. The giving group is held responsible for establishing the needs of those who are to be helped.

Referrals—The committee will receive all referrals from any West Sider concerning needy

Gift Caravan Due Dec. 5 At Columbus State Hospital

At 10 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 5, caravans from 13 counties will arrive at the Columbus State Hospital to bring gifts for the patients.

Gifts are brought in at the early date so patients can enjoy wrapping and preparing boxes for Christmas distribution. However, gifts may be deposited at the hospital's recreation office in the Administration office (north of Broad-st) or at Swan Cleaners any day from now on.

A list of items needed by the 2,000 Columbus and Franklin County patients can be obtained by calling CA. 8-4344.

Easy to Spel, Hard to Sel

New York Journal-American columnist, Doug Welch, reported on the "finest business letter" story related to him by a prominent business consultant.

"Dear Boss: I seen this outfit which they ain't never bought a dime's worth of nothin from us and I sole them a cuple hundred thousand dollars worth of guds. I am now going to Chicago."

Two days later a second letter arrived at the home office:

"I cum hear and I sole them a half a milyon," it said.

Both letters were posted on the bulletin board with a note appended by the company president:

"We been spending too much time hear trying to spel, instead of trying to sel. Let's watch those sails I want everybody should read these letters from Gooch who is on the rode doing a grate job for us, and you should go out and do like he done."

Less Slow Loss

Government in Space

We have long contended that this country would have been well ahead of the Russians in the matter of exploration of space had we connected from the beginning to turn the job over to private industry rather than leave it to the government.

Now that we have advanced well along the road and are about to put up a satellite for the purpose of expanding world-wide communications there has been an interesting development.

Private industry, the communications industry of this country, has agreed with the government to develop the project and has made arrangements with the government for same.

This is a refreshing change in the first place because the private industry says it has the money for the job and for a change the taxpayers would not have to foot the bill.

And about time when everything seems to be in order for us to have a good first hand look at what private industry could and would do with a project of this magni-

Burgess To Present Pageant At Linmoor

For the third consecutive year "The Christmas story," presented in pageantry, narration, drama and color, will be given by Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church Sunday, Dec. 10, 8 p.m. at Linmoor Junior High School auditorium, 2001 Hamilton-av, south of Hudson-av.

Written by Rev. Irvin E. Lane, pastor of Burgess Avenue, the pageant was first presented in Portsmouth in 1949.

It was presented for the first time in Columbus in 1959 in John Burrough School auditorium, before a standing room only audience.

In 1960, it was again presented, that time at Hilltonia Junior High School.

Sponsoring the invitation to present the pageant this year is the East Linden EUB Church, with Rev. Delbert Krumm, pastor.

Several other EUB churches co-operating, and their congregations will attend.

The fully costumed cast of 75 includes 10 with acting parts, six vocalists, one organist, members from the Junior, Youth and Senior Choirs, an ensemble and a narrator.

Junior and Youth Choir members will furnish an early pre-processional and angel voices to be used throughout the pageant. An ensemble will usher the wise men to the scene and vocalists also come from the youth department.

While youth groups furnish the major part of choir voices and some acting, young adults and older adults furnish the talent for acting parts and serve as directors and chairmen.

Mrs. Karl Wegar is pageant director.

Public is invited to attend. There is no admission charge, but a free-will offering will be taken to defray expenses.

Mistake Seen As Factor In Boy Shooting

Misinterpretation of a hunting law contributed to the serious wounding Friday of Victor Lins, 16, of 276 S. Harris-av, according to Sheriff's Sgt. Fred Snouffer, who investigated.

When Gary Littleton, 15, of 328 N. Harris-av, snapped the gun shut at the breech, it fired, according to sheriff's reports.

The pair was hunting in a wooded area near McKinley-av and Harper-rd with a third boy, Dick Darling, 14, of 2731 [illegible]-av.

The boys' parents told Sgt. Snouffer they allowed the trio to go hunting after a sporting goods employe told them it was legal if one was 16 or older. The state law prohibits hunting by anyone under 18 unless accompanied by an adult.

Sgt. Snouffer, who ruled the shooting accidental, said any youthful hunting party with a member under 18 must be accompanied by an adult.

CENTRAL BOOSTERS MEET

Central High School Boosters Club will meet Monday, Dec. 4, 7:30 p.m. at the school. Richard Kettell is president of the group.

Westsider To Celebrate Life's 102 Milestone

By Betty Dahl

All the wonders of the second century of her life, so far removed from her childhood in Kentucky, are as fully enjoyed and appreciated by Mrs. Garrison as they are by her great-grandchildren.

Good health and an active inquiring mind keep her horizons world-wide. She reads extensively, listens regularly to news broadcasts, discusses politics with understanding and votes regularly.

Councilwoman Mrs. Golda Mae Edmonston personally brings absentee ballots to her home.

Mrs. Garrison keeps in close touch with her family of five living children, eight grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren and eight great-great-grandchildren.

She writes to those not living close by, sometimes two or three

Mother Waits Washington Word About Fate Of Missing Soldier

Waiting for Washington to end her watch.

That is Mrs. Lena Matthews, of 271 N. Algonquin-av, whose son, Sgt. Orville Roger Ballenger, 27, of Columbus, missing in action in Laos, was captured by the pro-Communist Laotian rebels, according to Soviet-bloc newsmen.

His mother, wife of Luther (Duke) Matthews, has been waiting since Friday for State Department information about the fate of her son. The last official word she had about him was received from the U.S. Army that Orville was missing in action or had been captured May 1.

"There ought to be some way," she cried, "to be able to find out whether he is living or dead. I don't have any word from Washington."

Ballenger, a Central High School graduate, was one of four American military advisers with Royal Laotian forces at Vang Vieng which was overrun by rebels last Apr. 23.

Communist correspondents said last week that a reporter for the official Communist Party newspaper, Pravda, saw Sgt Ballenger in Red-held territory shortly after he was reported missing.

Ballenger was married about seven years ago in Japan to a Japanese girl, Miyoko, who lists her address now as Spring Lake, N.C.

CHARITY NEWSIES READY FOR CAMPAIGN!

Memo: "Picture Your Home Frontier" for the 1962 Roundup Art Exhibit should be considered by each area troop in all age groups. Girls in each troop will select six pictures to go to the neighborhood. Troop selection will be held in January, 1962. The pictures may depict historic spots or activities, civic or commercial places or enterprises, anything that says, "this is Ohio Trefoil territory."

Any graphic media may be used: painting — oil, tempera, water color; prints—blocks, etchings; photographs — black and white or color (no transparencies); drawings — charcoal, pencil, crayon, chalk, or scratchboard.

Hilltonia Library Has Family Fun Book Rush

As long winter evenings provide additional opportunities for families to be together, the Hilltonia Branch Library has been having a rush of requests in recent weeks for suggestions about family fun.

According to librarians, there are numerous books which have practical ideas for home entertainment, games, stunts, puzzles, magic, and other activities for the entire family.

Especially helpful they say is the "Giant Book of Family Fun and Games."

Seldom on the shelf long are such additional volumes as "Family Fun and Activities"; "The Complete Family Fun Book," and "Omnibus of Fun" and "The Family Fun Book."

Suggestions for games, a perennial problem, are given in "Games for All Ages and How To Use Them"; "The Cilesbury Game Book"; Complete Book of Games and Stunts"; "Giant Book of Games"; "Easy Games for Youngsters"; "Treasury of Games and Puzzles"; and "More New Games for 'Tween-agers."

Instruction handbooks are also available on checkers, chess, gin rummy, bridge, and various other card games.

"And I thought I was a good driver..."

A really good driver never takes anything for granted! Every driver should expect the unexpected and be prepared to react fast. Quick thinking in a pinch is a lifesaver. So don't take anything for granted. Overconfidence can dull the sharpest reflexes. Many of the 37,000 people killed on our highways last year might still be alive if good drivers never relied on chance. Drive as though your life depended on it—it does!

tude, along comes that same old liberal socialistic element that sets the wheels in motion to turn the matter over to the government.

While America appears to be taking a new look at this matter of communism and socialism it appears we have no better opportunity to demonstrate our desire for the preservation of our system than through the encouragement to industry to get into the act rather than develop another major tenacle on this already overgrown octupus, the federal government.

It is time for Americans to stand up and demand that the field of space communications should not become a government project.

Your Youth

By Hilltop YMCA Staff

Several new programs have started in the past few weeks at the Hilltop YMCA. New program brochures are available at the "Y" outlining all winter programs.

A Youth Coin Club has been organized and is meeting each Monday evening at 7 at the "Y". This group is open to all boys and girls who have an interest in coins and are members of the "Y". It offers an opportunity to trade coins and learn something as to their history and values.

Saturday morning physical skills classes were started at Westmoor Jr. High School gym two weeks ago. The mornings are divided into three sessions with eight and nine year-old boys meeting from 9 to 10 a.m.; ten and 11 year old boys from 10 to 11 a.m., and all boys over 11 from 11 to 12. Throughout the year, courses will be offered in basketball, wrestling and tumbling. Several openings remain in the 8-9 and over 11 groups. In order to be eligible a parent must register their son at the "Y" office.

Four new Indian Guide tribes are now in operation as a result of the recent promotion. It is hoped that additional tribes might be formed from fathers who have boys between the ages of six and nine. Further information is available at the Hilltop "Y".

Annual Hilltop YMCA Jr. Hi-Y Induction and Installation was held last night at the "Y". Members of Hilltonia, Westmoor and West Jr. Hi-Y Clubs took part. Advisors for this year's clubs are Phil Pool, Frank Caron and John Reed at Westmoor; Cliff Everett and George Kosbab at Hilltonia; and Art Boles at West. Rev. James Dunaway, assistant minister of Glenwood Methodist Church, was the principal speaker.

The "All-Day-at-the-'Y'" program normally scheduled for the first Saturday of each month, will be held Dec. 9 and not this week. This activity is open to all boys and girls five years of age and older and runs from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

The Hilltop Y's Men's Club will begin its annual Christmas Tree Sale, Dec. 9, at the "Y", 2879 Valleyview-dr. This year only one lot will be operated. Club members are now selling advance tickets which are redeemable at the lot. All proceeds from this sale are used to benefit the youth members of the Hilltop "Y".

Funeral Set Friday For Effie Wright, 86

Funeral services will be held Friday, Dec. 1 at Schoedingers Hilltop Chapel at 2 p.m. for Mrs. Effie Wright, 86, 27 N. Westmoor-av," with interment at Sunset Cemetery. She died Monday at home.

Survivors are her daughters, Roy and Emma, both of Columbus, Mrs. Floyd Shoemaker, Milford Center and sons, Frank of Columbus, Lloyd of Circleville and Ralph of Circleville.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

Praises Hilltop U-A Response

To The Editor:

This year United Appeal showed a significant increase in its neighborhood business and residential solicitation. We are convinced that the information and interpretation made possible through the "Hilltop Record" was instrumental in helping realize the improved results on the Hilltop.

Overall the 1961 campaign, in attaining over 99 per cent of its goal, raised nearly five per cent more than last year. Since this was done with no greater employment than last year, it means that the effect of the interpretation that you helped make possible was a deciding factor.

United Appeal is deeply indebted to you for your continued interest.

Yours sincerely,
E. D. Bivens,
1961 Campaign Chairman.

Question: How Do You Rate As A Citizen In A Democracy?

In a time when opinion polls and self-evaluation questionnaires are at the peak of their popularity, we have come across one that seems particularly outstanding.

Called the "Citizenship Quotient," it has been used as part of the service programs of Kiwanis International during 1961.

It's of value not only to Kiwanians, but also to all other Americans as well, we believe.

The following 20 statements are not meant to be all inclusive. They do, however, suggest a method by which each of us can get some indication of his "CQ"—his Citizenship Quotient.

Rate yourself by giving your frank and honest reaction to each statement. Select the answer that, in your best judgment, represents your own reaction at the present time—

*1. I am active in projects and organizations set up to better my community.
——— Yes. ——— To some degree ——— I have little time for such activities.

——— Yes. ——— Relatively so. ——— I am very busy with my job.

3. I am active in the political party of my choice.
——— Yes. ——— To some degree. ——— Politics are not for me.

*4. I take a keen interest in matters brought before my state or provincial legislature.
——— Yes. ——— I'm passively interested. ——— I seldom ever read about such matters.

5. What happens in Congress or Parliament concerns me greatly.
——— Yes. ——— To a limited degree. ——— I pay little if any attention.

6. I am vitally interested in and concerned about who the candidates are for local community offices.
——— Yes. ———I'm interested in a limited way. ——— It really matters little to me.

7. I let my representatives know my opinion on proposed legislation.
——— Yes. ——— Sometimes. ——— I have never contacted any representative.

*8. I have voted at every election since I became eligible.
——— Yes. ——— Almost every one. ——— I vote when I can conveniently.

9. The church of my choice receives my constant support by attendance, gifts, and service.
——— Yes. ——— To a limited degree. ——— I seldom if ever involve myself in church affairs.

10. I believe that children should have the best religious instruction possible in preparation for life.
——— Yes. ——— It's probably important. ——— I pay little attention to such matters.

11. I apply the highest moral and ethical principles in my daily living.
——— Yes. ——— Most of the time. ——— I let each situation take care of itself.

12. I feel that a man in public life should be above reproach.
——— Yes. ——— Within reason. ——— Public servants are not expected to always measure up.

13. I rebel against false and misleading advertising.
——— Yes. ——— Once in awhile. ——— False advertising doesn't bother me.

14. I always demonstrate that safe driving is my "Code of the Road."
——— Yes. ——— Sometimes I am too much in a hurry. ——— I give safety little thought.

*15. I understand what is meant by "free enterprise," and I can explain it to anyone.
——— Yes. ——— To some degree. ——— I am not very well informed.

16. What happens to my tax dollar is of extreme importance to me. I earned it.
——— Yes. ——— To some degree. ——— I'm too busy making money to worry about how "they" spend it.

17. I am alarmed about the inroads of Communism and I am actively supporting efforts to expose it.
——— Yes. ——— Possibly. ——— I am not much concerned.

18. I take a vital interest in all matters of education.
——— Yes. ——— To a limited degree. We hire school leaders to do this job.

19. I am, have been, or am willing to be involved in public service.
——— Yes. ——— I might. ——— I can't afford to be involved.

20. I consider that the success of a democracy depends upon the interest and concern of each citizen.
——— Yes. ——— To some degree, I suppose. ——— Let those elected run the government.

You had your "ideal" citizen in mind—consciously or unconsciously — as you made your own frank personal appraisal. How you measured up to that "ideal" indicates to you your "CQ."

If you take these 20 representative statements and think of a very effective citizen in a democracy, he probably would rate between 85 and 95 points, giving five points for the frank "Yes" and three points for the second answer. Claim one point for the third answer to statements marked with an asterisks*.

Perhaps the average citizen, measured by the ideal, would rate himself between 60 and 70. Our community, our nation, yes, our way of life in a free society, will not long exist on just the interest and concern of the "average" citizen.

Our community, its youth, the institutions, the elected leadership, the safety, yes, the forward reach of every generation does not just happen. It is a product of citizenship. You are a part of it—either helping or hindering — How do you rate yourself?

Hunters Reporting Fewer Pheasants; Still Plenty Of Time To Stalk Rabbits

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

With the upland game hunting season well under way, it might be time to take stock and examine the prospects for the remainder of the season.

Most hunters in this area whom I have talked to have been finding what the Division of Wildlife predicted — fewer pheasants than last year. But those gunners with dogs who arranged early for places to hunt have been doing reasonably well. In years like this a trained dog often means the difference between success and failure.

What about the rest of the pheasant season? Good bets will be public hunting areas. The heat will be off. In other words, hunters will not be out in great numbers. Thanksgiving Day signaled the end of most of the hunting pressure for this year.

In addition, the Division of Wildlife continues to stock these areas with birds, and moderate hunting success will continue throughout the season.

Public Area Near Orient

The nearest public area is the new Franklin-Pickaway 900-acre tract near Orient. The division leased hunting privileges from the owner, and a free map of the area may be obtained at 1500 Dublin-rd, Columbus 12. Opening day pressure was heavy here, but not as bad as some expected. Birds are being reported at the present time.

The Delaware Dam area, north of Delaware, has attracted hunters from this vicinity for several years. Those who go on the first day and first Saturday, must expect to hunt in a crowd. After that, one may wander all over the place and meet only a handful of hunters.

The rabbit situation thus far seems to indicate that cottontails are spotty in their distribution. My experience has been that if you can jump five or six rabbits in a morning, you are in a good area.

A long rabbit season still stretches ahead of us, and best places to hunt will be those with the most cover. As winter progresses and snow beats down the light cover, rabbits move to more substantial stuff — dense, woody vegetation. You will have to stomp them out of briar tangles and brush piles.

The best advice I can give you regarding hunting the rest of the season will not do you any good this year. When game is a little difficult to find, a trained dog is the hunter's best friend. If you want to get more fun out of hunting, make an early New Year's resolution and get a dog. Next year this time you'll be glad you did.

To Hire Comes Under Fire

The practice of hiring high school students to work in retail stores has stirred some controversy over the new minimum wage law. Both management and labor are protesting regulations dealing with students hired by large retail outlets that have come under federal wage-and-hour control for the first time.

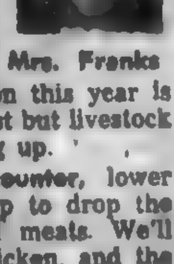
The labor department has decided tentatively that youngsters 14 through 18 can be hired for 85 cents an hour —provided they are full-time students who have not graduated. Labor groups say this provision gives employers a loophole to "chip away" at the new $1-per-hour minimum wage for large retail outlets that took effect Sept. 3.

The government ruling says that the number of students hired at 85 cents an hour by any establishment cannot exceed the number employed a year ago, or 10 per cent of the over-all work force.

Management says the federal restrictions on the number of students that can be hired are too severe, especially for grocery stores and supermarkets.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

Good Supply Of Food Is Seen For Winter



By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Vegetables — Potatoes, cabbage, broccoli, snap beans, lettuce, turnips.

Fruits and Nuts — Grapefruit, juice oranges, apples, pecans.

Mrs. Franks

The abundance of food you now find in supermarkets will continue for December and the winter months that follow. In fact, marketing specialists say we will have just as much fruit and even more poultry and eggs. Crop production this year is about the same as last but livestock production is moving up.

At the meat counter, lower pork prices will help to drop the average price of all meats. We'll still have lots of chicken, and the prices may be lower than last year. Turkey should be a special bargain with 25 per cent more birds available. And there will be plenty of eggs at slightly lower prices.

Beef will be plentiful, about two to four per cent more than last year's large supply for the same period, the American Meat Institute estimates. More of the meat now comes from fed cattle which means the supply of high quality beef available will insure a satisfying selection.

The supply of fresh vegetables may be smaller this winter, but there'll be plenty of canned and frozen vegetables. Potatoes are the exception among the fresh vegetables. Fresh potatoes will be in large supply and at lower prices. With supplies now coming from storage, prices may advance slightly but low prices appear in order for the next several months. Sweet potatoes are in good supply and prices fairly low. They are kiln dried now, which means they have better storage quality than the earlier fall ones.

Local produce also comes into the picture, for Ohio and our northern neighbors are supplying a good volume of squash, cabbage, turnips, parsnips and potatoes. Some cauliflower, beets, egg plant, peppers, spinach, carrots and dry onions are also available from these areas. From Ohio greenhouses, we're getting tomatoes, leaf and Bibb lettuce, endive, escarole and radishes.

So far this year, cash registers have been ringing up a two per cent increase in retail prices over last year. But lower pork, poultry and egg prices for the rest of the year probably will drop the total cost of food slightly during the next few months.

So, with big supplies and favorite prices in prospect, food will continue to be a bargain.

Catholic Youth Grateful

To The Publisher:

On behalf of the members of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Youth in the 23-county Diocese of Columbus, I wish to express our sincere appreciation for the assistance you gave to us in our promotion of National Catholic Youth Week, Oct. 30 through Nov. 5.

We definitely feel that through your contribution our Catholic Youth Week programs, such as the Youth-in-Government Day, and the Annual Diocesan Holy Hour and Youth Rally, were a success.

Gratefully Yours,
William J. Huhn,, President
Diocesan Council of Catholic Youth

Here's the Answer

ONE MAN'S Opinion . . .

. . . Spirit Of '76!?

Well now, just for the sake of confusion, there is yet another battle being waged between the "super patriots" and the 'patriots' (I think most of us fall in the latter category).

Gregg

This particular hassle has developed over the "Spirit of '76" law requiring that Communism be taught in the public schools, but only after some preliminary courses in American Government.

The newest group of patriots-in-search-of-a-cause think they have found one in insisting that the "teach Americanism first" clause in the law means that school children learn about evil (Communism) too late in their young careers.

Such an idea is really quite revolutionary for us all, since evil and its representatives have traditionally been left out of our educational system entirely.

Now don't misunderstand me; the concern over evil, whether it be communism or sin, is very commendable, and a heartening thing to see. The problem in this particular case however, is not so much the presence of evil as it the lack of good. Because of the "threat," most Americans already understand much more about the theory and aims of Communism than they do about Democracy.

The cold war is at bottom a war of ideas, and just learning about the other fellow's idea can have only one of two results. We either accept his idea or we shake in fear of it. Neither course offers us any weapon against it.

It stands to reason that a schoolchild with a bungling knowledge of Communism and the prevalent void about Democracy to be found in most of his elders, would be a very dangerous individual.

To say it all in one breath, it would seem our lack of faith in Democracy itself as a weapon (perhaps fostered by our lack of knowledge) has given us a fear so great that we disregard our strongest weapon.

Oh, there is some cry about the fact that school courses should be decided upon by educators rather than politicians, but this seems more like a harrying action than a real point of argument. The schools, and the politicians as our representatives, have a responsibility to the people which cannot be denied or ignored.

The Akron school board will ask for a revision of the 'Spirit of '76,' probably in the form of a resolution in the next legislature. There isn't too much hope for its passing though. The belief in Democracy is still too strong.

—Taylor Gregg

SHOPPER'S FEET

About this time of year, thousands of women go out for an athletic marathon called Christmas shopping. An athlete about to take on a grilling work-out like this would spend weeks of preparation, building up muscles and getting ready.

Not so, our poor house-wife who puts on a pair of pointed toed, high heeled pumps and walks ten or, fifteen miles up and down store aisles. No wonder she can't wait to get home to kick off her shoes and rub her abused tootsies.

A little foot care before would save a lot of this suffering. Start, before you go shopping take a fairly warm foot bath, rinse with cold water, rub your feet briskly with a coarse towel and then massage foot creme or cocoa butter into your feet and ankles. Get out your pretty shoes and look at them . . . then put them back in the closet.

Wear comfortable walking oxfords with medium or low heels and round toes for shopping. You can avoid "Shopper's Feet". Listen to HARRY GRAHAM, The Foot Counselor on WVKO, 1580 on your dial, Mon., Wed., and Fri., at 9:25 A.M.

Kinder Key Asks Groups To Carol

Groups from throughout the Columbus area are preparing to participate in the eighth annual Kinder Key Christmas caroling program, to be held Dec. 12 and 13 this year. Mrs. R. O. Foster is project chairman for the group this year.

Kinder Key is a non-profit women's organization, devoting time and effort to the Heart Diagnostic Center at Children's Hospital.

This past month the group realized the value of its eight years of work when the Kinder Key Heart Laboratory at Children's Hospital was officially dedicated.

New groups are constantly encouraged to form and become a part of the caroling project. Anyone interested in forming a group is invited to call Mrs. Dan F. Palmer, AM. 3-7735, for details on procedure.

Literary Club Marks 25th Anniversary

Thursday Literary Club celebrated its 25th anniversary with a dinner party at the Maramor Restaurant Friday, Nov. 17.

The club was organized in November, 1936. Meetings are held the fourth Thursday of every month and the programs consist of a study of countries, their people and customs; current events, book reviews, art, music and religion.

In memory of two deceased members, Rose Endters and Evelyn Wirth Karn, money is donated to the cancer fund and gifts given to the State Hospital at Christmas.

The four charter members are Elizabeth Wirth, Ruth Hughes, Virginia Wilcox and Helen Bausch.

Officers are: president, Elizabeth Wirth; vice-president and secretary, Marie Girbert; treasurer, Martha Belle Lehnert; librarian, Mildred Eberhard.

Five-Second Exercise Suggested

If doing daily exercises is not your forte, here is a simple exercise to [illegible] and strengthen the muscles.

You will probably recognize it as the army sergeant's basic command to his raw recruits although expressed here in more elegant terms:

Stand up straight with shoulders back. Pull in your stomach, tighter and tighter as if trying to touch your backbone. Hold it only a moment, and then let go!

This few seconds of intense effort is worth more than several minutes of half-hearted exercises. Try it, at every opportunity—while waiting to cross the street, or at the check-out counter in the supermarket.

Plan Ball Diamonds To Replace Vet Housing

Ball diamonds to replace three veterans housing developments on city-owned land are being planned to increase the city's recreational facilities, according to N. J. Barack, city recreation director.

Barack said that plans include ball diamonds at Central-McKinley housing development, now being cleared, at Maryland Park where only one of eight buildings remains occupied and at Southview, where the city owns 126 acres of land.

This includes the 38 acres south of Stimmel-rd acquired last August. There are already 16 ball diamonds on the site.

Officials at the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority said that Greenlawn, once housing 334 families is closed to new occupants and now has only 39 families still living in the buildings.

M. L. Hoffman, general manager of the housing authority, said that families have been leaving the projects for several years buying properties or relocating in rental properties elsewhere.

families here and will attempt to find a donor group. The clearing house itself will not have resources directly available to supply gift baskets.

Area—Any individual or family in the area bounded by Stimmel-rd on the south, the river on the north and east and Central-av on the west. The only exception is Riverside Homes project, which will be handled by Friendship House.

Information—Further details may be learned by calling Mrs. Fred Green at Gladden or Mrs. Beach at BR. 9-7268.

Is Promoted To Captain

Capt. Winston Hawley

Winston A. Hawley, son of Mrs. Harry Graham, 3253 Stephen-dr, S., was promoted to captain in the Strategic Air Force, Oct. 15. Capt. Hawley is a graduate of West High School and Ohio University, and a member of the 4133rd Strategic Wing as navigator of KC 135 jet tankers.

He is married and has a three-year-old son, Ronnie, and is at present stationed at Grand Forks AFB, Grand Forks, N.D.

Seaman Mollett On Navy Carrier

Kenneth W. Mollett, seaman apprentice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lisa Mollett, of 28 N. Princeton-av, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Independence, now on duty with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

The ship recently visited Cannes, France for six days and is scheduled to return to its Norfolk, Va., home port in mid-December.

letters a day, and worries about the ones who don't answer promptly.

Nothing is misplaced in Mrs. Garrison's life — her room and clothing is kept in careful order and her memory is astounding in detail.

A story about a neighbor and an event is recalled with clarity, told unhesitatingly and with humor, and with the casual remark that "it happened 80 years ago."

"I eat only what I want, and what I feel I need, and haven't had a drop of coffee since I was 60. I take care of myself and I don't need doctors," is Mrs. Garrison's simple formula for her surprising health.

A resident of the Dana-av house of Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Gehring for most of the past 20 years, she calls the neighborhood "home," and is contented there.

During the Gehrings traveling days, Mrs. Garrison lived in an apartment in the house. When they returned she lived a while with a daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Black, but chose to move back when her daughter moved to Florida.

Her days now are filled with the familiar and with plans for the future. . . Christmas cards for her friends and neighbors, shortening a petticoat by hand and church radio broadcasts first thing in the morning and last thing at night.

And, woven throughout the day, conversations and visits with those nearby and dear.

Mrs. Black, now in town from Florida, will be with her on her birthday, as well as a son, John Ingles, of 296 N. Harris-av, and a daughter, Mrs. Clotilde Hiscox, a teacher in Urbana.

Daughters, Mrs. Marian Garrison, of St. Charles, Miss., and Mrs. Maude Wilson, of St. Louis, are unable to be here.

City Will Fix River Channel

Columbus City Council last night authorized the Service Department to advertise for bids on restoration and improving the Scioto River channel between the Olentangy River and Greenlawn-av bridge.

A Safety Committee ordinance was passed establishing a new no-parking zone on Westgate-av.

The City Traffic Engineer was expected to meet today with Al Wilder of the West Side Neighborhood Council and set up a date for discussions with the council's Traffic Committee.

The group last week sent 25 proposals for West Side traffic improvement to the city traffic expert.

A Sports . . AUBLEGRAPH

BY JOHN AUBLE, JR.
Hartley Sports Editor

Basketball Season Has A Tempo All Its Own . . .

Each of the year's major sporting events has its own tempo — a rule to which the local basketball scene is no exception.

The World Series is a day-to-day, game-to-game thing, with each day and each game crucial in its own particular way. The ultimate climax may not be reached until 10 days after the start.

The Indianapolis "500" crams everything into a matter of three or four hours, while the Kentucky Derby packs it into less than three minutes. Rose Bowl day starts with the Pasadena parade, just as the march-past by the athletes opens the Olympics.

And then there is the local high school basketball picture whose 1961-62 edition is starting over the various testing and tricky sets of 4,090-square feet of hardwood.

Essentials Are Same . . .

The names in the soft-drink sponsored programs may change but the essential pattern is still the same.

The crowds may be bigger now — given a break in the weather, which has been unusually pleasant and has helped Booster Club gates tremendously during football season.

Playing patterns may vary somewhat, but not so they'll be noticed by the average fan and the objective is still the same, the crown in the individual leagues, and the means of attaining it is unchanged.

It still requires the same speed, skill, speed, height, speed, know-how, speed and, also, speed. Area coaches are emphasizing speed.

It'll take more stamina to play basketball this year — the tempo, basketball's own, individual, unimitated tempo is back with us stronger than ever.

Final Football Notes . . .

Vernon Sheets, James Pyles, James Silvania, Doug Chalfant, Jack Fillinger, Robert Brown, Jack Newell, Mike Weibusch, Mike Hickman, John Stinchfield, Robert Burns, Danny Wolff, Don Pinkston, Don Arledge, Ron Dawson, Tom Coneybeer, Dennis Day, John Paugh, Wilbur Presley and Charles Whittle.

Also at Walnut Ridge, Alan Berry, band director there, announced that the school will hold its first Boosters Club meeting Dec. 7 at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be of the organizational variety with principal Don E. Thatcher presiding.

Could Win Crown? . . .

Capital University's Coach Gene Slaughter predicted his Fighting Lutherans could win the Ohio Conference football crown next year as he handed out awards to 61 athletes following the 1961 season. "We had a fair season (5-2-1)," said the first-year Slaughter.

"It won't be good until we win them all. Next year, if we stand here undefeated with Cap's first Ohio Conference crown, we will call it a good season."

It's refreshing, anyway, to know that there haven't been any Slaughter effigy hangings around that Lutheran campus. Guess that could mean that the student body there is happy and that they would call this season "a good one."

Anyway, there isn't anyone on the Cap campus—yea, even in the Ohio Conference — that can shrug their shoulders when the Capital game is on their schedule next season.

The Lutherans did much more than most people thought they would and if Slaughter seems to think that they'll win the crown next year — well, they just probably will do that.

And, the Capital faculty is happy with the past season — even if Slaughter isn't quite as contented as a Carnation cow. In fact, Athletic Director Bill Bernlohr termed Cap's last game with Otterbein as "a game which will have to go into history as one of the finest performances Cap athletes have ever given."

The Lutherans were down 17-0 at half-time in that game and came back to riddle the Otterbein defense and win 32-17.

Keeping In Stride . . .

It was predicted in this column that Whitehall was an easy favorite over Arlington a few weeks ago after this writer said that he was notoriously known for picking losers. We're still batting 1000. Arlington won that game and the CBL. So there.

Bearcat Bowl In Making?

Ed Walker, commissioner of the Bearcat Football League, is hinting that a Bearcat Bowl might be in the making—that is if anyone can take time to think about Bowls other than where the smell or roses is so intoxicating, or WAS so intoxicating.

Last Sunday, Walker and local Bearcat coaches including Bob Lindermuth, 25 N. Wayne-av, Glen Carr, 206 S. Central-av and Jim Williams, 2400 Holton-rd, hosted the Midget Gunners of the Tri-County League out of St. Louis, Mo. They wanted to come to Columbus for the Thanksgiving weekend.

Naturally a game was scheduled and the enthusiastic fans shouted for more after the final gun had sounded.

So, Walker and his group are thinking about making it an annual Thanksgiving weekend affair — although there's nothing definite yet.

We're all for it, however. What better way could we emphasize the quality of youth fitness which is so much in demand today and show that juvenile delinquency is not a major worry when juvenile good sportsmanship is available?

Something to think about.

KO-DA-KI-WA CAMP FIRE GIRLS ARE OUTSTANDING GROUP

KO-DA-KI-WA GROUP of Camp Fire Girls has become an outstanding example of what can happen when an interested leader and equally interested group of girls get together. Starting on the Camp Fire Girl trail as second graders, the Ko-De-Ki-Wa group members who are now 12 and 13 years old, have made an impressive record in collecting awards. Shown here with some they have won are, from left, Susan Johnson, Martha Carson, Bonnie Winecup, Diane Pappas, Donna Jonks and Sally Dellinger, who is a member of the Horizon Club Groups. Other Ko-De-Ki-Wa Group members not shown are Candy O'Neil and Rita Zeglenis. Martha Carson moved away from the group recently. The girls have won seven state awards and two group awards as well as individual awards. Mrs. Betty Jonks, 706 French-dr, is leader of the group.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. George W. Matson wishes to thank her many friends for their kindnesses and remembrances of cards and gifts during her recent stay in the hospital. Special thanks to Rev. Didier and Rev. Martin.

An hour's factory labor in 1959 would buy 2.1 pounds of round steak, compared to 1.8 pounds in 1950 or 1.2 pounds in 1929, according to the US Department of Agriculture.

Tenth Annual Gra-Y Induction Held In Westmoor Junior High

The 10th annual Hilltop YMCA Gra-Y Induction was held Nov. 14 in Westmoor Jr. High School. All members of Lindbergh, Binns, Highland, North Franklin, Westgate, John Burroughs, West Broad, Eakin Road, Georgian Heights, Prairie Lincoln, West Mound and Valleyview Gra-Y Clubs were inducted and club officers installed.

Among the honors given at this ceremony was a recognition of all club presidents. Heading their clubs for the present year are Darrel Sparks, Don Heischman, Sidney Ragland, Steve Davis, John Horky, Joe Hutchison, Tom Randall, Steve Miller, Mark Carney, Alan Burner, Chuck Ventola and Steve Tharp. These boys were also presented with the Gra-Y charters which they in turn presented to their principal or representative.

Trophies were awarded to the West Mound Gra-Y Club for winning last year's softball sportsmanship trophy and to Westgate for winning the softball championship. Next in line was the presentation to the Binns Club of the football sportsmanship award and then Highland was awarded the champ's trophy. West Broad was presented with the traveling trophy for winning the second annual Hilltop Y's Men-Gra-Y Relays.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Hilltop Y's Men's Gra-Y "Club-of-the-Year" award to Miss Norma Grener, principal of Westgate School, and John Horky, club president. The winner of this traveling plaque is decided by a point system devised by members of the local Gra-Y Council. President Vic Karl, of the Hilltop Y's Men's Club in presenting this year's top honor mentioned that regular attendance at weekly meetings, regular payment of dues, consistent church attendance, conduct at meetings, participation in all Gra-Y activities, and participation in the YMCA World Service Mint Sale were some of the areas in which the Westgate Club had exceeded all other schools during the past year.

The Gra-Y Platform was explained to the boys and their parents by members of some of the clubs. Sharing in this responsibility were John Williams, Dan Gregory, Geoffry Case, Chuck Davidson, Bill Cash, Howard Perkins, Bill Weber and Jim Mathias. Bob Krull of the Valleyview Gra-Y Club offered the closing prayer.

This year's program was again put on under the direction of the Youth Program Committee of the Hilltop YMCA Board of Management. Bill Weber, chairman of the committee, was presiding chairman. Other board members participating were Jerry Spears Sr., Mack Pemberton, Roy Agin, Jack Mitchell, John Roman, Harry Grashel and Vic Karl. Mrs. Harry Miller, president of the Hilltop YMCA Mothers' Council, and members of this group assisted in the program. Members of the Y's Men's Club, under the direction of Chris Glaros, served as marshals. Ushers for this program were members of the newly formed "Y" Leaders Club.

These officers were installed: Lindbergh — Darrel Sparks, Tom Skipper, Eddie Sparks, Mike Miller, Mike Sarrey, John Williams.

Westgate — Mike Colegrove, John Horky, Bill Shaw, John Biggers, Jim Agin, Geoffry Case; West Broad — Donald Stiles, Lloyd Bixler, Jr., Bill Cash, Tom Randall, Fred Grace, Tim McKenney.

School Starts Saturday Gym Class For Girls

Eighth grade girls of St. Mary Magdalene School have taken some cues from a Nov. 16 fitness clinic at the Catholic Youth Center and are holding Saturday morning gym classes.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Alice DeMastry they assemble at 9 a.m. for two hours of tumbling, volleyball and basketball.

Two recreation leaders from Ohio State University administered tests and taught exercises at the recent clinic. Pull-up tests proved to be the most difficult for those taking part.

ADVISORS TO MEET

November meeting of the Glenwood Recreation Center Advisory Council will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 30.

Why should we as mere beings ever feel compelled to be anything else? — Adolph Morton.

Hilltoppers Turn Actors For 'Becket'

Hilltop residents Jack Kamer, 458 S. Wayne-av, and Harry Graham, 3252 Stephen-dr South, will take part in the coming Players Club production of "Becket", a drama of 13th century England.

Kamer, a theatre major at OSU, will portray several minor roles. He played the lead in last year's production of "Deadwood Dick" and has been lighting chairman for several important productions.

Graham's previous theatrical experience includes parts with the Coyle Devore Company. He is a newcomer to Players Club, the largest non-professional theatre group in Columbus.

This drama by the French playwrite, Jean Anouilh, will be presented Dec. 5 through 10 for members and their guests.

'Home Talent' Featured In West's Variety Show

Tax stamps may soon be part of the past, as worthless as Confederate money, but they still "purchased" a lot of entertainment for West High students this morning.

Tax stamp variety show, annual production for and by students of the school, was to be presented Wednesday morning. Admission was by cash or tax stamps.

Program included vocal solos by Frank Tippett, Dixielee Koontz, Sharon Lamprecht and Susan Love; "Teen-Tones," composed of Karen Griffin, Brenda Griffin, Annette Beatty and Connie Watson.

"Chiffons," Vickie Hixson, Sara Paini, Marilyn Amrine and Karen Hastings; a boy's trio, Marc Bonomini, Dick Stein and Paul Thompson, and the Boys [redacted].

There will be chorus lines by the 11th grade girls and by the senior girls.

A boys' drill team; "The Wet Kettle," with their director, "Mr. Hilly," will present routines.

Dancers include Linda Smith, tap; Pam Scott, modern jazz; Carol Beranek, Shirley Hoffman and Sunya Graham, "The Varsity Drag," and Sandy Malone, Ann Bostic and Dianne Hily.

Jeannette Bahn and Charlie Bell will be master and mistress of ceremonies.

Carter Gunner On 'Little Rock'

James E. Carter, Navy Gunnersmate Third Class, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Carter, 328 Whitethorne-av, is serving in the Atlantic aboard the guided missile cruiser USS Little [redacted].

Operating out of Norfolk, Va., the Little Rock recently participated in a joint communications exercise named "Axle Grease II" with Army, Navy and Air Force units.

Sunshine News Notes

The Golden Age Club of Sunshine Recreation Center held its annual Thanksgiving dinner Tuesday, Nov. 21 in the auditorium of the center. The group participated in seasonal games and songs.

The children whip are enrolled in piano classes have been busy learning how to play simple melodies and read notes. Piano classes are held every Tuesday from 3:30 until 5:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

The creative rhythms class is held every Friday from 3:30 until 4:30 p.m. in the game room. The children march and sing to basic rhythms and melodies.

The teenage crafts classes are held Monday and Tuesday evenings in the craft room. The group has been busy working on decorations for the front windows of the center and the stage of the auditorium. Any teenager may come to the center and participate. The group will be making Christmas candles soon.

The pre-season basketball games have begun. The junior teams have been playing games on Monday, and the intermediates on Tuesday and the seniors on Thursday. Registration is still being held and anyone who is interested should enroll any day from 3 until 10 p.m.

The boxing and wrestling programs are in full swing. A judo and weightlifting class will be started in the near future.

The boxing team will travel to Marion for a boxing tournament Dec. 8. There will be a checker tournament Dec. 6.

Tumbling classes are now being held. The boys meet on Monday and Wednesday from 4 until 5 p.m. and the girls on Monday and Wednesday from 5 until 6 p.m. Interested boys and girls should register with Jerry Thome, tumbling instructor.

Painted turkeys and Pilgrims dominated the arts and crafts room at Sunshine this past week. The cut-outs were drawn and painted by the children who posted their art work throughout the building to add to the holiday atmosphere. The children have been working with construction paper and water colors.

At this week's baton lessons the class learned the basic principles of throwing and catching the twirling batons.

The sewing class is progressing rapidly. Actual sewing has been started on Christmas [redacted].

BUSINESS REVIEW

During the last five years in Ohio there have been 213 persons killed and more than 7,000 injured while operating or riding on the farm tractor.

Liquor Permit Transfer Asked

Application for the transfer of liquor permits from William T. Rees, 2142 Sullivant-av, to Joseph C. Benedetto, of the same address, has been made, according to an announcement made by the director of the Ohio Department of Liquor Control.

Hartley Newspapers want ads bring quick results, BR. 4-1155.

COLORFUL CENTERPIECE of artificial poinsettias, candles and candelabra, and a ceramic Madonna statue, are combined by Mrs. Frank LeSeur to make a holiday table decoration with a religious theme.

Festive Gifts Found At Frankoma Shoppe

A visit to the Frankoma Pottery Shoppe in the residence of Mrs. Frank D. LeSueur, 1959 Fairmont-av, is like a preview of Christmas any time of the year.

Hundreds of pieces of Frankoma pottery, including dinnerware, tablewares, vases, lazy susans, chip and dip bowls, pitcher and bowl sets, bean pots, cookie jars and canister sets, to mention but a few, present a striking array of colors and shapes.

The seven-year-old business grew from Mrs. LeSueur's hobby of buying Frankoma pottery as gifts for friends as she and her husband traveled through the west. The earthenware occupies the basement of the home and overflows throughout the house.

Christmas, and all-occasion gift wrapping paper, cards, ribbons and Calart artificial flowers are also stocked. Recently added were planters with artificial flowers which can be used for home or business decoration. The flowers are easily washed, and are made for each season of the year. Such an arrangement was recently made at the Buckeye Finance Co., 2546 Sullivant-av.

New, too, are the realistic "People Watcher Birds," used in floral decoration to add a festive touch.

"Store hours" may vary, so it's best to make an appointment for your visit by calling BR. 4-3341.

Toys For Tots Drive Launched By Marines

The 88th Rifle Company USMCR launched its tenth "Toys for Tots" campaign on Nov. 24 and will continue the drive to Dec. 9.

Residents of the greater Columbus area have been urged to assist in this program by donating a new or a useable toy. Contributors should not gift wrap their donations.

Marines will distribute the toys to children who have been listed with the information center of the Community Chest.

The toys for tots campaign is a volunteer project for the local Marine Reserve. Major Philip J. Germ, USMC, the inspector-instructor of the 88th Rifle Company, stated that training of Reservists will continue during the drive.

People wishing to help in the campaign may deliver toys to fire stations on Dec. 9. There will be no house to house campaign this year.

Fire stations in the Hartley Newspapers area are located at Mills and Broad-st, Fourth and Thurman, Parsons and Hinman, Livingston and Wager, Hamilton and Livingston.

Columbus State School Seeking Volunteer Santas

There are five ways in which you can help the kids and bring some happiness to yourself at the same time.

- Contributions of new gifts.
- Parties for the wards. (Arrangements can be made by calling BR. 9-9571, Ex. 381).
- Choral groups to sing carols on the campus.
- Making table decorations to be used where needed.
- Providing variety shows in the Amusement Hall.

LUXURIOUS HOMES --- AT MODEST PRICES? DEFINITELY YES, in C. V. Perry & Company's Ridgewood!

Ridgewood is a mile North of Fishinger on Dublin Road, just West of the beautiful Scioto and Upper Arlington. It has big deep lots; full gas, water, sewer service. But no noise, no traffic, no industry. Yet it's only 18 minutes from downtown, and two minutes from grade school.

Twenty-three builders offer a wide variety of homes --- ranches, split levels, bi-levels, Cape Cods, two stories. Three, four or five bedrooms. Two or three baths. Fireplace. Two car garage. Wife-saving kitchen.

Prices range from $24,000 to $34,000. (You'd have to pay from $4,000 to $6,000 more for identical homes in Upper Arlington.) Terms are best, with 75% or better loans.

The easiest way to move out of your too-small home is TRADE. Dozens of the 150 Ridgewood residents have done it. So can you. Pick your home, let us worry about details, and move in less than two weeks!

Drive out, see for yourself. All homes are open 1-7.

Planetarium Plans Series Of Programs

What was the Christmas Star? When was Christ born? Who were the Wise Men?

The researchers' answers to some of these stories of great interest at Christmas will be presented soon at the Planetarium and Space Museum at Old Memorial Hall, 280 E. Broad-st. Story sessions will be held every half hour from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. Sunday, Dec 3, 10, and 17 as well as every day of the Christmas vacation, Christmas and New Year's Day.

Special accommodations for groups and students are available by calling 221-3047 or CA. 1-7487.

Parking Lights Now Not Enough

Chief George W. Scholer wishes to remind the motoring public that the law pertaining to lighted lights on a motor vehicle has recently been amended.

The Ohio Legislature amended Section 4513.03 to read: . . . during such times (that lighted lights and illuminating devices are required), no vehicle shall be operated upon a street or highway using only parking lights as illumination.

Penalty for violation is not more than $500 for the first offense.

Teacher Dies On Way Home

Beamenderfer had been under a physician's care for a heart ailment for three months.

His car jumped a curb in the 1400 block of W. Rich-st and caused minor damage to an apartment house.

Flasher Lights Installed At RR Crossings

Continuous blinker lights at two New York Central Railroad crossings in the Amlin area have been replaced with flasher warning lights that operate on the approach of trains.

The lights were installed at the Avery-rd crossing, 1.7 miles south of Amlin and at the Scioto-Darby-rd crossing 3.8 miles south of Amlin.

Mark Twain Broadcast Set

WCBE, Columbus Board of Education's FM radio station (90.5 megacycles), will present a special hour-long broadcast, "The Many Lives of Mark Twain," from 4 to 5 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 5.

The program, originally produced by the Voice of America to commemorate the 125th anniversary of the author's birth, tells the story of Twain's life through narration, drama, and tales told by living persons who knew him.

Send Christmas Cheer To Servicemen . . It's Free

For servicemen who will be home for Christmas "only in their dreams," the Franklin County Red Cross will again sponsor the "Voice From Home" project to help span the gap between the soldiers and their families.

This service enables the wives, mothers and children to tape record, free of charge, a four minute holiday greeting. A polaroid picture will be taken of them and included with the tape.

Uniformed volunteers will be on hand to help any member of the family compose their message and record it.

To participate call the Red Cross, CL. 8-8611, for an appointment. Instructions and confirmation of appointment will be mailed to you.

Hours will be from 10 a.m. through 8 p.m. daily, except Sunday, starting Monday, Dec. 4 and continuing until Dec. 16.

Most farm tractors will overturn sideways if the operator makes a short turn when traveling at high speed, say OSU extension specialists.

MAKE CHRISTMAS MORE FUN

Don't try to explain this to the children. They might not understand. But we've heard there's a definite connection between the fun youngsters have on Christmas morning and M-O-N-E-Y. And a Christmas Club at City National is the best way to have the money you need at the end-of-the-year. There's a club for every budget at all seven of the Good Neighbor Banking Offices. Now's the time to add that paid-in-advance feeling and make Christmas more fun. Open your 1962 Club now.

Support Kiwanis Paper Sales Thursday, Friday

ADVANCE PROOFS of the Hilltop Kiwanis Christmas newspaper, (to be sold Thursday night), are scanned by (from left) Al Fausnaugh, Bill Dawson and Don Best. The trio has charge of 300 men who will volunteer as "newsboys" to collect funds for Kiwanis projects.

This is the biggest week of the year for Hilltop and West Side Kiwanis Club members . . . it's Christmas newspaper sale time again.

Their many hundreds of man-hours of work, matched by contributions from many hundreds of friends and neighbors are timed at keeping Kiwanis projects humming here through 1962.

Two separate auctions of first editions of the papers are starting things off. West Side Kiwanians invited 60 civic and business leaders to be their guests at a noon luncheon Wednesday at Chicago Avenue Christian Church.

Immediately after the luncheon, a number of special editions of the West Side News were sold in rapid-fire order to highest bidders. Roland Featheringham, South Bloomfield, a member of Ashville Kiwanis Club, was auctioneer. Many club members also bid on their own newspapers, according to Chairman Jack Williams.

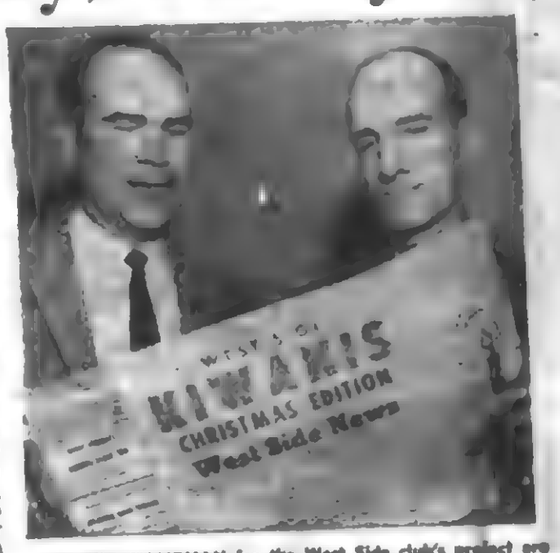
A similar auction will be held by the Hilltop Club Thursday noon at Berry's Restaurant. Clarence Latham will be auctioneer, and C. H. Campbell, chairman. More than 100 early editions will be sold.

The auctions and a spirited, well-received Santa parade in the West Side last Sunday are setting the stage for door-to-door distribution of the papers Thursday on the Hilltop and Friday on the West Side. Both clubs depend heavily on advertising proceeds and donations of any amount for the papers to finance their year-long community service projects. Sale Chairman Jack Williams and Dick Nash emphasize that the drop-off in sales tax stamp redemptions make it mandatory that newspaper incomes remain high.

Start From West, Gladden

Hilltop businesses will be solicited Thursday afternoon. At 5:30 p.m. about 300 volunteers will eat a hasty supper at West High cafeteria before they divide up 14,000 papers for "operation Doorbell." Hilltop Lions and other neighboring service club members will assist.

West Side Kiwanians and their friends, about 100 strong, will gather at Gladden House at 5 p.m. Friday for a snack and to get their assignments. They expect to canvass Central Point and 5,000 homes in the three or four hours to follow. The Model "T" Ford and a surrey which appeared in last Sunday's Santa parade will again accompany the Kiwanians.



"We hope the people will accept our paper with open hearts and pocketbooks," said Chairman Williams. "In it we describe our community work of 1961 and outline our aims for the future. Now in our sixth year, we have earned considerable praise for our work with the underprivileged, our youth, and older people."

Williams reminded the kiddies that another coloring contest will appear in the West Side paper this year. Three cash prizes, totaling ten silver dollars, will be awarded the winners.

Following are committees for the newspaper sales:

Hilltop—Dick Nash general chairman; C. H. Campbell, auction; Bill Dawson, Don Best and Al Fausnaugh, manpower. Two Communities Plan Yule Tree Ceremonies

Christmas is the time for traditions—and details of two of them here were announced today by civic workers. Both involve Christmas trees.

Hilltop's community tree, a newly transplanted one at Glenwood Recreation Center will be officially lighted at 6:30 p.m, Sunday, Dec. 10, by Mayor Ralston Westlake. The public is invited to the program.

Gladden Community House directors have chosen 6:30 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 16, as the time for their neighborhood Christmas Tree Trim—a family night event.

The Hilltop tree was donated by Mrs. Ray Cave on behalf of the Highland Garden Club. The 20-foot Norway spruce will be decorated Saturday with ornaments made by Girl Scouts of the Hilltop. Columbus Recreation Department workmen will install the lights and "Merry Christmas from the Hilltop" signs which will be in plain view of motorists on W. Broad-st.

In opening Sunday's program Robert Frakes will bring greetings from the Hilltop Community Council, of which he is president. The choir from Westmoor Junior High School, under the direction of Mrs. Dolores Blankenship, will sing Christmas carols.

Christmas message will be given by Rev. Harold Dutt, minister of Westgate E.U.B. Church The crowd will join in a sing-along of "Joy To The World" and "Silent Night." Rev. Warren Bright, pastor of Glenwood Methodist Church, will give the benediction.

Cookies, hot chocolate, and coffee, furnished by PTA's and the council, will be served to everyone in the game room of the center after the ceremony. Hostesses will be from Glenwood Center's advisory council and Gleaners' Club. Boy Scouts of Troop 45 will usher. Charles Moore is chairman of the event.

Youngsters Making Decorations

Youngsters at Gladden House are making their own decorations for the big Christmas tree which will be trimmed at the gala family night party.

A picnic — a potluck supper has been planned. Each family should bring sandwiches and table service, and, if possible, a potluck dish such as salad, casserole or dessert. Children are to be accompanied by their parents.

Following the tree trim, all will enjoy a custom borrowed from Mexico — breaking of pinatas. Caroling and other highlights will be included.

The playschool room will be open and there will be supervision for tiny tots. Adults will also have the opportunity at this time to sign up for activities that begin in January. These include ceramics, art, upholstering, sewing, slimnastics, little theatre and women's club.

For information call Barbara Cox, program supervisor, at CA. 1-7801.

Details on Christmas parties in several more West Side centers will be announced next week.

THE WEST SIDE WAS YOUNG when the brick church on Gift-st at Shepherd-st was built in 1890. The once-proud structure, long vacated and sadly run-down, has been purchased by Rodenfels Chevrolet Co., and is being felled this week to make room for a new parking area.

West Side Landmark Gives Way To Progress

By Betty Daft

Gift Street Church, for 66 years home of the first Methodist congregation in Franklinton, is the latest of the city's historic old landmarks to pass into oblivion.

Demolition crews this week are removing all traces of the venerable brick building, to make room for progress.

The structure, vacated and in shabby disrepair, was purchased by Rodenfels Chevrolet Co., and is being razed to clear the area for use as a truck parking lot.

Gift Street congregation sold the building five years ago to make a new beginning . . . the third in its 66 years' existence, when changes in the area made it impossible to support the church.

The neighborhood had changed drastically since the church was built at the turn of the century. The bustling, growing community of 1890 had become mostly commercial in 1956. Many members had moved farther west, and the church followed.

Meeting first at West Mound Street School and then at Binns, the congregation, renamed Brookshire Methodist, began worshipping in their new building at 1067 S. Harris-av two years ago.

Beginnings of the church, are interwoven closely with the origin of Franklinton, the busy waterfront settlement that grew into Columbus.

The Methodist group met first, in 1840, in the home of Jacob Grub on Green-st, and later in the settlement's original courthouse on W. Broad-st at Sandusky-st.

First church home of members was Health Chapel, built in 1856 on land deeded them by Michael Sullivant. The brick structure was on the National Road, now W. Broad-st, about a block east of Gift-st.

When a larger structure became necessary, the lot on the corner of Gift-st and Shepherd-st was purchased and, in 1890, Gift Street Church was completed.

FOR THE LAST TIME, Jesse Read, former Sunday School pianist for Gift Street Methodist, pulls the familiar bell chord. More than a landmark to Read and other members of the church still living in the neighborhood, the building is, instead, a vast storehouse of memories.

Urban Plan In Sight For 1962

Provided certain conditions exist, the West Side could have an urban conservation project within the next year, according to Jack Bachtel, Urban Renewal Director.

Bachtel, in a probing conference with A. M. Wilder, field worker with the West Side Neighborhood Council, was quick to point out that the delay was largely due to insufficient personnel in his office to handle the current renewal and conser-

City High School Choirs Date Christmas Concert

More than 600 senior high school students will participate in the 13th annual Christmas Choral Festival of the Columbus Public Schools, to be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 10 at Central High School.

Following a tradition of many years, the program again will conclude with Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus," by the massed senior-high choirs and the East High School orchestra.

Kenneth R. Keller, director of music education for the Columbus Public Schools, will conduct the finale. Rita P. Viera will be the organist.

Program includes,"Il Re Pastoer," and "The Christmas Festival," by East High School Orchestra with Theodore H. Turner, director.

"Gloria in Excelsis Deo" and "Wonder Of The Darksome Night," by South High School Choir with Mary Frances Winchester, director; "Gloria In Excelsis," and "Carol Of The Drum," Marion-Franklin High School Choir with E. C. Schick, director.

"Christmas Day" and "Alleluia, Amen," by North High School Choir, Evelyn L. Rose, director; "Carol-Noel" and "The First Christmas," Linden-McKinley High School Choir with William E. Stillings, director.

Goodwin Cleared In Court Case

Joseph Goodwin, druggist at 2909 Sullivant-av, on Tuesday was cleared of charges of selling morphine without a prescription.

The case, over three years old, was decided by Judge Dana Reynolds, who acquitted Goodwin of any wrong-doing. He pointed out that the only wrongdoers were Mr. and Mrs. Orpha McIntosh, who admitted using the morphine which had been obtained for an elderly man in their care.

SOMETHING PERMANENT in the way of a gift to the community was made last Thursday by the Ray Caves of 603 Crescent-ct. They donated a 20-foot spruce from their front yard to be transplanted to Glenwood Park. It was the second time in 30 years that the tree had been moved . . . as a seedling it first grew at 2936 Olive-st. The Caves are seen chatting with Jim Pugh, Walter Steiner, Joe Corteon, Charlie Persone, and Homer Bolen of the Division of Parks and Forestry.

Jot-A-Jingle First Winners Announced

Children: Send Santa Letters To This Paper

Now is the time for all good children to write their annual letters to Santa Claus, telling him what they want for Christmas.

To speed the flow of messages to the North Pole, Hartley Newspapers again this year will give Santa a helping hand. Starting next week, the seven community newspapers will publish letters from youngsters to Santa Claus. After they've been printed, the Hartley Newspapers will forward them to the North Pole.

Letters must be no more than 50 words in length and contain the full name and address of each boy and girl. They should be addressed to Santa Claus, 2465 W. Broad-St, Columbus 4.

To insure printing, all letters should arrive at the Hartley Newspapers office before Dec. 10.

Valleyview Solons Discuss Gas Rate Dispute

Valleyview Council Monday "had a routine meeting and took no action," according to Mayor Edwin Booth.

He said solons discussed the rate dispute with the Gas Company but found no "ready solution."

Also on the agenda was a proposal to establish a new court procedure for the village.

Area Men Named To Home Builders Posts

John E. Sandefur, 2630 Woodbridge-rd, was elected president of the Home Builders Association of Greater Columbus for 1962, Cecil K. Rose, current president, announced.

Named as HBA vice-presidents were Charles C. Barr, 1451 Wakefield-ct. East; Neil E. Crabbe, 221 S. Sylvan-av, and Corwin L. Knowles, 2372 Fairleigh-rd. The association's treasurer is Albert O. Myers, Jr., Myers Surveying Co., 2700 E. Main-st — Randall C. Clark of Central Ohio First Mortgage Co., 20 N. High-st, was named secretary. Robert P. Fisth is association executive vice-president.

In addition to the newly elected officers and Rose, members of the association's governing body include Clayton K. Jones, 150 W. Beechwold-blvd; Bryon E. Schofield, 223 Stygler-rd Gahanna; and W. E. Wittmann, 1201 Moler-rd, as directors.

Alternate directors are John A. Esper, 1286 Pierce-av; Ralph Metzger, 2970 Maize-rd; T. J. Roberts, 2830 Andover-rd; W. A. Salrin of Westgate Electric Contractors, 1233 Chesapeake-av and Jack L. Wallick, 22 W. Lez-st.

The local association is the second largest builders association in Ohio and has been recognized as one of the leading such associations in the United States. Its present membership exceeds 400 and includes, in addition to builders, sub-contractors, suppliers, material men and manufacturers affiliated with the construction industry. All members must subscribe to a Code of Ethics and conduct their business accordingly.

Mrs. Garrison Marks 102nd Birthday

A PARTY, with friends and neighbors, family and her pastor on hand, was the birthday wish-come-true for Mrs. Virginia Garrison of 313 Dana-av, 102 last Friday. Born Dec. 1, 1859, Mrs. Garrison was one of 12 children, and recalls with clarity childhood days in rural Kentucky and her father's farm, worked by slaves. A lively conversationalist, she entertained her party guests with stories of her life, remembered with amazing detail. From left are, seated, Jesse Jewell, Sunday School superintendent of Central Baptist Church and Mrs. Jewell; Mrs. Earl Preston, 302 Princeton-av; Mrs. McKeever; Mrs. Garrison, Dr. William C. McKeever, pastor of Central Baptist; Jimmie Ward; Mrs. Paul Downs, 34 N. Eureka-av; Mrs. J. W. Sharp, 1801 Milford-av, and Mrs. Dessie Borror, 296 S. Princeton-av. Standing are, Mrs. Paul Langel, 321 Dana; Miss Birdie Lane of Dana-av address; Miss Lois Boyd, 309 Dana-av; Mrs. Robetta MacPhail, also of the Dana av address; Mrs. William Ward, 3937 Randall-rd; Mrs. Ethel Fritch, 317 Dana-av, and Mrs. Walter Butler, 329 Dana.

VISITS FROM DEAR ONES nearby, and greetings from those miles away helped make the day special for Mrs. Virginia Garrison, celebrating her 102nd birthday last Friday. Here she listens to birthday congratulations telegraphed from a distant granddaughter and read by her close friend, Mrs. Robetta MacPhail, also of 313 Dana-av.

vation projects in the city.

It was established that the West Side was an obviously good choice for the new three-point urban conservation program recently approved by the Planning Commission. This plan of attacking older neighborhoods before blight conditions set in grew out of initial work done by Bechtel's office in the University and East Side areas.

The three prongs of the plan include repairing, replacing, and adding to public utilities, streets, and buildings; revising housing and building zoning to allow for more stable residential development; and, working with local residents in private property improvements.

Wilder will report his findings to the executive committee of the West Side Neighborhood Council Thursday, Dec. 14.

Missing Soldier Is Alive And Well In Red Prison

An anxious wait for word about the fate of Sgt. Orville R. Ballinger, missing since Apr. 22 in Laos, ended this week for his mother, Mrs. Lena Mathews of 371 N. Alonquin-av.

She received a telegram from the U.S. Adjutant General's office that her son, captured by pro-Communist rebels, is alive and well. He is being held at Xieng Khouang in Red-held Laos territory.

A Red Cross representative interviewed Ballinger Nov. 20 and reported he was in good health. The Central High School graduate was one of four American military advisers with Royal Laotian forces.

Mrs. Matthews is the wife of Luther (Duke) Matthews, a bartender at the Grandview Inn.

Darby Dam Gets Army's Approval

The proposed dam on Big Darby Creek, three miles below Georgesville, took a big step toward reality last week with an announcement from Sen. Stephen B. Young that the Army had given its stamp of approval on the project.

There are still at least a dozen hurdles to be cleared before congress appropriates the money for the venture, but Col. Steven Malevich, head of the Huntington Corps of Engineers, said the outlook is bright now.

The dam, if built, would be an earth affair, 101 feet high and draining 480 square miles. It would create a permanent lake encompassing nearly 800 acres.

C. V. Perry Completes Transaction

C. V. Perry and Co., 40 W. Gay-st, a real estate firm, has completed a $5,903.00 transaction, reportedly one of the largest single sales of private housing in Ohio history.

The transaction transfers ownership of 415 houses in Columbus and Hilliard from Jewel Builders, 3497 E. Livingston-av, to the Kissell Company, 40 S. Third-st.

The houses were built during the past several years by Jewel Builders headed by Julius Cohen, president.

Included in the Kissell purchase were Jewel-built houses in Hilliard and in Beechwood, Pine Hills, Pinecrest, Barnett Heights and other Jewel subdivisions in eastern and southeastern Columbus.

C. V. Perry and Co. has handled housing sales totaling more than $100,000,000 since 1950.

The Kissell Company, founded in 1894 in Springfield, operates other offices in Cincinnati, Dayton, Toledo, Pittsburg and Louisville.

Jewel Builders has constructed 2000 houses and 600 apartment units in Columbus.

. . . But It's Worth It!

And Here's Why

It's a mighty bare little tree our neighbor is struggling with, but he knows that he and his family will enjoy tomorrow the fruits of his struggles today. According to the 1960 census he is today's typical American.

In 1910 the typical American lived on a farm; in 1930 in a small town; today he lives in a suburb of a metropolitan city. It's not too hard to guess that the major reason is that he wants to "put down roots" in more ways than one.

He wants to know what is going on in his community and to have a voice in how that community develops. He wants to know his children's teachers as people, not as faceless bodies in that brick building on the corner. He wants to know how much the repaving of Main Street costs, and why. He wants to be "closer to life" than is usually possible in the impersonal atmosphere of a metropolitan city . . . and is willing to accept the responsibilities as well as the privileges of that way of life.

According to Professor Kenneth Byerly of the University of North Carolina Journalism School, in his new book, "Community Journalism," these goals of getting closer to life are difficult to obtain without a strong local newspaper. He cites residents of a New York state town whose newspaper ceased publication. The remarks are revealing enough to warrant quoting in part:

A minister: "It's like half living to be without your own community's news. How do you get people interested in community projects? How do you know who stands for what and why?

A civic leader: "If our paper had still been publishing, that plant wouldn't have closed. Our town has no public voice now. Our vital spark is gone."

A candidate for local office: "The past election was the deadest ever. How do you reach the people? How can they know the issues? You can't talk to them all in person."

These feelings were expressed, however, after the paper had ceased publication for lack of public support; the old story of not missing the water 'til the well ran dry.

Obviously, a community voice requires two basic things: Something to say — and someone to listen and respond. It is the responsibility of the community paper to be more than a gossip sheet; than a reporter of Boy Scout meetings, weddings and football scores. To have "something to say" on issues vital to the community's growth and development, and to say it clearly and completely, is the major function of the suburban newspaper.

From time to time we will be bringing to the attention of our readers, in editorials such as this, the various kinds of responsibility which we believe the suburban newspaper has. As in all forms of communication, there must be a "sender," this newspaper, but there must also be a "receiver," you, the reader, who will read, discuss, agree or disagree with our tenets. Only through active two-way communication can this newspaper be a true community voice, and this community the kind of place we want it to be.

Questions Use Of Title 'Super Patriot'

To The Editor:

I am most interested in how Mr. Taylor Gregg determines which Americans are "patriots" and which are "super patriots" (One Man's Opinion, Nov. 30). I have been trying to determine the meaning of "super patriot" and am afraid that the English language doesn't help me very much. According to the dictionary a patriot is "one who loves his country and zealously supports its authority and interests". Super is defined as "over and above, as in quantity, quality, or degree; more than".

Is there some limit to which an American should love his country or a degree of zeal to which he should confine himself in supporting its authority and interests? Theodore Roosevelt has said:

"There can be no 50-50 Americanism in this country. There is room here for only those who are Americans and nothing else."

Since Mr. Gregg is so well versed in the quantitative and qualitative analysis of patriotic fervor, perhaps he could let us know how a sincere and devoted American can ascertain when one has reached the 100 per cent level. After all, I wouldn't want someone like Mr. Gregg to call me a "super patriot" because I had a difference of opinion on a subject.

Sincerely,
Evelyn Shacklett

Kennel Club Grateful

To The Editor:

May I in behalf of every member of the Central Ohio Kennel Club extend sincere gratitude and warm appreciation for the generous coverage given the 20th Annual All-Breed Dog Show for the benefit of the Cancer Society.

It is rewarding to know that in some way the funds turned over for research or assistance will halt the ravages of this dread disease.

We wish you every success.

Sincerely,
Mary Selleck

Papers Helped UA

To The Publisher:

The total impact of all your publications was a decided factor in enabling United Appeal to raise 99 per cent of its goal and nearly five per cent more than last year.

The direct channel to an important audience that your publications provide helps immeasurably in strengthening the public's confidence in the United Appeal purpose.

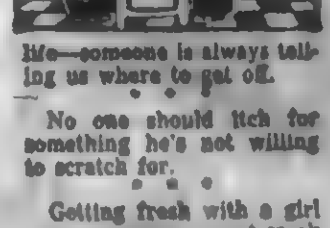
Thanks very much for all your help throughout the year.

Yours sincerely,
E. D. Bivens,
1961 Campaign Chairman.

Dolly Derby Big Success

To The Editor:

Thank you for your interest and help with our second annual Dolly Derby. It came off with a bang the weekend of Nov. 10-12.



You will be interested to know that we very nearly reached our goal of 2,000 dolls which had been dressed by Girl Scouts in eight Central Ohio counties and were on display here at Columbus Goodwill Industries and in our branches in Chillicothe, Marion and Newark. An estimated 2,300 persons visited one or more of the displays over the three-day period.

The dolls are being sold in our seven Central Ohio stores and will make many a little girl's Christmas a brighter one. Dolly Derby proceeds pay for training and employment of the handicapped.

Sincerely yours,
Jack Conner and (Mrs.) Virgie E. Rogers,
Public Relations.

AROUND EDUCATIONAL CIRCLES

Something New In Study Halls

Something new is being tried in Bristol, Pa., in the way of study halls in an attempt to eliminate the teacher's "baby-sitting" chore and also to make the extra period more profitable to students. "A review period" has been substituted for the conventional study hall by one high school principal.

Review periods are composed of students having difficulty in the same subject. They must devote the entire period to a specific subject. A teacher of the subject proctors the period and provides help to those who need it.

Postmen Need Our Cooperation Now

It's later than you think! Postmaster Allen M. Rowe declared today. "Let's not wait until mid-December to get our Christmas cards and gifts in the mails. By taking action now, you'll avoid disappointing friends and loved ones at Christmas time."

The postmaster asks your special cooperation in being sure that your return address and the recipient's address is plainly typed or written on all labels and Christmas cards. Use zone numbers, and send your Christmas cards by first-class mail so that you can include handwritten messages, making your Christmas greeting more personal, he suggested. Also, you'll be certain that they'll be delivered promptly and forwarded or returned, if necessary. Mail your Christmas cards in two bundles, using free labels that you get at the post office, which read, "ALL FOR LOCAL DELIVERY" and "ALL FOR OUT-OF-TOWN DELIVERY."

Service windows at the Main Post Office and sub-stations are open from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. You can avoid standing in line to mail your packages and to buy stamps by going to the post office before 10 a.m. or between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m.

Mail your Christmas cards and gifts for out-of-state destinations by Dec. 10, and those for local delivery before Dec. 16.

Quail Hunting Calls For An Expert Shot With Plenty Of Ammunition At Hand

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

After diligent research, conducted in the field with shotgun in hand, I am ready to announce my findings on quail hunting. The biggest thing that a hunter from this area must learn, is that quail are not pheasants.

If you are accustomed to shooting cackling cock ringnecks that loom large in the sky and fly in a straight line, you're in for surprises if you go after quail. In other words, take plenty of shells with you when you go quail hunting. This advice may not do you much good this year as the quail season closes the 9th, but there will be other seasons and these little buzz-bombs will be just as hard to hit then as now.

I am slowly learning to become a quail hunter through the efforts of Bob Evans, who has a farm near Rio Grande in Gallia County, and who is best known in these parts for the fine sausage he makes. But around home he is known as a conservationist for the land improvement practices he has put on his property, such as farm ponds, food and cover plantings for wildlife, and permanent pastures for livestock. Above all he is known as a quail hunter — one of many in southern Ohio where bobwhite quail thrive.

Bob has taken pity on a flat-lander and has endeavored to introduce me to this fine sport. With the help of Pete and Bess, two setters, and a pointer named Tony, my schooling has extended over three seasons.

At its best, quail hunting is sort of a chain-reaction sport. That is, you find a covey and after the flush go looking for a few singles. After you put up three or four singles, you will be in the territory of another covey and the dogs will find it. And so it goes, a covey and singles, another covey and more singles.

A most important part of the hunt is marking down birds—which means watching where the birds fly while you are trying to line one up over your gun barrel. Without marking birds down, you will miss a lot of shooting.

Since shooting is at fairly short range and often in thick cover, the use of brush loads will improve your score when quail hunting. These are special loads made by the ammunition companies to scatter more than regular shells, and yet maintain good patterns. They are also excellent for grouse and woodcock hunting, and are available in 20, 16 and 12 gauges.

If you think you are a pretty fair shot, and most of us do, nothing will make your cap fit so loosely as a quail hunt. I am even thinking of buying a smaller size for next year.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

Dried Fruits, Nuts Suggest Holiday Baking

By ESTELLE E. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits and Nuts — Grapefruit, juice oranges, apples, raisins, almonds, pecans.

Vegetables — Brussels sprouts, cauliflower, cabbage, potatoes, leaf lettuce, green beans.

When the calendar is turned to December, it's time to put dried fruits and tree nuts on your shopping list. Both suggest holiday baking and — of course sweet nibbling. Supplies are from the new crops now; the widest selection of the year is offered.

Although supplies of dried fruits are not record breaking this year, you'll find plenty for your holiday needs. Prices will vary with the supplies.

Raisins are the most plentiful; you'll likely buy them for less this year than last. Supplies of prunes and dates are about the same as last year. In shorter supply are: apricots, peaches, pears, apples and figs. As a result, prices for the season will be fairly high. Glazed fruits are priced about the same as a year ago.

The supply picture for tree nuts is a brighter one. The 1961 crops of the four major tree nuts — almonds, filberts, pecans and walnuts — are above the 1960 crop, wtih especially large increases in almonds and pecans. Production of almonds in California this year is a third larger than in 1960. Quality is reported to be good. Pecan production is expected to be a record this year — 22 per cent above last year and 50 per cent above average.

In addition to our four major tree nuts, you'll find nuts from foreign countries to add variety. Brazil nuts from Brazil or Bolivia; chestnuts and pistachios from the Eastern Mediterranean region; Macadami nuts from our Hawaiian neighbors; and cashews from East Africa and India are other nuts available.

Most folks like to crack nuts (and munch a few) but if that's not for you, there's a wide selection of convenience packages; shelled, chopped, sliced, slivered or ground. You may also buy nut meats salted, buttered or flavored with garlic, mint or cinnamon.

Figuring the cost of convenience is not difficult; you can figure roughly two pounds of nuts in-the-shell will yield one pound of nut meats.

ONE MAN'S Opinion . . .

Beam More Safety Slogans To Parents

Winter is coming and safety experts are around conference tables reworking old cliches and the artists are visualizing the same old posters:

Slow down on Slippery Streets . . . Watch the Road Now That It's Snowy . . etc.

Auble

Most of the slogans in the past — and dated for the present— are directed to the driver and, most part, this is good. Reports say that the last Holiday season, for example, was one of the safest ever here.

This is certainly a credit to area drivers — but just how many times are accidents the driver's fault?

I think it's time that parents take a long, slow look at family habits and decide that they don't want their Christmas festivities marred by a trip to the funeral home.

The two and three-year old little ones are what Christmas was made for and the loss of one of them can be the most tragic thing to happen to a family.

How old must your child be before he can cross the street? What yardstick do you use to measure the year that your children can go to a friend's house even though it means that they must walk along or across a busy highway?

Many parents have strict rules on this subject, but there's too much apathy among too many.

This story was related by a driver in the South Side of Columbus:

"I was traveling down a street where many toddlers play. I knew it was dangerous to go too fast, so I slowed down to 10 to 15 miles per hour.

"Suddenly a youngster, hardly old enough to walk — strolled from behind a parked car. I jammed the brakes and my wife was nearly scared to death.

"I got out of the car, took the child by the hand and asked him where he lived. He pointed to a house across the street and I took him up to the door.

"His mother answered the door and said the boy was her child.

"Can't you watch him a little more carefully," I said. "He's awfully small to be roaming around the street like he was."

"You make me sick," his mother said. "Do you think that all I've got to do is take care of this kid? He's old enough to know how to cross a street. Maybe if you'd slow down you wouldn't have to worry so much."

Rather discouraging, isn't it?

And yet, this was a true case that actually happened and proof can be furnished. Chances are that it's not too hard to believe — maybe you've had the same experience.

The toddlers can do no wrong. It's always the drivers.

No.

Some parents seem little concerned what happens to their children.

How many of us are like these folks?

Now that winter is coming it's more important than ever that kids stay in the yard.

If they do venture into the street, a well-placed spanking isn't such a bad idea. A few tears this way is much better than many tears on Christmas Day.

Cowboy Basketball Team Set For Big Linden Game

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.
Hartley Sports Editor

If you hear a couple of extra loud shouts from West High School's field house during the big game there this Friday night with Linden, check to see if they're bundled in winter clothing.

Coach Fred Heischman of the Cowboys will be looking with you. He's impressed by the spirit and support of his basketball team this year but he's theorizing that it's just "spill-over spirit" from West's awesome football season.

Anyway, it's with the Cowboys and Heischman is crossing his fingers hoping it'll stay . . . it's a nice change of pace.

But, there's good reason for enthusiastic spirit this week. Heischman is looking forward to this game with Linden — as are the student body and faculty.

The Panthers were undefeated last year and have three regulars back set to go in 1961-62. So, don't blame Heischman if he has bags under his eyes—chances are he's been staying up late studying strategy.

He's also a bit worried about East and Eastmoor (with good reason) but those are other matters and the Cowboys don't meet East until Jan. 12.

"All in all, things look pretty good this season," said Heischman. "We have an all-veteran team and there's not much doubt that we can top our 5-7 league standing of last year."

The Cowboys ended with a 7-13 over-all record and that is slated to be changed this year, too.

There's a newcomer who's come up fast, too. His name is Rick Meyer, a 6-foot, 6-inch lad who's been starting at center for the past openers.

Meyer is also the leading scorer with an unofficial 54-points in four games. Newman is a close second with 53, unofficially.

Bill Bell and Bill Hunter, both seniors, will see much action this year and, as Heischman said, "can work pretty well out there."

The squad has fair speed but it's strongest point in its shooting that has accounted for a lot of strong points. Depth is no problem, either.

Offensively, the Cowboys are using the double pivot, mostly. They've got two big boys who can make it work well. Look for a man-to-man defense for the rest of the season. And, with 440-Coles on the squad, the fast break is used to good advantage.

Heischman thinks as too. In fact, he sees it as one of his potentially best teams as he heads into his ninth year of West High coaching.

TREE Y'S MEN ARE READY!

SPRUCING UP a wide selection of evergreens for another of their popular Christmas tree sales are members of the Hilltop Y's Men's Club. Five variation of trees and mistletoe and pine roping will be offered at the lot at the "Y," Valleyview-dr just west of Hague-av, from Saturday, Dec. 9, until Christmas. During weekends members of the Hi-Windors Club will assist the group with sales at a second lot, 3725 W. Broad-st. Hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Proceeds will help the Y's Men to continue furnishing playgrounds and making improvements inside the new "Y" branch. Commissioner Post Sought By Hilltopper

Russell D. Drake, 105 N. Chase-av, Democratic city clerk from 1958 to 1960, has revealed that he will try for the post of county commissioner, to be relinquished by Eldon H. Brown, D., next spring.

Brown was appointed by two Republican commissioners to finish out the term of the late Nate McCoy.

Drake wants to see an open and free primary race next May. He declared he will not withdraw this year as he did last May "to prevent a party fight" in the city council race.

"If successful, Drake said, "I will cooperate fully with the two Republican commissioners, Glenn L. Myers and Henry Kosnik, in their daily decisions.

"This does not mean we will not have differences of opinion, he said, "but I have known both for years and our relationship in the courthouse will be based on mutual respect.

DR. FLOYD FAUST, educator, lecturer, counselor, and pastor of Broad Street Christian Church since 1929, will address the Optimist Club of Western Columbus at noon Tuesday, Dec. 12, at Holiday Inn. He will describe the work of Alcoholics Anonymous, which he organized in Columbus.

Star Furniture Co. Opens Spacious W. Side Store

A new 20,000 square foot suburban furniture store at 3637 W. Broad-st is being formally opened this week by Star Furniture Co. This is Star's fourth store in Central Ohio and follows within 15 months the opening of a modern one-floor suburban store at 4409 E. Main-st in Whitehall.

The new western store represents the most up-to-the-minute concept of furniture store design and contains many unusual features for greater comfort and convenience in shopping.

A richly paneled family room, which can be separated from the rest of the store by folding doors, will be available for use by clubs, church groups, and other community organizations, according to Jack Guggenheim, vice president of the Star organization. Facilities for food service have been provided, he stated.

A special early-American section, the "1776 Shop," contains an exceptionally large selection of living room, dining room, and bedroom furniture and accessories in solid maple, cherry, and pine, with a high percentage in the moderate-price bracket.

A complete carpet department, running almost the entire depth of the store, displays entire rolls of both nine and 12-foot broadloom carpet. This is in addition to display racks which hold rug-size samples of hundreds of other weaves and colors. In the new western store, as in all other Star Furniture stores, a shop-at-home carpet service will be maintained, with a complete selection of carpet samples being taken direct to customers' homes on appointments, Guggenheim said.

Large parking areas have been provided on both sides of the store, connected by a window-shoppers' driveway along the entire front and with easy access from all directions.

In addition to the two suburban locations, Star has stores at 180 E. Main-st, where the general offices are located, and on the Near-North Side at High and Goodale.

WOW, MOM!

Eight-Year Old Gets Very Own Income Tax Evasion Summons . . .

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Eight-year-old John Sorg, 84 S. Eureka, hadn't sent away for any Gene Autry Cowboy rings or Captain Video Secret Decoders lately and he had a puzzled look on his face as he opened a brown envelope addressed to him.

Inside was a thin piece of parchment, and at the top was printed in large letters — S-U-M-M-O-N-S.

"Wow, Mom, look what I got," he shouted to Mrs. Joseph Sorg who was busy in the kitchen. "I got a real nice thing here. Mom, it's a Summons. Will the kids see this."

Evidently young Johnny thought the "Summons" was a membership card in a new organization for his Cub Scout troop — for he was elated.

His mother wasn't.

It was the fine print that disturbed her.

Underneath the Summons heading was written ". . . bring in your records of income from 1956 through 1960 before the 28th of Nov. to the Office of City Income Tax, City Hall."

Mrs. Sorg is a sensible woman and knew her St. Aloysius third grader hadn't been operating an illegal Kool-Aid stand on the side, so she placed through a "rush" call to F. A. Gardner of the Income Tax Department, whose name was signed to the court order below the name of City Auditor John H. Price.

Gardner's face turned a couple of shades of red when he heard of young Sorg's age and assured Mrs. Sorg that there had been a mix-up.

"Just destroy it," said Gardner. "It's just a mix-up in names and I apologize."

But, Johnny doesn't seem to want to part with it. He wouldn't think of destroying an honest-to-goodness "summons" that he got for his very own through the mail. Wow!

Actually, Johnny couldn've produced a very impressive income list for 1956-1960 anyway. That is, unless you're impressed with a figure something like $2.87.

And, most of that is spent, too . . . "for Christmas presents," said Johnny. "That's what I do with all the money I make."

He saves up his candy money after school and is making it stretch for cards for all the names on his Christmas list. Sometimes, however, he drops the nickel in the missions box at St. Aloysius School.

Oh, and in case the city is interested, young Johnny also gets a 50-cent allowance — "but not all the time."

Johnny's teacher at St. Aloysius tells us that he's a good student — especially in English and Spelling. By his own admission, however, he doesn't like "'rithmetic" and so, Mr. Gardner, you'll have to excuse his income tax slip. Things will look better to him at 18.

Anyway, he wants to be a newspaperman when he grows up so he'll just have to turn out well . . . right?

"LOOK WHAT I got," smiles eight-year-old John Sorg, 84 S. Eureka-av, as he proudly displays a Summons he received for income tax evasion for 1956 to 1960. The Summons was just a mix-up by the local tax department but young Johnny won't part with it. "Will the kids see this," he said. Wow!

Holiday Pickup Of Mail Speeded

Columbus Postmaster Allen M. Rowe announced that, starting Saturday, Dec. 11, all street letter boxes will be collected on a continuing basis. Starting at 9 a.m. every collection box will be collected at three-hour intervals.

Postmaster Rowe requests business, professional men and Christmas greeting card mailers to deposit their mail early and often during the day to help level off the holiday mail volume over the longest period possible.

Three Tied Up, W. Side Grill Robbed Of $800

Two gunmen, who tied up two men and a woman in a restroom of the Rainbow Grill, 1351 W. Broad-st early last Friday, fled with almost $800, police reported.

The captives were Ed Carr, 26 S. Souder-av, a grill employe; Mrs. Jean Poling, 112 Brehl-av, barmaid, and Edward Barker, 20 S. Cypress-av, a patron.

Bound with a new clothesline, Mrs. Poling managed to twist around until Barker could untie a knot. She then cut the men free and called police.

Some women who wear slacks should wear them more often.—Thompson.

To shell chestnuts, make a fairly long slash in the shell with a sharp knife. Bake them at 425 degrees Fahrenheit, for 10 to 15 minutes. Heat small amounts at a time, since chestnuts peel more easily when warm.

WESTGATE EUB CHOIRS TO PRESENT CHORAL PROGRAM

A CANDLELIGHT CAROL SERVICE will be presented Sunday, Dec. 10, 7 p.m. by the combined choirs of Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church, 53 S. Powell-av. Junior, High School and Chancel Choirs, directed by Carl Speckman and accompanied by Mrs. Eldred Heisel, organist, will participate. Public is invited.

AT STARLING . . .

Cheerleading Squad Named For Season

Starling's cheerleaders have been chosen, and have led cheers in the first game of the season when Starling defeated Franklin.

Cheerleaders for the 1961-62 basketball season are Beverly Evans, Valerie Gibson, Sharon Lochenheimer, Sylvia Pullen, Patsy Scruggs and Sherry Diven, head cheerleader. Substitutes are Phyllis Benjamin and Paula Collins.

Judges who picked the cheerleaders were Mrs. Sandy Anderson, Al Beamenderfer, Mrs. Janet Jesenheans, Miss Dianne Littlefield, Al Popovich and Dave Randall.

SKATING PARTY

Starling Junior High held its second skating party Nov. 16 at Smith's skating rink. Approximately 236 attended.

Starling's ninth grade home economics class served breakfast for the faculty and cooks. Half were invited one Friday morning and the other half the following Friday.

14 At West Earn All A's

Fourteen students made a 4 average at West High for the second six weeks grading period.

Film Series Set By Church Youth

Youth Fellowship of the Community Christian Church, 107 S. Powell-av, will present a series of three film strips on the Birth and Early Life of Jesus Dec. 10, 17 and 31.

There will be no admission charge and the public is invited.

H. E. Zirley, counsellor for the youth group will show the films.

"THE CHRISTMAS STORY," to be presented by Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church cast, will be staged at Linmoor Junior High School, 2001 Hamilton-av, south of Hudson-st, Dec. 10 at 8 p.m. Among those planning the production are, from left, Rev. Irvin H. Lane, author and general chairman; Roger Snyder, narrator; Floyd Griffith, playing Isiah; Al Abrams, public relations chairman, and Charles Chesher, manager and promoter.

Burgess Christmas Pageant Slated Sunday

Third annual production of "The Christmas Story," original pageant written by Burgess Avenue EUB pastor, Rev. Irvin H. Lane, is planned Sunday night at 8, at Linmoor Junior High School.

East Linden EUB Church, with other cooperating churches, will sponsor the production. Public is invited.

The costumed cast, and members of the staging crew total [illegible].

Mrs. Jean Dhume Weger is director and is final soloist for the performance.

Church Of Christ To Hold Series Of Gospel Meetings

Lewis Mikell, evangelist of Gallipolis will preach in a series of gospel meetings at the Church of Christ, 2585 Sullivant-av (John Burroughs School) Monday, Dec. 11, through Sunday, Dec. 17.

Evening services begin at 7:30. Sunday services consist of Bible study at 9:45 and preaching at 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Carl E. Finley, evangelist, with the Church of Christ at Whitehall, will be guest speaker to begin the series of meetings, Sunday, Dec. 10, at both morning and evening services.

Congregational singing without instrumental accompaniment is a feature of the worship services. There are no evening contributions taken.

Sermon topics are scheduled as follows:

Lewis Mikell

Sunday, Dec. 10, 10:30, "A Universal Religion," and 7:30 p.m., "I Am Not Ashamed."

Dec. 11, "I Need Thee Every Hour"; Dec. 12, "How to Study the Bible"; Dec. 13, "The Great Commission."

Dec. 14, "The Church Which Jesus Built; Dec. 15, "Conversions," and Dec. 16, "Old Time Religion."

Sunday, Dec. 17, 10:30 a.m. "The Potential of the Church," and 7:30 p.m., "How Shall We Escape If We Neglect So Great Salvation."

Visitors are invited.

Cows with access to water consume 15 to 20 per cent more water than cows watered only twice a day, note OSU extension specialists.

Herbert B. Rieke

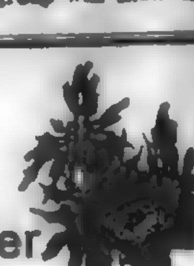
Christ, Scientist, Lecturer Slated

Herbert B. Rieke of Indianapolis will present public lecture on Christian Science at First Church of Christ, Scientist, 457 E. Broad-st, Tuesday, Dec. 12, 8 p.m.

Lecture is free and no collection will be taken.

Rieke, an Army Air Corps chaplain during World War II, served for three and a half years in India, North Africa and Italy, receiving a bronze star for distinguished service.

Seance Set At Boerstler



Boerstler Memorial Spiritualist Church, (old West Side Church) 79 McDowell-st, will hold a circle seance Thursday 7:30 p.m. Everyone is invited.

Kris Kringle In Green!

Modern-day Kris Kringles with green uniforms and campaign ribbons—that's a Christmas-time description of the Columbus Marine Corps Reservists who are pitching in to make sure all less fortunate children in the area have a happy holiday.

With only one day left before the end of the community-wide "Toys for Tots" drive, residents of the greater Columbus area today were urged to make their Christmas gift donations Friday or Saturday, Dec. 8 and 9, at any local fire station.

Toys collected in Columbus will be distributed by the Marine Corps Reserve in cooperation with the Franklin County Welfare Department.

New Film List Available Now

A new list of films available for programs and meetings has been announced by the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co.

These films are listed in the new "Film Library" which also includes programs of general interest available as a free service to schools and organizations in the company's service area.

Interested persons are invited to pick up a copy of the catalog at the local Electric Company office or by writing the Public Relations Department, Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company, 215 N. Front-st, Columbus 15.

Facing all Christmas greeting cards one direction and bundling them in "out-of-town" or "local" packages will eliminate two or more individual handlings. Use of postal zone numbers speeds your cards on their way.

Serve chestnuts with broccoli, Brussels sprouts, celery and mushrooms; or in a rich cream sauce. Use chestnuts in turkey stuffings or in soups.

DEATHS

JOSEPH L. FREY

Joseph L. Frey, 72, who operated Frey's Shoe Repair Shop at Wheatland-av and W. Broad-st for nearly 30 years, died Tuesday. He was a resident of 2318 Brookwood-rd.

A veteran of World War I, Mr. Frey was also a member of the Whitehall Church of Christ.

Survivors include his wife, Gertrude; daughters, Mrs. Dawna Ealy, and Mrs. Dorothy Wright; and a brother, Charles.

Service will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at Schoedinger State-st Chapel, Carl E. Finley officiating. Burial will be in Greenlawn Cemetery.

FLOYD E. LOVE

Service will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday for Floyd E. Love, 66, of 2261 Sullivant-av who died Monday.

An employe of the Division of the Blind, Department of Welfare, he also was senior deacon of the Church of the Savior for many years.

Surviving are his wife, Gertrude L.; sons, Paul D., John F., and Floyd R., all of Columbus; daughters, Mrs. Pauline Root of Grove City, Mrs. Donna Spangler of New Rome and Mrs. Mary Kelley, this city; sisters, Mrs. Blanche Starkey, Mrs. Dora Holland and Mrs. Zura Walls; 19 grandchildren.

Friends may call at the O. R. Woodyard State-st Chapel until 10 a.m. Thursday. The body then will be taken to the Church of the Savior to lie in state until time for the service.

CARL L. McKENNEY

Service was held here Tuesday for Carl L. McKenney, 73, retired C&O Railroad conductor who died Dec. 2 in Bradenton, Fla.

A former resident of Buckeye Lake, he was a member of Glenwood Methodist Church, B. of R.T., Past Patron Crown Chapter of O.E.S., West Gate Lodge of F&AM, and the F.O.E.

Surviving are the wife, Susan; sons Arnold M. and Charles R.; a sister, Mrs. Ruth Ray of Ft. Lauderdale; a brother, Fred McKenney and eight grandchildren.

Masonic service was conducted Monday evening. Burial was in Glen Rest Cemetery by Schoedinger's.

JOSEPHINE SULLIVAN

Requiem High Mass will be sung at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at St. Agnes Church for Josephine Sullivan, 64, who died Nov. 30 at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

She is survived by four nephews. Burial will be in St. Joseph Cemetery.

WILLIAM C. KREBS

Requiem Mass was held today in St. Mary Magdalene Church for William C. Krebs, 73, retired assistant fire chief at Columbus General Depot and formerly of 683 Butler-av, who died Dec. 2 at Grant Hospital. Schoedinger Hilltop Chapel was in charge of arrangements.

He is survived by a stepdaughter, Mrs. Mildred Easton; sisters, Mrs. Rose Herb, Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, and Mrs. Mary Roth; brothers, John and Rudolph Krebs, and two grandchildren.

SHARON TWEEDY

Sharon Tweedy, 18, of 810 Campbell-av, died Sunday in Mt. Carmel Hospital. She is survived by her husband, Steven; sons, Steven Arthur and David Michael; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur West; sisters, Barbara Bake and Diane Kennedy; paternal grandmother, Cornie West.

Services were held today in the Jerry Separs Funeral Home with interment in Sunset Cemetery.

JAMES F. GRANT

Funeral services for James F. Grant, 78, who died Dec. 1 in his home, 309 S. Wayne-av, were held Monday in the Ray H. Wise Funeral Home, Lancaster. Burial was in Forest Rose Cemetery, Lancaster.

He is survived by his wife, Ella; stepson, Lieut. Col. Harry Mogler of Lancaster; four brothers and two sisters.

MISS MABEL DAGUE

Miss Mabel Dague, 109 Midland-av, died Tuesday evening at Mt. Carmel.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Leota Lenk.

Services will be held Friday, 10:30 a.m. at Noble L. Allen Funeral Home. Friends may call Thursday, 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. Burial will be at Union Cemetery.

WILLIAM ERNEST HILLARD

William Ernest Hilliard, 67, of 4491 W. Broad-st, died early Wednesday at Mercy Hospital.

He was a member of Royal Neighbors of America 3239 and was a veteran of World War I.

Surviving are his wife, Margaret R.; three daughters, Mrs. John (Betty) Roberts of Radnor, Mrs. Fred (Mary Ellen) Wiseman of Annapolis, Md., Mrs. Arthur J. (Jane) Rothwell of Ashley; one sister, Mrs. Warner Elliott of Ashley; three grandchildren; one great-grandchild.

Friends may call at Wylie S. Shroyer Funeral Home, 1278 W. Broad-st, 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday. Funeral will be held there Friday, 1:30 p.m. Burial will be at Wesley Chapel.

MABEL LEAH JOHNSON

Funeral services for Mabel Leah Johnson, 63, of 142 Chicago-av, who died Nov. 29, were held Saturday in the Wylie S. Shroyer Funeral Home with burial at South Bloomfield.

She is survived by her husband, Arvid L.; mother, Mrs. Belle Thompson of Webbville, Ky.; daughters, Mrs. Jewell Reese of South Bloomfield and Mrs. Virginia Medina of Lancaster, Calif.; son, Robert E. Poling of Casper, Wyoming; sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Spears of Ashland, Ky., and Mrs. Ruth Meig of Columbus; brother, Charles Steele of Canal Winchester; eight grandchildren.

Traffic Plan Conference Dated Dec. 19

Columbus Traffic Commission has set Tuesday, Dec. 19, as the date for a special meeting with the traffic committee of the West Side Neighborhood Council.

The invitation to the local group's chairman, Frank Schneider, was extended by Jack Gallagher, traffic engineer.

The 2 p.m. meeting in the City Hall Annex will feature a discussion of the specific proposals for improved traffic patterns in the West Side. The proposals grew out of the six "town hall" meetings held this fall in area elementary schools by the West Side Neighborhood Council.

The mark of a true executive is usually illegible.—Farrell.

Dear Santa: I Want A Doll, Train, Dog, Candy, Games . . . !

PAMELA NEVILLE, 2247 Amherst, pupil at West Mound, confided her Christmas wishes would all come true if Santa would remember, ". . . a hair dryer for my doll, and a kitchen with stove and sink; and a doll that really talks."

JOSEPH ELLIS, 619 Carpenterst, explains earnestly, ". . . this part of my gun is broken so I need a new one. And I want a whole fire engine department and one of those toy skateboards—wow, what a toy!" He attends Livingston School.

LAURA ESSINGER, 600 College-av, in the kindergarten at Montrose School, is dreaming of, ". . . a stove that really works and a sink that really works and another doll. I already have a lot of them but I would love a new one for Christmas."

TOMMY SIXT, 635 Robinwood-av, shows where he placed the antlers on Rudolph in his classroom at Whittier-East Main. Tommy ignores his obvious need for new front teeth with, ". . . I would rather have a BB gun—a real one, and a guitar, a real one, too."

That Man's Here Again

For more than 10 years Hartley Newspapers have had the pleasure of bringing to our communities the famous Gay Philosopher calendar.

And that man is here again!

This year Pop is at his best throwing a ball down the bowling alley while son proudly looks on.

And in doing so, the Gay Philosopher says: "Perfection may never be reached but it is worth reaching for."

A limited number of the small calendars are available at the offices of Hartley Newspapers, 2465 W. Broad-st., on a first come first served basis. No mail requests, please.

Boys . . . Better Boys

Over forty million newspapers are delivered to homes in America each day by boys.

Throughout this country a great percentage of the leaders in business, industry and government attribute their starts toward success to the fact that the first job they ever held was that of a newsboy.

Yet there are today certain groups at work on plans to put regulations on newsboys and possibly deprive them of the opportunity to earn money for themselves as well as gain this valuable training.

America's greatest asset is its boys! Boys today are better boys than ever before. They can run faster, absorb more difficult curriculum in school, and are much farther advanced in their thinking than ever before.

Boys want to earn their own money, want to take on responsibility, and want to be accepted as a person.

There is no finer opportunity for the development of a boy into manhood than through a newspaper route.

Here and There: Over at Howard Warwick's Garden Store at Gahanna there are two rooms appropriately marked, Miss Violet and Mr. Sweet William . . . And while in the vicinity of Gahanna it is well worth dropping in at Miller's Restaurant for a tasty bite . . . All over the territory the question continues to be asked: What are the judges going to do about the Sunday Closing cases? . . . A banker friend reminds us that idle money never does it just loses interest.

The Gay Philosopher Says: "Some people give up when they get up."

. . . SOLVE, HELP PROBLEMS!

Mrs. Edith Williams, 225 Fairway-blvd., found the salesperson she was looking for as a result of her recent fast-action Hartley Newspapers' Want Ad. Need help for the holiday rush? Try a result-producing Hartley Want Ad. Just dial BR. 4-1155 for a competent ad-taker.

Recreation Centers Hosting Variety Of Christmas Parties

FOR SEVERAL YEARS Hilltoppers haven't had to go far to find an appropriate man to light the community Christmas tree. One of their neighbors, Mayor W. Ralstch Westlake, 3294 W. Broad-st, did the honors again last Sunday night during a ceremony on the hill north of Glenwood Recreation Center.

"Community parties, inspired by Christmas, will get under way here this week and next.

Largest West Side crowds are expected at Sunshine Recreation Center from 1 to 5 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 17. Co-sponsors of the annual Christmas party are the West Side Board of Trade, West Side Kiwanis Club, and Columbus Recreation Department.

A movie at 1 p.m. will be followed by a playlet, "The Christmas Story," for all children of the center.

As a highlight, Santa and the Mitzi Joyce entertainers will appear with treats and a show for all children eight and under. Businessmen and Kiwanians will help distribute candy and fruit.

Dominating Hilltop yule celebrations will be a party for all adult groups at Glenwood Recreation Center, Wednesday evening, Dec. 20. Games and caroling will follow a pot-luck dinner. Mrs. Eileen Diehl and her accordion band will entertain.

For the teenage set, the "Snowflake Twirl," annual Christmas dance, will be held from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 21. Morrison's Orchestra will play. There will be variety acts at intermission. The event will be open free to all Hilltop youths, ages 13 to 18.

The evening of Saturday, Dec. 16 has been set for Gladden Community House's annual Tree Trim, a family-wide event. (Details appear with a picture inside.)

West Side Boys' Club, 115 S. Gift-st, will celebrate Christmas at a party the evening of Friday, Dec. 22. More details will be announced next week.

Activities at Friendship House, 118 W. Main-st, begin with the "hanging of the greens" at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 14.

A fast-paced program of stage fun, arranged by Mitzi Joyce, will precede Santa's arrival Dec. 17 at Sunshine. Booked for the show are: Jeanie Commins, Princess Snowflake of WBNS-TV; Mitzi Joyce, accordionist; Nancy Perkins, eight, dancer; the Vagabums; Vic Pecora and his trio; Mary Jean Young, playing the bones; Madame Rose Brown, vocalist; and other acts.

Santa Claus will return to Sunshine Tuesday, Dec. 19 to hold personal interviews with small children. His hours will be 7 to 9 p.m.

Other Christmas events at Sunshine include: Tuesday, Dec. 19—Golden Age party, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.; Wednesday, Dec. 20—Club CI party, 7:30 to 10 p.m.; Boys Leaders Club party, 3 to 5 p.m.; Girls Leaders Club party, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Thursday, Dec. 21 — Hi-Yi dance (for teenagers), 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.; Friday, Dec. 22 — Teen Club party, 7:30 to 10 p.m.

Fifteen children from the center will go to City Hall Dec. 20 to sing carols.

Friendship House has the following Yule schedule:

Hanging of the greens (decorating), 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 14; Friday, Dec. 15, 1 p.m., party for pre-schoolers; 6:30 p.m., party for teenagers.

Monday, Dec. 18, 3:30 p.m., party for elementary school children; 6:30 p.m., Mothers Club party.

Greater Ohio Showmen's Association will present its annual entertainment at Friendship House from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 16. It will be open to preschool children.

Central's Choir Will Sing 'Song'

Central High Senior Choir will present the annual school assembly, Dec. 22.

The "Song of Christmas," lasting approximately 25 minutes, will be the feature event.

Patricia Gillispie is narrator, while Rose Ann Ryan, Bill Chamberlain, Roberta Dildine, Larry Hawkins, Mary Etta Jones and David Price are soloists.

The choir, directed by Paul Ward, will also present the "Song of Christmas" at several junior high schools throughout the city, as well as at city hall by request of Mayor Westlake.

Again, as in previous years, Central is cooperating with Gladden Community House and Godman Guild in making Christmas baskets for needy families.

West Gate Lodge Party Is Dec. 16

West Gate Lodge 623, Masons, is holding its annual Christmas party at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 16 in Westgate Temple. Entertainment, followed by Santa Claus with treats for the children, will be highlights, said Paul Hicks, master.

Flare Sets Off Wreck On Sandusky

An overturned kerosene flare was blamed indirectly for an accident on the Sandusky Interchange Tuesday night which injured three people and damaged four cars.

The kerosene ignited and firemen were called to extinguish the fire. The pumper truck was parked in the inside lane.

One of the cars involved swung left to avoid the truck and started a chain of three rear-end crashes.

None of the injuries was serious.

RAYMOND SOLOGMONE, 1115 Parmaav, requests, ". . . crutches, guns, chutes and ladders, and other games." And his twin, George, right, echoes after each item, "Two of them!" The auto think-alikes are students of St. Agnes School.

SATURDAY'S SANTA LETTER DEADLINE

This Saturday is the final day for sending in letters to Santa Claus, telling him what you want for Christmas.

To speed the flow of messages to the North Pole, Hartley Newspapers again this year will give Santa a helping hand.

The seven community newspapers are publishing letters from youngsters to Santa Claus. Old St. Nick always reads the Hartley papers and he's sure to see your requests.

But, just to make sure, we're not only printing them but are sending them on to Santa himself!

They should be addressed to:

Santa Claus, 2465 W. Broad-st, Columbus 4.

Remember, this Saturday at 12 midnight is the deadline.

Clearing House Opens At Gladden House

The clearing house for all for all Christmas care for West Side families opened at Gladden Community House.

All organizations giving aid to needy families are being asked to clear their namelists through the new committee, to avoid duplication and spread out the resources of the donor groups. The Neighborhood Council group will in turn clear all families with the United Community Council Christmas Bureau.

The clearing house, chaired by Mrs. Laura Beach, will operate Monday through Friday from 1 to 3 p.m., through the 18th, but names may be turned in for clearing anytime from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. with the office secretary at Gladden House.

The clearing house has no resources itself to meet needs, but will try to match donor groups with those in need, said Mrs. Beach. All organizations clearing names are held responsible for determining the need.

For the purposes of area designation, West Side families are considered to be those living in the neighborhood bounded by Stimmel-rd on the south, the river on the east and north, and a line roughly adjacent to Central-av on the west.

Mrs. Beach pointed out that the success of this program depends on the complete cooperation of all organizations clearing all families given help. All information will be handled in the strictest of confidence, she said.

More Jingle Winners Are Announced

Miss Paula Pinjuv, 43A Buckeye Circle, Lockbourne Air Force Base, is the first prize winner of Hartley Newspapers' Jot-A-Jingle contest for week ending Dec. 2. She receives a $5 merchandise certificate redeemable at one of the businesses listed in the Christmas Gift Guide on the Classified page.

The second prize of $3 was

Christmas Choral Concert Set At West High School Sunday

Christmas concert, annual yuletide gift to the community by West High School's choir and choral groups, will be offered Sunday, Dec. 17, 2:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Public is invited. Mrs. Edith White, vocal instructor, will direct the program.

School alumni are invited to join the choir in the finale, "The Hallelujah Chorus."

Program includes a lighted processional, "Silent Night," "Ding Dong Merrily On High" and "Alleluia" by the Senior Choir.

"Joy To The World," is planned by Senior Choir boys, and "Bring a Torch, Jeannette Isabella," by Senior Choir girls. The Girls Ensemble will sing "The Bagpipe Carol" and "White Christmas."

"O Come All Ye Faithful," by Senior Choir boys will be followed by an audience carol sing with student director, Frank Tippett and accompanists, Janet Mitchell and Carol Ash.

"The Birthday of A King" and "The Little Drummer Boy" by the Senior Choir will feature soloist, Frank Tippett. The Mixed Ensemble, with Karen Theobald, soloist, will present "The Christmas Song," and the Boys Ensemble, "The Winter Song."

"The Song of Christmas," narrated by Steve Bringardner, will feature soloists, Margaret Reynolds, Ann Lehman, Frank Tippett, Karen Theobald and Larry Calvert.

A freewill offering will be taken to benefit the school's vocal department.

Program cover was designed by Duane Hollman and Susie Scholten, and secretarial work for the program was done by Judy Burton.

See Continued Good Hoover Walleye Fishing

Walleye fishing should continue to be good at Hoover Reservoir for several years at least, according to fisheries men of the Division of Wildlife.

While trawling there in October, the fish men captured a number of young walleyes from six and one-half to nine inches long. Based on average growth rate for this species, these fish will run from 12 to 14 or 15 inches by late summer of 1963.

This past year anglers enjoyed fine walleye fishing at Hoover with many fish in the 12-to-15-inch group being taken.

The walleyes which are now showing up are the result of stocking fry (tiny fish), which were hatched at the Put-In-Bay hatchery. It is the hope of fish technicians (fishermen too) that a population will become established in the reservoir and that the fish will spawn naturally.

Christmas cards mailed at first-class (4c) rate, may be sealed and contain a personal message. They will be given full mail forwarding service, and if they bear the sender's return address they will be returned if undeliverable.

NEW 'CASTLE' OPENS THIS WEEK

WHITE CASTLE SYSTEM, 40-year-old hamburger specialty chain, will open its second West Side and seventh Columbus "Castle" the latter part of this week at the northwest corner of W. Broad-st and Wilson-rd. R. L. Collins, Columbus district manager, said the more-than $100,000 unit has a production capacity of over 2,000 hamburgers an hour. It will be open all night, is fully air-conditioned and has parking for 54 cars.

Changing Look Noted In Christmas Toys

By Jack Allen

With every Christmas comes a new line of toys more complex and detailed than the year before.

Grandmother played with a doll whose head was china and its dresses looked something like a royal christening outfit. Mother's doll was less fragile and even had movable arms, legs and a head that could be turned from side to side, followed by a doll that closed its eyes and said "mama," which big sister dragged around.

But today's little girl has a doll that feeds, wets, is supplied with bandages, a plastic cast and crutches, along with a complete wardrobe from bikini to formals and unmentionables.

Things have changed for the boys, too. The old-fashioned wood reproduction of a nondescript car has been replaced with the latest in foreign and American-made sports cars, as well as jalopies for tots to pull or teen-agers to race, complete with combustion engines.

Where mom and dad once bought toys according to children's interests, today they are guided by toys clearly labeled for age groups.

Toys were once meant for pleasure alone. Now Junior can learn math quicker with a toy computer rather than with an abacus.

The trend to science has broadened the field of selection for teenagers and the exceptional or fast student, with complete science sets in fields of mineralogy, chemistry and physics.

These sets include microscopes, rock samples and solar-powered motor, plus tubes and bottles full of chemicals and

But the trend is not completely to teaching aids. The old favorite, the electric train, is fighting a desperate battle of survival with the gasoline-driven hobby kart. The cap pistol in the holster is getting hot competition from the derringer sleeve gun.

The tiny cuddly doll lost its position as toy seller last year to a "life" size doll standing three feet high that wears the four children's clothes and speaks 12 phrases.

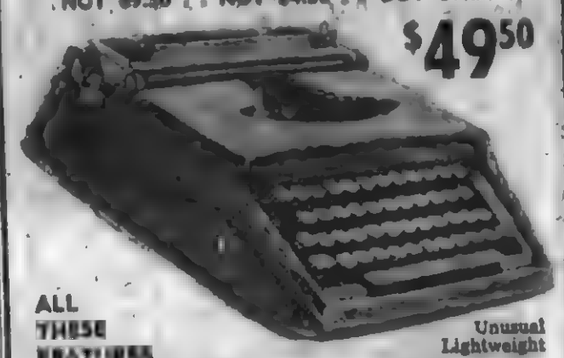
Even the doll house has been updated to three stories, furnished with the latest scale model appliances including a disposal in the kitchen sink.

Satellite launchers, rockets, a mobile of miniature planets suspended according to scale in their proper celestial locations, along with submerging self-propelled submarines, and guns that smoke and make a ricochet whine when fired have also joined the expanding line of toys.

Expensive? Sure. But according to toy manufacturers adults take cost in their stride because adults like these contrivances as much as their offspring.

Last year, in the U.S. alone, more than $3 billion was spent on toys and games. This year the figure is expected to reach the $3.5 billion mark.

According to the toy industry, two facts favor the increase: One is the large child population and greater age range in toys; the other is the matter of "disposable income." And the fact that higher-priced toys are "accepted" by the Christmas-buying public.



Village Little Theater Will Present Farce

Village Little Theatre, a group of players from Columbus and surrounding communities, will present "Lady Be Good," a farce comedy in three acts by Dana Thomas, as its next major production. The cast is now rehearsing under the direction of Belford E. Lang.

Performances will be given Friday and Saturday nights, Jan. 25 and 26, in Parish Hall, First Community Church.

West Area Real Estate Brokers Organizing

A large proportion of the real estate brokers in the west part of Columbus have formed an organization to be known as the West Area Realty Association. George Deffet, George Schaaf, Harry Imes and John Reece have been named temporary chairmen.

The purpose of this association, according to the temporary chairmen, will be to promote good relations among the brokers to better serve their community, and to exchange ideas and information to better assist them in their profession.

Permanent officers will be elected at a January meeting.

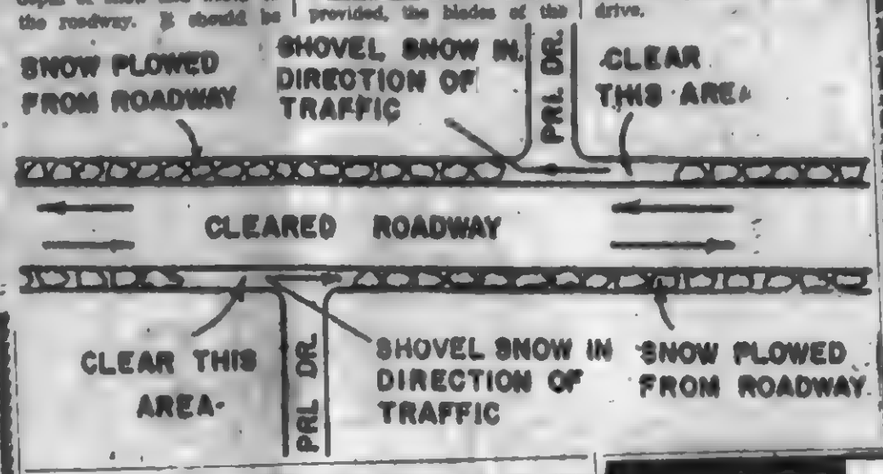
Instructions Given Halting Snow Pile Up



Ohio's Bare Roads Policy, now in operation for the third straight winter, is designed to reduce driving hazards by keeping the state's highways free of ice and snow. But, like many other desirable public programs, the policy is not without its drawbacks, department spokesmen said.

When snow is cleared from traffic lanes, then plowed back from the shoulder of the roadway to provide a storage area for the next plowing operation, a ridge of snow is formed along the road. This creates a problem for the fellow who, half an hour after clearing his driveway, finds it plugged by a mound of snow cast up by passing plows.

The Ohio Department of Highways has suggested a way to minimize this hardship. Harry Brannon, division deputy director urged residents to clear an area next to their driveways so that snow would spill from the plow into the cleared area rather than carry across the driveway.

The area to be cleared, he said, should be about 10 to 12 yards long and a yard or two wide, depending on the depth of snow and width of the roadway. It should be "ahead" of the driveway, that is, against the direction of traffic.

When the cleared area is provided, the blades of the snow plows will empty into the bare area, and only a small ridge, if any, of snow will be pulled across the drive.

Shift In Attitudes Toward Civil Defense Widely Apparent

This country has had civil defense organizations and policies for years. But, until lately, public interest has been conspicuous by its absence. Almost no one paid any attention to the warnings, the theories, and the philosophical controversies that the CD concept creates.

Now all is changed. As Newsweek puts the matter, "The President's eloquent statements about the duties of every man to provide for his family — plus Khrushchev's truculence over Berlin —have vaporized, as effectively as the latest Soviet superbomb, the old foot-dragging indifference. In place of apathy, however, there now exists a wild fallout of confusion, concern, commercialism, and misinformation."

Two civil defense proposals have been current. One envisions mass evacuation of the cities as soon as the warning devices report that nuclear attack is on its way. But, in late November, the Federal Office of Civil Defense officially abandoned the evacuation idea. Time would be too short, and the possible congestion and panic almost unimaginable. That would not be the case in every area, but it certainly would be in the metropolitan centers.

Yet, a CD official who lives in the eastern part of Columbus recently told a Hilltop audience that if warned of impending attack he would load his family into the car and try to leave the city.

Local school systems that formerly favored evacuation, are now looking at shelter recommendations.

So all that remains is survival shelters. And interest in the shelters seems to have reached a state approaching frenzy in the minds of many people.

The article deals with the value of shelters, and of the various kinds that are advocated and can be constructed, along with the equipment and conveniences that are needed. It's apparent that some ideals about life in a shelter (promoted, it might be added, by high-powered salesmen) are illusory in the extreme. In the magazine's words, "Indeed, the facts of nuclear war, fallout, and shelter life are far more complex and sobering than pictures of a teen-ager lounging in a shelter with a Coke and a telephone would indicate."

No feasible shelter can protect against blast at or near the point of impact — within seven miles, say the experts, a 50-megaton bomb would cause 100 per cent fatality. What shelters can do, within certain limits, is to protect against blast effects at greater distances, and against fallout. Individuals can build these shelters, but costs are substantial if a reasonable degree of comfort and more or less adequate stockpiles are provided for.

So under a new federal civil defense policy, which has a $207 million Congressional appropriation back of it, emphasis will be on public fallout shelters. The plan is to create 250,000 such shelters, capable of taking care of 50 million people by December of next year. Space will be provided in public buildings, schools, subways, mines, and so on. The cost is figured at $3 a person. These shelters, it should be added, are considered minimal. The cost at an optimum shelter plan is estimated at $100 per person!

The end of the article makes the big point: "The most important thing to understand is that there are no certitudes in the atomic age . . . The most dangerous illusion is that shelters make nuclear war thinkable — that after the bombs have fallen the nation will climb out of its hole and go on with life as it has always been lived."

Support Of Salvation Army's Work Important – Especially At Christmas

To The Editor:

May I, through the columns of your newspaper, express the appreciation of The Salvation Army to all those residents of Columbus and Franklin County who helped in former years to bring a happy Christmas to many who would otherwise have been neglected at this season.

The Salvation Army, in addition to its many year-round activities, carries on an extensive program to bring something of Christmas to the poor, the homeless, the hungry; to people in prisons and those on military duty. It provides toys for children. Salvationists also visit invalids and aged, lonely shut-ins who might be forgotten at this joyful season. It's terribly important to be remembered at Christmastime.

I wish that all who drop a coin or a bill into a Salvation Army Christmas kettle could see the delighted faces of children at a Salvation Army Christmas party; that they could see contentment that a Salvation Army Christmas dinner brings to less privileged families, or to homeless men, down on their luck and discouraged; that they could observe at first hand the happiness of the sick in hospitals when a Salvation Army visitor comes to see them, or when a Salvation Army choral group sings for them.

It would be wonderful if those who give to The Salvation Army could see a blue-uniformed officer reading the Christmas Scripture to a blind patient, or bring Christmas gifts to men in prison. Sometimes the greatest service The Salvation Army can render at Christmas time is aid in locating missing relatives or friends.

These and the many other programs of The Salvation Army mean that people care for their fellow man: that the less fortunate among us are remembered by millions of persons throughout the United States and the 85 other countries in which The Salvation Army operates.

It is this thoughtfulness, this truly Christian Spirit, that makes possible all that The Salvation Army does, both at Christmas time and throughout the year.

In heartfelt gratitude, I extend the deepest thanks of The Salvation Army to all whose generous support will make our work possible.

God bless you!

Sincerely yours,
Brigadier Albert E. Avery

Hunters, Anglers Can Double Pleasure By Reading Up On Outdoor Cookery

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

The season is here when many of us enjoy the outdoors beside a cozy fire in the fireplace. You can either watch the winter birds at your feeding station, put your hunting and fishing gear in good shape or read about the outdoors.

By reading a considerable amount of outdoor material, I have come to the conclusion that there is growing emphasis on the proper preparation of game and fish for the table. You will find a few sportsmen who give rabbits, pheasants and a mess of fat bluegills to their neighbors, but not many. Most of us lick our chops in anticipation when we've had a successful day afield.

Three items along this line have come to my attention recently. In the November issue of The Ohio Conservation Bulletin, there was an article entitled "The Sweetest Meat" by Merrill C. Gilfillan, staff writer with the Ohio Department of Natural Resources. In this article, Gilfillan told of the millions of pounds of high-quality protein that sportsmen bring home every year. He was talking about game animals, and his advice is to take care of field dressing immediately and to allow the meat to cool quickly. The results of this added care will be "sweeter meat" on your table.

Meat Smoking Hints Given

In the current issue of Field and Stream there is a "Smokehouse Handbook" by A. J. McClane, their fishing editor. I have never met McClane, but from following his writings I guess he is a trencherman almost without parallel. Much of his material has nothing to do with catching fish, but with their proper cleaning and cooking instead. A number of good suggestions are included in the handbook, and even some secrets. An old smoker will tell you everything about his process but how he brines his meat—perhaps the most important step. McClane gives you his formula: "1 gallon of water, 4 cups of salt, 2 cups of brown sugar, 2 tablespoons crushed black pepper and 2 tablespoons crushed bay leaves."

He tells you how to build a smoker, and even has a section on "Nibbling." (Didn't I tell you he is a trencherman?) This handbook is worth more than the price of the magazine, and paves the way for some really first-class eating treats.

The third recent publication is "Wilderness Cookery" by Bradford Angier, and printed by The Stackpole Company. This volume is mainly for the serious camper and is in the same vein as Angier's other books which tell you how to live in the wild. With the booming interest in camping today, this latest work is certain to create a wide following. Chapters include equipment, big game, birds and small game, fish, sourdough and other breads, main and side dishes, and the like. In these pages are packed many recipes and years of experience—you can almost smell the wood smoke from a thousand campfires.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

Shop Early For Your Christmas Tree

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

Fruits — Grapefruit, juice oranges, apples, canned cherry products.

Vegetables — Broccoli, Brussels sprouts, leafy salad greens, potatoes, root vegetables, and acorn squash.

Other foods — Pork loins, pork shoulder cuts, beef "specials," chicken and medium eggs.

The sooner you shop for a Christmas tree, the safer and more beautiful one you will find. When trees first come to market they are fresh and moist, but dry out from long exposure to sun and air on the sales lot.

A fresh tree is your best protection against fire. If the tree is fresh, the needles will feel moist and pliable, and will not drop when you shake the tree.

As soon as the tree comes home, foresters say, throw water all over it. Then cut off the butt-end slant-wise and set the tree in water. Keep it cool and shaded until it comes in for the trimmings.

This year you may want to consider a Scotch pine tree. The U. S. Department of Agriculture's foresters say the plantation-grown Scotch pine is fast becoming a favorite among Christmas tree buyers.

From a low-ranking sixth place in 1948, the Scotch pine has risen to the No. 2 seller. In 1960, nearly 5½ million were bought by holiday shoppers.

The reason for its popularity is its full round shape — the results of its plantation habitat. Homemakers also like the way Scotch pines hold their needles throughout the holiday season — despite hot air furnaces and sometimes too little water.

The nation's favorite Christmas tree, however, is still the Douglas fir — unchallenged in sales since 1955 and at a production high of 7.3 million trees. Among the top five are Balsam fir, Norway pine and Eastern red cedar.

Fresh Fruits Are In Good Supply

Florida and Texas shipments of juice oranges are in heavy volume; Navel oranges are available from California and Arizona. Tangerine supplies are increasing; grapefruit supplies are heavy now with reasonable prices.

Especially good for holiday fruit baskets are tangelos, the tangerine-grapefruit hybrid. They are large, colorful and well suited for out-of-hand eating. Good additions to the basket might be Emperor and Almeria grapes, Anjou pears, avocados, pineapples and bananas.

Apple supplies are still large and generally of good quality, with price tags below last year. Cranberries will be offered at bargain prices again for the holidays.

ONE MAN'S Opinion . . .

Santa Explanation Need Not Be Difficult

Christmas time, with its gaiety and reverence, oft-times presents a problem to parents of the small fry.

It's almost a timeless problem that generally works itself out by itself but parents always have wondered just when and how an explanation about Santa Claus is in order.

Auble

Disillusionment is often feared and parents think that much of the intangible, wonderful, gleaming Christmas spirit will become tarnished.

I feel that mothers should begin at their children's early age to convey the real meaning of Christmas. That is, as it relates to Christ's birthday.

Certainly, Santa Claus should never be the main interest in the holiday.

This way—emphasizing the religious aspects of Christmas — will make the let-down easier when the Santa Claus legend is explained . . . when youngsters are told how the jolly fellow is the joy of giving and how he is related to the Christmas picture.

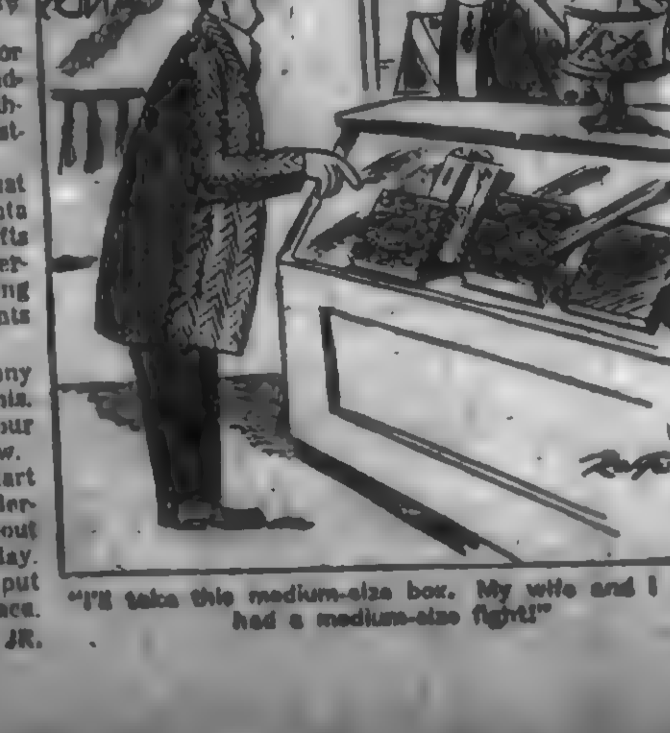
Santa Claus, in his red suit and white whiskers, DOES exist as the make-believe messenger — symbolic of the Christmas spirit and the joy of giving.

The anniversary of Christ's birth is a day of hope not only for happy families and friends but also for those who are at odds with each other. This hopefulness has been vested in many Santa Claus figures — not just one.

Some children never require an explanation.

They figure things out for themselves and reach understanding without disillusionment, without losing that precious "Christmas spirit."

You may know yourself that one year youngsters accept Santa Claus as the bearer of the gifts and then, the next year, they understand the part played by loving parents, grandparents, uncles, aunts and friends.



I don't feel that there is any specific age to tell a child all this. It is probably surprising if your eight-year-old isn't aware by now.

But, for the toddlers, start building a foundation for understanding by teaching them about the importance of Christ's birthday.

Later, they will be able to put Santa Claus into his rightful place.

Cut Capers And Perk Up Salad Bowl

Variety gives zest to good eating. Next time you're tossing up a greens salad, try adding a few capers. These little dark green pellets have a subtle, peppery taste that's just zingy enough to be different.

You won't mind adding them to your roodiment stock, for they're adaptable to other foods besides salads. Fish with lemon and capers in the butter sauce is tasty, too.

And don't stop with capers. Splashes of unusual cheeses, those colorful strips of pimiento that come in small jars, ripe olives, red Italian onions . . . these are just a few of the tricks that can turn an otherwise ordinary salad into a gourmet's delight.

HILLTOP CHORUS HOLDS PARTY

The guild will meet at the home of Mrs. Eppert, 2747 Elliott-av, Jan. 24.

'FAMILY TREE TRIM NIGHT' SET AT GLADDEN

FESTIVE DECORATIONS are being built at Gladden Community House in preparation for Family Tree Trim Night, Saturday, Dec. 16 Displaying their handiwork are, Sherry Merritt, seven; Barbara Coe, program supervisor, and Edsel Hensley, nine. Starting at 6:30 p.m. youngsters and their parents will decorate a 16-foot tree which Jim Harrison cut from his yard. Following a potluck supper, there will be caroling, stocking filling, and supervised playroom for tiny tots. A custom borrowed from Mexico, breaking of pinatas, will be enjoyed by all ages. During the evening adults may sign up for activities that begin in January. These include, ceramics, art, upholstering, sewing, slimnastics, little theater, and women's club. For more information call Miss Coe at CA. 1-7801.

Candy Trimmings Double The Fun; Decorative, Tasty

Candy decorations for the Christmas trees are easy to make. They are popular, too, as impromptu gifts for young visitors during the holidays.

You might like to try these — adding ingenious touches of your own as you proceed:

A colorful three-dimensional triangle can be constructed out of six candy sticks, stapled together at the ends.

Three form the base, and three form the sides of the triangle — which comes to a point at the top. Attach a ribbon of string to hang it.

Take wrapped peppermints or any hard candy in wrapping — and staple together to form a chain. They can be placed on the tree, or used as streamers in a doorway.

String miniature marshmallows together with thread and needle to make dainty chains to interwine in fragrant branches.

Make cones of heavy metallic paper to be filled with gayly colored candy. Attach a handle of ribbon or string stapled to the sides of the cone — or pass it through two holes placed at least an inch from the rim. Decorate the top with tinsel, or glue on some glitter.

ment show will be held within the club. Entries will be judged for originality.

Each member will bring three Christmas corsages to be given to the State School, an annual project of the Hamilliers.

Hillcrest CCL Dates Events In December

"Suburban Living" will be the distinguishing mark on these informative features. Look for it in this newspaper.

HOW TO PALM A POMPOM

Are you the one who always says, "I'm all thumbs when it comes to tying a fancy bow?" Then this is for you. This pompom adds glamor to Christmas packages and is really easy to make:

A five-inch pompom will require three yards of 1½ inch ribbon, preferably of the type which is self-adhesive when moistened.

Form a circle with 11 inches of ribbon, using one inch for overlap. Moisten end; attach inside of circle. Make 10 layers; then cut, moisten end, and fasten. (If ribbon is not self-adhesive, secure ends with a small piece of transparent tape.)

Flatten circle. Cut wedge-shape pieces at both sides of each fold, leaving one-eighth inch center. Open circle, put cut-out centers together, tie with narrow strip.

To open, hold as shown in accompanying sketches and slip inner loop out with two fingers, twist down and forward. Repeat until all loops are pulled free.

TAKE A BOWL, A BRANCH . . . ADD LEAVES

No time or money for a table decoration? Look around you!

There are within your reach many splendrous things that will lend a luxury look to your dinner table without a penny spent.

A glass bowl with a smaller bowl placed in the middle becomes a most decorative piece when filled with posies or flowers. The double contrivance allows for varied heights, and the glass see-through vehicle for all eye levels.

Grouped shells, baskets full of leaves with such ordinary things as lemons, oranges, apples, squash, melons, acorns, tree seeds and such are interesting groupings.

Spread a few leaves from the bushes, the trees or your own house plants; use them as under-pinnings for your masterpiece, and you have a unique and beautiful display.

KIWANIS NEWSPAPER SALES RING THE BELL

Area Mother's Son May Leave Laos

A local mother was given hope last Friday that her son, held by pro-Red rebels in Laos will be released as soon as a coalition government is formed there.

According to a letter received by the Washington office of U.S. Rep. Samuel L. Devine (R. O.), coalition may be soon

Mrs. Lena Matthews, 371 N. Algonquin-av, was notified of the good news concerning her son, Sgt. Orville Roger Ballenger, while on her job in the kitchen of the Grandview Inn.

"Oh! It's wonderful," she exclaimed to newsmen. "I hope it will be soon. It makes me feel warm and happy to believe it might be . . . "

Bid Hoyt of Devine's Washington office told of a letter received from John S. Hoghland, acting assistant secretary for congressional relations.

Hoghland wrote that U.S. Special Ambassador W. Averell Harriman had conferred with Prince Souvanna Phouma, leader of the Laotion "neutralist" faction.

American captives, said by the Red Cross to include Ballenger, would be released as soon as the Government of National Union if formed in Laos.

Souvanna said that the Man, 29, Gets Burned Trying To Warn Others

Irving Hagens, 29, suffered electrical burns on his neck and legs while trying to protect other motorists from fallen wires at W. Broad-st and Schultz-av last Wednesday night.

The wires fell when a car driven by Joseph L. White, 31, of 87 E. Warren-av, rammed into a utility pole, police reported.

Hagens, a hospital orderly, got out of his car to warn other motorists away from the live wires. One wire swung loose and grazed Hagens, of 139 Lechner-av, police said.

He was treated in Mt. Carmel Hospital and released.

White, a painter, told police he fell asleep while driving. He was not hurt. Police charged him with reckless operation.

CLUB HAS SUCCESSFUL PAPER SALE

Sunshine News Notes

There will be a hi-fi dance in Sunshine Recreation Center on Dec. 21 with Gene Fullen and Company sponsored by the Coca Cola Company, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The dance will be open to teen-agers only.

GOLDEN AGE CLUB

The Golden Age Club will have its Christmas party on Dec. 19. There will be a gift exchange and refreshments. Members will sing Christmas carols and play seasonal games.

TEEN CLUB ELECTS

The Teen Club elected these officers: Janice Weaver, president; Vicki Hessler, vice-president; Marsha Talbot, secretary; Paul Duey and Butch Weaver, sergeants-at-arms. The club is planning a Christmas party and also some service projects for the Christmas season.

ARTS AND CRAFTS

The children at Sunshine have been busy preparing bulletin boards and making Christmas decorations for the center's Christmas tree. A few of the smaller children have been making Christmas candles as gifts for their parents.

The older teen-age group has been making a mural to be placed in the auditorium hallway.

SEWING CLASS

Members of the sewing class have just about completed their first project: aprons which will be Christmas gifts for their mothers.

DRAMA

A few teen-agers at Sunshine Center decided to stage the Christmas Story. There will also be some small children in the play.

Members who will participate are Rita Hoagland, Ruth Hoagland, Becky Hand, Karen Miller, Suzy Hand, Joyce Curtus, Sandy Whitter, Brenda Barbee, Judy Burtz, Donzella Pickens, Kathy Kelly and Candy Williams. The girls will portray angels.

The following boys will be shepherd boys: John Wycuff, John Wolfe, Paul Master, Mike Stokes, Larry Stout, Bradley and Randy Faught, David Gainer and Richard Follette. The Wise Men's roles will be taken by "Lucky" Faught, Tom Walters and Ralph Williams. Sharon O'Keefe will take the part of Mary and Mike Hale will play Joseph. Judy Kettell will be the narrator, and Paul Dewey and Sandy Dolbert are assisting in the directing.

WEIGHT-LIFTING

The weight-lifting program at Sunshine is under way with the arrival of new weights, which include a set of Olympic weights purchased by the West Side Board of Trade. The inter-center weight-lifting tournament is scheduled for near the end of January, the Central Ohio A.A.U. meet for the end of February and the Ohio meet for the end of March.

TUMBLING

Something new has been added to the tumbling program. A rope has been installed in the gym. The children have been very enthusiastic about the program. Jerry Thome, the instructor, has room for several more members in his class.

Junior Boys Given Free Basketball Instructions

Junior boys (ages 8 through 12) are given free basketball instructions and a chance to play on a team at Glenwood Recreation Center each day from 4 to 6 p.m. except Tuesdays and Thursdays. These latter two days will be devoted to physical fitness.

Each boy who attends regularly will be issued a colored basketball shirt to wear in the games.

Teams will be worked up so that each boy will get to play at least half of each game. The teams will be equally divided so that there will be some of the better boys on each team.

For more information, come to the Center or call Frank Wade, BR. 4-7418.

Central Is Winner Over Rebs

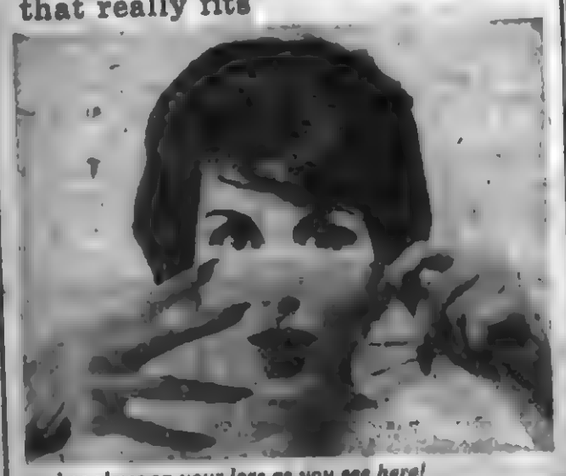
At South, the Rebels showed they do have what it takes to make a good ball club and that they can get worked up as they gave the invading Pirates a real workout, coming within three points of them several times during the game, including a 22-25 halftime score.

The Pirates, however, held the upper hand from the start but didn't explode until after intermission.

Dave Roberts and Tom Fullove were the high point men for the Pirates having 15 and 11 points, respectively.

The Bulldog juniors showed stamina.



Ford McGhee led the Rebel five with a 13 point total; next in line were junior Dick Schundelmier and senior Ferd Gaulke, with 10 points each.

Fighting little (5'8") junior Tommy Hayes aded seven in the losing effort.

The Bulldogs, seven points down by the game's end, were unable to make a comeback from a 16-point third quarter by the speedy Pirates.

The Central big cannon, Roberts (6'3"), hit six out of 12 from the field and sank three charity tosses for his 15-point total.

AUBLEGRAPH
BY JOHN AUBLE, JR.
Hartley Sports Editor

Jets Change Pace, Will Keep Manager This Time

The abominable no-man has, temporarily, left Jet Stadium, it seems, and announcement came last week that Larry Shepard would again lead the International League winners for 1962.

Even if there wasn't much doubt that he would be back, it's comforting to know it officially from a team that changes managers more often than the players change their socks.

LARRY SHEPARD
Someone Likes Him

Well, maybe it's not that bad but it's a sure thing that if you were named manager of the Columbus Jets you wouldn't join any civic groups and you'd keep your wife away from PTA offices.

Why? You wouldn't hang round Columbus long enough to pay that first year's dues!

Burt Shotten lasted the longest, as we remember it. He piloted the club from 1936 to 1941. His team won the pennant in that final year.

Since Shotten, they've gone through 10 managers. That's all in the space of 10 years. Actually, they've had 11 but Nick Cullop served from 1943 to 1944 and again from 1955 to 1956.

A Bit About Shepard . . .

The 42-year-old Shepard was born in Lakewood, O., and was a pitcher for 12 years in the minors. He appeared in 411 games, winning 179 and losing 83 for a .683 percentage while pitching.

The Jet leader started his career as a manager in 1948 at Medford in the Far West League where the team ended up in second place.

He managed Billings of the Pioneer League from 1949 to 1951, finishing second, third and sixth, respectively.

He had seventh place teams at Charleston of the Sally League in 1953 and at Williamsport of the Eastern League in 1954.

He resides in Lincoln, Neb., during the off-season with his wife, Joyce, and son, Larry, Jr.

It's nice to know that he'll be around Columbus in 1962, and for our money he can hang aroung for sometime to come . . .

But, it isn't our money and right now, of course, someone up there (in the front office) likes him and he'll call Jet Stadium his home for another year . . . at least.

Not Disappointed . . .

I got one of the cleverest Christmas cards I've seen in many a yule season this week from Sarah and Charles Westlake, the latter being public relations man for the Columbus Jets.

The blue front has printed on it, in white letters, the word "Sorry . . . "with a little man down in the corner looking just that.

Inside it reads:

" . . . our Christmas present reached you September 4, but have a merry Christmas anyway."

It was Sept. 4 that the Jets won the International League pennant.

Ne'er A Can Of Metrecal . . .

Heard the Westgate Hawks were feted at a big wingding last Saturday in the Hilltop YMCA. This is the team for the pre-teeners in the Ohio Boys' Football Foundation.

According to coaches Dennis McDonald and Karl Fulton the boys had an unusually good time since they didn't have to worry about scales or being overweight or things like that.

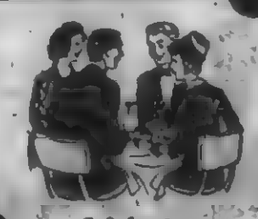
The team ended as champions in the league and "Champions" at the banquet table. Mel Thompson was named the team's most valuable player.

A special Aubiegraph salute to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dent for their long, hard work with this Westgate team for the past two years and a special thanks in behalf of the youth of the Hilltop.

Boppers Really Bop Knights At Glenwood Park

On Nov. 29, Glenwood Recreation Center started its preseason senior basketball league. The Boppers beat the Knights, 26-19. Tina Valentine was high scorer with nine points.

The Seniors Scholars, in the next game, beat the Net Wits, 24-10. Karen Griffin with 16 points was high scorer.



In the final game of the evening, the Panthers beat the Hot Shots, 33-10. High scorer was Rebecca Kaderly with 10 points.

49'ers Win Grid Championship

Forty-Niners 28, Browns 26;
Forty-Niners 34, Eagles 28;
Forty-Niners 48; Browns 6;
Forty-Niners 20, Eagles 18;
Forty-Niners 46, Browns 0;
Forty-Niners 46, Eagles 18.

The Browns finished in second place with a 2-4 season mark and the Eagles finished in third place with a 1-5 ranking.

Junior Basketball Action Now In Swing At Sunshine Center

In Junior basketball action at Sunshine, team I defeated team II 22-20, and team III defeated team IV 34-20.

High scorers were Homer Rose of team 1 with 12, David Sams of team 2 with eight, Shorty Lewis of team 3 with 12, and Paul Bender of team 4 with 14.

Intermediate games saw the Dragons defeat the Celtics, 33-28, Hawks over the Warriors, 35-31, Knights over the Merchants, 4-0, and the Red Bandits defeat the Bearcats, 35-15.

Outstanding players were John Behoof of the Lockbourne Hawks, who scored 17 points in his team's come-from-behind double overtime win over the Warriors, and Dennis Mitchell and Gary Smith, who scored 13 and 10, respectively, for the Dragons in their victory over the Celtics.

The seniors from Sullivant Gardens defeated Sunshine's team 2, 52-36. Sullivant Gardens displayed a very balanced attack with four players scoring in double figures. Charles White from Sunshine led all scorers with 15 points.

The boxing team from Sunshine has been winning their matches. Their last win was over Marion, at Marion. Glen Pack of Sunshine won a decision over Herb Rainey, the Cleveland Golden Gloves champion. Herb has had over 90 fights and Glen has had less than 20.

Jim Martin of Sunshine, fighting in his second bout, knocked out Whitey Loughlin of Marion in the second round. Other Sunshine winners were Bob Munson and Mike Morris.

Thumpers, Hot Shots Lead Loop

On Nov. 28, Gary McGee rolled a 157 for high single game in the bantam bowling league of Glenwood Recreation Center. Gary bowled a total of 282 for high single two game series.

The Thumpers had high single team game of 543 and a total of 1060 for high two game series.

Jerry Greenlee and Max Hackley in the Senior League tied for high single game with 151. For high single two game series Max had a total of 261 pins.

The Hot Shots had a total of 472 for high single team game and a total of 1081 for high two game team series.

Kiwanis Club Says 'Thanks'

Through the columns of your newspaper would you please express our sincere gratitude to the fine people of the Hilltop area for their generous support of our Christmas Welfare Newspaper Sale on last Thursday.

The success of the sale will enable Hilltop Kiwanis to continue the work we have been doing the past 15 years with the children of the Hilltop.

Sincerely,
Richard W. Nash,
President-elect,
Hilltop Kiwanis Club

LET'S DO IT ON DO-IT-DAY

HIGH SCHOOL BEAUTIES from Hartley publication areas pass on a reminder to "Do It for Do-It-Day," Thursday. Do-It-Day is set aside each year during the Christmas seal campaign for all put-it-offers to mail in their contributions. Christmas seals provide the sole support of the Tuberculosis Society and its year-round life-giving services. Urging all forgetful Franklin Countians to "Do It Now!" are (from left) Anita Richmond, 159 Clarendon-av; Janet Esselstein, 808 Jaeger-st; Sandy Malone, 3316 Stephen-dr; Joan Eisel, 492 Kossuth-st; Marilyn Hensley, 597 Woodbury-av; Dody Schwartz, 957 S. Cassingham-av; Pat Miller, 371 S. Gould-rd, and Sue Ruffing, 291 S. Terrace-av. Christmas seal contributions should be mailed to Tuberculosis Society, Box 269, Columbus 16.

Movie Board Organizes For Action

Several persons from this area have been appointed to Columbus' newly organized 15-member Motion Picture Board of Review.

They have been charged with the task of viewing "objectionable or obscene" movies as they are booked in Columbus so that such cases can be called to police attention. The group was organized as a "compromise" to censorship which was rejected twice by council.

R. Patrick West, attorney, of 345 Longview av, is chairman. He announced that, at the next meeting, Dec. 21, sub-committees of five each will be named to divide up viewing assignments.

Serving with him are Kenneth N. Olbert, principal of Barrett Junior High, 3275 Scottwood-rd; Mrs. Lucinda N. Madden, attorney, 1275 Medford-rd; Nelson L. Newsome, executive secretary of the Spring Street YMCA, 1140 Meadowdale-av; Mrs. Isabel Roman, housewife, 3015 Crescent-dr; Edward McGlone, manager of Palace Theater, Nail House; Ethel C. Neighbors, housewife, 1442 Atcheson-st; Mrs. Violet Collins, housewife, 126 S. Davis-av; K. F. Siens, secretary-treasurer of Parker-Woods Plumbing and Heating Co., 1088 E. Weber-rd.

Victor Goodman, attorney, 3113 Ruhl-av; William H. Edwards, office manager of Ohio Municipal League, 3961 Gilroy-rd; James J. Weaver, manager of Long's Book Store, 68 Tibet-rd; Mrs. Virginia Frakes, secretary, housewife, 38 N. Powell-av; Mrs. Ann G. Highfield, housewife, 2284 Wicklow-rd; Jay Smith, county probation officer, 4493 Errington-rd.

Of these 15, five are appointed for one year, five for two, and five for three.

Mayor Westlake, Safety Director Albert G. Giles and Police Chief George Scholer have been serving as advisers.

Sandusky-Broad 'Twist' Has Highest Crash Count

Sandusky and Broad-st had the dubious distinction of being recorded as the city's No. 1 high-accident intersection from Nov. 16 to 30. Police investigated seven crashes at the complicated interchange Fifth-av and Olentangy River-rd was second with five.

Three of four fatal accidents occurred in this general section of the city during the same period. They were recorded at Broad-st and Demorest-rd, Sandusky and Springsts, and Rich and Front-sts.

Executive Group To Consider Council Topics

Executive committee of the West Side Neighborhood Council, consisting of the council officers, area representatives, and committee chairmen, will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 14 at Gladden Community House.

Matters to be discussed include the forthcoming meeting with the City Traffic Commission, Dec. 19, the possibilities of a point urban conservation project with the city, the appointment of a nominating committee, the Christmas Care Clearing House, and plans for the annual meeting in January.

IT'S A FOUR POINTER

THIS BIG BUCK was bagged by M. H. Herron, 71 Eldon-av, during a recent hunting trip in Pennsylvania. Herron, whose been making a similar journey every fall for the past 37 years, got his buck on the opening day of the season.

City Licenses Are Required For Bicycles

During the rush of daily business sometimes overlooked are the "little things," in spite of the old saying that "it's the little things that really count."

One of these seemingly "little things" is the matter of bicycle licenses.

Police Chief Scholer wishes to remind the general public that bicycle licenses will go on sale Dec. 18 at City Hall and Dec. 26 at the many agencies throughout the city.

Since many children will be receiving bicycles for Christmas, Scholer pointed out to the public that by purchasing the licenses, they have good insurance of recovery in the event of theft, and that a city ordinance requires all bicycle owners to purchase and display license tags.

The cost of these license is 50 cents if purchased at City Hall and 65 cents at the agencies.

Ijams Sworn In As Battalion Fire Chief Here

Norris C. Ijams, Jr., 3773 Kirkwood-rd, Wednesday was sworn in as new Fire Department battalion chief in charge of the West Side and Hilltop Fifth District.

He fills the vacancy created by the resignation of Chief William Wentzel. Wentzel is the new chief of the Upper Arlington Fire Department.

Airmen Honored For 10-Year Hitch

Twenty-members of the 302nd Troop Carrier Wing (Reserve), including Captain Fred Wright, 2516 Fair-av, Bexley; Major Marvin Butz, 195 N. Wayne-av, and T/Sgt. Robert Wilkey, 1619 Pembroke-av, were honored last weekends as they concluded 10 consecutive years in the wing.

The wing members were banded together before there was such a thing as the 302nd. The old 910th Volunteer Air Reserve Training Wing was formed in Cincinnati in 1951, transferred to Clinton County AFB and deactivated when the 302nd came into being in June 1952.

Accountants Meet

Carl E. Wolford, assistant supervisor of the Procedures Research Department of the Ohio Oil Company, Findlay, spoke today at a luncheon meeting of Columbus Chapter, Ohio Society of Certified Public Accountants at the Fort Hayes Hotel. His topic was, "Management By System."

Junior Y-Teens To Sing Carols

On Saturday, Dec. 16, Junior Y-Teens from all over the city will sing Christmas carols for the downtown shoppers. The girls will meet at 1 p.m. at the YWCA, 65 S. Fourth-st., for a short recognition service and rehearsal and then will go to the State Capitol grounds where they will sing.

Books Of Christmas Lore Available At Hilltop Library

Hilltop Branch Library, 2955 W. Broad-st, has scores of colorful and instructive books for the Christmas season.

Daniel J. Foley's "The Christmas Tree" is an evergreen garland filled with history, folklore, symbolism, traditions, legends and stories about the Christmas tree.

"The Family Christmas Book" edited by Dorothy Wilson is a merry Christmas anthology crammed with stories with enough warmth, wit and wisdom to keep the Christmas spirit alive for many a day.

Harnett T. Kane's "The Southern Christmas Book" is a fascinating history of Christmas in the South — the full story from earliest times to the present: people, customs, conviviality, carols and cooking.

Christine Hole's "Christmas and Its Customs" tells the whole story of Christmas the world over, from the beginning to the present day.

"The Big Book of Christmas Entertainments" edited by Maurine R. Faw is a collection of original plays, poems and novelties written especially for the holiday season.

Patricia E. Roberts' "Party Decorations for Christmas and Other Occasions" and "Christmas Lighting and Decorating" by Theodore A. Saros are storehouses of ideas and suggestions.

"Swedish Christmas" is an anthology of Swedish Christmas lore with chapters on Swedish food and recipes, decorations, songs and games.

PIRATES PROUDLY PARADE SCHOOL FLAG

HANDSOME RESULTS of efforts of two former students and two now attending Central High is the school's own flag. Designs of two art students, William Daugherty and Paul Ducy, were selected in competition held last spring and combined in the flag. Patrolman William Needles, artist for the Columbus Police Department and a former Central pupil, assisted the two and executed their final design into the new banner—a black and white Pirate shield on a red and black field. Mrs. Needles, a Central graduate, did the sewing. The flag can be seen whenever Central's band is on the field for parade. Needles also designed and executed the Columbus Police Department flag.

Burgess Choir To Present Carol Service

Senior Choir of Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church will present a program of Christmas music during the 10:30 a.m. worship hour Sunday, Dec. 17.

Included will be a carol medley of "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," "Silent Night," "We Three Kings," and "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

Offertory anthem will be "Winds Through the Olive Trees," and the choir anthem will be "Shepherds in the Field."

Service will close with a medley of "There's A Song in The Air," "Sleep My Little Jesus," and "Glory to the Newborn King."

Rev. Irvin H. Lane, pastor, will use as his sermon topic, "Christ—Babe in the Manger or Person of the Hour?"

Senior Choir is under the direction of Mrs. Edward Thomas, and Mrs. Richard Grant is organist.

Solo parts will be sung by Paul Wichterman, Margaret Brophy, Margaret Baughman, Donna Andrews, Dorothy Barklow, Joan Sherlock and Jean Weger.

Unity Plans Christmas Week Rites

Christmas activities at Unity Church of Christianity will begin at 7 p.m. Friday, Dec. 15 with a candlelighting service for Sunday School children and a party.

At the 11 a.m. devotional service, Sunday, Dec. 17, Rev. Curtis F. Wilson's sermon will be "The Hands of Christ."

Christmas candlelighting service will be held at 4 p.m. Dec. 17 for children and adults. "The Virgin Slumber Song" will be given by Michele Horsefield, soloist.

From 3:30 to 4 an instrumental musical program will be given by Mabel Martin, cello; Harriett Hoon, violin; Bea Conkle, organ. A fellowship hour with refreshments will follow.

A pre-service candlelighting program will be held Dec. 24 prior to the 11 a.m. service. Rev. Wilson's sermon topic will be "The Heart Of Christ." The Sunday School Choir, under the supervision of Ralph Leibbrand, will participate.

Everyone is invited.

NAMED FAVORITE TEACHER

WEST HIGH history teacher, Charles Meyers, recipient of the "Favorite Teacher" award in a contest sponsored by WCOL Radio, was chosen for the honor on the basis of a letter written by Janet Kelly. Janet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Pizzura, 483 S. Warren-av, was a student of Meyers last year.

Jingle—

won by Mrs. Marjorie Anderson of 187 S. Hague-av. Mrs. Lawrence Henry, 429 Cherry-st, Groveport, was awarded the third prize, a $2 merchandise certificate.

Entries continue to pour in in great numbers in the Jot-A-Jingle contest. Everyone from teens to seventies seems to be entering. Judging has been extremely close due to the many clever jingles submitted. Readers are reminded they can submit more than one entry and may enter as often as they wish. Your chances of winning one of the prizes are as good as the next person's.

Third week winners will be announced next week.

Parties—

first and second graders. Many older children will attend the Wagner party at 1 p.m. at Veterans Memorial.

Golden Agers of both Friendship House and Riverside Homes will be entertained by Clintonville Women's Club at a party from 1 to 3 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 19.

Mrs. Eric T. Bjorn, Friendship House executive director, said all applications for Christmas cans must be made before Dec. 18.

Other Glenwood Activities

Saturday, Dec. 18, the Gleaners Club at Glenwood Center will have its Christmas party and Santa Claus gift exchange. A Christmas play will be given, followed by games and treats.

The social dance class will have its Christmas party Friday, Dec. 22, from 4 to 5 p.m.

SANTA AND FRIENDS OF CENTRAL POINT

THE CHRISTMAS SHOPPING SEASON of the Central Point Shopping Center, W. Mound-st, at Central-av, was inaugurated the Friday after Thanksgiving when hundreds of happy youngsters watched Santa's helicopter zoom out of the north and land right in the middle of the shopping area. The 37 stores and services at Central Point are cramfull of the merriest, brightest gifts ever. Gaily dressed in holiday raiment and with a 45-foot live Christmas tree near Harrisburg-pk, Central Point is truly a "Christmas City." Santa meets and greets his little friends in his beautiful Santa House, next to the J. C. Penney Store from 4-8:30 p.m. week days and from 12 to 8:30 p.m. Saturdays. He has peppermint sticks for all.

Boy Scouts Open Campaign For Capital Development Funds

The Central Ohio Boy Scout Council this week opened the first phase of a $750,000 capital development fund drive.

The money will be used to finance campsite construction at the 1100-acre Greenhills reservation in Hocking Hills and to refurbish Camp Lazarus.

Greenhills will serve as the major camping facility for some 19,000 area scouts. Plans call for the initial development of some 24 troops sites, providing camping space for some 800 boys.

Also slated for early construction are commissary, storage and administrative buildings.

Later developments — not scheduled for the immediate future — will approximately double the number of camping spaces.

The new camp will meet a long-felt need for additional camping spaces, Scout officials explain.

At present, Camp Lazarus bears the major share of the camping burden. Each week during the summer season, some 275-330 boys use the camp which was originally designed for 175 campers.

A spokesman said Lazarus has been inadequate to handle the camping load for the past eight years.

Funds raised during the drive will also be used to develop sanitary facilities at five existing short-term or weekend campsites in surrounding counties.

That portion of the campaign now underway is directed at industrial and commercial areas.

The house-to-house part of the drive begins in January.

General Chairman of the drive is Frederick LeVeque.

Spear-Fishing, Skin-Diving Come Under Ban

Skin-diving and spear-fishing with underwater gear will now be banned in all bodies of water under control of the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

This same ban is in effect in all waters controlled by the Ohio Division of Parks. Swimming, however, is permitted in state park lakes when lifeguards are on duty.

Many of the lakes have submerged brush piles, fences, snags and foundations.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

From Levi—

Who so putteth his trust in Jehovah shall be safe.
—(Prov. 29:25)

Membership In Auto Club Popular Gift

One of the most popular Christmas gift items every year is a gift membership in Columbus Automobile Club. Shoppers who are stumped for a gift idea for a friend, business associate or member of the family can save considerable shopping time by visiting Columbus Automobile Club at 15 E. Main-st.

With every new gift membership purchased, Columbus Automobile Club is giving free of charge a sterling silver bracelet with an antique car pendant. The pendant is a 1904 model replica.

This year Columbus Automobile Club also has had demands for gift certificates which entitle the recipient to driving lessons in the Auto Club sponsored driver school. Trips abroad and cruise tickets are other exciting Christmas presents which can be purchased through the Auto Club.

More than 40,000 motorists are affiliated with this civic minded association and a gift membership entitles the new member to 24-hour emergency road service 365 days a year. Last year Columbus Auto Club answered the distress call of more than 40,000 members motorists.

The GIRL SCOUT DISTRICT DIARY

Mrs. James W. Whalen — Ohio Trefoil Council

HILLTOP NEIGHBORHOOD
(Glen Valley)
Brownie Troop 455

Investiture for the members of Brownie Troop 455 was held at Friends Church on Sullivant-av. The troop meets every Tuesday at 3:30 at the Dana Avenue School.

Mrs. William Creesap is leader for the 27 girls. Her co-leaders are Mrs. Robert Harmon and Ms. David Akers. Mrs. Alice Brown is troop committee chairman. These four recently completed the course in group leadership at the YWCA.

Committee members are: Mrs. Gus Johnson, camping; Mrs. Frank Archer, treasurer; and Joanne Ayers, telephone.

The troop is using the patrol system at their meetings. Patrol leaders are — Patrol 1, Vicki Barnhill; Patrol 2, Janice Wilkinson, and Patrol 3, Diana Ayers.

During the summer the troop spent a day at Big Darby Metropolitan Park. The day before school began, a picnic was held in the garden of Janice and Patricia Harmon.

Patrol 1 presented a play — "Cinderella" for the other Brownies, and Patrol 2, gave the story of "Goldilocks and the Three Bears."

The troop has been busy decorating boxes for their own craft materials.

Intermediate Troop 884

On Nov. 28 a fly-up ceremony and investiture was held at the home of Mrs. Theda Gregory, 204 Hawkes-av, leader. Several new adult members were invested. They are: Mrs. Bonnie Durbin and Mrs. Eileen Howell, co-leaders; and Mrs. Bernard Linley, finance member; Mrs. Otto Moore, transportation; Mrs. Martha Steele, chairman, troop committee; and Mrs. James Hammack, telephone member.

New girls and fly-ups from Brownies were: Jacqueline Wiley, fly-up; Patty Steele, fly-up from Brownie Troop 1186; Karen Lynn Howell, transfer from Troop 62; and new girls—Dolly Durbin, Linda Schoenstra, and Sue Ellen Reed.

There is room in this troop for more girls ages 10 to 13.

New Brownie Troop

A new Brownie Troop has been organized at sponsoring St. Matthew Church on Martin-av. Leader is Mrs. Charlotte Morgan, 315 Brehl-av., and co-leader, is Mrs. Alice Fast, 133 S. Warren-av. Committee chairman is Mrs. Dorthea Coleman, 551 Brehl-av.

Troop members are: Christine Coleman, Robin Morgan, Lana Jean Ball, Patricia Jean Schmidt, Linda Othinson, Leslie Cottrill, Mary Fast, Beth Kirk, Sandra Todd, and Martha Reichel. There is room for more girls ages 7 to 10.

Boy Scout News

HONOR COURT HELD

Troop 275 of Grove City Methodist Church held a court of honor Dec. 4 in the church. Post 275 conducted the ceremony.

Stanley Jones was made a first class scout. Chuck Weaver and Jack Lawrence were advanced to star rank.

Roger Seidel was presented merit badges for safety, nature, reading, public health, firemanship and life-saving. Richard Krack received weather, home repairs, electricity and [illegible] merit badges and Robert [illegible]ey was given a cooking badge.

The troopr's new charter was presented by Henri V. Weaver, assistant district commissioner. Families of the scouts were guests.

Last weekend members of Troop 214, St. Mary Magdalene Catholic Church, went on a campout at Camp Lazarus. They camped in Daniel Boone and Waterfront longhouses.

Out for the weekend were Dick Martin, John McGrail, Ed Barrow. Junior assistant scoutmasters present were John Riner III, Pat Rains and Bob Minnix. Explorers were Wally Hammons, Benny Banfield, Chuck Eady, Dick Hammons, Ralph Roberts, Bob Kuemmel and Rick Mowery.

Attending camp from Indian Patrol were Bob Balthaser, Mike Hoye, Mike Baumann, Steve Brown, Chris Gunning, Crit Nethero and Pat Roberts. Members of Cobra Patrol were Rick Martin, Jim Martin, Bill Otis and Tom Chesbrough.

Apache Patrol: Mike Minnix, Bill Scales, Mike Vance, Mike Dougherty, Steve Dougherty; Flaming Arrow Patrol; Joe Barrow, Keith McGrail, Leo Radel.

Webelos and candidate scouts attending were Ed Barrow, Danny Martin, Garry Schneider, Don Paglioni, Ron Denbow and Phil Riner.

Saturday night a campfire was held to honor boys chosen for outstanding scouting performance. They were Bob Balthaser, Jim Martin, Mike Hoye, Dick Hammons and Joe Barrow.

Nov. 26, members of Troop 275, Grove City Methodist Church, hiked the Wilderness Trace. The trail is located near New Straitsville.

Adults hiking were Bill Neff, Bruce Miller and Ike Krack. Also present but not hiking were Paul Hayes and Dave Russell.

Two members of Troop 86, another Grove City unit, were invited on the hike. They were scoutmaster Bob Thomas and senior patrol leader Fred Roof.

Troop 173, Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church, has several events planned for this month. Dec. 8, there was a troop meeting. Next weekend, Dec. 9 and 10, a campout is planned for Camp Pine. On Dec. 19 the troop holds a Christmas party and the following day a Green bar meeting is scheduled.

Hilltop Plans Yule Service

Sanctuary Choir, under the direction of Eugene Wolford, and the Youth Fellowship of Hilltop Church of God will present "Holy Is His Name," a Christmas service with scripture, song and pantomime, at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 17.

Church is located at 638 Whitethorne-av.

Hilltop Class Sells Christmas Trees

For the 14th consecutive year the Fidelis Class of Hilltop Christian Church will be selling Christmas trees on the Hilltop. This year the church group will sell from two locations — W. Broad and Westgate and W. Broad and Brinkerd, chairman of the project, stated that choice Canadian Balsams, Scotch and Red pines will be available at both locations.

Rabies Clinic Dated Dec. 15

Low-income families are urged to take advantage of the monthly Rabies Vaccination Clinic to be held Friday, Dec. 15, from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Health and Safety Center, 181 S. Washington-blvd. This clinic is sponsored jointly by the Columbus Academy of Veterinary Medicine, the Columbus Health Department, and the Humane Society of Columbus and Franklin County.

Local regulations require that all dogs over the age of three months must be immunized annually against rabies. To make it easier for families with limited incomes to comply, the clinic makes a charge of $1.50 to cover the cost.

Dear Santa:

I am seven years old. I would like to have a go-cart and a football suit and a telescope and a corner grocery store, socks, pants.

David Ray
231 N. Wheatland

Children's Yule Party At Gallery

The annual Christmas Party for children at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts is set for Saturday Dec. 16, from 2 to 4 p.m. As in previous years, the young guests will make Christmas ornaments, some of which will be used to trim the big tree in the Derby Room, and some may be taken for smaller trees at home. There will also be Christmas movies, carol singing and refreshments.

Any child between the ages of five and twelve will be welcome, but reservations should be made well in advance by calling CA. 1-4409.

Dear Santa:

I just had a Birthday and I am one year two weeks and three days old.

I would like to have a doll for Christmas; also a cradle, a top, ball, Princess phone, clothes and candy to fill my stocking.

Dr. Cecil Fanning

DR. CECIL FANNING

Famous Baritone Dies At Zenith In Native Columbus

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

It was a cold December night three decades ago. Folks were busy with Christmas shopping and looking forward to a new year.

In the music world, promise was offered Columbus that opera would become bigger and culture abounded in this city. One man, who contributed much to Columbus' fame in the world of music during the twenties and thirties, lived in the South Side.

His name is Dr. Cecil (pronounced ces'el) Fanning — one of the world's greatest baritones.

It was Dec. 7, 1931 and Dr. Fanning sat in his modest living room at 984 Franklin-av.

His attractive sister, Mary, was busy cleaning up dinner dishes. Dr. Fanning rested in his favorite overstuffed chair and memories whirled through his mind.

The room took on a warm glow and contrasted with the frost forming on the windows. The first snow of the season had yet to fall but the weather was cold.

He was at the height of his powers, highly esteemed and a real force in the musical life of the community even though he was just 41-years-old — still a young man.

He glanced at his antique clock. It was 5:30 p.m. It was a time for quiet memories.

He was working under a tight schedule and had been suffering from gastritis for some time and decided to slow down a bit. Because of this, he had cancelled a speaking engagement that afternoon at a tea of the Columbus Music Teachers' Association.

Now that dinner was over, he still had some time to rest that evening before greeting several students that evening who were studying under him.

He called to his sister and asked to be awakened at 6 o'clock, "If I fall asleep."

His mind wandered to his youth. He was born in Columbus Nov. 22, 1880, the son of Capt. Richard J. and Cecilia (Miller) Fanning. His father was a distinguished military captain.

During his school days, Dr. Fanning remembered attending Aquinas High School in Columbus' downtown and later the Columbus Latin School. His predominant interests were theatrical and musical affairs.

Practically all of his early vocal training was with H. B. Turpin of Dayton, O., who maintained a studio in Columbus for many years.

Dr. Fanning branched into concert work and Turpin gave up teaching and devoted himself to Cecil as coach and accompanist.

His mind then drifted to 1906 when he — only 26 years old — made his debut as a concert singer. After two seasons of touring the U. S. he made an appearance in London.

What memories he had of London!

It was 1909 and he gave a concert before King Edward VII and Queen Alexandria of England. He knew he'd never forget that. And, he'd never forget the nice things that were written about him by England's greatest critic, Ernest Newman, of the Times and by other musical authorities who recognized him as a master of his art.

Then, in 1912, he made his debut in Berlin, Germany, and his recital debut in New York in 1916. He made three European tours and was in great demand in this country for recital and oratio work, having appeared with many illustrious musical organizations.

During the war, he was decorated by the War Camp Community Service for his work in organizing concerts for soldiers and community singing.

After 1920, his concert appearances were less frequent and he devoted himself almost exclusively to teaching in Columbus.

Among his students was David Rabkin, 466 E. Fulton-st, now known professionally as Buddy Joyce, who became Dr. Fanning's closest friend and prodigy. Cecil was proud of the fact that he had taught Joyce to hit high "C" within six months — his first student to accomplish this.

Cecil served in various musical organizations, including being on the board of directors of the Columbus Music Teachers' Association.

In the midst of his musical activities, Dr. Fanning found time to write and publish a book of verses, "The Flower-Strewn Threshold," in 1912 and other lyrics and librettos adapted to musical setting.

Most ambitious of these latter was the libretto for the grand opera, "Algiala." It was set to music and produced in Akron in 1924 with Dr. Fanning singing the baritone role.

He was the recipient in 1928 of an honorary doctorate of music from the old Capitol College of Oratory Music, at Neil and Third-ave. He was director of the choir at the First M. E. Church and was soloist there.

His mind thought of closer things. Like last Saturday afternoon when he acted as master of ceremonies at a tea given by the Columbus Opera Club. He attended a musicale Sunday afternoon at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts at which one of his students sang.

Before the weekend, he made a public appearance as a singer Friday evening in the Bryden Road Temple, where he was soloist and choirmaster.

He had planned a series of three recitals for this winter, the first of which was to open next Friday. The series was to be known as the "Musical Cornucopia" and was to be presented in the auditorium of the Gallery of Fine Arts here.

What a career it had been! What promise for the future!

He dozed off.

The clock slowly crept toward 6 and Mary dried the dishwater off her hands and went in to see if Cecil had fallen asleep.

The students would be here soon.

But they would be disappointed . . . as was the world.

Dr. Cecil Fanning was dead.

Post Office Offers Added Yule Service

Columbus Postmaster Allen M. Rowe announced that "for the convenience of Christmas mailers, the parcel post and stamp windows at classified stations and branches and the main post office will be open all day (8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.) Saturday, Dec. 16.

On Sunday, Dec. 17, stamp and parcel post windows at the main post office and parcel post station, 80 E. Spring-st, will be open from 11 a.m. until 6 p.m.

Additional collections from street letter boxes will be made Sunday, Dec. 17.

Rowe suggested late mailers use airmail postage on out-of-town cards and first-class postage on local greeting cards. "With the Christmas greeting card avalanche nearing its peak, a few hours earlier deposit of cards may mean the difference between delivery and non-delivery before Christmas," he said.

Be you a sinner, be you a saint,
Make-up can make you which-ever you ain't.—Matheson.

Achbar Grotto Officers To Be Installed

At the annual meeting of Achbar Grotto, 31, on Dec. 8, J. Raymond Snodwen, 7265 Lisworth-Worthington, was elected monarch for the coming year. Snowden is a Columbus attorney with offices at 150 E. Broad-st. Other officers elected were Ralph C. Ruoff, chief justice; Richard Moling, master of ceremonies; Joseph C. Suhre, treasurer; Pearl J. Yocum, secretary; Dorrance Zimmerman, venerable prophet; John C. Woodworth, marshal, and Chuck Wells, trustee.

Officers will be installed at a public installation and Monarch's ball at the arts and craft building, Ohio State fairgrounds Jan. 13, by the president of the Ohio State Grotto Association, Frank M. Siple of Lima.

These officers will host the state convention of about 7,000 Grotto members in Columbus, Aug. 16, 17 and 18 with headquarters in the Hotel Deshler Hilton. The highlight of the convention will be the appearance of the many colorful units in competition at Central High School football field and the street parade on Saturday, Aug. 18.

Animal Shelter Has Christmas Cats And Dogs

Thomas C. Justice, general manager of the Humane Society welcomes the public to pay a pre-Christmas visit to the Animal Shelter, 2770 Groveport-pk. Hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., including Sunday, to give everyone an opportunity to select a pet in time for Christmas giving.

"Many cuddly kittens, playful puppies and friendly older dogs are waiting to be taken into a kind and loving home," said Justice. "These animals have been thoroughly checked by our veterinarians. Puppies have been given temporary distemper shots and the dogs have been inoculated against rabies. Each has been scrubbed and made shining for your inspection."

Auditor Offers State Workshop To Study Law

State Auditor James A. Rhodes today announced plans for a statewide workshop for newly elected local government officials. It will be held Thursday, Dec. 21, at the Deshler-Hilton Hotel.

Rhodes has invited all municipal officials, township trustees and school board members, who were newly elected last month. He also urged persons already holding office to attend in order that they too may have explained laws recently passed by the state legislature.

The workshop will start at 10 a.m. and close at 4 p.m.

Captains Needed To Aid January March Of Dimes

A call for more volunteer captains to help in the 1962 New March of Dimes was issued today by Mrs. E. Ambrose Geipl, chairman of the Jan. 2-30 drive.

"Funds raised by our volunteers are badly needed to help support the fight against the crippling disease of birth defects, arthritis and polio," she explained.

Mrs. Geipl said the January, 1962, New March of Dimes will help finance an expanding patient aid program to provide skilled medical care at the community level for victims of birth defects and juvenile rheumatoid arthritis.

Women wishing to offer their services are urged to call HU. 6-2343.

Expert To Discuss Rare Earth Metals

Howard B. Kremers, manager of the Market Development Department of American Potash and Chemical Corporation will address the Columbus Section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers at Battelle Memorial Institute on Dec. 14, at 8 p.m. He will discuss the extraction and properties of the Rare Earths and their major present and potential uses. Dr. Kremer's experience in this field has extended over more than 20 years.

Lights Rite Set Sunday

For the fifth consecutive year the youth department of Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church will present a Christmas Eve candlelight service of lights.

Organ music will start at 7:30 p.m. and the regular service will start with a candlelight procession of the Young People's Choir at 8.

Several special selections will be sung by the choir and soloist, Danelle Holton. Traditional carols will be sung by the congregation.

The hour-long service concludes with the service of the lights.

Rev. Irvin H. Lane is pastor of the church. Mrs. Robert J. Trott is director of young people's work. The Young People's Choir will be under the direction of Al Abrams, Jr.

LIFE'S NOT EASY BUT IT'S FUN

Handicap Triumph Is Inspiration

By BERNIE KARSKO

Good will toward men—Giving instead of receiving—Spreading cheer. These are the virtues that concern us all at Christmas time.

But a 14-year-old Hilltop boy doesn't let it end there. For him Christmas time is all the time.

It's not always easy for Jackie Smith to practice the charitable acts that are a vital part of his life the year round. Cerebral Palsy has made simple things like walking and talking difficult for him since birth. A fall from a horse that injured his back a few years ago has added to his difficulty.

A lot of people feel sorry for Jackie. Jackie is not among them though.

"It's pretty hard to accept yourself and your drawbacks," he confessed. "But once you do you have half the battle won."

Jack is not the kind of a boy who is satisfied with just half a win.

He's been too sick to attend classes at Bishop Ready High School more than half of the days this semester. He's been putting the spare time to good use, however, on some of his favorite projects.

One of these is the Columbian Squires.

The club is designed to develop leadership in young Catholic boys and help them through the sometimes dangerous adolescence period. It has national affiliation but the branch to which Jackie belongs is only the fifth to be organized in Ohio.

Jackie is publicity and social chairman of the club and a general good will ambassador in addition.

He enjoys his duties and work with the Squires but another of his pre-occupations is a bit closer to his heart.

This involves what amounts to a one-man crusade to help others like himself.

"Right now," he laments, "about the only thing I can do is go out and talk to these kids." One day, he hopes to form an organization like the brother-brother movement.

"If we could put all the kids with defects with normal kids for just a couple of months you'd see something short of a miracle," he explained.

Right now he has more Christmas projects than days left to do them in.

Before he died, his dad used to play Santa Claus for the fete. Jackie is trying to carry on in the family tradition.

"Not as a Santa Claus," he hastened. "I might have some troubles there. But I can still help out in a lot of other ways."

Jack intended to organize a group of carolers from among the membership of the Squires. "We sounded pretty rotten though," he volunteered, "so we'll have to be content to just give baskets of food away to the old people."

Some of Jackie's other hobbies attest to his courage to overcome his handicap and not be ashamed of it.

He's an avid bowler and swimmer. "I can't ever remember knocking down a single pin on a bowling alley," he recalls. "But still it's fun.

"The lifeguard gave up on me during swimming lessons," he said. "I've managed to teach myself—almost." It seems that he swims like a rock until he gets half way to the bottom. At this point, he can stroke like a champ. "Just got to be long winded," he smiled.

Even going to school is a real job for him. He can't write so he must memorize everything. He takes all his tests verbally. The Squires presented him with a wheel chair to make getting around in the halls a bit less trying.

In view of his age, his achievements are remarkable. Considering the handicap under which he has performed them, they are unbelievable.

TB IS EVERYBODYS' PROBLEM

OLD AND YOUNG alike can be stricken with active tuberculosis as J. Price Neff, 27 S. Warren-av, and three-year-old Johnny Wintermeyer, 338 S. Richardson-av, can testify. Neff was a well-known driver-trainer at Scioto Downs when hospitalized with active TB last summer. Johnny, whose father was recently discharged from Benjamin Franklin (TB) Hospital, was a patient there last spring. TB is everybody's problem. That's why the Tuberculosis Society is asking everyone who has not yet mailed in their Christmas seal contribution to do so during the official campaign period, which ends Dec. 25. Contributions should be mailed to TB Society, Box 209, Columbus 16.

Spanish Club Inducts New Members

Central High School's Spanish department held induction of new members into the Aida Quiroz de Ruiz Chapter of the Spanish National Honor Society, Wednesday, Dec. 13, preceding the annual Christmas party or posada.

New members are Gene Cotton, Annetta Crowley, Benjamin Davis, Bonnie Deem, Bill Irwin, Linda McCann, Mary Belle McGee, Robert Michel, Dorothy Nelson and Bill Ratliff.

Members in charge of the induction were Patricia Gillispie, Sherry Riddle and Edith Smith.

The posada afterwards was conducted in true Mexican style with the pinata and singing of Spanish Christmas carols.

Several guests from Spanish-speaking countries were present, including Aida Quiroz de Ruiz, for whom the Central High School chapter of the Spanish National Honor Society is named.

TEACHERS' PARTY

Central High School teachers held their annual Christmas dinner party at the Grandview Inn, Dec. 10.

Miss Mae Palmer, Miss Ruth Green, L. W. Huber, Floyd Carlisle, Robert Browning, Noel Piersche and Harry Priest were former faculty members in attendance.

Dr. Kirch To Join State School Staff

Dr. Paul Kirch, superintendent of the state's Juvenile Diagnostic Center since 1958, will transfer after Jan. 1, because of health, to the Columbus State School where he will be in charge of psychiatric services.

Dr. Leabelle I. Ross, now director of medical services, will became acting superintendent of JDC.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

KiwanianThanks All For Help

To The Editor:

This is the best way I know of to say thanks to the many hundreds of West Siders who supported our recent Kiwanis Christmas Newspaper Sale.

Our fund-raising campaign did not beat the record set in 1960, but it was substantial enough to permit us to carry out a broad program of community work next year. As in the past, much of our planning is directed toward the needy and the youth of the West Side.

It is gratifying to work with club members and a public so enthusiastic about Kiwanis. I am sure that our president next year will enjoy the same fine cooperation as I have experienced this year.

Sincerely yours,

While Joseph and Mary were at Bethlehem, the days for her to be delivered were fulfilled, and she brought forth her first-born son, wrapped him up in swaddling clothes and laid him in a manger. (From the second chapter of St. Luke.)

Brilliant Star Heralds Birth Of Christ Child In Bethlehem

King David Line Linked To Holy Son

GOSPEL OF ST. MATTHEW

And all the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen generations; and from David until the carrying away into Babylon are fourteen generations; and from the carrying away into Babylon unto Christ are fourteen generations.

Now the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost.

Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily.

But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife.

And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS; for he shall save his people from their sins.

Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet saying,

Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us.

Then Joseph being raised from sleep did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him.

And knew her not till she had brought forth her firstborn son; and he called his name JESUS.

Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea, in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem,

Saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and we are come to worship him.

(From the first chapter of the Gospel according to St. Matthew, with the omission of the verses recounting the genealogy of the House of David.)

Family Is Turned From Inn; Child Born In Manger Cradle

GOSPEL OF ST. LUKE

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus that all the world, should be taxed.

(And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria).

And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David).

To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not; for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, living in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the Highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

An when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called JESUS.

And when the days of her purification according to the law of Moses were accomplished, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord.

And to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord, a pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons.

And, behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and the same man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel; and the Holy Ghost was upon him.

And it was revealed unto him by the Holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seen the Lord's Christ.

And he came for the Spirit into the temple; and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the law.

Then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said,

Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word:

For mine eyes have seen thy salvation,

Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people;

A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

And Joseph and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him.

And Simeon blessed them and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel; and for a sign which shall be spoken against;

(Yea, a sword shall pierce through thy own soul also) that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

And when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth.

And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom and the grace of God was upon him.

Miracle Of Child's Birth Foretold In Angel's Tidings

GOSPEL of ST. LUKE

There was in the days of Herod, the king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abia; and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth.

And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.

And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren and they both were now well stricken in years.

According to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.

And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the time of incense.

And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing at the right side of the altar of incense.

And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and fear fell upon him.

But the angel said unto him, Fear not Zacharias; for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John.

And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall rejoice at his birth.

And many of the children of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God.

And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elias to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just; to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this?

And the angel answering said unto him, I am Gabriel, that stand in the presence of God; and am sent to speak unto thee, and to shew thee these glad tidings.

And, behold, thou shalt be dumb, and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall be performed, because thou believest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

And the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he tarried so long in the temple.

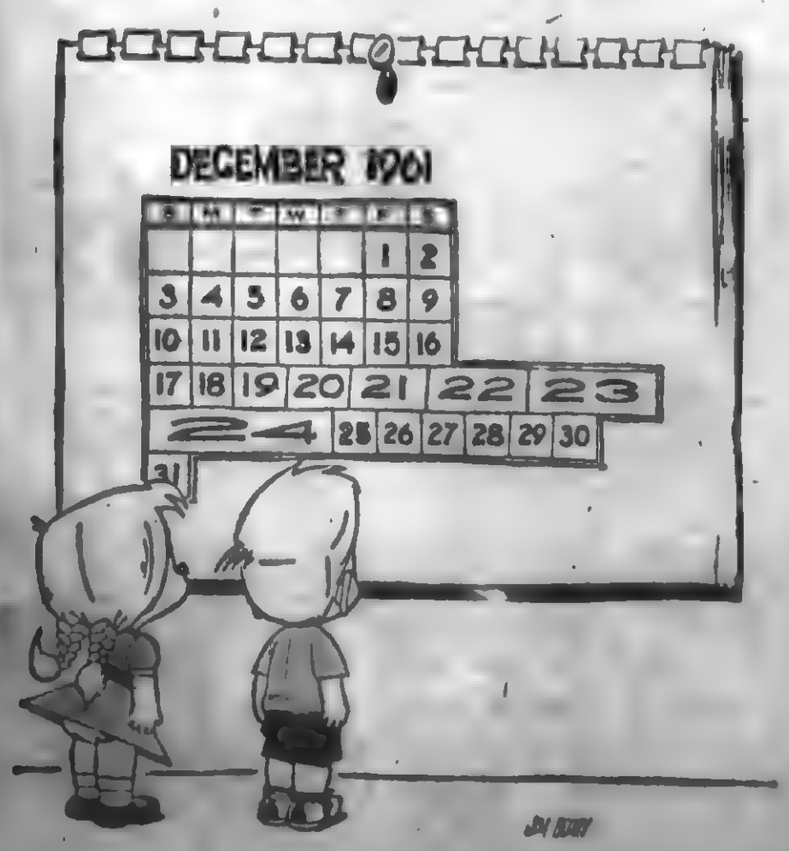
And when he came out, he could not speak unto them; and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple; for he beckoned unto them, and remained speechless.

And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God into a city of Galilee, named Nazareth.

To a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David, and the virgin's name was Mary.

And the angel came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee, blessed are thou among women.

And when she saw him she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be.



And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary, for thou hast found favour with God.

And, behold, thou shalt bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS.

He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest; and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David;

And he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end.

Good Will Is Expressed By Gifts To Goodwill

To The Editor:

Christmas is a time of good will, but gifts to Goodwill Industries at 1331 Edgehill-rd, spread good will through the year. This year 755 handicapped persons have been served by training and employment at Goodwill Industries.

Many donations of discarded clothing and household goods are given to us with the expressed hope that "somebody can get some good out of them."

Somebody does get good from them—many somebodies, in fact! These contributions set off a chain-reaction of helpfulness, beginning with the driver of the Goodwill Industries yellow truck which picks up donations from your door, or from collection booths where you have deposited them, and transports them to the sheltered workshop at 1331 Edgehill-rd.

Next come the men on the receiving dock who unload the contributions, the sorters and the corps of workers who in turn dry clean or launder and repair the clothing, price it, load it on Goodwill trucks to go to the stores, drive the trucks, unload, display, sell, wrap the articles and finally deliver them to the buyer and collect the bargain price for it.

Here the stream of helpfulness divides. Budget-minded buyers get their good from the articles by making use of them. The accumulated money goes into the Goodwill Industries' pay checks for employes.

Some things are so lovingly given to Goodwill that we think even the persons who buy them must feel warmed when they use them. Such a contribution came recently from a woman in Lancaster, accompanied by a letter which read, in part:

"These clothes belonged to my late husband who was so loved by me . . . He lived to be 87. He was a devout Christian and made most of life up to the last.

". . . Before he was seriously ill he asked me to send his clothes to the Goodwill Mission, which I am doing today—in hopes they may make someone else's life a little brighter. May God bless you in your wonderful work."

Sincerely yours,
Goodwill Industries of Central Ohio

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

Low Cost Foods Are Boon To Holiday Meal Planning

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Meats and Poultry — Turkey, pork loin roast, ham, beef roasts, leg of lamb.

Fruits — Grapefruit, oranges, tangerines, apples, cranberries.

Other Foods — Pecans, almonds, peanuts, cheese, dairy products.

Food markets are filled to overflowing with foods geared to your holiday meals. And the low prices on many items will appeal, if your budget is groaning from the aftermath of Christmas gift buying.

Mrs. Franks

A variety of main dish choices are available. Traditional turkey is still very large supply, despite heavy consumption at Thanksgiving. Production of turkeys this year is the largest ever, which means you can reach for that third helping this Christmas at the lowest cost for many a year.

Pork—at a seasonal peak in supply — will be featured frequently during the holidays, particularly loin roasts and ham. If you choose ham, remember that it's available in both fully-cooked and cook-before-eating forms. Know which kind you are buying since this will determine preparation time.

Beef and lamb continue in large supply and are competitively priced with poultry, so you can't go wrong on your favorite roast. Oysters — never inexpensive in our markets—are in better supply than usual.

Vegetable supplies are also abundant. Greenhouse tomatoes, bibb and leaf lettuce are treats from local greenhouses that will be gone in a few more weeks. From warmer climates there's a good supply of salad greens, colorful crisp radishes, cucumbers, green beans and many kinds of squash.

Potatoes, sweet potatoes, all root vegetables and members of the cabbage family are excellent in quality and reasonable. Local turnips are crisp and sweet.

Christmas wouldn't seem right without lots of fruit and nuts around the house. And what a wonderful variety of both to choose from.

Grapefruit and oranges are in heavy volume. Tangelos and better tangerines are here for the holidays. Apples from this year's large crops are in good supply. Also available are Anjou pears, grapes, bananas and an ample supply of cranberries in all forms.

Tree nuts are in record supply this year with almonds, pecans, walnuts and filberts all more plentiful than a year ago. Daily products of all kinds are in large supply as usual.

AUXILIARY PLANS BALL

Columbus Chiropodist—Podiatrist Auxiliary will hold its annual Christmas Ball Dec. 23 at the Fort Hayes Hotel, with cocktails at 6:30 and dinner at 7:30.

EIGHT AND FORTY DATES YULE FETE

Annual Christmas party of Franklin County Salon 223, Eight and Forty, will be held Dec. 21 in Parlor 8 of the Neil House.

Arrangements are in charge of Miss Wanda Radel, 157 E. Maynard-av, La Petite Surintendante.

There will be entertainment in keeping with the season and a gift exchange. Candle light supper will be served at 9:30 p.m.

TWIG 16 NAMES NEW OFFICERS

Mrs. George Hollberg, 1060 N. Hague-av was hostess to members of Twig 16 and several guests, for the annual Christmas luncheon and gift exchange.

Newly-elected officers for the coming year are Mrs. George Hollberg, chairman; Mrs. John Kell, vice-chairman; Mrs. Clifford Ault, secretary and Mrs. Byron Shark, treasurer.

SECRETS OF HUNGARIAN COOKING ARE REVEALED

Part of their heritage, along with music and colorful, national costume, is the distinctive food of the Hungarian people.

These treasured secrets, authentic recipes brought with their parents to America, are now being shared by women of the Hungarian Evangelical and Reformed Church, 365 Woodrow.

From cabbage rolls to airy light, flaky pastries, all their famed old-world recipes are included in a new cook book, published by the women and compiled from their store of knowledge.

Repeated requests for such a collection of recipes, and need for repairs on their church building inspired the project. All proceeds from the book's sale will be used for the church.

Copies of the cookbook may be purchased, at $1.25 a copy at the home of cookbook chairman, Mrs. Paul Gage, 1736 S. Fifth-st. Mail orders should be addressed to Mrs. Joseph Benyi, 218 Woodrow-av. A 25-cent mailing charge should be included with each order.

Delicacies from the collection include:

CABBAGE ROLLS

1½ lbs. ground pork
½ cup rice, washed
1 small garlic, chopped (optional)
2¼ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. paprika
1 large head of cabbage
½ lb. beef
1 med. onion, chopped and browned until transparent in a little fat
½ tsp. black pepper
No. 2 can sauer kraut
No. 2 can tomato juice

Boil water in large kettle. Cut cabbage four ways down along side of core. Place into boiling water, core down. Cook until leaves are loose and translucent.

Take off loosened leaves and cool and drain in colendar. When cool, trim hard thick seam off each leaf. Set aside.

FILLING

Saute onions in shortening. When translucent add paprika, black pepper and salt; mix and set aside to cool a little. Mix meat, washed rice and seasoned onions. Set aside.

Drain sauerkraut, then chop cabbage that is too small for filling fine and mix together.

On the bottom of an enameled kettle place a layer of cabbage and kraut mixture.

Start filling the cabbage leaves as follows: hold the cabbage leaf in palm; place about two tbsp. meat mixture in it, then make one roll, fold one side in, and roll again and then tuck in the remaining side.

Place in kettle one layer of rolls and one layer of cabbage mixture until kettle is filled and the top layer is cabbage mixture.

Pour on tomatoes and water, enough to cover rolls. Bring to quick boil; then turn heat to simmer. Cook for three hours.

Variations — one pint sour cream can be used instead of tomato juice, but must not be added until the rolls are completely cooked.

Makes 16 rolls.

—Anne Gaal

CUCUMBER SALAD (UBORKA SALATA)

2 med. cucumbers, pared.
2 tsp. salt
2 tbsp. vinegar
½ tsp. sugar
⅛ tsp. pepper
2 tsp. water
⅛ clove garlic minced
1 cup sour cream
¼ tsp. paprika

Slice cucumbers thin into bowl; sprinkle with salt; mix lightly and let stand one-half hour. Drain off salty liquid from cucumbers thoroughly.

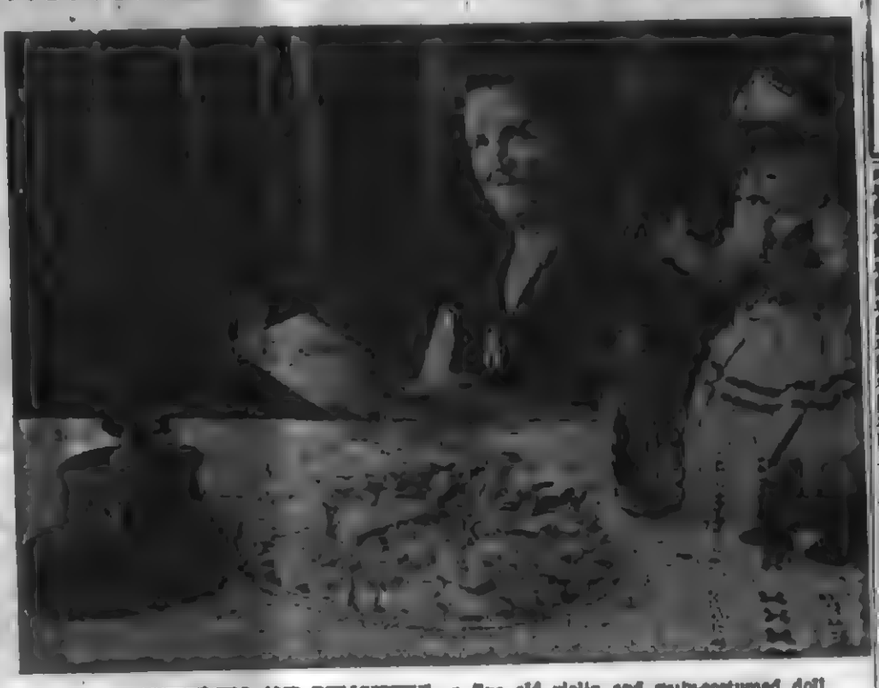
Combine vinegar, sugar, pepper, water and garlic and pour mixture over cucumbers. Add cream and paprika and toss lightly. One small onion, sliced thin, may be added in place of garlic.

— Rose Finta

DIOS TORTA (Nut Torte)

12 egg yolks
1½ cups sugar
9 heaping tbsp. flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1½ cups ground walnuts
12 egg whites, beaten

Cream egg yolks and sugar. Sift flour and baking powder together and add to egg yolk mixture a spoonful at a time, mixing after each addition



Fold in one-half of the stiffly beaten egg whites. Sprinkle in the nuts and fold in the rest of the egg whites. Fold in gently but thoroughly.

Pour into two 9 inch baking pans which have been greased and lined with wax paper. The wax paper should extend upward over the rim of the pan about two inches because this cake rises very high.

Batter can also be poured into a paper lined 10½x15½ in pan.

Bake at 350 degrees until cake springs back when touched. Ice with butter icing and sprinkle with dry ground nuts.

— Rose Komives

AUTHENTIC AND DELIGHTFUL, a fine old violin and gaily-costumed doll are an appropriate setting for a tray of Hungarian pastries. Mrs. Paul Gage, 1736 S. Fifth-st, is project chairman of the cookbook recently published by women of the Hungarian Evangelical and Reformed Church.

HUNDREDS OF COPIES of the cookbook compiled by the Hungarian E and R have already been sold—many to those who have long urged the church to publish such a volume. Mrs. John Komives, 294 Hinman-av, wearing the Hungarian national dress and headpiece, and Mrs. Michael Bordis, 1489 S. High-st, president of the church women's association, display the books priced at $1.25 each.

Rt.-40 Light Can TRAP Unsuspecting Motorist

A "SIGNAL AHEAD" sign is posted to warn motorists of the light at Hilliard-Rome-rd, but if you were driving in the left lane, passing a truck, you'd never see it. Skid marks in the bottom picture attest to the difficulty some have in stopping for the light. Some high-accident intersections have a tier of three red lights in each lane to increase visability. Only single lights mark the Hilliard-Rome intersection, even though it is classified as a high accident crossroad.

..A straight stretch of road with a median strip separating the oncoming traffic—it looks safe and gives weary motorists from Denver and St. Paul and Topeka a chance to relax before battling the traffic of downtown Columbus just ahead of them.

The speed limit allows 60 miles per hour and few drivers are traveling under that as they zoom into a little dip in the road. Suddenly, the traffic light at the intersection of Rome-Hilliard-rd and Rt. 40 looms up before them. Sometimes they see it too late to stop.

According to statistics released by Harold Kaiser, State Highway Department statistician, there were 12 accidents at the intersection during the first nine months of this year.

12 Accidents In 9 Months...

Eighty per cent of these have involved rear-end collisions. A fatality at the intersection three weeks ago has not yet been recorded in Kaiser's grim toll book.

State law requires that a light of this type be marked by a rectangular sign, between 300 and 1000 feet from the intersection, warning, "Signal Ahead." This is the minimum warning that must be given the motorist.

The minimum is all that is provided on Rt. 40 for the Rome-Hilliard light.

There are other devices the State Highway Department uses where it seems warranted. In some places, flashing red lights warn of a traffic light ahead. In others painted signs on the road or hanging overhead are employed. The red light itself can be made more prominent by using a tier of three lights.

On a dual highway, like Rt. 40, a "Signal Ahead" sign in the left lane is optional. Authorities have not seen fit to exercise the option in the case of the Rome-Hilliard light.

No Warning In Left Lane...

Consequently, if a motorist was passing a truck as he went by the "Signal Ahead" sign on the right berm, he has no advance warning of the light.

People who live in the vicinity are well aware of the hazard even if unsuspecting motorists are not.

Mrs. Eugene Young lives in the house at the dead-end approach of Hilliard-Rome-rd. The light is opposite her front yard. She has only lived there two months but she is already convinced, "something should be done."

She said the screeching of brakes is constant and vows she will never permit her children to stand in the front yard as they wait for the school bus in the morning.

Dr. William O'Harra, a veterinarian, lives on the opposite side of the street. "I have seen times" he said, "when the kids wouldn't have had a chance if they were standing in her yard. When these drivers see they can't stop in time, it seems like there's a natural tendency to swerve off into her yard."

Dr. O'Harra has lived in his house on the northwest corner for over 40 years.

Traffic Flow Increasing...

He says that traffic on the highway gets heavier every year and fears that some day he may witness a real disaster.

He thinks one preventive measure would be to lower the speed limit on the approach to the light. "The cars are already going pretty fast," he reasoned. "It seems like a lot of them see the light but speed up trying to beat it."

Another resident pointed out that, "it's a blessing that Rome-Hilliard-rd doesn't extend past Broad-st, because this reduces cross traffic. "If you're turning left from Hilliard-Rome-rd to head east on Broad you usually check to see if anybody is coming even if the light is red for them."

"Most of the accidents I've seen here, and I've seen a lot of them," he hastened, "were cars waiting for the light being rammed in the rear."

Blames Dip...

A member of the New Rome Fire Department claims the dip in the road, a quarter of a mile before the light, is the real death trap. "Some lights are high above the street," he said. "The one at Rome-Hilliard-rd is unusually low and you just can't see it well until you get to the crest of the little depression in the road.

"It gets foggy out here a lot of times, too," he continued. "Driving at highway speeds just doesn't give a guy a chance to stop after he sees the light."

A spokesman in the highway department said that 10 accidents in a one-year period puts an intersection in the "high accident," or "accident prone" category.

The Rome-Hilliard-Rt-40 intersection was only one short of qualifying last year. This year the mishaps there could amount to twice the number needed to qualify.

Still nothing has been done. Let us hope that Dr. O'Harra's prophecy does not have to come true before something is.

Hilltop Library Books Tell How To Manage Money

"Managing Your Money" is a subject of interest to almost everyone, and books at the Hilltop Branch Library on money management, personal finance, budgeting, saving, investing, and insurance circulate briskly, according to Librarian Miss Mary Elizabeth Keyes.

"Books have helpful suggestions about solving modern financial frustrations and making earned money go farther," the librarian explains.

Well known financial columnist, Sylvia Porter, in her recently published book, "How to Get More for Your Money," tells the consumer how he can best get his money's worth through wise buying, investing, planning, and understanding of day-to-day economics. A guide by the editors of Changing Times magazine — "Kiplinger's Family Buying Guide" — contains a wealth of material on how to live better on one's income.

Among other personal finance material available at the library are such general books as "Stretching the Family Income," "Planning Your Financial Independence," "Personal Estate Planning in a Changing World," and "Managing Your Money."

The prospective investor can study such manuals as "Your Money and What To Do With It," a primer for the inexperienced in the handling, conserving and investment of funds; "Primer for Profit in the Stock Market"; "Everybody's Guide to the Stock Market"; "Investing for a Successful Future," and "Investing For Retirement."

The earth is full of the goodness of the Lord — Psalm 33:5.

Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people — Proverbs 15:34.

Do all things without murmurings and disputings — Philippians 2:14.

He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; and he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city — Proverbs 16:32.

WISHING YOU THE MOST

We hope you enjoy many festive hours this yule season.

BROWN AND SERVE DINNER ROLLS ARE DONE WITH A FLAIR IN JIFFY

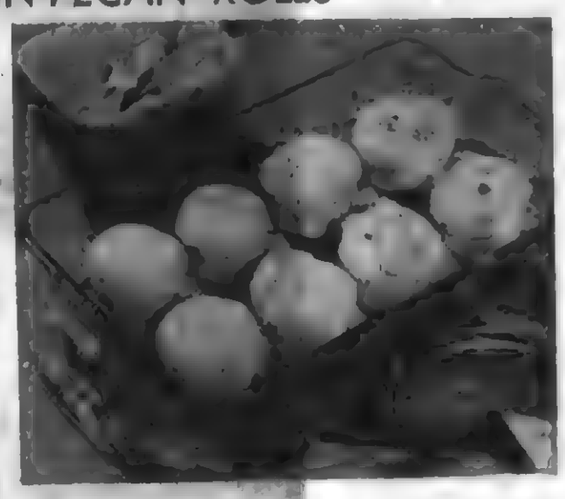
Feel in an inspired mood and want to make a big production of dinner tonight? Need a lift for a fancy party? Want to go all out but you haven't much time?

Here's an answer that will help you come up with something as dramatic as the kitchen struggler who plans for days.

Those ever-on-hand brown and serve rolls can be "doctored" with a few flavor tricks that will make of them truly fancy gems!

A sweet tooth calls for a bit of sugary treatment. A cheese accent can be equally appealing. Whether for sweet or subtle flavor, you can find the makings in your refrigerator or on your pantry shelf.

Just dress or stuff those handy moment-to-make rolls and you'll make the honor roll.



RAISIN-PECAN ROLLS

½ cup seedless raisins
½ cup chopped pecans
1 tablespoon melted butter
2 tablespoons honey
8 brown and serve dinner rolls

Combine raisins, pecans, butter and honey. Put one tablespoon raisin mixture into each muffin cup.

Place rolls, with tops down, into muffin cups. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 15 minutes.

Let rolls stand in pan one minute, or longer, after removing from oven. Invert pan to remove rolls so that raisin mixture is up. Serve immediately.

CHEESE ROLLS

2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
8 brown and serve dinner rolls
¼ cup cream cheese
2 teaspoons chopped pimiento olives
2 teaspoons chili sauce
½ teaspoon finely chopped onion
Brush butter over top of each roll. Make two diagonal shallow cuts in the top of each roll. Combine cream cheese, olives, chili sauce and onion.

Insert a teaspoon of cheese spread in each cut. Bake in a greased shallow pan in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 12 minutes. Serve immediately.

Candlelight Rite Set Christmas Eve At Hillcrest

A Christmas Eve service in candlelight will be held at Hillcrest Baptist Church Sunday evening at 7:30.

Two choirs will assist in the service, directed by Robert H. Cotner and Mrs. Wendell Edwards, with Mrs. Paul V. Crosier, organist. Those will also be singing.

Featured in the service will be manger-side adoration.

A brief sermon on "Do We Need Christmas?" and a pastoral Christmas wish will be given by the pastor, Rev. Aaron L. Roth.

Program, Cantata Announced At Hilltop Church

A Christmas program will be presented by Hilltop Community Church Sunday School, Friday, Dec. 22, 7:30 p.m. Songs and recitations will be featured.

A cantata, "King and Saviour," will be presented by the choir Sunday, Dec. 24, 10:45 a.m., under the direction of Miss Nettie Davis.

Mrs. Walter Eckard, organist, will accompany the choir.

The pastor, Rev. L. Richard Rahrar, invites the public to attend.

The kind and amount of pruning for fruit trees is determined by the type of fruit, age and variety.

'Y' RECEIVES CASH GIFT

AGAIN THIS YEAR the Hilltop Kiwanis Club has given a substantial boost to the Hilltop YMCA Building Fund. Roy Andersen, left, "Y" Board member and 1961 membership chairman, accepts a check for $250 from Jim Poole, member of the service club's Boys' and Girls' Committee.

Jot-A-Jingle New Winners Announced

First prize winner for the third week of the Hartley Newspapers' Jot-A-Jingle contest — week ending Dec. 9 — is Bertha L. Gheen, 7021 Norwood-dr., Grove City. She received the $5 merchandise certificate.

Mrs. Jean Anderson, 347 Marshall-dr., West Jefferson, won the second prize of $3 with her jingle. The third prize of a $2 certificate was awarded Mrs. Jack Davies, 830 Chestershire-rd.

This is the last week of the big Jot-A-Jingle contest. Readers are invited to submit their entries for this final contest. You can still be a winner of one of the three prizes. Enter as often as you wish. Jingles must be postmarked no later than midnight Dec. 24, 1961, to be eligible.

Winners of the last two weeks will be announced in next week's editions.

To give personality to a square room, paint at least one of the walls a different color from the others. Another technique is to paint opposite walls a color darker than the other two; this will make the room seem more oblong.

ON DOWNTOWN COURT

West Hands Central First League Play Setback, 77-70

By DALE EVANS and BILL PARKER

Central was handed its first setback in league play 77-70 by West last Friday night, on the downtown court.

The game was give-and-take throughout the first two periods, with each team exchanging buckets consecutively. Although at times West led by several buckets, the Pirates, fired up in the remaining minutes of the first half, set a fast pace and squeezed out a 36-36 halftime edge.

Scoring started out in the same manner in the opening minutes of the third period, with neither team able to gain on the other. The Pirates, however, cooled off somewhat and failed to score on several occasions. West, capitalizing on this handicap, exhibited some precise shooting along with the rebound snagging of their giants.

West built up its lead to as much as nine points, but Central, persistent for victory, never gave up. However, Central could not catch them as the Cowboys showed probably their best offense of the year.

Central visits host East this coming Friday. This is a must game for both teams, for another loss for either team would ruin any chances for a championship.

A Sports . . . AUBLEGRAPH

BY JOHN AUBLE, JR.
Hartley Sports Editor

Here's A Sport Column For The Little Guys

BULLETIN: Santa Claus will be without the aid of one of his reindeer this Christmas according to the North Pole News Bureau in the Arctic. The Bureau reported that Comet has to stay home and clean stains out of the sink.

Fred Hutchinson, manager of the Cincy Reds, took time off during the Holiday season to pen a letter to the Whitehall Boys' Baseball Association.

It contains a message or young athletes everywhere who play not only baseball but all sports. The letter is being reprinted with the hope that the era of hero-worshipping among the youngsters is not over and that they'll learn at an early age the value of sportsmanship.

Hutchinson wrote:

"It seems that invariably a standout athlete is a standout sportsman. To me, sportsmanship plays a tremendously important part of athletics today and also in everyday life.

"Sportsmanship goes hand in glove with clean living and giving your all in whatever endeavor you undertake.

"While competing for the National League pennant in 1961, our team played tremendously aggressive baseball but not once did any of our Red players lose sight of sportsmanship and fair play."

Valuable Training . . .

Youths participating in athletics form an important part of our society. The message about sportsmanship and fair play can never be repeated enough.

If you're asking Santa to bring you a baseball glove this year, take a minute to think how you're going to use it. You're probably too young to remember a fellow named Grantland Rice.

He was a famous sportswriter during the late 1940's. He was a guy to be admired, like Hutchinson, for theiy believed in the same principles.

Rice once wrote, "It's not whether you win or lose, but how you play the game." You might think about this for a while.

Judge Petree Issues First Sunday Fine

A long line of municipal court continuances of Sunday Closing Law cases was broken Monday when Judge Charles Petree found a N. High-st furniture store guilty.

The judge levied a $25 fine against the Ideal Furniture Co., 641 N. High-st, and suspended a similar fine against a salesman, Nathan J. Radzek. The charges were filed early in October by the Greater Columbus Sunday Association.

Said Gene King, association secretary:

"This decision is a clear signal to the police of Greater Columbus and of all Ohio that the Sunday Closing Law is enforceable and must be enforced.

"During the trial Judge Petree reminded counsel for the defendants that the constitutionality of this law had been upheld in this and other courts—meaning the Ohio and United States Supreme Courts. This should set aside all specious, stalling arguments of the other violators whose cases are awaiting disposition.

"In past months we have had to watch the seven-day operators of non-essential businesses grabbing trade from law-abiding competitors. We had to file charges ourselves. Nobody seemed to consider that the businesses obeying the law pay, through taxes, a far greater share of the cost of maintaining the police departments than the few who were favored.

"Nor did there seem to be any concern for the fact that the trend toward seven-day operation inevitably pointed to high taxes for all — to pay for the cost of full police protection and traffic control seven days a week, with Sunday no different from any other day."

Hearings on two new cases have been set for Dec. 27. They involve the W. T. Grant Co. in the Great Eastern Shopping Center and Randy's Market. Continuances until Jan. 22 have been granted in cases against the Brookshire Foodliner and an employe.

Cost of living edged up slightly in October to a new high point of 128.4% of the 1947-49 average. Higher prices for 1962 model cars were held responsible for much of the rise. Higher costs were also reported for medical care, apparel, rents, household maintenance and recreation items. Lower prices were recorded for food, gasoline and appliances.

Jets Will Open Season On April 25 With Toronto Team

The International League champion Columbus Jets will open spring training Monday, Mar. 26, at Daytona Beach, Fla., according to an announcement today by General Manager Harold Cooper.

The Jets will break camp Monday, Apr. 23, arrive in Columbus the same day and open the 1962 season at Jet Stadium Wednesday night, Apr. 25, against Toronto.

With the International League season opening a week later in 1962, the Jets will spend less time in training at Daytona Beach than in the past at Jacksonville.

However, this will be compensated by the fact that eight players now on the Columbus Jet roster, along with Manager Larry Shepard, will work out with the Pittsburgh club when the Pirates start spring training on Feb. 22 at Fort Myers, Fla.

Slated to train with the Pirates are Pitchers Rodger Irvine, Richard Lines, Robert Priddy and Art Swanson, Catchers Jesus McFarlane and Cal Neeman, First Baseman Leonard and Outfielder Wilver Stargell.

Several other Jet players, again including Manager Shepard, will report 10 days early to Daytona Beach to train with the Asheville team of the Sally League. Asheville is also a Pirate farm affiliate.

Three other triple A teams in addition to the Jets—Rochester and Toronto of the International League and Seattle of the Pacific Coast League — will train at Daytona Beach and form a Citrus League of their own. The Jets will play virtually all of their exhibition games at Daytona Beach.

Most of the young, untried players in triple A who will be in camp will be used in the early exhibition games to give Shepard a good opportunity to get a line on them.

Veteran players such as Ron Blackburn, James Hardison, Hugh Pepper, Don Rowe, Dick Gray, Buddy Pritchard, Ed Sedin, Nino Escalera, Henry Mitchell, John Powers, in addition to those who do not remain with the Pirates, will be used sparingly in the opening exhibition games.

McGee, Wells Top Bantam Keglers

On Dec. 12, Gary McGee had high single game of 130 in Glenwood Recreation Center's bantam bowling league. Joe Wells rolled high single two-game series of 244.

In the senior division Max Heckley bowled high single game of 147. Max also had high single two-game series with a total of 284 pins.

CENTRAL TOPS NEWARK, 40-39

By DON POLING

Central squeezed by the Newark Wildcats Dec. 16 by a score of 40-39 on the latter's court. During the first period the Pirates were held to one shooting. His two free throws by the rugged Newark zone defense. In this period, the Wildcats scored nine points, mostly on outside shooting.

The second quarter was much the same as the first with the Pirates scoring only three field goals and two free throws. Newark upped their score by dropping in 12 more points and were leading at the half 21-13.

In the third quarter Central's offense looked its best, scoring more in this period than they did the whole first half. The Pirates' fast break furnished most of the points. The comeback of the Bucs was credited to their fast breaking offense. The visitors scored 16 points to Newark's eight. Central led at the end of the third quarter 30-29.

The final period proved to be as low in scoring as the first. The Pirates were down 39-36 with 53 seconds remaining when Terry Taylor was fouled while shooting. Tis two free throws left the Bucs down two points.

A stolen ball and a fast break from Taylor to Tommy Fullove tied the score and Fullove was fouled while shooting. He dropped in his charity shot, the winning point, with 13 seconds left in the game.

The Wildcats failed to score and the Pirates had boosted their winning column with a score of 39-40. High point man was Ray Revels, playing his first varsity game for Central, with 12 points.

South Leg Innerbelt Plans Are Being Set

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Robert Mott swung around a couple of times in his overstuffed chair in his office of the Greater Columbus Development Committee on S. Third-st and he was smiling.

He's got good reason to smile.

Mott is beginning to see the start of a project which should set the pace for metropolitan areas and establish a first anywhere. And he's happy to have played a part in it.

He discussed plans for the south leg innerbelt which is slated for a July 1 starting date and will eventually become part of a circle of highways surrounding Columbus.

This south leg will begin at Fulton-st and go to Grant-av, where it will then shoot northward under Main-st and join with the Fort Hayes interchange at Oak-st.

"This belt will make Columbus the most modern city anywhere—trafficwise," said Mott. "Many cities have partial traffic belts but none have them completely surrounding the city."

For instance, Mott explained, Cleveland has a partial innerbelt with a freeway going off in each direction," he added.

Mott is confident that Columbus will be the first city to realize a complete innerbelt system.

belt but that city can never have a complete belt due to Lake Erie. "We'll have an innerbelt"

If the idea appears to be successful—as it does now—another city couldn't possibly construct one in time to beat Columbus' deadline.

But, there are some construction problems ahead.

For one thing, Mott knows that the residents in the south area will complain about the construction mess. "We're anticipating this," he said, "because you just can't please all of the people all of the time."

From the looks of things, it's going to take about two "construction seasons" to finish the project. Maybe even longer if the weather man doesn't give an even break.

Another problem is maintaining the main streets now being used—such as High-st, Parsons-av, Third-st and Fourth-st, among others. "We'll build run-around streets," said Mott, "to carry the traffic around the construction area."

This is just one of the things that make a project like this so costly, besides little items such as rearranging trolley lines and putting up with phone calls from irate citizens who don't like the dust cluttering up their porches.

One of the South Side problems has already been eliminated, however, that being with the Livingston Avenue Church.

"The church will definitely go," said Mott Tuesday. "Original plans called for building a retaining wall to protect the church from the innerbelt. Such a wall would make the church almost inaccessible.

"So, instead of this, the church officials decided to have the church relocated with the help of city officials," said Mott.

These "city officials" announced Friday they have obtained federal approval for a plan of buying the church and relocating it on a nearby site.

Urban Renewal Director John F. Willison reported he is working on two possible areas for relocating the church without interrupting its activities.

One place for a new site is in the city's Children's Hospital Urban Renewal Project.

The second possible relocation site is in the Market-Mohawk Urban Renewal Project, Willison said.

But, the church is just one parcel in the construction process to wory about. Mott has, actually, some 500.

Among these 500 parcels are vacant lots, some business, some residential areas and some industries. "This makes acquisition rough," he said. "So far, 93 of the parcels have been purchased (almost 20 per cent) and we have another 54 under negotiation."

This $20 million, six-lane project isn't going to be an easy one. "But," Mott assured, "it's something that Columbus residents will point to in pride when it's completed."

HERE IS THE map of the proposed South Leg Innerbelt which is another link in making a complete circle highway around the city of Columbus. According to Robert Mott, expressway coordinator with the Greater Columbus Development Committee, the project has been approved by the State Highway Department and the Bureau of Public Roads. The project is expected to be started on July 1. The south leg will begin at Fulton-st and Front-st, continue under Front, under High-st, under Third-st and Fourth-st, under a pedestrian bridge at Sixth-st and then proceed under Grant-av. It shall continue north under Main-st, under Town-st and under Oak-st, thus joining the Fort Hayes Innerchage which is already underway at Oak-st. The cost of the project is estimated at $20,182,000. Mott and his committee are currently buying the land necessary to put the innerbelt link through Columbus' South Side.

St. John To Use New Facility First Time Christmas Sunday

Congregation of St. John Lutheran, worshipping at West Broad School during the remodeling program, will hold first service in the new church facilities Sunday, Dec. 24.

Rev. C. T. Langholz, pastor, announces the schedule of services with Sunday School at 9:15 and Communion at 10:30 a.m.

A candlelight service, featuring the cantata, "Childe Jesus" is planned at 7:45 p.m.

Westgate Plans Candlelight Rite

Christmas Eve candlelight service will be held at Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church, 61 S. Powell-av, from 11 p.m. to 12.

Lavern Warner will be guest soloist and speaker. Young people of the church are sponsoring the service and will assist. Rev. Harold Dutt is pastor.

Old Cards Displayed

In keeping with the season the Hilltop Branch Library is featuring in its Kiwanis case an unusual display of old fashioned Christmas greetings. These colorful 19th Century cards are part of the collection of Myron T. Seifert, journalism teacher at West High.

Exit Kids, Enter Adults . . .

Having trouble at parties lately? It can be awful embarrassing when the host says, "Why don't we all go down to the basement for a big game of ping-pong?"

It's embarrassing, especially if you don't know a ping from a pong or even how to conjugate it (ping, pang, pong).

Here's a good offer from the Columbus Table Tennis Association. The group will provide instructors and players for special exhibitions, all sanctioned by the U.S. Table Tennis Association.

These exhibitions by experts are really entertaining. For information, contact the secretary at CL. 8-7983 after 6 p.m.

DEVORE SKEPTICAL

One-Way Streets Get Tentative Nod From City

City Traffic Commission looked favorably on many of the West Side Neighborhood Council-inspired traffic suggestions Tuesday, but one councilman, Ronald DeVore, had words to the contrary.

DeVore said 80 per cent of the suggestions, compiled locally after a series of six community meetings, would impede rather than expedite traffic.

Pending a study of bus route changes, approval is expected soon on one-way street status for Town-st (one-way west) and Rich-st (eastbound).

Rejected were timed left turns on W. Broad-st at four intersections east of Central.

Other tentative approvals: new signal at Glenwood-Broad; removal of the one at Yale.

Stop or yield signs for all streets cutting across Cable-av, between Central and Yale. (Four-way stops had been requested.)

Move signal at Davis and Broad to Souder and Broad, making Souder one-way south from Scott to Broad, and Davis-av one way north between Broad and Scott.

One-way between Broad and Sullivant: Cypress-av, south; Dakota-av, north; Avondale, south; Hawkes, north; Martin, south; Hartford, north; Souder, south; Davis, north.

Relocation of signal from Avondale to Hawkes on Broad.

BASKETS FOR NEEDY

WEST HIGH students are busy filling Christmas baskets these days for needy families on the list of the local welfare department. Students from Registration Room AE are shown filling one of the baskets. They are (from left), Donna Street, Sara Paini, Phil Bush and Barbara Price. Some 10 to 15 baskets will be filled by the various homerooms at the Cowboy school. Deadline for food contributions is today (Wednesday). They will be distributed tomorrow.

Glenwood Center Sponsoring 'Snowflake Twirl' Thursday

Holiday high-point, socially, for many Hilltop teenagers will be the "Snowflake Twirl," a semi-formal dance Thursday night, Dec. 21, at Glenwood Recreation Center.

Morrison's Orchestra will play from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Terry Linson and his group will sing during the intermission.

Admission is free to all youths, 13 through 18, living on the Hilltop.

The center will be closed Saturday the 23rd and 30th. It will be open from noon to 10 p.m. between the holidays.

C. U. Political Science Club Plans Legislation Workshop

Capital University's Political Science Club will sponsor a Federal Legislature Mar. 31, as its annual project in practical government for some 1000 Ohio high school students.

Advisor for the project is John M. Vorys, who represented Ohio's 12th District in the U.S. Congress from 1939 to 1959. Club advisor is Dr. Kenneth J. Martin, chairman of the university's political science department, and vice-president of the Ohio Economists and Political Scientists Association.

The project is to give high school students an insight into as much of the actual workings of the US Congress as time and facilities permit.

Centers of activity will be the counterparts of the Senate and House of Representatives, based on actual rules of procedure. Each delegation will represent one of the 50 states, with membership numbers of the 86th Congress.

High school students will assume the roles of congressman, senators, governors, pages, lobbyists, secretaries and newspaper reporters.

Meetings of Senate and House subcommittees will be held. High schoolers acting as state governors will meet in a governors' conference.

Club members will represent officials of the executive branch, following policies of the present administration. They will be aided by high school students.

Shamrock Group Sings At St. Rita's

A quartet from the Shamrock Club of Columbus entertained a Christmas party in St. Rita's Home on E. Broad-st. Sunday night, Dec. 17, at 8 p.m.

Residents of St. Rita, Home of Senior Citizens of Franklin County, joined community singing with the quartet.

The quartet, comprised Mike Eberly, 2911 Ashley-rd; Ed Ryan, 1358 Hollywood-pl; Joe Ginnon, 1727 Rainbow-pk, and G. L. O'Shaughnessy, 748 Yearling-rd. Mary Ann Eberly was pianist.

Show Date Is Changed

Rescheduling of the tour of "A Thurber Carnival," has made necessary a date change bringing the show to Mershon Auditorium at 8 p.m. on Friday, Jan. 12, instead of Monday, Jan. 15. All details of the booking remain the same.

University authorities emphasized that the change in date was completely beyond their control.

Charity Newsies Announce Home Decorating Contest

Want to get some recognition for all the hard work it takes to put up those outside Christmas decorations?

The Charity Newsies are offering the chance this year.

Newsies Chairman Paul Offenberg has announced that the group will conduct a county-wide contest to "spread the spirit of Christmas by means of decoration with light."

The contest began Dec. 16 and continues through Dec. 23.

To enter, submit the entry blank and enclose two dollars. The money will be used to help clothe underprivileged school-age children in Franklin County.

Entries must be postmarked before midnight of the 23rd.

Winners in each of four categories, the spirit of Christmas, overall home decorations, window decorations and door decorations, will be awarded attractive plaques.

Franklin County has been divided into eight sections and there will be four winners in each of them.

Tip To Drivers: Take More Time For Holday Trip

An appeal to allow plenty of extra time for travel planned for the long Christmas and New Year's holiday weekends has been issued by Russell H. Campbell of the Columbus Automobile Club.

"The 'time off' period for both holidays for most persons will be at least three days," he said "and the result probably will be that more persons will be traveling than usually do during what is always a heavy traffic period."

In addition to the extra time needed because of heavier traffic, the AAA official reminds that hazardous driving conditions may also be encountered. He suggests that an extra hour be allowed for every two hours of driving time a trip would take in good weather during a non-holiday period.

Miracle To Be Read

Members of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Youth will read the story of Christ's birth to shoppers on downtown streets next week. The youth will present the street corner readings from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday, Dec. 18, Thursday, Dec. 21, and Friday, Dec. 22, from 11:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 23, as a reminder of the spiritual meaning of Christmas.

Live truly and thy life shall be a great and noble creed —Anon.

New Biographies In Demand At Hilltonia Branch Library

Books about interesting people have perennial appeal at the Hilltonia Branch Library. Patrons continually ask for biographies about outstanding present-day or historical personalities. The library has on hand many interesting biographies and autobiographies about famous people in many fields.

Widespread interest has been shown in the life of Albert Schweitzer, according to librarians. Several recent titles about the famous missionary-doctor which have been heavily requested are Frederick Franck's "Days With Albert Schweitzer," Pierre Payne's "The Three Worlds of Albert Schweitzer," and "Albert Schweitzer, Genius in the Jungle," by Joseph Colleab.

A number of books about national political figures have been published in recent months. Two political biographies which have been especially requested are "Richard Nixon," by Earl Mazo, and "Senator Joe McCarthy," by Richard Rovere. Both have stirred up considerable political controversy.

There are also several new biographies of famous theatrical personalities. They include Leslie Ruth Howard's "A Quite Remarkable Father," Joseph Steele's "Ingrid Bergman," Fred Astaire's "Steps in Time," June Havoc's "Early Havoc," and Ezio Pinza's "Ezio Pinza."

Biographies of famous military men include the current favorites Col. Gregory Boyington's "Baa, Baa Blacksheep," and Robert Scott Jr.'s Flying Tiger: Chennault of China."

Also of interest are autobiographies of outstanding women, including "Long Way From Missouri," by Mary Margaret McBride; "St. Louis Woman" by Helen Traubel; "I Am Anastasia," by Anastasia, and Agnes De Mille's "And Promenade Home."

CHRISTMAS CARE IS THEIR CONCERN

THESE VOLUNTEERS are among those serving on the Christmas Care Clearing House subcommittee of the West Side Neighborhood Council at Gladden Community House. They are coordinating lists of families in need of Christmas baskets so as aid to donor groups and individuals. Mrs. Laura Beach (left), of 463 S. Central-av, chairman, is assisted here by Fred Green, 2892 Lorain-ct, and Mrs. Helen McGuire, 1215 Sullivant-av. They may be reached by calling CA. 1-7861.

Neighborhood Council Names Nominating Unit

There were four main topics of discussion when the Executive Committee of the West Side Neighborhood Council met last Thursday evening. The Traffic Committee meeting with the City Traffic Commission, set for Tuesday afternoon in City Hall, was discussed at length and an over-all committee appointed to represent the West Side.

The Christmas Care Clearing House report was given by Mrs. Laura Beach, chairwoman. She indicated that although the clearing by organizations had been rather slow in coming in, most organizations and agencies on the West Side were cooperating.

Sam Alford, president, named a nominating committee for the selection of candidates for the coming year. This committee was approved by the Executive Committee. The final item of business was a discussion of the annual meeting to be held Jan. 11.

Named to the nominating committee were: chairman, Robert McGuire, 1215 Sullivant-av; Mrs. Louise Amspoker, 145 N. Central-av; Fred Staley, 263 Martin-av; Mrs. Mildred Haering, 694 Mt. Calvary-av and Emmet Seely, 1185 W. Broad-st.

Norris C. Ijams

Ijams Assigned To Hilltop–W.S.; Battalion Chief

Norris C. Ijams, 3773 Kirkwood-rd, has been promoted to Battalion Chief in the Columbus Fire Department and assigned to No. 5 District, which embraces Hilltop and the West Side, with headquarters at No. 10 Engine House at Glenwood-av and W. Broad-st.

Chief Ijams, 37, who joined the fire department in 1943, was promoted to lieutenant in 1955 and to captain in 1960.

His father, the late Norris C. Ijams, Sr., who served 31 years in the department, was a chief from 1904 until his retirement in 1931, rising from second assistant chief to assistant chief.

Christmas Bird Count Underway

Don't be surprised if some time between Wednesday, Dec. 20, and New Year's Day you see a group of men and women peering through binoculars into your garden and at your bird feeders. They will be only one team of the 10,000 bird-watchers across the United States and Canada who annually participate in the Christmas bird count sponsored by the National Audubon Society.

This cooperative spot-check inventory of winter birdlife across North America was started by Dr. Frank M. Chapman, dean of American ornithologists, in 1900.

Last Christmas' report from 639 areas were published. More than 10,000 bird-watchers participated. Each team is usually led and directed by an experienced expert at bird identification.

Don Smith On Welfare Board

Don Smith, 2977 W. Broad-st, has been elected to a second one-year term as chairman of the Child Welfare Board of Franklin Village. He received his re-appointment at the monthly meeting of the village officials last week.

Coffman's Story of the Week

"Are you really content to spend your life walking about the country begging?" a housewife asked a young bum.

"No, lady," answered the tramp. "I often wish I had a car."

MANY HELPING HANDS DECORATE RECREATION CENTER

Pollock Faces Court Jan. 2

Appearance in Municipal Traffic Court rather than the payment of set fines has been requested by Chelsea A. Pollock, 71, of 473 Milford-av, driver of the car that plowed into a group of school bound children last week injuring five, according to police.

Pollock is to appear Jan. 2 on charges of running a red light and failing to yield to pedestrians in a crosswalk.

Five children were struck, the most seriously injured of whom, Gregory Gardner, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gardner, 734 S. Wayne-av, is still listed as being in fair condition at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Pollock maintained that his automobile went out of control when his foot slipped from the brake and onto the accelerator, causing the car to plummet into the group of children crossing at Richardson-av and Sullivant-av to attend John Burroughs Elementary School.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

There's a lot of personal satisfaction in having a business devoted mostly to children in a nice neighborhood like the Hilltop. Your customers are your neighbors and friends, you meet them at church, in the supermarket, their kids go to school with your kids and it's just a nice feeling all around. And particularly at Christmas when all our little friends are excited and Santa Claus is in the store handing out Lolli-pops and we are being Santa's helpers slipping Cowboy boots or houseslippers into bags on the Q. T. so little snoopers won't see us. Yes sir, it's a wonderful time of the year. One of the busiest times too, what with being open every night. Lots of folks give shoes and comfortable houseslippers for Christmas and we usually can help out on the right size because we have more than seventeen thousand fitting card records of Hilltop youngsters and grownup's shoe sizes. So, after 5:30 Saturday evening when we get to go home and hang the tinsel on our tree, we are going to be thinking about you and you and wishing you a very Merry Christmas.

SANTA'S SHOWCASE AT 377 W. BROAD-ST

VOLUNTEERS OF AMERICA had needy families in mind all year long when they put aside the toys and dolls which are now on display in their store at 377 W. Broad-st. Employes and volunteer groups restored hundreds of items which are to be given free to deserving families who come in and register in the next few days. Distribution will be made Friday and Saturday, Dec. 22, 23. Pointing out the eye-catching collection are Julie Dorsey (left) case worker, 1022 Anthony-dr, and Martha Houpt, staff captain, 379 W. Broad-st.

Schedule At Gladden Set For Holiday

A special holiday schedule planned for the children at Gladden Community House during the week between Christmas and New Years will begin Tuesday, Dec. 26, and continue through Saturday, Dec. 30.

There will be no clubs at Gladden. Instead there will be outings, a taffy pull, open gym and doughnut making for children eight to 13. Teenagers will have open gym and lounge. The schedule is arranged as follows:

Tuesday, Dec. 26: 10 a.m., open gym for teenagers; 1:30 p.m., 11, 12, 13 boys' and girls' open gym; 3-4:30 p.m., 8, 9, 10 year old boys' open gym.

Wednesday, Dec. 27: 1:30 p.m., 8, 9, 10 year old boys, an outing at one of the parks; 3:30-5 p.m., 11, 12, 13 year old boys and girls, a marshmallow roast and an outing at one of the parks; Wednesday evening, teen lounge and basketball practice.

Thursday, Dec. 28: 10 a.m., open gym for teenagers; 1:30 p.m., girls 8, 9, 10, taffy pull; 1:30 p.m., 11, 12, 13 year old boys and girls' open gym.

Friday, Dec. 29: 1:30 p.m., 11, 12, 13 year old girls, doughnut making; 3-4:30 p.m., pre-teen lounge; 7:30 p.m., teen lounge; 8 p.m. basketball practice.

Saturday, Dec. 30: 9:30 a.m., tap and ballet; 10:30 a.m., children's drama; 10:30 a.m., children's art.

Adults may sign up for the winter quarter classes which include art, ceramics, gimnastics, sewing, women's club and upholstering.

Kiwanis Awards Grants For Advanced Vocal Training

Jean Scholten, soprano, received the first prize for her presentation of "If I Could Tell You." She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elza Buckley, 619 Larcomb-av.

Frank Tippett, baritone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Snyder, of 369 Binns-blvd, won the second-place prize for his "Song Of The Open Road."

Other contestants were Larry Calvert, son of Mr. and Mrs.

Attorney Power Again To Head Heart Fund Drive

Columbus attorney Donald C. Power will serve for the second successive year as national chairman of the 1962 Heart Fund campaign, according to an announcement by Philip W. Smith, M.D., president of the Central Ohio Heart Association.

A member of the Columbus law firm of Power, Griffith and Jones, Power is chairman of the board and chief executive officer of General Telephone and Electronics Corporation.

In agreeing to serve again as Heart Fund chairman, Power said he had been influenced by the continuing seriousness of the heart disease problem. He pointed out that the death toll from the cardiovascular diseases was 921,540 in 1960, or more than 54 per cent of all deaths in the United States that year.

The Heart Fund drive will be conducted here and throughout the nation during the month of February, reaching its peak on Heart Sunday, Feb. 25, with a door-to-door solicitation.

A native Ohioan, Power has a home in Upper Arlington, at 2036 Berkshire-rd, and a 268-acre farm near West Jefferson.

Party Planned

The annual holiday party sponsored by the IOOF Temple Board and the Franklin County joint planning committee will be held at 8 p.m. Friday, Dec. 29, at the IOOF Temple, 50 W. Fifth-av.

There will be dancing and other entertainment for everyone. All Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and their families are invited to attend.

House Trailer Owners Reminded Of New Tax

Franklin County house trailer owners and trailer court operators were reminded today by Franklin County Audior Fred C. Dunn of the new trailer tax law passed by the last session of the Legislature. The tax, required in Ohio and differing in assessment methods from the prior tax, will become effective Jan. 1, 1962.

The tax will be computed and assessed by the county auditor's office and will be based on the owner's cost, less annual depreciation. This is in contrast to the flat rate of $18 assessed in the past. The minimum tax, however, remains at $18 per year.

Figured by the new method, the owner of a trailer bought in 1961 at a cost of $5000.00, and located in the Columbus corporation limits, would have a tax assessment of $69.34. The tax on the same price trailer, if purchased in 1960, would be $42.96.

House trailer tax registration forms have been mailed to owners who registered in Franklin County last year. Other owners may secure forms at the Personal Property Tax Section of the Court House. Limited quantities have also been made available to all trailer courts throughout the county.

All owners of house trailers in Ohio on Jan. 1 must file and pay at least one-half of their tax between Jan. 2 and Jan. 30. A penalty of one dollar a day for each day of nonpayment shall be imposed.

Exempted from the tax are house trailers taxed as personal property, those used exclusively for camping or recreational purposes and those with out-of-state licenses that are located in Ohio less than 30 days in a calendar year.

Owners who fail to register any house trailer as required by law are subject to an accompanying fine of not less than 25 nor more than 50 dollars.

Franklin Gets Quota Of Savings Bond Sales

Sales of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds during November in Franklin County totalled $1,616,506 as compared to 1960 sales of $1,852,345.

Franklin County is the first industrial county to achieve its 1961 sales quota. Belmont County leads the state in percentage of quota attained followed by Fairfield and Mercer counties.

West Side Grill Denied Permit

The Ohio Department of Liquor Control announced Dec. 15 it had rejected applications for new D-1 and D-2 permits made by the Victory Grill Restaurant, 1180 W. Broad-st, to sell 3.2 beer and high-powered beer and wine for consumption on premises and carry-out.

Cited as reasons for refusal of the permits were that the premises are located in an area more adequately served by existing permit holders, and that the Columbus Police Department had formally objected.

Eugene Jenny Gets Promotion

Eugene E. Jenny, machinist's mate second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jenny of 277 Harris-av was promoted, recently, while serving aboard the refrigerated stores ship USS Denebola, operating out of Norfolk, Va.

Promotions for Navy enlisted personnel are the result of semi-annual fleet-wide competitive examinations.

With friendly greetings we send best wishes to you.

New HBA Officers To Be Installed

Installation dinner and dance for the newly elected officers of the Hilltop Business Men's Association is to be held Wednesday, Jan. 10 at the Holiday Inn, according to an announcement made recently by the association.

Comedian-explorer Thomas Powell is slated to be the after-dinner speaker and music from the West High Boys Ensemble will be heard. Les Swinford will be master of ceremonies.

Installation ceremonies for the new officers are to be conducted by Probate Judge Joseph Vas [illegible]

Zoning Variance Pleas Rejected

The Columbus Board of Zoning Adjustment has rejected a zoning variance for a rooming house at 236 Avondale-av. Also rejected by the board was a zoning variance request for construction of two four-family apartment buildings on the east side of Huron-av between Steele-av and the New York Central Railroad.

TEENAGERS PREPARE CENTER FOR CHRISTMAS

TALENTED BRUSHWORK by Paul Duer, 18, a Central High School student who resides at 848 Ronick-ov, decks the halls of Sunshine Recreation Center, Paul's theme, "The 12 Days of Christmas," will be appropriate for the many Christmas parties which have begun at the city-supervised play spot at 667 Sullivant-av.

West Side Boys' Club Yule Party Set For Friday

The annual Boys' Club Christmas party will be held Friday, Dec. 22, 7 to 9 p.m., in the games room at the West Side Boys' Club, 183 S. Gift-st. All members are invited and may bring their sisters, 12 years old and under. Gifts will be distributed to members and their guests.

Twenty Boys' Club members were guests at a fraternity Christmas party at Ohio State on Friday, Dec. 15.

The Boys' Club has formed young adult and senior basketball leagues.

The adult league plays Thursday nights, beginning at 6:30. The seniors play during the noon [illegible]

Tournaments are being held in the games room every afternoon and evening in pool, ping-pong and knock-hockey. Checker and chess tournaments will begin Jan. 15.

The library will be open for arts & crafts, reading and story hours on Jan. 15.

Anyone interested in joining the Boys' Club is welcome. The dues are 50 cents a year, which entitles them to gym and games room activities and parties. The present membership stands at 538.

The Boys' Club will be closed Dec. 23 and 26.

Catholic Youth To Hold Dance

The annual holiday party and dance, sponsored by the Diocesan Council of Catholic Youth, will be held from 9 p.m. until midnight Tuesday, Dec. 26, at Valley Dale.

Chuck Selby and his orchestra will play for dancing.

Your Youth

By Hilltop YMCA Staff

Members of West Senior Hi-Y held their annual induction of members and installation of officers Wednesday, Dec. 6, at the "Y". Officers leading the club this year are: Odell Walters, president; Glenn Rohrer, vice-president; Dave Nachman, secretary; Lee McQuerry, treasurer, and Ray Click, chaplain. Advisors for the group this year are Lafe Dodds and John Drury.

There will be Saturday morning activities at the "Y" on Dec. 23 and 30. During the week of Dec. 26 to 29 the Youth Center will only be open from 1 to 2 p.m. each day.

Members of the West and Westmoor Junior Hi-Y clubs are now engaged in a popcorn sale to raise money for club treasuries. The boys are selling packets consisting of three containers of white hulled kernels for $1. These packets may be purchased from club members or at the "Y".

The Hilltop Y's Men's Club is now selling Christmas trees at the lot in front of the "Y". All proceeds from this sale are used for various club projects to better assist the youth members of the Hilltop "Y". Members of the High Winders Auto Club will sell on a lot at the old "Y" at Harris and Broad on Dec. 23.

The Youth Coin Club is meeting each Monday evening at the "Y". This group is open to all boys and girls having an interest in collecting coins. Lectures on various coins, along with trading and auctioning, take place at different meetings.

A 'soil test' is the best means of determining the plant nutrient, lime and organic matter level of soils. Such tests furnish a sound basis for soil building and crop fertilization programs.

Christmas means excitement on anybody's calendar. It's a time to give to those we love. Time to give thanks for all the good things of this year. We wish you a happy Yuletide, and a safe holiday. Careful drivers respect everybody's right to enjoy this wonderful season. Merry Christmas!

Stork Derby Post Time Is Midnight; Prizes Galore In Store For Winner

Midnight bells Sunday night, pealing their welcome to the New Year, will also signal the start of Hartley Newspapers' annual Stork Derby.

The community's first new citizen of 1962, eligible for the honor under derby rules, will win for himself and his family a shower of good wishes and gifts from participating merchants.

Rules covering the Stork Derby are:

• Parents of the winning baby must currently reside in the area regularly covered by The Hilltop Record or West Side News, in the event eligibility of an applicant is in doubt, the circulation department will verify whether the area is regularly served by the [redacted].

• Exact date, hour, minute and place of baby's birth must be certified in writing by the attending physician, as well as the baby's weight, sex and name (if chosen.)

• Application statements must be received in Hartley Newspapers' office, 2445 W. Broad-st, by noon Tuesday, Jan. 2. A phone number should be included on the application. Applications may be deposited in the mail slot beside the door Monday, when the office is not open.

• Hartley Newspapers can not assume responsibility for locating the winner. Parents must establish proof according to derby rules.

Merchants who will express their congratulations with gifts include:

Schrock's Sinclair Service Station, W. Broad-st at Eldon, will give $5 in trade for the family car, and Wylie S. Shroyer Funeral Home, 1278 and 2553 W. Broad-st, who will ride baby and mother home in style in their ambulance.

Liles Laundry, 1011 W. Rich-st, has a crisp $5 bill waiting, and May and Co., Central Point Shopping Center, a pair of boudoir lamps.

A mattress for baby's crib is the gift of City Furniture, 2288 Sullivant-av, and a $5 bill accompanying one dozen diapers, is the gift of Westgate Manor Pharmacy, 3875 Sullivant-av.

A door mirror, 16 by 60, offered by Mann Furniture, 3440 Sullivant-av at Denver, will be a welcome addition to baby's home. Dad may claim a free hair cut or cash award at Westgate Barber Shop, 3014 Sullivant-av.

An $8.95 portrait of baby will be taken by J. Curtis Allen Photo Studio, 2373 W. Broad-st, and dad or mother may choose $5 in merchandise at Harrup's Pharmacy, 1971 W. Mound-st.

A ring for baby, and two if he has a twin, is the gift of Verhoff Jewelers, Central Point Shopping Center. Schulze IGA Foodliner, 1975 W. Mound-st, is offering $5 in groceries of the parents' choosing.

A bright nursery is assured by Lowe Brothers Paints, Central Point Shopping Center, with the company's offer of paint for the job. And both mom and dad will benefit from the gift of Johnnie's Shoe Repair, 960 W. Broad-st.—one pair of men's rubber heels and three pairs of ladies' heel lifts.

The parents may pick up $5 in groceries from Schulze Food Shoppe, Town-st at Hawkes-av, and a novelty planter will be the gift of Rosebud Floral, 361 N. Burgess-av.

A set of spark plugs for the family car is offered by McMurray's Sinclair Service, Sullivant-av at Woodbury, and $5 in dry cleaning by Bond Drive-In Cleaners, 3530 Sullivant-av.

Mother and dad will receive spaghetti dinners from Marina Restaurant, Central Point Shopping Center. Ten gallons of gasoline is the gift of Moler's Sunoco Service, 732 W. Broad-st at Green-st.

Dino's Pizza, 1384 Sullivant-av, will present the family with a large size pizza of their choice, and Southworth Poultry, 1510 Sullivant-av, with two frying [redacted].

Owl Market, 2338 W. Broad-st, will welcome the new arrival with a case of baby food, and P. J. Quinn, 2348 W. Broad-st, with a baby stroller.

An electric alarm clock, to help keep the family keyed to baby's schedule, is the gift of Wolfe Electric, 2437 W. Broad-st, and the essential lingerie, one dozen diapers, is offered by Economy Variety Store, 2402 W. Broad-st.

A bouquet will be waiting at Yost Florist, 303 Belvidere-av, and an Admiral radio at West Broad Appliances, 3182 W. Broad-st.

A gift certificate for $5 in merchandise will enable the family to choose items they wish from Edwards Rexall Drugs, 3036 Sullivant-av. Spires Shell Service, 2811 W. Broad-st, will lubricate and change the oil in the family car.

One dozen diapers and a plastic diaper pail will be presented by Sailer's Department Store, 2404 W. Broad-st, and a pair of Buntee Baby shoes from Graham Shoes, 2384 W. Broad-st.

Parents may select $5 in merchandise from Superior Drug and Restaurant, 2109 W. Broad-st, and either a $19.95 play pen or high chair from Glick's, Great Western Shopping Mart.

Firestone at Great Western will adjust the brakes and lubricate dad's car, and Great Western Paint Town will provide one gallon of Super Velvetone paint.

And for dad, there will be a tie and sock set from Mogol's, Great Western, and a box of cigars from Distelhorst Market, 2445 W. Broad-st. A 27 by 54 inch throw rug is the gift for the family from Rain's Carpets and Rugs, 2304 W. Broad-st.

MR. AND MRS. LEONARD BAIRD, shown here in the basement workshop of their home on N. Burgess-av, still enjoy working together on the unusual job projects West Siders bring to them. Baird's skill in repairing antique clocks is particularly in demand as he frequently can make needed parts that cannot be purchased.

Happy New Year From The Government

As the old year comes to an end and as you prepare to get your income tax figures together, why not turn a few figures over in your mind and let your blood come to a boil and save some money on your fuel bill.

Stop to think about the fact that our present administration is spending money so fast we have no idea of where the deficit will end.

And recall that a total of 9 billion dollars has been given to foreign powers to reduce their national debts and balance their budgets and in order to extend this aid we had to borrow the money.

And we have given over 3 billion dollars to governments hostile to us, including Russia, Yugoslavia and Poland.

And that Italy was given 2.36 billions and she has 1.37 billions on deposit in this country drawing interest.

Ditto for Japan, which has received 2.5 billions while having 1.26 billions drawing interest here.

We have 19 billions in gold and foreign nations have dollar credits against this gold of 23 billions, which makes us practically broke.

And as you make out your income tax check be reminded that our liberals have one thought in mind: Get it and give it away!

DIARY DATES BACK TO 1895

Seldom Room For Loafing In Leonard Baird's 88 Years

By Phyllis Hayes

Do you need to have a square hole punched into a piece of wood?

Have an antique clock that needs repair?

Wonder how the weather was in 1901 . . . or even in 1895?

If you do, the man to see is Leonard Baird, 154 N. Burgess-av, the 88-year-old master of apparently all arts.

Since 1895 Baird has maintained a personal diary that has recorded the temperature of each day. In the same period of time, he has been building a clock that is a marvel of intricate wood-carving, flashing lights that announce the hours and accuracy.

The clock is built like a miniature chateau. The dairy is now a series of small red leather volumes carefully packed away in the basement of Baird's home and added to each year.

Their accuracy can be attested to by the fact that entries from them have been accepted in several court cases. They are mainly the story of the life of Leonard Baird and his family for the past 66 years, and are of a strictly personal nature.

Prolific Builder

As the builder of more than 100 houses and buildings on the hill, and one of the early developers of the West Side, Baird's diaries are of interest to people who sometimes want to verify details of construction or historical interest to them. The house in which he lives, however, is one of the few he's lived in that he did not build.

"We got this house 40 years ago," he said, "because we sold ourselves right out of the house we were living in and I forgot we hadn't built another one to go into.

We'd been doing that for years, building a house, living in it and then selling it as soon as we built another one. So we had to buy this, but it's the only house we'd lived in that I didn't build."

Knew Early Autos

Baird also had the first garage to be opened on Broad-st on the West Side of Columbus. Beginning at Wayne and Broad-sts with a livery stable Baird recognized the automobile as a coming thing and, tearing out the horse stalls, he converted the stable to a garage where he sold Maxwell cars.

In his 66 years on the Hilltop Baird has functioned as a carpenter, contractor, architect, mechanic, watchmaker, plumber, electrician and general what-have-you, and all successfully.

"The thing is," he said, "that I've never seen a man do anything that I couldn't do. I've never liked to work for anybody else. So I just kept on learning how things are done."

Recently he's added two new skills, housekeeper and nurse, to his list of professions.

Helps Others

Development of a heart condition has limited the activities of Mrs. Baird after 64 years of busy housekeeping and the house work has been taken over by her husband. In addition, he helps to care for an elderly man who is bedridden.

In his spare time he works in his garage on odd jobs for the many people who know that if they have something unusual to be done Baird is the man to do it for them, or in his basement where he still does clockwork.

In the spring he plans to build a cottage and has already assembled most of the materials he will need for it. In the meantime he is going to extend and roof over his back porch. These, though, are his spare time activities.

Baird's only concessions to the passage of years are his decreased church attendance as Mrs. Baird is not able to attend, and his tapering off of Masonic work. He was one of

HOOP-DE-DO'S DWINDLE

'Happy (Yawn) New Year' Murmur Folks In Columbus Area

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

What's happened to the carefree, devil-may-care, bon vivant New Year's Eve party-goer that we knew so well?

Chances are he'll be gulping a couple of aspirin, washed down by soda pop, and hitting the sack at oh, say 9 o'clock.

It's true. New Year's Eve in Columbus is just not going to be what it used to be.

For better, or worse, the New Year will be ushered in most Columbus area homes with a brave little toot on a horn left over from Halloween and, perhaps, a few bangs on a pot lid with a metal spoon.

★ ★ ★

The whoop-de-dos are fast-fleeting.

A call to several organizations in the area produced the same results. Not much going on at all. The Lions Club has nothing special going for them—neither do the YMCA's.

One YMCA secretary plans a rousing welcome of the New Year. "I'll just stay at home and iron," she said.

A few churches are planning get-togethers but, the number is very, very few.

A check with the Hartley Newspaper Church and Society Editor, Betty Daft, indicated that this ol' town will be pretty dead around 12 o'clock.

"The list of activities have been progressively dwindling," our Mrs. Daft said. "This year it's practically nil."

★ ★ ★

Even the drug stores and novelty shops report a slack in the sale of noise makers and paper [redacted].

And, just to make our point, try calling any of the supper clubs for New Year's reservations. You'll be most warmly welcomed, in many cases.

The downtown hotels are booking them in pretty well but, nothing like past years. Folks seem to want to stay at home with family and friends and have their own little parties and suffer their own little cases of olive poisoning.

Which isn't bad.

★ ★ ★

Of course, there're always the extroverts who have to be in crowds. They'll be out in force New Year's Eve and will provide the bulk of the "wowees" spirit in this city.

But, there're not too many of them left and the college crowd is away waiting for the next school term following the holidays.

Conclusion?

Look for a mild, quiet New Year's Eve in Columbus. Oh, and by the way, don't worry about it. It'll be just as happy!

Final Jingle Contest Winners Are Announced

Final top prize winner of the Hartley Newspapers' Jot-A-Jingle contest is Mrs. Keith Reeves, 1075 Belford-av. She received the $5 merchandise certificate.

Mrs. Richard Thompson, 167 N. Central-av, won the second prize of $3 with her jingle. The third prize of a $2 certificate was awarded Howard B. Koch, 30 S. Glenwood-av.

Hartley Newspapers Plant Closes Saturday, Monday

Hartley Newspapers employes will observe the New Year's weekend by taking a three-day holiday starting this Saturday. The office will be closed on Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

The plant will open Tuesday morning at 8 a.m. The usual deadlines will apply for that week's newspapers with a warning to correspondents and contributors that material should be submitted early to insure printing.

All the Hartley employes express the wish that the new year which lies ahead will be the finest for you and your family and the happiest to date.

PROGRESS Was The BIG Story In 1961

The year in review—the story of a community and its people, passed in parade in the pages of The Hilltop Record and West Side News during the 12 months past.

Told in pictures and words was a story of progress, building and expansion as community residents strove to take care of their own.

A new Catholic high school and a parochial elementary school opened its doors; 12 classrooms were added to public elementary schools and a high school building was extensively remodeled.

Church-building program included new structures and additions and remodeling of others.

A diagnostic center especially designed and equipped to care for children with exceptions, was added to the Mount Carmel Hospital complex as well as a wing for the treatment of mentally ill.

A training center for city firefighters joined the West Side skyline, as did new facilities for the treatment of residents of the State School, State Hospital and boys at the Juvenile Diagnostic Center.

A Senior Citizens Center, so advanced in design and purpose as to excite comment from throughout the world, was put under construction. And, the State Highway Department moved into new laboratories and garages near Broad-st and Schultz-av.

Development of Southview Park and purchase of land as the site of a new park in the Clime-rd area headed community recreational projects.

Housing developments and private commercial projects in the area reflected business' confidence in the community and its continued growth.

And plans, outlined throughout the year and earmarked for completion in 1962 forecast the future — bright and better in the months to come.

JANUARY

JAN. 4—Mark Edward Arndt, 5184 W. Walnut-st, was the first baby born in the community in 1961. He made his debut at 4:46 a.m. . . . Civil War Centennial will begin officially at 11 a.m. Jan. 6 . . . Harold Slyh will be installed as HBA president Jan. 10. . . . Bill Jones is president-elect of Hilltop Kiwanis Club and Jack C. Williams was elected president of West Side Kiwanis Club.

JAN. 11 — Community progress during the past year, and hopes and plans for the new year ahead were recorded this week in Hartley Newspapers' Progress Edition . . . H. O. Parks, 314 S. Glenwood-av, was installed commander of Capital City Barracks, Veterans of World War I, Jan. 8.

JAN. 18 — West Side Neighborhood Council was organized officially last Thursday. Charter president of the group is Sam N. Alford of Buckeye Finance Co., 1259 W. Broad-st . . . Dr. M. E. Weber died Saturday at age 88.

JAN. 25 — Bob Morton, manager of Phillips Restaurant, 1244 W. Broad-st, is the new president of West Side Board of Trade, oldest business association in the city . . . Plans were approved for the long-range building plans of Our Saviour Lutheran Church, Briggs-rd at Demorest-rd. First unit will be started in the spring.

FEBRUARY

FEB. 1—Plans for "Rickenbacker Terrace," a $1.6 million apartment development on the west side of Central-av at W. Rich-st, were announced . . . Planning commission okayed plans for the $104,599,000 west outerbelt . . . Leo Phillips, 57, 3106 Whitehead-rd, died Monday. He was former safety director and chief of detectives.

FEB. 8 — School Board announced plans to expand Georgian Heights, Valleyview and Sullivant Elementaries . . . Lazarus and Sears announced plans to build in a planned new regional shopping center west of Nationwide Inn, at the southwest corner of Georgesville-rd and W. Broad-st.

FEB. 15—Four houses on Midland-av, from the alley behind St. Aloysius Church south, were razed this week to make room for the new parish elementary. Construction will start in March . . . John Roman, 3015 Crescent-dr, was named chairman of the Hilltop YMCA Board of Management. He succeeds C. Carlton Hartley who served since it was organized 13 years ago.

FEB. 22—An ordinance permitting immediate start on $80,000 worth of sanitary sewers for Rainbow Addition was designed this week.

MARCH

MAR. 1—A 100-acre site on Clime-rd near Georgesville is under option by the Columbus Parks and Forestry Department as a site for a new park.

MAR. 8—Hillcrest Baptist will dedicate the church's enlarged facilities and new façade Sunday . . . Plans for an immediate start on construction of Glenwood Methodist's new church on Valley-view-dr at Hague-av were announced. Dr. Joseph B. Shellhaas, pastor of the church for 22 years, also disclosed his intention of leaving Glenwood and moving to Bellefontaine and a less demanding life.

MAR. 15 — Groundbreaking ceremonies are planned Sunday for the proposed new St. Aloysius School and Glenwood Methodist Church.

MAR. 22—Mrs. Ruth A Dehnart, 3388 Wicklow-rd, was named winner of the Hilltop Record-West Side News "Best Citizen Award" . . . City Council has set aside $10,000 and authorized the start of engineering plans to straighten out the curve in Dry Run Creek. Dry Run became notorious in Jan. 1959, when it overflowed and flooded hundreds of homes in the West Side. The entire project may cost $100,000 . . . Dr. Lovell W. Rohr, 62, West Side physician since 1930, died Sunday after a heart attack.

MAR. 29 — Valleyview contract with Ohio Fuel Gas Co. is up for renewal. Residents protest higher gas rate.

APRIL

APR. 5 — Franklin Village plans tenth anniversary observance beginning this week, with a seven-months' "awareness campaign" before the actual birthday date Oct. 20 . . . "Cleaner Columbus" drive was launched with a demonstration project area designated on the West Side—bounded by Gay-st, Pennsylvania RR, Hartford-av, and Meek-av.

APR. 12—Donald R. Knisely, 33, 2580 Westmoor-dr, was killed Saturday when his auto was struck by a train at the Hague-av crossing at the northern line

General's Optimism Speaks For Courage In New Year

As the new year 1962 approaches, there is a great deal of anxiety among the peoples of the world. Will peace or war be our lot?

It is not uncommon for us to find our greatest exponents for peace from the men who have seen violence in its most advanced stages.

Americans can take pride and some degree of comfort in the following words from one of their best-known generals. They serve as a stirring challenge for coming days.

Our Greatest Defense

By General Alfred M. Gruenther, President, American Red Cross

The thing that impressed me most during my six years in Paris with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) was that the struggle between international Communism and the free world is basically a spiritual struggle.

Our religion is firm in its teaching that every man is important in the eyes of God. This great truth has given us our belief in the dignity of the individual human being; it has given us the inspiration for our ideals, our concepts of freedom, indeed, even our concern for man's material welfare springs from that teaching.

The gulf between this concept and the pseudo-religion of Communism is as wide as it is possible to imagine. Communism denies the existence of a sovereign soul, and substitutes the false doctrine of the sovereign state, which becomes an idol in whose glorification man's development is utterly subjudicated. Communism claims to offer a greater human welfare, but up till now has produced instead only human misery and suffering, including crimes of the greatest magnitude against humanity.

It is my firm conviction that Communism — just as other tyrannical regimes before it — is doomed to fail because of its moral and spiritual inadequacy. However, unless we insure that our own civilization survives until that day arrives, the interim could bring the greatest relapse ever seen in man's progress.

In the ensuing struggle, the role of the United States will be a vital one. The mantle of free world leadership has fallen upon the shoulders of the American people.

Since I have been back in the United States, everywhere I have gone I have been heartened by the increasing interest and understanding of the American people in world affairs. If they, and the other free peoples of the world, will only continue this interest, and above all, develop their unity, then I am confident that we shall be able to prevent another world war and more than hold our own in the cold war now in progress.

It might be said that I am an optimist. I plead guilty to that charge. But I feel that I am more than an optimist. I feel that I have faith in our way of life, with its matchless concept of religion and all that this implies. I am convinced that it contains the vitality and the potential to survive. With these qualities, I feel that no power—however menacing—will be able to prevail against us.

SOBER SIGN FOR JAN. 1

AROUND EDUCATIONAL CIRCLES

From Three S's To Three R's

Paperback books are in more demand in educational circles. Big reason: lower cost—only about one-third the price of standard books. Paperbacks will be given a big test next spring in Texas; 4,000 will be distributed to students in more than 100 classrooms.

The sudden sales swing to paperbacks has caused the New York Times to comment: "The paperback book, described less than a decade ago as a showcase for the three S's—sex, sadism, and smoking gun, is doing wonders with the three R's."

Scholars Speak

Three Kent State University honor students say that Ohio High schools should offer courses about communism so that graduates will have a better understanding of the threat to our freedom. All three students, from Cuyahoga Falls, Ravenna and Cleveland, said that presently neither the high schools they attended nor KSU provides courses dealing with communism.

Yes, Della! There Is A Barry Goldwater

Our between-the-holidays mail usually turns up something interesting. This year was no exception.

The following missive was sent to us by a friend who suggested that we accept it not as an anticlimax to Christmas but as a message of hope for the new year . . . especially for the New Year of 1963!

"Dear Editor,

"Some of my little friends say there really is no such man as Barry Goldwater.

"Papa says: 'If you see it in The Post-Athenian it's so.'

"Please tell me the truth - is there a Barry Goldwater?"

Della Ware

With suitable obeisance to the memories of Virginia O'Hanlon and Editor Charles Dana of the grand old N.Y. Evening Sun, Editor Bill Casteel of The Post-Athenian makes emphatic reply. We quote in part:

"Della, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the liberalism of a liberal age . . . They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds . . . Their disbelief springs from the fact that they are being raised in an era in which a man like Barry Goldwater is not understood because of his individuality. Our society has come to be a group of conformists. And these conformists do not believe that those who will not conform can really be.

"Yes, Della, there is a Barry Goldwater. He exists as certainly as the Constitution of the U.S. exists, and you know that it abounds and gives you freedom of speech and freedom of religion. Alas! How dreary would be these United States today if there were no Barry Goldwater. It would be as dreary as if there were no Dellas. There would be no hope for the future for those who know the ill effects of Federal control over our schools, our hospitals, our industries. We would have not one on whom to pin our hope of the future. There would be no chance to put the brakes on galloping socialism. We would have to accept the fact that Khrushchev knew what he was talking about when he said he would bury us.

"Not believe in Barry Goldwater! You might as well not believe that our forefathers carved this great nation out of a wilderness and made it the strongest in the world. You might as well not believe that you have a choice of attending whatever Sunday School class you choose. You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the auditoriums in Tennessee to catch Barry Goldwater, but chances are they would never see him.

"Nobody can see conservatives today, just as you can not see any excessive amount of individuality today. But that is not sign that it does not exist.

"The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see justice, or charity, or brotherly love? . . . But you have felt all three in your heart and you have seen them shown by others. No body can conceive or imagine all the wonders that are unseen and unseeable in the world . . .

"No Barry Goldwater? Thank God he lives, and he and his kind will live forever!"

Ring-Necked Pheasant Season Extended At State Hunting Areas Until January 13

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

Although the regular hunting season on ring-necked pheasants closed on Dec. 16, an extended season on these wily game birds at state public hunting areas is open until Jan. 13. This means that for more than two weeks you still have the opportunity to hunt pheasants on areas such as Delaware Dam and the leased Franklin-Pickaway, near Orient.

Make no mistake that this is difficult hunting. You can be certain that any birds left have eluded plenty of hunters. They are crafty, and do not allow a bumbling hunter any shots.

But the very uncertainty and challenge of it is why I like to hunt late-season pheasants. Your game bag will seldom be heavy, but your days afield will be filled with fun.

You have two possible ways to hunt birds at this time of the year. Tracking snows are rare in mid-November when most of us hunt. But by the first of the year, it is common to have snow cover. Although pheasants on state areas have been conditioned by a lot of gunning, you can sometimes find a bird and flush him by tracking. He might outsmart all the conventional hunters in the world, but by following a trail in the snow you may get some shooting.

Another way to take birds at the tag end of the season is with one or more beagles. It is generally conceded that those cocks left are runners — a breed of "five-gaited" bird that leaves the fanciest pointing dog in his dust. But a beagle will confuse such a pheasant. He can run and run, and still the persistent hound follows him. Eventually he will fly, maybe a quarter mile or more from where he was started. This is where you come in. By staying with a slow-working beagle, you will be in gun range when the confused cock takes to the air.

To show you how this can work, I'll relate an experience that occurred the last week of the regular season. I had the chance to get out for about an hour and a half one afternoon, and went hunting more to give the dogs some exercise than anything else. The farm I went to had been heavily hunted for nearly a month. Soon the two beagles struck a trail that I assumed to be a rabbit. I positioned myself in a likely place for it to return and was enjoying the chase. The trail got hotter, and the dogs began running in a straight line—the signs of a pheasant trail. It was much too late to catch the dogs, so I began watching in the distance for a bird to flush.

Finally, a long way off I saw a crafty cock dodging trees in a woodlot, something like a quail. Here was the tactic then that saved him from countless hunters—running nearly a half mile and then doubling back in a low, shifting flight to a woods. When the dogs returned I took them to the vicinity where I thought the bird would be. Almost immediately they hit the trail, and I stayed with them. After about 30 yards the bird flushed off to our side about five feet for an easy straight-away shot.

I gave the dogs an extra pat that night with their food. For in less than an hour they had given me the best hunt of the season. If you forget pheasants after the first day, you are missing something.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

'62 Food Outlook Favors Consumers

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Meat and Poultry — Pork loins, Boston butt, spare ribs, chuck roasts, chickens, turkeys.

Vegetables—Cabbage, kraut, potatoes, broccoli, salad greens.

Each fall agricultural economists forecast the supply and price of food for the year ahead. In 1962, they say you may expect only a small rise in average retail food prices, possibly less than one percent. Since expanded economy points to a continued rise in consumer incomes, food should remain a bargain. And, you may expect it to be abundant.

Mrs. Franks

Forecasters say some foods will be more abundant than others, and knowing about these may serve as a background for your food buying in the year ahead. Here's a capsule view of predicted changes in the prices and supply of food for 1962:

• MEATS — Livestock production is expected to continue moving up. Meat supplies per consumer will be up in the next few months and a little higher than last year. Most of this increase will be in pork. Veal supplies will remain about the same and lamb production may decrease slightly.

To simplify your shopping further, more meat packages will contain helpful information to aid you in selection, preparation and serving of meat. Many meat cuts will be boneless or semi-boneless for easier carving and handling. New convenient meat products are expected to make their appearance as the year progresses.

Little change is expected in 1962 average prices for meat over the 1961 level.

• POULTRY — Chicken should remain high on shoppers' market lists as supplies will be large in 1962; price lags may be even lower than last year. Turkey is expected to remain a bargain food. Egg prices in 1962 are expected to average somewhat below 1961 especially in the spring months.

• DAIRY PRODUCTS — Dairy cases will be well stocked with all dairy products, and prices will likely stay close to 1961 levels.

• VEGETABLES — Except for the popular potato, fresh vegetable supplies may be smaller this winter. Much depends upon weather conditions in the major growing areas. Available supplies of both canned and frozen vegetables are considerably larger than a year ago.

• FRUITS — Supplies of fresh fruits for the next several months will be larger than a year ago. And supplies of both canned and frozen fruits for the coming year are moderately larger than in 1961. Dried fruits, especially raisins, are more plentiful than a year ago. And the supply of fruit juices — canned, frozen and chilled—will be above the past year.

ONE MAN'S Opinion . . .

Changes Require Strong Human Response

With the coming next week of another new year, many of us will at least feel the urge to 'begin anew.' Whether this compulsion to create a 'fresh start' takes the form of short-lived New Year's resolutions, or some more serious soul-searching, the basic problem will remain the same.

Green

We really don't want to change. We are much too much in love with ourselves, our souls and bodies.

Seriously, do we ever really transform even the most insignificant of our mannerisms? Why, they are so small as to be harmless. Very easy to master of course, but hardly worth the trouble.

And then there are the bigger things. Well, you can't change yourself 'just like that' now, can you? Some things must be accepted. "Once a slob, . . ."

And so it goes. We constantly (to the point of boredom) enthrall our friends with tales of personal power, and then admit that personal failure is only natural.

This is not, of course, a local phenomenon, nor is it national, but international. What you might call contemporary man. Life becomes a verbal advance covering a physical retreat. The man that clothes (or words, etc.) make, is but a skeleton in his own right.

And with such a pronouncement as this, all seems black indeed! Even our religious life makes only token attempts at revival without the human response.

Now (sigh), having reached this chilly plateau, perhaps we can listen for a sign of hope. One does come, and it comes strangely enough, from those strange people, the Existentialists. Unfortunately, like most good words become popular, this one connotes so much as to have lost its meaning. There is something rather heartening that it denotes though. In fact it speaks to the world sickness with some lucidity.

"Who is responsible for the world and its condition? I am. Who is responsible for my own personal condition, for my life and my actions? I am. Not fate, not circumstances, nor God. Who can make changes, at least immediate ones? I can. Who is responsible if I fail? I am.

That is all a little frightening, but only to the man who has abdicated his selfhood, is it unbearable. Happy New Year!—TAYLOR GREGG.

A BEAMING SANTA with an inexhaustible supply of candy canes, enthroned on the back of a truck and traveling up and down community streets—who could resist him? Nobody did.

Santa's Visit Is Toy's Gift To Community

BY BETTY DAFT

Thousands of candy canes were distributed to area youngsters last week . . . and it would be hard to say who enjoyed the pre-Christmas treat more, the wide-eyed small fry, "Tiny" Cunningham or Samuel Toy.

It was a Christmas wish-come-true for Toy, owner of Toy's Radiator Service at 1058 W. Mound-st, who financed the project.

"I've wanted to do this for years," he said, "but just never got around to it. This year "Tiny" and I talked about it and decided to go ahead—and I've never had so much fun in my life!"

And Cunningham was surely the most Santa the youngsters had ever seen, with his 325 pounds encased in a realistic red suit girdled with wide black belt, and his flowing white beard.

A race-car driver in the summer and an employe of Toy's during winter months, he made a most enthusiastic Santa. Well experienced in the role, he has thrilled kids for the past seven years as Santa in downtown department stores and in shopping centers.

"But this has been the most fun," he confided. "You should see the faces of those kids."

A special rig was constructed for the purpose on the back of a truck, canopied in clear plastic, and gaily decorated and tinseled.

The truck parked by schools at dismissal time, at Broad and State-sts near the nativity scene in the evening and, for hours, just toured neighborhood streets, stopping wherever there was a group of youngsters.

"Grown-ups," Toy said, "driving past looked hurried and grim until they spot Tiny — and then they break into big grins and wave as happily as the kids do.

"We planned this as a Christmas gift to the community, and what do you know, it's turned out to be the best Christmas present we ever received."

Former West Teacher Now In Oregon

Robert A. Wilcox, former faculty member of West High School, is now serving as public relations director and head of the office of public information at Willamette University, Salem, Ore.

Wilcox was journalism advisor and instructor of history, speech and English at West. He assumed his new duties at Willamette at the start of the fall quarter.

A native of Akron, Wilcox was graduated from Ohio State University in 1957 with a BA degree in education, and has completed all work but his thesis toward his MA degree at Ohio State.

Hunters Throw Wasted Game In Garbage Cans

Taxidermist Max Shipley, 705 S. Ogden-av, has reason to believe that too much ends up that way. Shipley recently talked with a garbage collector in Franklin County who told of his findings a few days after the farm game season opened.

"In one day, the man said he counted 13 pheasants and seven rabbits which had been thrown into garbage cans," said Shipley. "No effort had been made to clean a single one of the species. In addition to these 20, the collector found three raccoons which had been skinned and the carcasses disposed of."

"I know too many families who like coon to see one go to waste," the man told Shipley.

"There is no excuse for this wasteful extravagance," commented an incensed Division of Wildlife official, when he heard of the report. "Hunters who are unwilling to care for the game they bag should not hunt; wildlife is too scarce to be wasted."

Rough Going In Future Seen To Replace Stamp Redemption Funds

By Phyllis Mayes

Consensus of Franklin County school officials and service organization spokesmen is that they have a rough year ahead trying to find money to cover expenses met in past years by the redemption of sales tax stamps.

Hardest hit will be schools that have used the money to buy equipment and teaching aids such as tape recorders, movie projectors, screens and televisions and other "extras" not included in their regular supplies by the boards of education.

Running a close second in budgetary blues will be the service organizations such as some of the Lions and Kiwanis clubs and fraternal orders, all of whom have used the stamp money for charitable work and community betterment projects.

Schools To Feel Pinch

Immediate effect of the loss will be most strongly felt by the schools in 1962, but by 1963 service organizations will find it necessary to meet their losses through other fund raising projects or limit the scope of the work financed by the stamp redemption.

James Halleran, executive secretary of the Catholic Welfare Organization representing the sixth diocese of Ohio, pointed out that charities in the state anticipate an over-all loss of more than three million dollars.

"And," Halleran said, "we'll feel our share of it. It's going to be an appreciable loss but it would be hard to evaluate just what it will be in the diocese."

Halleran pointed out that stamp funds have been used by the Catholic guilds, schools, hospitals and PTA's.

A note of optimism was sounded by Pat Wood, president of the Downtown Lions Club, despite the $2,000 hole-to-be in the budget. Lions clubs finance an extensive "sight program" to provide ophthalmological care, wherever it is needed.

In the downtown club a large part of the stamp redemption money has been used for the sight program.

"It isn't going to hurt us too much," said Wood. "The sight program will continue. We hope people who realize our loss will help make it up in contributions. We already have several projects planned to off-set the loss."

Had $2,000 Returns

Bill Dawson, of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club said that his organization is "set for this year, but we'll be hurting in '63."

A $2,000 yearly return has been used primarily for needy children and the children of Franklin Village. Club projects are under discussion in the hope of finding a means of replacing the money before the loss can be felt.

Schools from far east to far west in the county will be hit almost immediately.

Prairie-Lincoln Elementary School has not had a school-wide tax stamp collection program but teachers in the individual classrooms have depended on the refunds to purchase reading charts and stands and "non-essential" classroom equipment.

Reynoldsburg schools have used their stamps in the same manner. Asked how teachers would obtain extra equipment without the stamp money, Robert Heischman, school superintendent, said, "I don't know how they'll get them except perhaps through the Board of Education or the various school [illegible].

"The only way I can see that this will affect our schools is in the various organizations in the schools and there certainly will be some effect on these organizations . . . they won't be able to make it up in full."

In Whitehall, Superintendent Robert Crabbs was certain the loss would be strongly felt in that teachers have also used the money for supplemental items.

But, he said, the schools in Whitehall are "fortunate in having a very fine PTA that will help take up the slack. I have no idea how . . . but I have faith in the PTA."

H. Delbert Swain, principal of South High School, reported that his school has realized an average of $800 annually from stamp redemptions and during his time as principal of Crestview Junior High, that school received approximately $1,200 annually.

"Schools," said Swain, "must have a fund to provide things quickly. The stamp money was a great help there. At South, the $1,500 the Student Council contributed toward the purchase of the stage cyclorama was largely from stamp refunds . . . but of course it wasn't all collected in one year.

"We'll just have to look somewhere else for money . . . to soon movies and things."

And at West Broad Elementary School, where stamp redemption money over a period of years has provided a television, playground equipment and other "extras," Principal Forrest Rader suggested that someone ask him again in a year how the financial loss has affected his school.

"It's been a sizeable amount," Rader conceded. "I don't know what arrangements will be made to replace it."

Edgar L. Ott, secretary of the Scottish Rite, which has used the stamps exclusively to help in the Masonic Home at Springfield, summed up the loss of the redemption money. He said, "It's most disheartening. That money did a lot of good."

Stamps will be accepted for redemption at the Stamp Redemption Office until Friday, Jan. 29. If mailed, the postmark can be no later than Jan. 31.

The size and kind of disposal field needed for a septic tank depends on its location, type of soil, and kind of household equipment, say Ohio State University Extension agricultural engineers.

By looking at an exposed soil profile, such as a side of an open pit, you can determine much about the past history and probable future of the surrounding area, according to agronomists.

Here's to the New Year! Best wishes and good luck to you all.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

Another year gone by . . . a year that has had a lot of good things to look back on. Our business has prospered and grown, we've made lots of new friends and customers. Best of all, we have started several hundreds of babies out on the "walk of life" in good shoes that were fitted to the very best of our ability. That, to my way of thinking, is the most important thing we do in our store . . . fitting tiny babies in first shoes.

Adults need to be carefully fitted, too, but, in most cases grown-up's feet are already set and you can't change them much except to add to comfort with correct shoes. But, little folks' feet start out good and the careful shoe man can see that they keep that way.

Who knows how many future football stars and Broadway dancers will owe part of their success to the way we took care of their feet with our shoe fitting ability? Anyhow . . . here's to 1962 and our favorite toast, "Here's to our friends! As for our foes, may they have short shoes and corns on their toes!"

Pre-Tourney Cage Draws Have Been Made For Region

The Ohio High School Athletic Association has completed the pre-tournament draws for the 1962 regionals and the state basketball tournament next March.

The Class AA and A championship games will be held at St. John Arena on the Ohio State University campus Mar. 23 and 24.

W. J. McConnell, commissioner of the OHSAA, said the decision to determine the draws for the state classic in advance came on the recommendation of the Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Assn.

In past years, tournament pairings were picked out of a hat on the Sunday morning following regional finals.

McConnell said one of the major factors for the new policy was the need for better scouting in certain areas. The commissioner said pairings under the new setup also were determined by drawing from a hat.

Pre-tournament draws for the state high school championship round:

CLASS AA

Region No. 1 winner vs. region No. 2 winner; region No. 4 winner vs. region No. 3 winner.

CLASS A

Portsmouth in Class AA and Ayersville in Class A are the defending champions.

Teams will be affected by the following region schedule:

CLASS AA

REGION 8—Columbus, Ohio State Fairgrounds, Mar. 16 and 17. District winners from Athens, Canton, Columbus and Steubenville.

CLASS A

REGION 7—Ohio University, Athens, Mar. 16 and 17. District winners from Cincinnati Princeton High School, Dayton, Springfield and Columbus.

Pre-tourney draw resulted in these pairings involving Columbus schools:

CLASS AA

REGION 8—Canton winner vs. Athens winner; Steubenville winner vs. Columbus winner.

CLASS A

REGION 8—Springfield winner vs. Dayton winner; Columbus winner vs. Cincinnati Princeton winner.

Franklin High In Boat Ownership

On a population basis, Franklin County appears to have the largest percentage of boat ownership among the larger counties of the state, reported Charles Krier, supervisor of registration for the Ohio Division of Watercraft.

Cuyahoga County, with a population of well over a million, through Nov. 1 showed a 1961 ownership registration of 11,316 boats, while Franklin County was second in the state with 8,036. Lucas County was third, 6,280.

Holiday Tourneys Almost Things Of The Past . . .

It's probably just as well, but I can't help wondering why high schools have stopped cashing in on the holidays (everyone else does) and throw some wing-ding basketball tournaments before the new year.

Holiday basketball tournaments were pretty big in this area in recent seasons but times have changed. New rules and a couple of dozen administrative ideas have held down holiday basketball.

The sport has progressively dwindled until, this year, it's practically nil. We see only a trio of holiday torneys including one at Summit Station and another at Pickerington this Thursday and a final one Friday at Lancaster.

★ ★ ★

Important CBL Clash

Much of the lack of holiday activity is made up for by some top league games, however, and the Mt. Vernon-Arlington Central Buckeye League meeting is leading the pack.

Grove City, the county's winningest team, has a first-year school Walnut Ridge as its foe Saturday as the Greyhounds shoot for their eighth win.

As stated, maybe it's just as well that high school basketball isn't too big around New Year's since football comes on so strong at this time.

The bowl games are enough to keep any sports fan in his armchair even if some of the bowl football was deflated a bit because of the Ohio State strife over the one with roses.

Aublegraphing . . .

Giant Furniture basketball team is undefeated in seven games this season in the Johnson Park Wednesday Night League. Giant defeated Suburban Motor Freight 67-43 last Wednesday for the first round title.

The Bexley Adult Basketball League will be idle until Thursday, Jan. 4, when play will be resumed in the Bexley High gym. The league has played three sets.

★ ★ ★

City Center Activity . . .

The Columbus Recreation Department is conducting its annual Holiday basketball tournament for boys in the 16 to 18 age group playing in the various recreation center leagues.

This tournament is held to give additional basketball opportunities for the representative center teams during the school holidays.

They've been going on since Tuesday. Wednesday play includes:

AT WHETSTONE—12:30 p.m. Beatty vs. Linden-Sunshine winner; 2 p.m. Poindexter vs. East Columbus-Glenwood winner.

AT WINDSOR-TERRACE—12:30 p.m. Schiller vs. Thompson-Whetstone winner; 2 p.m. Windsor vs. Philgrim-Sullivant Gardens winner.

Thursday's play looks this way:

AT WINDSOR-TERRACE — 12:30 p.m. Semi-Finals; 2 p.m. Semi-Finals; And, finally, Friday:

AT WINDSOR-TERRACE — 12:30 p.m. Losers of semi-finals play for third place; 2 p.m. Championship game.

Panthers, Buckeyes Win At Playground

A busy basketball week at Sunshine produced some very good games. In junior action, the Panthers defeated the Nitwits 16-12, and the Buckeyes beat the Hot Shots 33-29.

Intermediate action saw the Celtics defeat the Warriors 28-24, Dragons defeat the Knights 34-33, Hawks overcome the Bearcats 48-38, and the Merchants win by forfeit over the Red Bandits. Sullivant Garden's Pirates defeated the Cowboys 62-34 in senior action.

Outstanding players of the week were Steve Kettell of the Celtics with 17, John Willis of the Warriors with 17, John Bohrend of the Hawks with 14, Dave Johnson and Mike Beckly of the Hawks with 14 and 12, respectively, and Gary Smith of the Dragons with 12.

Loop Champions Almost Decided At Sunshine

As pre-season basketball action nears completion, the league Championships at Sunshine are almost decided.

The junior boys league race was thrown into a three-way tie for first as the Panthers defeated the Buckeyes 36-31 in an over-time battle.

Big Mike Birchnell got four points in the over time and 16 overall to lead his team to victory. Shorty Lewis got 15 to lead the losing Buckeyes.

James Brooks scored 10 to lead the Nuggets in a 19-17 win over the Hot Shots. The game was a good defensive effort on the part of both teams.

The Senior Girls got into action this week. The Grove City girls defeated Sunshine girls 43-31. Eunice Brown scored 26 points for Grove City. Virginia Hide scored 13 for Sunshine. There are openings for two more girls teams in our league.

Central In Win Over East, 68-54

By Don Poling

Host East used a rugged man-to-man defense but it wasn't enough to stop invading Central who downed the Tigers, 68-54, before a near capacity crowd last Thursday.

In the first quarter the Bucs adjusted quickly to the defense. Dave Roberts dropped the first shot and East never took the lead. Central played slow, control-type of offense, taking shots only when they had an opening.

The Pirates fast break counting for most of the points was the extra margin Central needed. The Bucs led 18-10 at the end of the first quarter.

The second quarter was much the same as the first quarter with Central's offense and nerve shaking zone defense dominating most of the play. Central again was on top at the half, 34-22.

The third quarter was the only quarter Central was outscored, East scoring 17 while Central hit for 13. The Bucs led 47-39.

In the final period the Pirates hit for 21 while holding the Tigers to 15. High point men for Central were Dave Roberts with 18 and Ray Revels with 15.

Central	18	34	47	68
East	10	22	39	54

CENTRAL (4-2)—Taylor 2-1-5; Roberts, 5-8-18; Revels, 6-3-15; Jones 2-1-7; Gilchrist, 4-3-11; Wullova, 5-0-10; Maxley, 1-0-2. Totals—26-16-68.

EAST (2-3)—Fowlkes, 4-2-10; Waller, 1-2-4; Martin, 4-2-10; Mitchell 2-1-5; R. Hairston, 3-1-7; Daniels 1-0-2; F. Hairston 1-0-2; Calloway 2-0-4; Reynolds 1-0-2; Hammond 2-0-4; Carter 1-2-4. Totals—22-10-54.

Reserves: East 28, Central 27.

Bicycle Gift, Safety Advice Go Together

Thousands of children who received their first bicycles this Christmas should also be told the basic rules of safe bicycle operation, warns Russell H. Campbell of the Columbus Automobile Club.

"The need for such a discussion is made clear in accident figures which show that nearly 300 deaths and 25,000 injuries occur each year to bicycle riders," Campbell added.

Among the bicycle safety rules which should be impressed upon youngsters are:

Signal for turns and stops; obey all traffic signals; yield right-of-way to pedestrians; always ride alone; keep both hands on the handlebars, except to signal; ride single file; keep the bicycle in good condition, especially the lights, brake and signal bell or horn.

BONUS BRIGHTEN GLICK'S PARTY

Sunshine Recreation Center

The annual "ping pong" tournament will start in a couple of weeks. All boys and girls eight to 18 years old are encouraged to participate.

The game room has a new miniature pool game called "Carom" which has been receiving a lot of use. A pool tournament will be starting in the near future, which will be a "ladder type." It will be held for boys and girls 13 to 18 years of age.

There are a lot of games to play in the game room at Sunshine such as table tennis, chess and Chinese checkers which are available at all times.

Baton Classes

The baton class held only one class this past week. As soon as vacation is over a class will begin for intermediates and there will also be another beginners' class.

Sewing Class

The members of the sewing class have been busy finishing their aprons. The class will soon begin their second project, a pattern project.

Arts And Crafts

The children have been busily working at making Christmas items out of construction paper and painting Christmas scenes. As a special project, the children made Christmas cards for their parents.

Pre-Teen Club

The Pre-Teen Club had a very busy day Friday, Dec. 22. The group enjoyed a caroling fest at City Hall in the afternoon. They also sang carols in the neighborhood and had a party in the evening.

Clinic Going Up On Ford Tract Site

A modern medical building and clinic together with a shopping area is to be built on the site of an old Reynoldsburg landmark, the A. E. Ford Tract, according to Carl "Smitty" Smith, realtor.

The property, which adjoins the Municipal Building and shopping center with Main-st frontage, was recently sold for Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rosenberg by Jessee G. Evans, an associate of Carl Smith, to John Paul King, M.D., who is planning the construction.

Aliens To Register During January

Thomas M. Pedersen, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, stated that aliens in the United States will be required to report their addresses to the attorney general during January.

All aliens, with few exceptions, who are in the U.S. on Jan. 1 each year must report their addresses by the end of that month. Report forms may be obtained from any post office or immigration and naturalization service office during January.

Coast Guard Academy Forms Available

Applications for admission to the US Coast Guard Academy for the class of 1966 must reach the Coast Guard by Jan. 10.

Information and the necessary forms can be obtained from the Commandant (PTP-2) US Coast Guard, Washington 25, D.C.

The 80th annual examination for admission to the Coast Guard Academy, which is located at New London, Conn., will be held Feb. 19 and 20 in 156 cities including Columbus. Successful applicants will be admitted to a four-year course of instruction at the Academy.

Appointments to cadetship at the Academy are made on the basis of competitive examination and prospective adaptability to military life. There are no Congressional appointments or geographical quotas.

Three Major Programs Set For Mershon

Baritone William Warfield and guitarist Andres Segovia will appear in recitals at Mershon Auditorium in January, as events in OSU's Great Artist series.

"A Thurber Carnival" is also scheduled to be seen during that month.

Ticket sale for all of the above programs is in progress at the Mershon ticket office, open this week and next from 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. week days and on Saturday from 9 a.m. until noon. The ticket office will resume its normal 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. schedule Jan. 2. Telephone reservations will be honored.

Yule Mail Record Set In Columbus

The Columbus Post Office handled the largest load of mail in its history on Monday and Tuesday of last week when the 1961 Christmas mail rush hit its peak, Postmaster Allen M. Rowe reported.

The record mail volume was handled with fewer employees than ever before under new programs which emphasize overtime benefits for regular career employes of the local post office, with a minimum use of less experienced Christmas temporary helpers, Rowe noted.

This year's two-day record—totaling 5,293,589 pieces locally—was handled with only 733 temporary clerks, compared with 1226 temporary clerks and carriers last year.

Ever Hear of FLAME GEOMETRY?

Look at one of your drinking glasses and notice how the lip, in most instances, is rounded to a smooth, safe surface. It has been made that way by using natural gas as a basic fuel in a delicate finishing process that involves industrial "flame geometry". ■ "Flame geometry" is regulating the size, shape, and stability of gas flames to perform exacting heating operations. ■ When drinking glasses are heated by gas to the proper temperature the sharp edges flow into curved surfaces, and are set to a high polish . . . with rounded safe surfaces. ■ Because gas is versatile, because it is controllable, there is virtually no limit to its industrial adaptability. Natural gas is now used for 26,000 separate industrial applications as a fuel, tool, and as a chemical raw material.

City Recreation Makes Expanding Move For Boys

The Columbus Recreation Department has expanded their Boys' Recreation Clubs to include 28 different sites on Saturday mornings starting Jan. 6.

The programs will run 10 consecutive Saturdays and the last programs will be held Mar. 10.

The program is for boys from the fourth through the ninth grades and will provide:

- Opportunities for creative use of leisure time.
- To learn skills in various physical activities.
- To appreciate the values of playing and having fun together, and
- To learn to participate in sports and practice sportsmanship under proper leadership.

The physical activities will include basketball, volleyball, wrestling, tumbling, group games and physical fitness tests. The physical activities program will be conducted by physical education teachers and physical education students at Ohio State University under the supervision of the Columbus Recreation Department.

All boys from the fourth through the ninth grades may join one of these clubs without charge—with the fourth, fifth and sixth grades reporting at 9 a.m. and the seventh, eighth and ninth grades meeting at 11 a.m. at any of the following locations:

Glen Pack Wins Over Don Rowe

Pack, a welterweight, is building up quite a good record in the Ohio amateur fight circles. He has led the Sunshine team to three straight wins this season.

Three other Sunshine fighters scored knockout victories at Mansfield, Everett Holbrook knocked out Whitey Loughlin in the first round. Creed McFall was a third round winner over Bruce Allen and Danny Hysell got his knockout against Ed Piper in the third.

Girls Play Full Slate Of Games

Time was when girls' basketball took a back seat or didn't exist, but Hilliard High School girls are becoming "eagey" cagers.

Forwards are Judy Stephenson, Barbara Conley, Nancy Scott, Rita McVay, Donna Poulton and Linda McFarland. Guards are Carolene Williams, Penny Miles, Kris Shumaker, Susie Bolt, Lanita Roose and Margy Anderson.

Jan. 5—Westerville, Jan. 12—Marysville, Jan. 26—London, Feb. 16—Westerville, here; Feb. 22—Marysville, here.

Milo-Roc Has Meeting Date

The Milo-Roc-Mendel Football AC will hold its business meeting at 8 p.m. Friday in the clubroom, 745½ Parsons-av.

Important matters will be discussed and plans for the "New Year's dance," honoring the past presidents of the club, which will be held Saturday, Jan. 20 at the Elks' Club ballroom, 1045 S. High-st, will be completed.

All members are invited to attend.

Always dust or vacuum livingroom, bedroom and dining room walls before repainting them with latex or alkyd paints or enamels. Be sure to use a dry mop, not an oil mop. Oil will keep the new paint from adhering. Kitchen and bathroom walls usually require washing with a detergent first.

Championship Races Delayed Till This Sunday

The holiday weekend collection of white stuff cancelled all racing at the CBS Speedway delaying the running of the 1961 Championship.

The major race winding up this year's season will be run this Sunday instead. Five trophies will be awarded in each race having five or more entries. One trophy will be awarded in events with less than five entrants.

Amateur talent shows will continue on Friday nights during the cold stretch. The programs are held in the CBS Speedway Club house. The track is located between Carroll and Lancaster on Ohio 33.

Westgate Medical Building To Open Soon

Residents in the West area soon will be provided additional medical services and facilities with the completion of the Westgate Medical Building at 2275 Sullivant-av.

Owned and operated by the "Columbus Westgate Medical Building Corporation", it is of contemporary design, brick and stone and incorporates an advanced layout for eight medical suites and a clinical laboratory.

The first floor has custom design suites for three pediatricians. It will be occupied by John P. Riepenhoff M.D., Robert F. Cooper M.D., and William J. Rueger M.D.

The ground floor provides offices for obstetrics and gynecology, for J. F. Beattie M.D., and R. W. Brannon M.D.; for podiatry and chiropody, R. L. Fuller D.S.C.; a medical clinical laboratory for Westgate Laboratories, a division of Arlington Laboratories; plus an available suite for the practice of medicine or dentistry.

Completion is scheduled for Jan. 1, 1962, first occupancy is dated Jan. 6.

All suites have individual control of heating and air-conditioning. The ceramic tile mural, representing children at play, and a spacious, tiled patio, are located at the entrance to the pedistric suite. On-site parking can accommodate 40 cars.

The building, designed by Arthur J. Dupre and Associates has provision for future west wing, future second floor and elevator service. E. J. Will and Company are the general contractors.

Davis Shown New Weapons

Army Pfc. William R. Davis, Jr., whose parents live at 684 Hamlet, recently participated in familiarization firing with two new Army weapons, the M-14 rifle and M-60 machine-gun, with other personnel from the 37th Artillery in Germany.

Davis, a cook in the 37th's Battery C in Schwabisch Hall, entered the Army in February, 1961, completed basic training at Fort Knox, and arrived overseas last August.

Wolford's Garage Still 'Paralyzed' By Explosion

Delay in the installation of a new wall in the Wolford Garage, 575 N. Hague-av, blown out when the furnace in an adjacent building exploded last week, has "paralyzed" operation of the business, according to Robert Draughn, co-owner of the garage.

The explosion leveled the building in which the furnace was installed burying parts and supplies used in the garage and in addition, destroyed a $5,000 sports car belonging to Don Canfield, 901 Scott-rd. The car was not covered by insurance.

Draughn said the owner of the building, Rocky DiMatteo, who had leased it to the Wolford Garage for use as a store room, reported having the furnace checked and inspected early in the spring. An insurance company investigation is still under way to try to determine the extent of the liability of the building owner and if the furnace explosion was solely responsible for the extensive damage.

Draughn says although tools and supplies in the garage were relatively undamaged it has not as yet been possible to salvage any of the parts or material stored in the demolished building.

Churches To Close Year With Worship

A last, careful scrutiny of the year past and an optimistic approach to the 12 months ahead — ministers of all faiths will address their congregations this Sunday on a New Year's theme.

Services of devotion and music have been arranged in keeping with the occasion.

Individual churches have planned traditional watch night services with communion, and some have included family night programs.

The public is invited to attend the church most conveniently located.

Among churches planning New Year's Eve services are:

BROWN ROAD

Candlelight communion will be observed at 7:30 New Year's Eve at Brown Road Community Church.

Theme for the 10:30 a.m. service is "Begin Anew." Rev. Mabel Rife Whipple is minister.

ST. TIMOTHY

Family night and New Year's Eve devotional service will be held at St. Timothy Lutheran Church, Harrisburg-pk at Rosemont-av. Pot luck supper at 6 will be followed by a program beginning at 7.

Communion will be observed at the 10:30 a.m. worship. Rev. K. Jay Bishop is pastor.

ST. JOHN

New Year's Eve service at St. John Lutheran Church, W. Broad-st at Hague-av, will begin at 7:45. Communion will be observed.

Morning worship is planned at 10:30 and Sunday School at 9:15.

Rev. C. T. Langhols is pastor.

COMMUNITY CHRISTIAN

New Year's Eve program at Community Christian Church will start at 10:30 with a period of family recreation.

Watch night devotions will be held at 11 in the sanctuary, with a sermon by the pastor, Rev. James Lorenz, and special music.

May 1962 smile happily on all your ventures, reward your efforts with success, and bring to you a bountiful harvest of good times to enjoy, pleasant memories to cherish. Happy New Year!

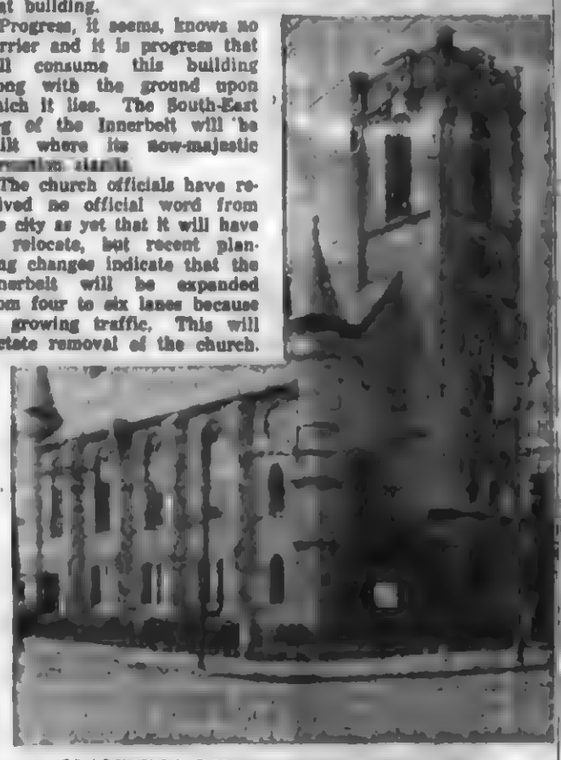
Old Livingston-av Church Is Doomed By New Innerbelt



By C. P. NIGRO

Friday, Nov. 16 found a group of some 326 faithful worshippers gathered together in a structure known as the Livingston Methodist Church for evening services.

Little did the congregation realize the fate of that building.

Progress, it seems, knows no barrier and it is progress that will consume this building along with the ground upon which it lies. The South-East Leg of the Innerbelt will be built where its now-majestic [illegible] stands.

The church officials have received no official word from the city as yet that it will have to relocate, but recent planning changes indicate that the innerbelt will be expanded from four to six lanes because of growing traffic. This will dictate removal of the church.

MAJESTIC LIVINGSTON CHURCH
Building's Future Is a Bit Shaky

The church itself dates back as far as 1843, when John H. Barth, its founder, spoke to about six people in a school house at Fourth and Mound-sts. The following Sunday there were about 35 people in attendance. At the end of two years the congregation had grown to 165 members, and membership has been mounting ever since.

June 15th, 1844 was the construction date of the German Methodist Church, as it was known then because of the increasing number of German people in attendance. Services actually were held in spoken German as late as the 1930's.

Although the present building seems sure to be demolished, its pastor, Roland G. Perkins believes that his people will attend services wherever it should relocate. It is his desire to remain in the downtown area but the problem of finding sufficient ground on which to house the new church is confronting him.

A Planning and Policy Commission, under the direction of Arthur Steppert is handling this problem. According to Steppert no definite location is under consideration at present, for the congregation is not only made up from residents of the South Side, but also embraces almost the whole of Franklin County.

County-Wide Membership

He noted that some of the faithful travel as far as 20 miles to attend services. Represented at Friday's meeting were members from Worthington, Whitehall, Reynoldsburg, West Jefferson, Hilltop and New Rome as well as the people from German Village, a definite part of the church ministry.

Indeed German Village will look bare, almost forsaken, without the presence of a temple that has served its people's spiritual needs for well over a century.

The Livingston Methodist Church will always be remembered.

APPOINTED

THE INDUSTRIAL Commission of Ohio has announced appointment of Glen K. Ochs (above), of 604 E. Ogden-av, as assistant superintendent of its Division of Safety and Hygiene. He succeeds Richard W. Morse, appointed division superintendent Oct. 2. Ochs joined the division staff in March, 1948.

Coast Guard Issues Boat Safety Warning

Carbon tetrachloride fire extinguishers will not be considered approved firefighting equipment aboard motorboats after Jan. 1, a coast guard spokesman warned.

Other extinguishers that give off toxic vapors when released, such as those of the chlorobromomethane type, will also be rejected by coast guard boarding teams, he said.

To make sure the extinguishers they have on board are of the approved type, boat owners should look for the "marine type" label of the Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.

Condition Of Crash Victim Is Only Fair

Condition of Richard S. Pruyn, 35, of 331 Hieler-rd, who was found lying at the side of Clime-rd a half mile east of Georgesville-rd Saturday, was reported to be fair by Mt. Carmel Hospital spokesmen.

Pruyn suffered a fractured ankle and severe head cuts when his car failed to make a curve in Clime-rd, but despite his injuries he managed to free himself from the wreckage and reach the road where he apparently collapsed.

It is not known how long Pruyn laid by the road before he was discovered.

Sheriff's deputies said Pruyn's car tore down seven guard posts and plunged over a 30 to 35 foot cliff.

Girl Admissions Increase At JDC

The Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction has reported to Governor DiSalle that the number of children in the Juvenile Diagnostic Center decreased by two in November to 158 from 160 in October. Forty-five per cent of boys presently in residence are awaiting placement.

The number of girls admitted to the Juvenile Diagnostic Center increased from 11 to 30, and the number of boys admitted decreased from 43 to 31. Releases totaled 64 in November as compared with 63 in October.

At the end of November, there were 16 vacancies in the Boys' and Girls' Diagnostic Divisions. Of the 73 authorizations for admissions for boys, 33 were used; 33 of the girls' 74 authorizations were used.

Student Day Set Sunday At Westgate

Student recognition Sunday will be observed at Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church, Sunday, with Michael Mickelson, senior at Ohio State University, as general chairman.

At the 10 a.m. worship students home for vacation will assist in the service.

Sunday evening at 7, students will give a program around the theme, "College Life in Today's World."

Those attending Ohio State University are: Richard Mickelson, Timothy Morris, Larry Abels, Philip Hall, Stanley Hanna, Larry Rice and Daniel Miller.

Railway Clerks Elect Officers

At a recent meeting of Columbus Lodge 2051, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, these officers were elected:

M. W. Anderson, president; J. C. Crowley, vice president; R. C. Brush, secretary-treasurer; R. H. Mithoff, chaplain; J. Finney, sergeant-at-arms; J. S. Salome, inner guard; D. H. Miller, state legislative representative; B. L. Vance, chairman of trustees, and U. E. Dunlap, chairman of program committee.

JOHN BYSINGER DISPLAYS HOMEMADE WINDMILLS
Hobby Takes Up Slack in Idle Hours

Idle Hands And Hours Busied With Windmill-Making Hobby

In recent years a leading topic of conversation has been our senior citizens. Programs and facilities to entertain them have cropped up everywhere. Citizens groups, churches, recreation centers have worked long and hard on the problem.

But the best solution seems to be the individual's initiative.

John worked at his trade for 21 years before putting up his tools and moving to Reynoldsburg four years ago. The children were raised. Son Wallace is a major in the Army, presently stationed at Ft. Bragg. Daughter Mary Frances makes her home here.

Mom and Pop followed daughter, and three years ago moved into their present home at 1523 Truro-rd.

But what to do with all those spare hours was a big question. Mom Bysinger kept busy at her sewing machine. Every year several thousand people see Mom's needlework in the annual minstrel production.

Pop began working part time at the high school, sweeping and cleaning up. But the work just didn't fill the gap. A coin collection wasn't the answer because of the expense, although many treasured pieces have found their way to John's collection.

The retired patternmaker found the answer in a hobby offer through a newspaper. Patterns for windmills.

To date John has made eight model windmills, all of which work. Scraps of lumber from here and there cut down on the expense of the hobby, and the lack of proper tools prolong the job and occupy more hours.

Each piece is cut out with a hand jig-saw and carefully painted according to instructions. Assembly holes are laboriously hand-drilled and the working parts shaped from scraps of this and that.

There's a fisherman that pulls in a big catch, a mule that kicks, a horse that bucks, a lady doing her wash, a farmer sawing wood, another chopping wood, a man pumping water and a cat that raises its back and moves its tail.

In between the construction of windmills there are houses for the birds to be made. But most important, according to Mom, "His pleasures offset the expense, in fact it's hard to get him to the dinner table."

What does John do with the windmills? They hang in his basement where he can enjoy them. Plenty of people see them and a lot of folks ask for a particular one, or try to place an order for it.

But John declines all offers. They're his hobby.

New Year's Eve Party Planned At St. Agnes Hall

Iggy Stabile and his orchestra will play for round and square dancing, from 10 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Public is welcome. Reservations must be made in advance with Joe Rose, BR. 9-4240.

Broadway Phones To Get Improved Distance Dialing

Starting Sunday, Jan. 7, the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. will introduce an addition to the Direct Dialing (DDD) service now being used by BRoadway exchange subscribers.

New equipment recently installed in the BRoadway 274, 276 and 279 exchange will make it unnecessary for those subscribers to give their phone numbers to an operator when making a DDD call.

The telephone number of the calling party now will be recorded automatically by electronic equipment. Customers will no longer hear the "zip-zip" tone which has been the signal to recite their number to the operator.

All Ohio Bell exchanges are scheduled to receive this service improvement in the near future. The Columbus 461, CApital, HUdson and AXminister exchanges already have the new service.

Ohio Bell District Commercial Manager J. P. Gibbs said the service improvement is expected to speed up long distance calls and to eliminate the possibility of billing calls to the wrong subscriber.

Ohio Bell plans to introduce the ANI service throughout all Ohio Bell territory by 1966. Cost of the improvements in the next two years will be about $4.5 million.

Agricultural prices: During month ended Nov. 15, index of prices received by farmers in U.S. dropped nearly 1 percent (2 points) to 238% of the 1910-14 average. Lower prices for meat animals, citrus fruits, corn, cotton and eggs were responsible for most of decline. Price increases for some vegetables, poultry, soybeans, and milk were partially offsetting. Index was about 1 percent below November 1960.

I worked long hours
To sell my cars
I grossed about a million
Tires, oil, lots of plugs
Help, rent and lots of jugs
You'd think I made a gillion
My CPA sighed and sighed
Until it made me cry and cry
Gross income $1,000,000.00
Outgo $999,901.02
Net income $98.98

Auto Show Coming Up Jan. 19-24

This year's Columbus Auto Show will feature over 200 imported and domestic models all assembled under one roof for inspection and comparison. The event will be held Jan. 19 to 24 in the Buckeye Building at the Ohio State Fairgrounds. Gates will be open from noon to 10 p.m. daily.

James L. Saeger, chairman, said a unique feature will be that show goers can actually take demonstration rides in the 1962 models.

Factory cut-away engine displays and futuramic cars from automobile manufacturers will also be featured.

$10,000 worth of merchandise prizes, including a 1962 car, television sets and radios, will be awarded.

"An added feature of this year's show," Saeger said, "will be the personal appearance of the 1962 Miss America, Maria Beale Fletcher, Jan. 23 and 24 as a guest of Oldsmobile.

Historical Novels Are In Demand

Hilltonia Branch Library's extensive collection of historical novels has brisk year-around circulation, according to librarians. Many have been added to the library during the the past year or two.

One of the most popular recent novels based on American history is "Celia Garth," by Gwen Bristow.

Other recent novels based on incidents in early American history include "Wind in the Forest," by Inglis Fletcher; "The Winthrop Woman," by Anya Seton, and "Scarlet Feather," by Dale Van Every.

The settling of the West is depicted in William Ellis' "The Brooks Legend," and "Tale of Valor" by Vardis Fisher.

Civil War novels include "Night March," by Bruce Lancaster; "The Crossing," by Clay Fisher, and "The Scarlet Guidon," by Roy Toepfer.

Among recent novels which give glimpses of England's history are Edison Marshall's "The Pagan Kind;" North Loft's, "The Town House;" Dorothy Foote's "The Constant Star," and Eve Stephens' "Victoria and Albert."

Fines Issued In Sunday Sales

Fines of $25 each for Sunday sales violations were levied Dec. 20 against Giant Furniture Warehouse, 462 W. Town-st, and a salesman, Harry Muller. Judge Horace Troop handled the case in Municipal Court.

Meanwhile two more affidavits were filed by the Greater Columbus Sunday Association. They involve Moore's Store of Great Eastern Shopping Center and Robert V. McQuinkling of Feature Products, 225 N. Front-st.

WE thank you sincerely for your patronage. . . .

'Dear Pen Pal' Writes Kit To Her Friends

LOCAL PEN PAL KEEPS SCRAPBOOK OE SWEDISH, HAWAIIAN FRIENDS

Kit Moore Learns of Foreign Feelings And Traditions, American Prestige.

Ever wonder what people of other lands really think of us?

While most people must rely on information furnished by politicians, a unique group of pen pals has the real inside scoop on our prestige abroad.

Kit Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Moore, Jackson-st, Reynoldsburg, quotes one of her seven Swedish pen pals as describing America as a land of "strong morals, hospitable—and Chicago is a place of gangsters."

For the past three years Kit has been sharing experiences, correspondence-wise, with young people her own age in Sweden and Hawaii. Periodically letters bearing Pasulio, Ranes, Upp-land, Aseda, Jursla, Hagersten, Hedensbyn and Taby postmarks are delivered by Kit's mailman.

The red-haired high school graduate struck up the long distance friendships through a rock 'n roll club fan club honoring Elvis Presley.

Over the months Kit has lost some interest in the Presley style but not in her overseas friends.

Skip 'Commie' Queries

Next to talking about rock 'n roll, her foreign pen pals talk of visiting America but never speak of the communist threat which overshadows their homelands. Kit says she has asked many questions concerning the threat to world peace but the questions always go unanswered.

American movies and movie stars are other favorites with her personal correspondents in Europe and the 50th U.S. state. Strawberries and ice cream are the foods mutually enjoyed.

Correspondence is in English, which Kit reports is one of four languages studied in the Swedish school system. Slang and American expressions are conspicuously absent from the book-learned means of speech.

Although the schools apparently are stricter academically, Kit gathers from the letters sent her that the Swedish youngsters have more social freedoms. She also reports their penmanship is much more flowing and is written in a scrawl fashion.

She stated they were also surprised that we have snow. In addition to the obvious shunning of questions concerning communism, their letters never bear news of the homes, families or schools unless asked about specific issues. Most of these go unanswered.

Kit's friend across the Pacific is Julia Gomera, 17, of Pasulio, Hawaii, a graduate of Honokaa High School. Julia is Kit's first pen pal and has seven brothers and four sisters over whom she rides herd since the death of her mother two years ago.

Gerd Larson, 16, of Ranes, Sweden, who has been writing to Kit for nearly three years, has one brother and a sister.

Marie Karlsson, 18, of Uppland, has one brother and a sister and has been writing for two years. Marie broke the home news precedent and told of the mourning in Sweden following the death of Dag Hammarskjold.

Hakan Malmgvist, 17, is the only boy with whom Kit corresponds. Hakan lives in Aseda and has two brothers. The teenager wrote of his class trip to Holland and Germany where the young people went night-clubbing.

Other pen pals are Siw Lidman, 17, of Jursla, and Marie Louise Lundgvist, 16, of Hagersten. It was "Lo Lo" who tagged Chicago a "place of gangsters."

Tells of Custom

Kerstin Ronnlund, 16, of Hedensbyn, wrote of observing the Swedish custom, "Mid Summer's Night Dream." Kerstin placed seven flowers under her pillow on the night of June 23 and slept on them so she would dream of the man she will marry.

Ylva Schroder, 14, of Taby, when questioned of JFK's prestige, wrote that the Swedish press "writes well about the president."

So, while many preach of improving our overseas prestige, a handful of pen pals get the job done and learn while having fun.

LIONS AID MUSICIANS

ANOTHER EVIDENCE of the Hilltop Lions' encouragement of youth activities is the presentation of a check to "Mike" Babic, 659 Raleigh-dr, member of "The Dixielanders," a seven-boy musical group growing in popularity on the Hilltop. Presenting the check which will provide a year's supply of music is George Blackmore, 2741 St. Patrick-rd, chairman of the Lions boys and girls committee.

Landmark Mails 18,000 Stocks Dividend Checks

Eighteen thousand investors in Landmark securities were mailed dividend checks on Dec. 21, reported Charles W. Fullerton, vice president and director of finance of the Landmark Farm Bureau Cooperative, Columbus.

They brought the total annual dividends paid on Landmark stocks during the year to $593,000. The Dec. 31 payment included a Class C common stock dividend of $2.50 per share. Also included were payments that bring the annual dividend on preferred stock to $2.25 per share, and on cost-of-Living common stock to $1.41 per share.

In addition to the dividend on stock, investors have received over $500,000 in interest on Landmark bonds and debentures during 1961. The investing public now holds $21,500,000 of Landmark securities.

Johnson Ends Recruit Training

Marine Pvt. William B. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Johnson, Sr., of 239 S. Oakley-av completed recruit training Dec. 14 at San Diego, Calif.

Johnson next reports to Camp Pendleton, Calif., for further infantry training.

More and more fruits and vegetables are going from farm to market prepacked for consumers, according to the US Department of Agriculture.

Aquinas Alum Dance Dated

Joseph Murphy, class of '57, is chairman of the affair. President of the Alumni Association is Edward Tonti, class of '30.

Al Waslohn and his band will provide music for dancing.

Mother Burned While Saving Girl From Fire

Mrs. Mary Griffith, 2320 Wren-st, did a painful but right thing Saturday when one of her daughters suddenly was in a drape of flames.

Mrs. Griffith used her bare hands to tear blazing clothes from five-year-old daughter, Diana. The girl's dress was ignited by flames licking through the broken window of a space heater. The mother's hands were severly burned. She said she had no blanket or other means at the moment to put out the fire.

Both were given first aid at the fire station at Brinker and Sullivant-av before they were taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital for treatment.

Self-Help Books Now At Library

Using all one's talents is an important part of the "richer, fuller life" which everyone seeks, according to Mary E. Keyes, librarian at the Hilltop Branch Library.

The Hilltop Library has a wide selection of "self-help" books to help people lead satisfying and successful lives.

A number of practical guides to success are owned by the library. Among these are "How to Raise Your Own Salary"; "How to Turn Failure Into Success" and "How to Use Tact and Skill in Handling People".

Books are also plentiful on such subjects as music, writing, drama, photography, ceramics, gardening, art, nature study, interior decoration, and countless other topics.

Mollett Aboard Independence

Kenneth W. Mollett, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Mollett of 23 N. Princeton-av, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Independence, operating with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

The carrier, scheduled to return to its Norfolk, Va., home port late in December, has visited Cannes, Athens, Istanbul, Genoa, Naples and Rhodes.
